Council Discusses Testing of Cows for Tuberculosis Explosion of Gasoline Responsible for Councillor Chateauvert Asks if Tests Can be Made Compulsory by Town when Dominion Makes Tests Optional. By-law Says so, Mayor Points Out. Solicitor to Give Opinion on Matter. More Demands of Communists Heard. Those in Need Referred to Relief Officer. Other Council Business.

The regular meeting of the town council was held on Monday afternoon Richardson, J. T. Chenier, J. E. H. Chateauvert and J. Morrison present.

A letter was received from the C.I.L. stating that the tax notice for 1930 had not been received on account of being sent to the wrong address, and as the tax notices in recent years were sent out at different times of the year, the company thought refund of the penalty should be made in this case. The matter was left over for checking up, Assessor Channen saying the notices had been sent out to the address appearing in the books prior to 1927.

A lengthy communication was read from the Veterinary Director Generaat Ottawa in regard to the testing of cows for tuberculosis. Councillor Chateauvert explained that he had written first to J. A. Bradette, M.P., in the matter and had been referred to the provincial department, and later by the provincial department to the Veterinary Director General. He had been looking for a plan to help the dairymen in regard to the cost of the tests for tuberculosis, and thought perhaps the government might help either by free tests or assistance or by paying part of the cost of cows condemned as tubercular. Councillor Chateauvert referred to one milkman who had 21 cows condemned as tubercular, but their milk sent to laboratories in Montreal had been reported by the government officials there as free from tuberculosis. Sanitary Inspector Dunn in reply to a question said he had been told that tests for tuberculosis can not be made from milk only, but that the cows had to be tested. He had the official letter to this effect on fyle in his office, he thought, though it was some years ago. Councillor Caron and Chateauvert both raised the question as to whether the town could make the tests for tuberculosis compulsory when the Dominion left it oftional. Councillor Caron thought that unpasteurized milk could be brought into town by farmers and dairymen despite the by-law, so long as it was their own production. Councillors Caron and Chateauvert thought be secured on the question.

Other members of council pointed out that the council was not making tuberculosis tests for cows compulsory, but the by-law simply set out the conditions under which milk could be sold in town. Anyone could sell milk elsewhere if they desired.

Councillor Chateauvert asked if any milkmen had been fined for breach of the milk by-law. Sanitary Inspector Dunn said not. Two had been stopped selling milk until they improved conditions. Licenses were issued every year and these licenses could be withheld or suspended if conditions were not right.

Eventually it was decided to have A C. Brown, solicitor, give an opinion on the legality of the by-law, if the by-law is in order, if the council has the right to require a test twice a year for tuberculosis in dairy cows, and if the town by by-law can prohibit the sale in town of other than pasteurized milk.

Mr. Bouviere, Balsam street, north, asked council for protection from danger of flooding of his garden. This had been given by use of screens, etc., but recently he said the ditch had been filled up with sand to protect the motorists. The board of works and Town Engineer MacLean were asked to look into the matter.

A petition was before council asking Preston street down and for a wood in town to-day. It is to be hoped that Council had some more "demands" from the communists, who this time only asked that council provide tickets and cash for board, lodging and other necessities of life for the unemployed, the suggestion being that there were hundreds of such here. Councillor Chatcauvert said that this question came in his department, the contingencies committee, and he was in favour of helping any who were in need. He wanted to know of any cases, who they were and where they were from. "If the gentleman can show hundreds starving or needing a bed, we will have Northern News last week says: - "Miss working with him, the helper mistak- May 12th, of Edward Mossenta, who for to look after them," said Councillor Isabel Hansford, of Coaticook, P.Q., ing the scaffold bolt for one of the several years was a popular resident of

Four More Responses to the Call of T.B.A.A

Since the last reference in The Advance only four more have responded to the call of the Timmins Boys' Athletic Association for membership fees on which to carry on this good work. The four responding now are:-Sam Bucovetsky, E. M. Allworth, the T. Eaton Company and N. R. Wightman This makes a total of 33 members for the T. B. A. A., each paying a membership fee of $10.00 per year. The idea is that from these membership fees enough money is raised to carry on the T. B. A. A. work. For this purpose it is necessary to have 150 members. With only 33 paying up so far it will be seen solutely necessary if the work is to be carried on. The Advance does not see the work dropped. It has been town boys for summer and winter sport. With the T. B. A. A. plan there are no be successful and desirable from all standpoints. When it was started some years ago about 150 pledged themselves to pay the ten dollars membership each year. It is to be hoped that in the next week or so the response will be generous, so as to permit the continuance of the work. Any particulars about the work will be gladly given by C. G. Dr. James Waterman Wise, of New York, a noted Jewish leader, lecturer. author and educationalist, who was in town in connection with the United Palestine Appeal, was the speaker at the Kiwanis Club here at the luncheon on Monday, and all who heard him were delighted and inspired, and grateful to L. Halperin and the others responsible for the club members and guests having opportunity to listen to this eloquent and helpful orator

In a brief but comprenensive introduction Chas. Pierce presented the speaker of the day.

At the opening Dr. Wise captured the full attention of the large gathering by his ap; wit, humour and pointed anecdotes. His subject, he said, might be given as "Culture and Democracy," if the full and true meaning of the words were known. To Canada and the United States, the speaker said, had came people of different racial and national stocks and the nations on this continent had the problem of dealing with groups and blending them into a great democracy. In this work service clubs like the Kiwanis had a great opportunity for true service. It was not tolerance that was needed, so much as understanding. Personally he said he disliked the word tolerance. It seemed to indicate the idea of superiority on the part of the tolerator and inferiority on the part of the tolerated. It was not so much a question of superiority or inferiority in regard to different races. nations and creeds, as a matter of difference. The United States had boasted of its great "melting pot". Such a melting pot, Dr. Wise thought, would be contrary to the whole spirit and meaning of democracy. Democracy's very life depended on difference and in dividuality. "We do not want to of Annual Banquets level all to one standard; that is the mark of the herd," he said.
