

The Canadian Legion in the Porcupine

By the Secretary-Treasurer

This week I will start off with asking the comrades who have received their branch membership cards to send these in when paying their dues to be marked to show payments made. The card will be returned with the receipt. There are cards and badges at 165 Spruce north for Comrades Resbeck, J. James, W. W. Stevenson, F. Hicks, Chas. Riddler, A. Latendresse, Jasper Moses and F. Tanguay. The last named comrade's card and badge have been returned through the post as not called for. I would also remind our comrades that are paid up to December 31st to send in $1.00 more and get their Legion membership card for 1931.

I will next remind the comrades that there will be a dance at the McIntyre hall on Friday, June 12. Tommy Stephens' Orchestra will be there with the best of music, and those well-known caterers, the Ladies' Auxiliary will be there with the best in good things to eat. A good night's dancing is promised, and the refreshments will be well worth the trip to Schumacher.

Comrade W. Allan's cards came through this week from Merritt branch. Comrade Allan will be a decided asset to the branch as we have had a sample of his entertaining on different occasions.

The social night on Monday opened with President A. Neame in the chair. The first item was a song by Wilson Thompson, which was largely encored. Mrs. Wilkins presided very ably at the piano for this number. The next was a song by Miss Linda Grant, accompanied by Comrade Devine, Miss Grant's fine voice being much admired, the song being "The Bells of St. Mary." The next item was a recitation by Mrs. W. James which was well received. Mrs. Gay was next in order with a song which received well merited applause, her next number also being well received. The Highland Fling by little Miss Adamson was the next on the programme, this young artist being applauded again and again, with repeated calls for more and more, the Sword Dance being much admired by all present. The next item was a song by Miss Bellamy, the fine voice of this young artist being much admired, and the song being "Lay My Head Beneath a Rose." Comrade Nichols was next in line with "Sailor's Dance," this delighting all present. Calls for more and more brought forth an old sailor song which as usual brought down the house. Little Miss Adamson was next with an "Irish jig" this number as usual bringing forth loud applause. It might be mentioned that this gifted young dancer was the champion dancer of Scotland at her age, and she sure has great promise in Canada. As an encore this gifted young artist danced the "Sailor's Hornpipe," which she played Comrade Nichols that he had a serious rival in the Porcupine in that dance. The next item was a song by Comrade Ormston, "The King's Horses," which sung in Joe's fine style, as usual brought down the house, the entire company joining in the chorus of this lively number. Repeated calls for more and more brought forth "I've lost All My Love For You," which was well received. The next item was the sketch, "The Agitator." Mrs. Stroud and Mrs. Gregson were the first artists on the stage, their dialogue being well received, some good advice being given how to secure and keep a beau, or a husband, even if he was a hot cross bun designer. Comrade Curtis' next appeared on the scene and the poor wife was escorted off the stage by Comrade Bellamy. Comrade Curtis as the lazy husband found the best job he could get was as an agitator, but just as he was about to commence Comrade Cowan as Bitoffski appeared on the scene, whisks and all. He showed Comrade Curtis that even an agitator had to work to talk, but as 10,000 kopecks were only worth $2.00, Comrade Curtis was presented with a bomb by Bitoffski. A crowd then appeared on the stage, and Comrade Curtis mounted a chair and gave an outline of what Communism was, being loudly interrupted by the crowd and falling off his chair in his excitement. After mounting his perch again he received a sample of Canadian justice in the shape of "rotten eggs," maybe. As a retaliation he was about to throw the bomb, but it proved to be a boomerang as he got the contents himself. The sketch was one of the best, the author, Wilson Thompson, being loudly applauded as well as the artists, the heartiest applause being Comrade Councillor Tommy Huntley, who came all the way from Porcupine to be present. A song by Mrs. Webber brought the first part of the programme to a close. Mrs. Webber was accompanied by Mrs. Wilkins. The number earned well-merited applause. The well-known caterers the Ladies of the Auxiliary, next handed round a sample of their catering which was largely enjoyed by all present, the quality and quantity of the "eats" delighting all present. After refreshments, dancing was next in order, the orchestra being composed of Mr. and Mrs. Knell with Comrade Forrester on the drums. President Neame acted as M.C. The happy event closed at midnight with the National Anthem, each and every one voting it a real pleasant two bits' worth, well worth the money.

I forgot to mention that we had two new members last week in Messrs T. and J. Twaddle, who handed in their applications for membership. Still we grow. Let's grow bigger and better.

—The Secretary-Treasurer

HE GOT SENTIMENTAL

"Daughter, did I not see you sitting on the young man's lap when I passed the parlour door last evening?"

"Yes, and it was very embarrassing. I wish you had not told me to."

"Good heavens, I never told you to do anything of the kind."

"You did. You told me that if he got sentimental to sit on him."

BARRY-HOLLINGER OUTPUT OVER $100,000 FOR 1930

During the first five months of 1931 the output of gold from the Barry-Hollinger mine has slightly exceeded $100,000. The current performance is about 10 per cent. better than that of 1930 when $217,800 was produced in the full 12 months.

Recent work at the lower levels has added to ore in sight, while at the lowest level so far reached, 1875 feet, the lateral work is closely approaching the downward continuation of where the ore is expected to occur.

Grade of ore is moderately low, but shows a recovery of around $7.75 per ton. With the mill operating at somewhat less than 100 tons daily, the costs are not far below the total recovery. In the meantime, however, the income is providing a way to carry the work in these lower horizons where the management entertains hopes of finding ore in larger quantity.

PAID HIS LAST DOLLAR FOR TICKET, BUT WON THE CAR

Nester Kolari, a farmer living near Turbine in the Sudbury district, was the lucky winner of the motor car given by the Canadian Legion and Citizens' Band recently, and thereby hangs a very interesting tale. Kolari has had more than his share of ill-luck in recent years. He had to quit work at one of the mines on account of an injury to one of his hands. He went farming to make a living, and many who have tried it will say that that is a form of hard luck in itself. Then recently his wife has been ill and he has generally been having a hard time to make things go smoothly. He had walked in to Sudbury some weeks ago on business when a boy approached him to sell him a ticket on the car. He had only a dollar in his pocket and that was the price of the ticket. He took the ticket. He explains it now by saying:—"I felt lucky when I bought the ticket from the boy. I felt I would have a turn of luck." He did all right, but just the same the Advance would not recommend others to spend the last dollar they have to buy a ticket on a car or anything else in that line. The lucky winner of the Sudbury car, however, at once decided to sell it, and use the money to help his family. "I need no car," he said. "I can walk. I walked in from Turbine when I heard I had won. I do not mind the walk. I would rather have the money to keep my family and maybe buy them a few of the luxuries that have been denied us since I had to give up my job at Creighton because of my injured hand."

PRODUCTION AT THE DOME FOR THE MONTH OF MAY, 1931

For the month of May Dome Mines, Ltd., produced bullion to the value of $300,390, according to official information from New York. Owing to the destruction of the mill by fire late in 1929, no production figures were available for May last year, but in the corresponding month of 1929 production totalled $409,518. At the recent shareholders' meeting Dome officials stated that the mill is now running satisfactorily, treating ore to its rated capacity of 1,500 tons per day. It is understood, however, that the average grade of ore going to the mill is somewhat under that treated in 1929 and it is to this fact that the lower bullion recovery is credited.

"BLUE MARY" MADE HER FIRST OFFICIAL RUN ON SUNDAY

Other towns may have their "black marias," but Timmings nearly always has something different, and in this case Timmings has a "blue mary." Police patrol wagons in other places have been named "black marias," but here the name does not seem appropriate. As far as the records show there have been no "Marias" arrested here, but there have been many "Marys." In addition too, the new police patrol wagon here is not black but blue. So there you are:—"Blue Mary."

In any case Timmings' new blue mary wagon, after standing unused on official business, and unneeded too, for about ten consecutive days from the time of its delivery to the town, was given its baptism in official use as a blue mary at a very early hour on Sunday morning. There was a call from Moneta where a man was very much inebriated, and it was desired to move him to a more suitable place. Accordingly, the blue mary went down to Moneta in all its glory and the drunken man was brought back safely reposing in the back of the wagon just as if he were an undelivered loaf of bread. It cost this gentleman $22.50 and for this first ride in the blue mary. So long as the blue mary is in use none of the councillors need fear any monopoly in the transportation of humans by motors.
