

Three Young Women Go to Reformatory

Charges of Vagrancy Against Girls Found in Cafe Bedrooms. Proprietor of Cafe on Liquor Charge. Other Court Cases.

At police court this week three young women were sentenced to not less than three months nor more than one year in the Mercer reformatory when convicted on vagrancy charges. Last week the police raided the International Cafe on Cedar street south and found these three girls in one of the bedrooms on the property. Conditions did not appear healthy and the three girls were taken in charge. The youngest was over seventeen years of age. Later, the three young women made admissions to the police that they had been earning money by immoral ways. One of the girls gave her home town as Watertown, N.Y., having come here with Gray's Shows. Another claimed Schumacher for an address. Both these young women were rated by the police as without fixed place of abode. The home of the third and youngest of the trio is in town, but her people have found her incorrigible. A quantity of liquor was seized at the cafe by the police and this week Eddie Rumleski of the International Cafe, was fined $200.00 and costs for illegally having liquor, with the option of three months in jail if the fine is not paid. Up to the time of writing the fine had not been paid, so Rumleski is likely to go to Halleybury.

A charge was laid by a local bank against a Chinaman with several alleged aliases, the claim being that he obtained $2,000.00 from the bank in 1926 by fraud. The alleged fraud was said to comprise the taking of money from the bank by means of a cheque or withdrawal blank on another man's account. The charge was withdrawn before coming to trial.

Three common drunks paid $10.00 and costs each, having the money. The same in fines and costs was paid by each of two speeders. One wage case was withdrawn and another one was dismissed. A man living on Hollinger Lane, to whose family the town has been giving relief, was charged with vagrancy, it being held that he had refused to take over work that had been hunted up for him. The case was remanded to next week. A case under the Deserted Wives' Maintenance Act was remanded to next week.

Social Evening Held in Honour of Degree Team

Timmins Lodge No. 459 I.O.O.F. held a social evening on Friday, June 26th, in honour of the degree team that won the shield at Matheson on May 25th. The event was under the auspices of the Past Noble Grands. While the attendance was not as large as it could have been, the sixty members and friends who were present had a splendid evening. The address by Mayor Geo. S. Drew was very entertaining. W. M. Whyte in his address pointed out the good that can be attained by joining an order of this kind. He also complimented the degree team on their splendid showing at Matheson, also suggesting that the ladies see to it that their husbands attend lodge and attend regularly. Mrs. Adamson, in Highland costume, won the hearty applause of the gathering for her Highland dancing and was repeatedly encored. Miss Grace Lawrence also very gracefully danced the Rose dance, this talented young artist showing just how graceful a dancer can be. Mrs. Webber's rich voice was heard in two numbers, both being very warmly encored. Jos. Ormston in "The King's Horses" and "I've Lost All My Love for You" won the usual hearty applause that is invariably accorded this popular singer. Ice cream and cake were served twice during the evening. Mrs. Wilkins acted as accompanist at the piano for the evening with her usual efficiency. W. A. Devine played the piano for the dancing and with his snappy numbers completed a real evening. The Past Noble Grands of Timmins Lodge wish to thank the artists who made the evening such a huge success.

Rev. Bruce Millar conducted the anniversary services at the United Church at Cochrane on Sunday. Mr. Hazelewood in charge of the church at Cochrane, occupied the pulpit morning and evening at the Timmins United Church.

Funeral of Little Son of Dr. and Mrs. Murtagh

Brief reference was made last week to the death of the little four-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Murtagh, of Timmins, and the sincere sympathy felt by all for the bereaved relatives and friends in the loss of this particularly bright and charming little boy. The sad death took place on Wednesday afternoon, July 1st, following an operation. The body was taken to Ottawa for burial. The Ottawa Journal on Tuesday of this week made the following reference to the funeral:—"The funeral took place on Saturday at 11 a.m., of Vincent Charles Murtagh, 4-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. Andrew Murtagh, well known residents of Timmins, Ont., from the residence of his aunt, Mrs. Richard J. White, 110 Frank street, Ottawa, to Vindoc, Que., where Rev. Father Kintson performed the services. Left to mourn his death are his parents; one sister, Catherine; one brother, Andrew; his grandmother, Mrs. Francis Murtagh, Ottawa; three uncles, Hector Murtagh, Ottawa; Frank Murtagh, London, Eng., and Thomas Murtagh, Regina. There are also three aunts, Mrs. Paul McNally, Campbell's Bay, Que., Mrs. W. J. Kelly, Sault Ste. Marie, and Mrs. Richard J. White, Ottawa. The many spiritual and floral offerings testified to the deep regret which the many friends of the family felt at the death of their young son."

Seventeenth Annual Oddfellows' Picnic

Basket Picnic and Children's Field Day to be Held at Golden City on Saturday, July 25th.

The seventeenth annual picnic of the Oddfellows' lodges of this camp will be held this year at Golden City on Saturday, July 25th. This is always one of the big happy times of the season, the I.O.O.F. picnics having been famous for seventeen years now. For this basket picnic and day of sports a big programme of events has been prepared. This will include:—softball between Timmins and South Porcupine lodges; children's races, all ages from 6 to 16 years; football game, between Timmins and Porcupine lodges. There are handsome cups for the football and softball games, and fine prizes for the other events. Tea and coffee served free. There is a refreshment booth on the grounds. The train service makes it easy to attend this picnic. Trains leave Timmins at 10.05 and 12.25 will stop at Golden City; returning, leaving at 5.00 p.m., 7.30 and 9.30 p.m. Parties of ten or more can receive special club rates from the railway.

ARRESTS FOLLOW THEFTS FROM PALACE AT HEARST

Recently the town of Hearst is said to have suffered a number of burglaries and thefts. The trouble is blamed on the large number of transients coming on the railway to and from Hearst and stopping off for an hour or two at the town. On Saturday of last week the bishop's palace at Hearst was broken into and a number of valuable articles stolen. Among these were a diamond ring, a wrist watch, a necklace, a camera, and other articles almost too numerous to mention. Despatches say that suspicion was directed towards three men who had been given food earlier in the day and their description was sent to the station to notify the authorities at Kapuskasing, to be on the lookout. The operator on duty, taking the message, shortly after noticed three men answering to the description, on the platform ready to board a freight train going east. He called Provincial Officer, Roy Elliott, who had the men searched and all the stolen articles were recovered. The men are being held at Hearst.

EXPECT TROUBLE AMONG UNEMPLOYED AT COCHRANE

Practically all of the towns of the North Land have suffered from the burden of unemployed men. This has been particularly unfair, because most of the North Land towns have done so much to relieve unemployment that conditions would be fairly good were it not for the fact that literally thousands of unemployed have crowded into this district from all over the globe. Cochrane has been perhaps the chief sufferer in the North Land from the unemployed from all over gathering there. Conditions are very serious as a consequence. To make matters worse a number of ghoulish aliens have gone to Cochrane to try to secure advantage to themselves and injury to the country from the unfortunate conditions. Fortunately, these agitators have not made much impression to date, but they continue their evil work. It would be well for Cochrane to get rid of these foreign fiends by any means available. It is admitted that Cochrane can not care for the hundreds of unemployed gathered there. Cochrane had done well and the matter of further relief must be looked after by the province and the Dominion in some way. During the past few weeks there have been nightly meetings of the unemployed, some of these meetings being addressed by agitators. The meetings so far have been orderly but The Cochrane Northland Post in a flare heading across its front page says "Trouble Imminent Among Unemployed." There is no item beneath the heading to warrant the words, but possibly this will not worry The Post. It is a fact, however, that Cochrane is badly overburdened with unemployed men and it is equally true that something should be done about it.

Writes Ironically on the Wolf Route

H. A. Preston Points Out How the Wolves Howl About Roads Being Built Too Far North.

For fear The Northland Post, of Cochrane, may take the following letter too literally, The Advance hastens to explain that Mr. Preston is writing sarcastically, ironically and perhaps sardonically. When he suggests that the Trans-Canada highway should be built close to the boundary line he simply intends to call attention to the fact, patent to most people, that the Trans-Canada highway is planned for Canada and Canadians and to open up and develop the country. The Advance regrets that it cannot print a diagram for guidance of The Post. However, The Post might "compromise" by getting at least one or two points straight. Mr. Preston, writing this week from Ramore says:—"If the right place for the Trans-Canada highway is not along the Canadian National Railway route, then how is that government-owned railway going to pay for itself if the country along it is not opened up by roadways and settlement. Why not tear up the rails and cut out the trains and turn it into a highway itself? This would be far better than running it at a loss and doing everything else possible to make it worse than ever. Turn it into a highway and the Government will make money. If they are anxious to continue to lose money, just keep on as at present. Build the highway as close as possible to the border of the U.S.A., so that tourists won't have to come far north in real Canada. When the T. & N. O. Railway starts running to James Bay you'll hear the Sault wolves begin to howl. Someone will want to divert the trade and business away from it. They'll say it is too far north, like they said about Cobalt, Porcupine, Kirkland Lake and Temagami."

MANSLAUGHTER CHARGED AFTER AUTO ACCIDENT

At Rouyn on Monday three persons were charged with manslaughter following an inquest at which all three were held criminally responsible for the death of Remi Charron, Rouyn.

They were Mrs. Elmira Demers, owner of the automobile which collided with another car near Rouyn, Que., Friday last, George Belanger, driver of the Demers car, and Oswald Dho, a passenger.

Charron died of injuries sustained in the collision. Dho and Mrs. Demers are held without bail, and Belanger is under guard in hospital at Noranda. The inquest was conducted by Coroner Dr. J. D. Bouille.

J. C. Mangan, Bank of Nova Scotia, Cochrane, visited in Timmins over the week-end with his aunt, Mrs. M. C. O'Neill.

Canadian Again Wins Classic Diamond Sculls

A cable from Henley-on-Thames, on Saturday last gave the pleasing news that Bob Pearce, of Hamilton, won the classic Diamond Sculls that afternoon. He defeated F. Bradley, of Pembroke College, Cambridge, in the final.

The prized trophy, emblematic of world supremacy in amateur sculling, thus for the first time remains in Canada for two consecutive years. Jack Guest, of Toronto, won it last year.

Pearce won the final easily, according to the official verdict. His time over the Henley course of a mile and 550 yards was 10 minutes and three seconds. The slow time was accounted for by water conditions and a strong head wind.

Bob Pearce is the fourth Canadian in history to have won the Diamond Sculls. Away back in 1904, Lou Scholes, of Toronto, defeated H. A. Cloutte, of London in the final. Twenty-four years later, another Torontonian, Joe Wright, Jr., defeated Lee, of Oxford, and last year still a third Toronto boy, Jack Guest, defeated G. Boetzelen, of Germany.

Pearce has cut a wide swath in rowing circles in the past few years. He won the Olympic championship without tremendous difficulty, but was unable to enter the Diamonds that year. Then in 1930, at Hamilton, he walked away with the British championships, never being seriously threatened. Since he went to England some months ago to prepare for the Diamonds, he won every senior event he entered. In the Diamonds themselves he has defeated Brocklebank, Gentry and Southwood, three British aces who had been expected to furnish strong opposition.

Pearce's victory over Southwood was an impressive one. He was over anxious at the start and beat the gun, but was called back. When he did get away, however, he swung into a 32-stroke pace that was irresistible. He was a length in front at Temple Island, and even when he slowed down to 28 strokes, he was still pulling in front. He was 14 seconds in front of Southwood at the finish and was breathing easily.

But while Pearce was strongly favoured, waterside observers felt he might have to work hard to obtain the victory. His opponent, Bradley, walked through the first round by defeating Natvig of Kingston by four lengths. He defeated Clive of Oxford in a smart race. He just paddled to the finish, after meeting every challenge without difficulty.

Pembroke Standard-Observer:—"If 100 new industries have located in Canada since Bennett became Premier, then his tariff is working out all right."

Lindsay Post:—"In Yugoslavia a school principal has prohibited the use of lipstick and rouge, but the girl students have decided to keep a stiff upper lip and strike for their rights. They will stick to their colours."

Some Odd Articles Left at the Camp

One Man Apparently Went Away Without his Trousers, Shirts and Caps Left Behind at Tourist Camp.

Although the tourist camp has only been open for six weeks or so, there is a collection of lost articles there awaiting claimants. Perhaps the number of articles thus lost is not so surprising as the fact that there are not more, as the camp has been used by large numbers of people, not only by tourists but by the people of the town, and especially by women and children with double emphasis on the children with whom the camp has been particularly popular. With so many visiting at the beach it may not be remarkable that a number of articles have been left behind, but some of these lost articles certainly do appear peculiar things to forget. According to the list made by D. S. Ryan, who is in charge of the camp, one man went away leaving his trousers behind him. The explanation probably is that he came out of the water in his bathing suit and entered a car, possibly tossing his clothes into the car and not noticing that he had overlooked his trousers. A more involved explanation would be that the man had been wearing two pairs of pants, but the weather is against that suggestion. One other man left his hat, while two forgot their caps. Still another gave his shirt. The list shows many articles of children's wear left behind, as well as towels, dishes and small articles. Mr. Ryan, who is in charge at the camp is holding the articles at the booth and they may be secured by the owners on proper identification.

At the tourist camp this week there was one car from Sudbury, one from Toronto and one from Ottawa, as well as some from shorter distances.

Some one has started a rumour that the beach is closed or to be closed. Of course there is no truth to this. Another rumour spread by some is given as a reason for the alleged closing, this being to the effect that there are ringworms in the water. This second rumour is as ridiculous as the first, as water is one place where ringworms do not live. It may be noted that the water is kept fresh, being fed by springs and kept pumped out to keep the level down. There is no intention to close the beach where such large numbers have found so much comfort this year. Everything is all right at the beach, except for the odd dog that is brought there and creates disturbance or annoyance. Stern measures are being taken to do away with this nuisance and continue the camp as a pleasant place of resort for townspeople and visitors in the hot weather.

Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Craig, of Schumacher, Ont., announce the engagement of their daughter, Cecelia Mary, to Louis John Faulkner, the wedding to take place on Thursday, July 16th, at 4 p.m., in the United Church. Schumacher.

London Free Press:—"As time passes unknown stories of the war are gradually coming to light. English papers at hand report through the medium of the bankruptcy court a hitherto unpublished secret of the war. A witness under examination stated that he was one of 28 survivors of about 2,000 men who were drowned in a sunken convoy. Her many friends will be pleased to know that Mrs. J. K. Massie continues to progress to recovery at St. Mary's hospital where she has been since sustaining serious injuries in a fall some weeks ago. Mrs. Massie is suffering considerable pain from some of the minor injuries, but the badly fractured wrist, which was the most serious injury sustained, appears to be progressing well to recovery."
