Notable Boys' Camp Opening Near Orillia

Camp Under Auspices of the Ontario Athletic Commission is Unusually Well Equipped and Situated. Camp to Open on Saturday, August 8th.

The opening of the Ontario Athletic Commission camp near Orillia arranged for August 3rd has been postponed until the Saturday following, August 8th. Difficulty in securing electric connections from the Hydro was the main reason for the laying over of the official opening to the later date.

The Commission is taking care of the expenses of twenty boys from all parts of the province. These lads have been selected from the outstanding athletes among the schoolboys who have also shown more than average keenness in their studies.

The camp is situated on Lake Couchiching near Longford and some six miles from Orillia. It consists of a quarter-mile cinder track, tennis courts and housing for some fifty or sixty boys with every modern convenience.

Walter Knox has been appointed coach for the camp, this year. He has handled Olympic teams, is at present coach at Queen's University and was himself professional all-round champion of the world which title he still holds though there has been no contest for it for some years.

The camp which is one of the very best equipped athletic centres in the world is ideally situated for swimming and boating and has a water frontage of some four hundred yards.

A medical man will be in attendance at the camp and all candidates will be examined on entering and the greatest care taken of the health of the boys during their stay there. It is a remarkably healthy spot with a limestone foundation all over the property and an up-to-date water system has been installed.

This camp is under the direct supervision of the commission which works under the Department of Health of the Provincial Government and it has an object—to coach the best athletic talent in the schools of the province in the latest and best systems in every department of track and field sport. The camp will not be a rest centre but will buzz with athletic activity. On the other hand care will be taken that these boys build up rather than burn out in their training.

Besides the twenty boys who will be taken care of by the commission there will be room for probably thirty or forty more who will have to pay their own way, but the charge will be at cost. Enquiries may be addressed to J. L. Murray, 15 Queen's Park, Toronto 2, Ontario.

MAN WANTED IN PORCUPINE SENTENCED TO TWO YEARS

The Northern News last week says:—"Gaston Labelle, convicted of robbery under arms in Rouyn on June 13th, was sentenced to two years in St. Vincent de Paul penitentiary, when he appeared in the district magistrate's police court at Amos on Wednesday of last week. Labelle held up Rock Delongier, Rouyn, at the rear of the Commercial Hotel there, using a revolver to cow his victim and relieving him of all his money. He was captured a few days later. Leniency was shown by Magistrate H. R. Fiset of Rimouski, Que., owing he stated, to Labelle having to appear in two other courts on charges, including one of ball jumping at Kirkland Lake. The prisoner claims to be former middle-weight boxing champion of Canada, and to have served in the 22nd Battalion with the rank of sergeant-major."

Strong Suspicion For Sault Proposal

Plan for "Unofficial Legislature" Apparently Designed Only for the Advantage of Sault Ste. Marie and District.

The opinion of this part of the North seems to be directly and strongly opposed to the proposal emanating from Sault Ste. Marie to the effect that an "unofficial legislature for the whole North" be formed, with the first meeting of this body to be held at Sault Ste. Marie on August 25th. Cobalt, Timmins, New Liskeard, Kirkland Lake, Halleybury and other towns have expressed themselves as against the proposal. Last week The Cochrane Northland Post expressed its opinion editorially on the matter. Before recounting what The Cochrane Northland Post says on the matter attention may be drawn to that newspaper's apparent joy, because after several recent disagreements, it is in agreement with The Advance in this particular matter. A story used to be told of the late Magistrate Dennison of Toronto. Appeal had been made against a decision made by Magistrate Dennison, and the higher court had sustained the finding of the magistrate. When a lawyer friend informed Magistrate Dennison of this support of his decision, his comment was:—"Well, I still think I am right in the matter notwithstanding."

To revert to the editorial by The Northland Post, here is the reference in full:—

"As we have had occasion during the past few months to differ in our viewpoint with The Porcupine Advance it is with a distinct sense of pleasure that we find ourselves in agreement, for once, with our worthy contemporary. Like the Advance we view with strong suspicion the "unofficial legislature" which is being proposed by Editor Curran of the Soo Star, and also supported by Fort William, Port Arthur and Sault Ste. Marie, and referred to in our columns last week. That the idea has so far failed to find favour in this section is significant. The general opinion appears to be that Northern Ontario and Northwestern Ontario have but little in common, and that by uniting with them we, in Northern Ontario would be playing the role of the monkey who hooked the chestnuts out of the fire for someone else. We have been assured that expenditures here would have to be curtailed because the northwest section was complaining that too much was being spent here and not enough there. If then, we support them, it will be to our own loss.

"It would appear, however, that there is one point in common interest, and that is an increase in the annual allocation for the development of the northern part of the province. When the relative sizes of Old and New Ontario are considered, it becomes quite evident that the amount of money expended annually in New Ontario is not in keeping with the size of the territory which it has to cover. The sum of money set aside each year is woefully inadequate, and the North suffers accordingly. Every dollar which has been spent by the province in the North has been returned many fold to the South in industrial development and other ways. Increased expenditure in the North would have a correspondingly beneficial effect in the South, and the province as a whole would benefit. Though there are many problems common to both territories, we cannot see that the proposed body could deal with them any better than existing organizations. We have already elected representatives in the Legislature who are earnestly striving on our behalf, and in addition we have the Northern Ontario Associated Boards of Trade. Inasmuch as there is a very limited interest in the latter body, we are not at all hopeful that any more interest would be shown in this proposed "unofficial legislature." A further objection is that, being held in Sault Ste. Marie, which is a considerable distance from this section, it would be entirely dominated by the Northwest, as there are few individuals in this section who are in a position to undertake the expense and loss of time to attend the meetings of such a body. If we are to have an "unofficial legislature," then let us have two of them, one for each section. Let the Northwest hold their meetings in Sault Ste. Marie or where they wish, and let us have one meeting in some town fairly central to this section. But it does not seem practical to have one for such a large territory. The delegates attending meetings of such a body would have to do so at their own expense; unlike members of the Legislature, they would receive no compensation for the time away from their business; and few, if any, of the municipalities hereabouts are in a financial condition to stand the expense of paying the expenses of the delegates.

"There is no question but that the Northern, and by far the larger part of the province needs more attention, but we question that this proposed "unofficial legislature" is a practical move, or that it will help solve our difficulties. In any move to increase expenditure in the North, our friends to the west can always count on our support, but if it is merely to be a change in the apportioning of the present expenditures, it is hardly reasonable to expect our support. Any proposal designed to improve conditions in the North generally, or to overcome its difficulties, will be most welcome here, and will be generally supported, but no attempt to divert expenditures from our section to Northwestern Ontario, will be tolerated."

ROMAN CATHOLIC CHURCH BURNED DOWN AT CHARLTON

The Halleyburian last week says:—"Word was received here yesterday that St. Stephen's Roman Catholic church at Charlton, 45 miles away, was destroyed by fire about nine o'clock Tuesday night. The cause of the blaze is unknown, but when Rev. Father Roy McMahon, parish priest there, tried to enter the frame building in an effort to save some of the contents, he found the structure so thoroughly in the grip of the flames that he had to retire. Nothing was saved, but a volunteer bucket brigade succeeded in preventing the fire from spreading to the priest's house and sheds nearby. No candles had been left burning and the origin of the blaze is a mystery."

St. Mary's Journal-Argus:—A good deal is heard nowadays about the difficult competition the railroads are having. In other words where they used to have a good haul they now are having a hard pull.

Huntingdon Gleaner:—A twelve-year-old boy from an Eastern Township farm, who was born blind, had the bandages removed after an operation on his eyes, and was able to see, for the first time in his life. He will have 90 per cent. normal vision with glasses, it was said. Dr. F. T. Tooke, the Montreal surgeon who restored the lad's sight, said the operation was simply one of removing cataracts that had been present from birth. The plight of the boy had been discovered by the Junior Red Cross, which raised the necessary funds to send him to Montreal for treatment.
