Picton Gazette:—Will the wink come back? Those saucy billycock hats have taken women back to the style of over half a century ago, and the question now is will they bring back that saucier wink of the sweet ladies of our grandmother's day.
Toronto Mail and Empire:—Sing Sing now has a football team, which suggests a moving-picture scenario in which the great forward passer hurls the ball over the prison walls and it is later discovered that the hero is concealed in the ball.

N.O.H.A. Appoints Group Convenors
Annual Meeting Decides to Consider Group Schedules and Players Certificates at Meeting of Executive in December.

The annual meeting of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association started plans for a big season of hockey in the North. The report of the annual meeting of the N.O.H.A. as given by The North Bay Nugget is as follows:—
"The appointment of group convenors by the executive at a meeting held subsequently to the annual meeting here on Saturday completed preparations for this year's activities under the banner of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association. The appointees will proceed immediately with the organization of their respective divisions and be prepared to report at an executive meeting slated for the first week in December. This gathering will be for the particular purpose of approving of groupings, schedules and the scanning of applications for players certificates.

"J. H. McDonald, Sault Ste. Marie, and D. R. Mitchell, Sudbury, will lead the southern group forces together. The Central group will be looked after by D. Sutherland, Halleybury and C. Binkley, North Bay, and Mr. R. Richards, South Porcupine have been entrusted with organizing plans for the northern division.
"The southern group looks like a twosome arrangement in the junior division with Sudbury and Sault Ste. Marie as the contenders. Applications made by North Bay and Chapleau for byes are to be considered by the executive and their acceptance or rejection will likely depend on the findings of the convenors. The senior activities will be confined to the Nickel Belt group with the winner emerging as a candidate for association honours unless Sault Ste. Marie elects to enter a team.

"New Liskeard, Halleybury and Cobalt are again likely to compose the central section with all three clubs entering teams in the senior and junior divisions. The northern branch will contain a large number of widespread clubs, reaching from Noranda, Que., and Kirkland Lake to Kapuskasing and Smooth Rock Falls. The outlook is for an all-season senior group in the Porcupine area with South Porcupine and Timmins as the contestants and the Mattagami group, consisting of Kapuskasing, Smooth Rock Falls and Cochrane hold a bye. Tentative plans call for the operation of local senior groups in Kirkland Lake and Noranda, Que., with each holding byes in the Central group. It is probable that arrangements will be made to have the winners in these local groups declare a winner before emerging to meet the winners in the Liskeard-Halleybury-Cobalt triune.

"Kirkland Lake will operate a junior team under the auspices of the Canadian Legion, and according to views expressed by the club delegates at the N.O.H.A. annual, they will this year make a bold bid for the Copeland Cup. Junior teams will also operate in Liskeard, Halleybury and Cobalt, but the outlook for junior hockey north of Swastika is rather dismal. Timmins, Iroquois Falls and Monteth academy are apparently on the outs in so far as junior hockey is concerned. In fact Iroquois Falls and Monteth appear unlikely to dabble in hockey in an organized way.

"The intentions of the Mattagami League, Kapuskasing, Smooth Rock Falls and Cochrane, are so far indefinite other than for the fact that Kapuskasing has renewed its N.O.H.A. membership and applied for consideration in the playdowns on a bye basis.
"President D. Sutherland and W. A. Thompson, secretary-treasurer, will represent the N.O.H.A. at the O.H.A. annual in Toronto on Saturday. They have been delegated to approach the parent organization on the matter of including N.O.H.A. officials on the board of referees for the annual provincial playdowns. This question was debated at considerable length at the N.O.H.A. annual and a decision made to have the delegates seek a better arrangement with the O.H.A.

"The executive was empowered to make any changes in the playing rules that may be adopted by the O. H. A. this year. It was ruled that since the Northern Association is amenable to the O.H.A. in the matter of playing regulations it would be only right to have the code kept up with developments.
"The 1932 annual meeting will consider a recommendation made by H. P. Charlton, Sudbury, life member that the executive be increased by adding second and third vice-presidents and extending the tenure of the executive committee members to two years as is usually the case with chair officers. Mr. Charlton, who was the first secretary-treasurer of the association claims the governing body as now composed is too limited in numbers and representation.
"In commenting on the N.O.H.A. meeting "Observer" who writes the "Sportology" column for The Nugget says:—

"Had it not been that a majority of the voting delegates at the annual convocation of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association heeded the counsel of executive heads the organization might now be dismembered to a destructive degree. A plea set up by the Sudbury delegates for the denial of a bye in the Southern junior group to the Chapleau Club brought on a debate which came near to being terminated by an enactment which would have meant the expulsion of all clubs holding byes. Had it come to pass Kapuskasing, Kirkland Lake, Cochrane, Monteth Academy, North Bay, Chapleau and the newest member, Noranda, Que., would have been cast out. The delegates reasoned that if it was good for one it was good for all and North Bay came in for a number of hard and deserved digs. Fortunately, the delegates consented to referring the question to the executive with power to act. No doubt they will arrive at an acceptable decision. While it was wisdom to handle the matter cautiously this year it will not do to go on from year to year granting old and new byes. Eventually, it will mean that the association will be reduced to nothing more or less than a union of a number of city leagues with a play-down series during the tail end of the season. Inter-club competitions will become a thing of the past and interest will wane year by year until more thought is given to the welfare of the league units than to the security of the association. The executive should this year busy itself at trying to re-build the groups. North Bay should be told that it must be in on an all-season basis or out entirely. The same should apply to Kirkland Lake and other centres within the radius of an operating group. The only alternative is to make the centres seeking byes enroll their entire group and let the winning team come out for the play-downs. Imagine allowing a town to pick a team for the finals from a five or six team group to meet a club with a roster of ten or twelve players. It may not seem dangerous at this time but there's worry and trouble ahead unless control and complete control, is exercised. North Bay has had three or four years to get out of the bye class. Quite long enough. Kirkland Lake should not be entitled to a bye under existing conditions."

Another comment by "Observer" in the "Sportology" column reads as follows:—
"New blood, represented in Roger Mitchell, Sudbury and D. M. Briden, Kirkland Lake, was injected into the governing body of the Northern Ontario Hockey Association. Both have been identified with hockey from their cradle days and have been active in Northern hockey circles for many years. Mr. Mitchell graduated from the presidency of the Nickel Belt League this year while Mr. Briden is one of the men behind the game in the Kirkland Lake district. Aside with being possessed of unusual executive ability, both are practical hockey men, having played the game and in recent years kept their hands in by means of refereeing. Their election meant the elimination of T. J. Faight, late of Chapleau and now of Sudbury, which will be generally regretted. There isn't a doubt but that the delegates were influenced in the voting by the fact that Mr.

PATROL WAGON AS SLEEPING ACCOMMODATION QUARTERS

On several recent occasions transients have been routed out of railroad cars and other places where they have elected to find shelter for sleep. Often with the police patrol wagon standing out in front of the building there has been temptation to think that the wagon would be an ideal place for the transient to creep in for a little sleep without disturbance. He could slip in without being noticed. He would be out of the wind and would have a considerable amount of shelter and some warmth. He could stretch out more luxuriously than in the most of the other places selected. He might not be disturbed at all, and even if he were found he would simply be transferred to another sheltered spot, "a cloistered cell," to use the words of the poet. Up to date in Timmins, however, no one has chosen the "blue Mary" as a resting place. All the transients have taken the old places, stables, railroad cars, outhouses, etc., the places used for centuries by the side-door pullman travelling man. There has been no originality about it. Probably the man with the originality and spirit of progress and adventure necessary to pick on a patrol wagon for his homeless nap, would not be out of the work or on the road. At Ottawa the other day, however, a transient did pick on a patrol wagon. He overdid the originality of the scheme, however, by picking the middle of the day for his nap and going inside the police garage to get into the patrol. When the police had a call and took out the patrol wagon their surprise must have been considerable when upon unloading they discovered two men where they had only picked up one. This particular transient at Ottawa was charged with being drunk and sentenced to three days in jail. With the usual lack of romance and imagination the authorities believed this transient to be drunk. "He must be drunk," would be the way they would argue, "or he could not have crawled into the patrol wagon." Why not give the man credit for originality, imagination, ingenuity and adventure.

Faight will this year be more or less inactive in hockey circles. He was responsible for the birth of the Chapleau Club as an N.O.H.A. unit and had he remained there would, no doubt, have had the club still active in the Southern junior group. E. M. Little, the other retiring member, expressed a desire to be relieved because his position as assistant manager of the Abitibi P. and F. Co., plant at Iroquois Falls requires all his time.

Power Co. 777 771 912 2460
Gamble-Robinson won all four points the Power Co. being outclassed in the play.
The Advance achieved revenge for a recent defeat in which the Saint and all other sinners of the T. & N. O. team has so much fun. Art Saint spoke so badly of the defeat that his name will have to be changed as he showed himself no Saint. However it was a great old game anyhow and watched with much interest, and also listened to the same way.
