Timmins Doctor Has Endorsed New Cure

Discovery of Cancer Cure Through Use of Herb Said to be Approved by Several Physicians Including Timmins Doctor.

A despatch appearing in a number of daily newspapers this week says: "Phenomenal improvement in cancer cases treated by a herb grown in Ontario is claimed by Miss R. M. Cairns, Ontario medical nurse. The herb is boiled and steeped in water or alcohol, and either injected into the cancerous growth or taken internally. The plant grows in Ontario in sufficient quantity to treat all the cancer patients in the world, she says."

Miss Caisse learned of the herb nine years ago while in Bracebridge, Ont. It was one of the ingredients in a treatment given by an Indian for cancerous growths.

"A number of Toronto physicians have expressed themselves as much impressed with results obtained by the herb. Eight doctors of this city and one from Timmins, Ont., signed a statement declaring they believed her treatment "relieves pain, will reduce the enlargement, and will prolong life in hopeless cases."

"Miss Caisse declines to disclose her secret until she is assured 'somebody else is not going to reap the advantage of it.'"

Blows Have Record Game in the Ostrasser League

The Blows won easily from the Headpins in the Ostrasser league on Monday, the bowling being in real record class. One man made over 800, another over 700, and three over the 600-mark. That is what may well be called championship bowling. Kemball had a total of 889 pins, with a high single of 379. F. Nicolson was also very good, while all the rest of the team deserve a lot of credit. The Headpins were very badly handicapped by the absence of J. Roberts, their captain, and L. Hodnett.

Blows 1048 1267 1215 2530 Headpins 923 998 865 2788 The Fouls rolled a nice total of 3129 pins, to take 4 points from the Strikes. Whitney was the best man for the Fouls with 770 total, while C. Brown was a close second. The Strikes tried hard but did not seem to be able to get going despite the fact that they had C. Studor back on their team. J. Stevens has also been added to their team which should be a big asset to the Strikes.

Fouls 925 1039 1064 3129 Strikes 899 871 796 2566 Fowls 4; Strikes, 0.

The standing of the teams to date is as follows:—Spare, 9 points; Blows, 8; Fouls, 8; Strikes, 6; Splits, 3; Headpins, 2.

The following is the honour roll for the week:—E. Kemball, 889 (379); T. Whitney, 770 (305); F. Nicolson, 710 (293); C. Brown, 673; J. Cowan, 661; A. Tomkinson, 652; E. Salama, 646; K. Tomkinson, 629; A. Beaulne, 618 (290).

St. Catharines Standard:—In nine months this year there have been 1,234 bank failures in the United States, the total having been swelled just recently by a series of pre-Christmas failures with millions of public money involved. There is no room for argument as to the superiority of the Canadian banking system.

Trans-Canada Road Worker has Fortune

T. Irish Promptly Drops his Job When he Learns he has been Given Bequest of Fifteen Thousand Dollars or So.

Apparently romance is determined to settle along the trans-Canada highway and in the vicinity of the road camps along the route. At least, the newspapers seem to be determined to have it that way. When it is not one thing it is another. There never seems to be a dull moment. When it isn't wolves attacking workers on the trans-Canada highway, it is a case of something else.

One of the latest things to touch the imagination in connection with the workers on the trans-Canada road is the statement given wide publicity in the press to the effect that a gentleman named T. Irish has been made the recipient of fifteen thousand dollars in cash. This money was left to him under a will, and now he has decided to take a trip to Florida. The despatches print pictures as well as featuring articles telling how one T. Irish has reaped a harvest that lets him out of the necessity for work at the particular moment. One despatch from North Bay last week-end says:—"Fortune has smiled upon one of Ontario's trans-Canada highway workers. T. Irish, employed at a highway camp at Corbeil, has been left $15,000 in a will, according to word reaching North Bay some days ago.

As a result, Irish will be wintering in the South, instead of in the "frozen North." He is leaving his job on the highway for the sunny shores of Florida, it is reported.

Upon hearing the good news, Irish wasted little time in the role of a tolling highway worker. He had sought the job on the unemployment relief project, like many others who could not find work in their regular vocations. Hurried good-byes were said by Irish as soon as the windfall became known, his kitbag was packed and he left immediately for "points south."

Chief of Police Jones, of Timmins, and Chief C. McInnis, of Tisdale, have agreed to observe the same date, Feb. 15th, as the last possible day on which anyone will be permitted to drive a car without having the 1932 markers.

Although all motor cars and trucks in use at the present should have the 1932 markers the chief of police of Timmins and the chief of police of Tisdale are agreed that it will simplify the matter for the public if both town and township observe the same day for starting the strictest enforcement of the law regarding markers. Accordingly, after a conference the date agreed upon was Feb. 15th. At that date the law will be very strictly enforced and all not having the 1932 markers will be liable to the penalties in the case. While all cars should have the 1932 markers at the present moment both Chief Jones and Chief McInnis are anxious to allow the public a little opportunity to secure the necessary new markers. After Feb. 15th no excuses will be accepted. By that time all must have their 1932 markers or suffer the consequences. All should make note of this fact and then govern themselves accordingly. Now is a good time to secure the markers. This leaves ample time to secure the markers. Do it now! The intention is to hold a general check-up both in Timmins and in Tisdale and to take the necessary steps to assure that the 1932 markers are in use.

SUGGEST UNEMPLOYED CUT BUSH NEAR KIRKLAND LAKE

One of the recent suggestions made for the relief unemployment at Kirkland Lake is that the jobless men be used to cut down the bush in the territory around the town, thus helping overcome any fire hazard from bush fires in the district. It does seem certain that this sort of a plan is much more sensible than to pay out any money for the direct relief of the unemployed. The right kind of man does not want direct relief. All he asks is a chance to work and he will look after himself and his family. If money is spent for direct relief the country does not get anything out of it. If money is spent on useful work, such as the removal of fire hazard from a town like Kirkland Lake there is a double virtue at the present time in the expenditure involved. It provides work and it gives the country notable value in the way of protection from the bush fire menace. It is unfortunate that the Governments apparently are more or less putting a premium on direct relief, in place of bidding it in every case except where it is impossible to do otherwise. Widows, children, sick people, these must have direct relief in case of need, but all others worth a pinch of salt are only anxious to help themselves.

In referring to the proposal for cutting down the bush near Kirkland Lake as a means of providing employment, The Northern News last week says:—"A new plan for the relief of the serious unemployment situation in Kirkland Lake was announced at the council meeting on Monday night by Councillor D. McChesney. He recommended that the council undertake the clearing of the bush for a much wider area around the town and thus relieve any possible danger from fire hazard. In conversation with the Hon. Chas. McCrea, he stated he was informed the Ontario Government would give two dollars for every one expended by the council on such a scheme, and felt that it might be arranged to have the funds of the relief committee paid to the corporation for this purpose. The subject was introduced at the meeting by a letter from C. E. Rodgers, manager of the Sylvanite Mines, which suggested that as an unemployment measure, bush might be cut to the north of the C.N.R. station. This is the region known as the "jungle" where a number, all of unemployed men are still housed in crude shacks. Councillor McChesney expressed himself in favour of doing this work on a much larger scale. He felt that as the Ontario Government had a large financial interest here, it would have added weight with the fire insurance companies and he remarked that the municipality last year had paid out approximately a quarter of a million dollars in premiums and had less than $4,000 in fire losses."
