ate in these times and take on married men with families. Young fellows have the chance to make money for spending on trips, etc., while married men can't get enough wages to keep their children. A woman (Canadian) with five children also wrote for help and a man, Canadian born, wrote that they had nothing to eat in the house and his hope of getting work had vanished. These cases have all been investigated. It was stated that charity at present is the heaviest of all the township's expenditures, there being around two hundred and fifty at present dependent on the township for food. This places a heavy burden on the taxpaying home-owner, who can scarcely manage to keep the roof over his own children's heads. There was considerable discussion over the giving of tax license to any who did not carry a certain amount of liability insurance. The solicitor reported that it would be quite in order to refuse tax licenses to any who did not produce certificates of such insurance. It was decided to hold this matter over for further investigation before stating just how much insurance a taxi must carry in order to have his application for license O.K'd. It was also mentioned that some movement should be taken to have license fees paid the first of the year instead of May 1st as is done now. All licenses expire on December 31st of the current year in which they are issued. There was a letter from the Department of Surveys in Toronto re claims around the source of water supply. Up to the present no one can stake a claim there, and this area is to be carefully guarded so that there will be no source of pollution on all land around the water source, hence the township is getting a lease of occupation on all land around there.

The financial statement in more definite form asked for by Schumacher Ratepayers' Association is the one made up by the auditors and it has not yet arrived but will be forwarded to them on its arrival. The reeve spoke of the visit of himself and council to Schumacher. Much had been said re taxation. Fully one half of the buildings and contents in the township are assessable but of the mining properties half or more than that are exempt from taxation. He said that at the meeting in Schumacher there seemed to be a feeling that School Section No. 2 (Schumacher) had paid more taxes to Tisdale than S.S. No. 1. Figures that were prepared for Messrs Ellis and Bickle sometime ago show that up to the end of 1930 Dome had paid $208,000 more taxes than the McIntyre. Each section had its own water system to instal and has it to maintain. Each section had its own schools to build and to keep up. By the looks of the McIntyre buildings to-day, it would seem that with a proper adjustment of assessment McIntyre taxes would soon catch up with what Dome has paid.

A Finlander was present to see if he sold his home and took his wife and three children to Finland if he could have the taxes cancelled so that he would have enough to go with. The council felt that all taxes were too badly needed at present to feed those who were here to cancel them and they were let stand. It was thought some of his friends could assist him. A Finnish woman was present re six roomers she had who were out of work and whom she had kept on. As no authority had been given by council for keeping them they would not pay room rent but if there was not room in the place supplied by the township for housing the unemployed then some arrangements might be made, but the council was now feeding them. A woman from Schumacher was in looking for assistance. Her husband is out of work. There are five children going to school and a three-year-old child at home but the children now had to stay home from school because they had no clothes fit to go with. The grocer who had been carrying them for groceries felt that he could do so no longer as the bill was now up in the hundreds. Council felt it was a much more needy case than some others that had applied. A neighbour who was with her said the children were bright and got along well when they could go to school. Councillor Hawkins said he would be responsible for seeing that they got some clothing. The woman can sew enough to fix over clothes that are worth fixing. As the neighbour told of these three small boys and two girls without clothes enough to go out in, a councillor remarked, "Men older than that father have jobs. Why can't employers of labour in this camp co-operate to give men a chance where children are concerned?" Another said as the quiet, pitiful tale was told, "It's a cold day for children without enough clothes." In all cases where help was given the order was made out for stores that represented Tisdale taxpayers.

There was a discussion over rates charged by taxis to various points in the camp. S. Petcoff brought a copy of an old by-law of 1925 re rates by taxis but it was designated as a Chinese puzzle now. He also had rates from other localities. It was decided rates could not be struck at a meeting like that without more data. It was decided to have Chief McInnis notify all taxi drivers to send in a schedule of rates which they thought fair and from that data the council could work. Legislation wished for at this session in Toronto was discussed, also the best method of obtaining same in regard to municipal requirements.

One person was present re wood piled on a blind street, but permission had been given to pile it there and the council could see no very justifiable reason for now withdrawing such permission.

A Schumacher representative of the Schumacher Ratepayers' Association was present to see what was being done about the cemetery. He said that they suggested that a commission be appointed to handle it, the position being honorary, not monetary. Until the proper title can be got for the land there is not much that can be done. If this title cannot be got otherwise appropriation will probably be necessary. They promised to notify Schumacher as soon as title to the ground could be obtained and better care was promised this summer.

On Monday evening after four the Trill Rangers defeated the Bearcats—two juvenile organizations in town—5-4. Later there were the regular schedule of games. The High School won out in a 3-2 score against the Mill. The Bankers were defeated by the Skylarks 5-4, and the Engineers and Electricians played to an overtime tie.

The rinks of the two teams were—Smith, skip, Cattarello, vice-skip, Eames, second, Sky, lead; and Pearce, skip, H. Miller, vice-skip, McGee, second, and Thompson, lead.

The bonspiel games start on March 16th with the rinks of Miller vs. Costain and Evans vs. Kinsman competing. On March 18th Fairhurst vs. Brooks and Pearce vs. Smith play. On March 21st the winners of each of these games settle their supremacy.

The rinks entering the bonspiel this week are:—

had not been paid, and had applied 1929 and 1930 payments to the alleged arrears of 1926.

The evidence showed, said counsel, that Orland had applied through the present Mayor Drew of the town, for money from a mortgage company with which to pay his 1926 taxes and that both Drew and the present treasurer, Mr. Montgomery, had seen the receipt for the taxes.

There had been no counsel for the town at the trial and no counsel appeared today to represent the corporation.

"If they don't take the trouble to fight their cases, I think I would almost reverse the order on principle," said Justice Orde. Mr. Doherty said that apparently the town thought it had been well enough represented at the trial by civic officials.

The town had "actually even asked for penalties," Mr. Doherty asserted, after applying payments made as late as 1929 and 1930. He said that Drew testified that he had seen the receipt for the 1926 taxes which had since been lost.

"I think you have established that those taxes were paid," said Chief Justice Latchford. "What actually happened was that this man paid his taxes twice."

"It is just a sample of the gross negligence with which the town had handled this whole matter," said Mr. Doherty.

In St. Matthew's church on Good Friday, March 25th, there will be a celebration of the Holy Communion at 8.30 a.m., and Evening Prayer with sermon at 7 p.m.

The Tisdale township council met on Monday evening with the reeve and all the councillors present. After the reading of the minutes of last meeting considerable correspondence was read. A good deal of charity was still being asked. In one case the man had been out of work since January, 1931. There were three children, the second one being in the Sick Children's Hospital in Toronto near the point of death. Private parties had given the woman money enough to go down to see the child but the family were practically destitute. One of the councillors remarked, "Why can't the mines co-op-

Gross Negligence Claimed in Tax Case

Report in Despatches from Toronto Say that Court of Appeal Censured Town for Tax Case Before Court.

The following despatch appeared in outside newspapers in regard to a Timmins case before the court of appeal at Toronto last week:—
Toronto, March 9.—(By Canadian Press).—"Gross negligence" has been shown by the town of Timmins in the handling of payments of taxes by one of its citizens, Joseph Orland, Brian Doherty declared before the Ontario Court of Appeal today.

The court made an order on Mr. Doherty's application allowing the appeal of Orland from a judgment of Judge Caron awarding the town of $181 against Orland, and gave judgment in the taxpayer's favour for the same amount.

The town, it was explained, had successfully sued for Orland's 1926 taxes. At the trial, Mr. Doherty explained, the town maintained that these taxes
