IN MEMORIAM

LEACH—In loving memory of my dear daughter, Florence Archer Leach who entered into rest on May 21st, 1928.

Two dear bright eyes, a tender smile, A loving heart that knew no guile, Deep trust in God that all was right, Her joy to make some other bright.

If sick or suffering one she knew Some gentle act of love she'd do, No thought of self, but of the other I knew she said "Well done dear Florence."

—Ever remembered by Mother, Brothers and Sisters. 20p

Opening of Trial of Thirty-four at Rouyn

Sherbrooke Magistrate Opened Trial of Men and Women Following the Disorders at Rouyn on May 1st.

A despatch on Tuesday from Rouyn, Quebec says:— "As aftermath of an alleged Communist demonstration which was broken up by police at Rouyn on May 1, trial opened today of 34 persons, including three women, accused of unlawful assembly.

Throughout the heat of the day, with smoke from a nearby serious bush fire swirling over the courthouse, testimony and argument was heard, and the presiding magistrate, E. J. Couture, reserved judgment in four cases. The other accused will be tried as rapidly as possible but proceedings are expected to last for some days.

Steve Pavletich, Croatian labourer, Ales Matli, Russian, Byll Simergo, of Jugo-Slavia and Emil Salsa, Hungary, were the accused whose cases were heard on Monday.

Leonard Roy, K.C., Montreal, for the Crown upheld the right of the council and the police of Rouyn to forbid any meeting which might be regarded as disturbing to the peace or placing in jeopardy the property of citizens. He denounced tactics of "such strangers as coming to Canada, accept its hospitality and seek to undermine its laws, and destroy its domestic institutions by inflammatory and seditious speeches.

Under the by-laws of the town of Rouyn such an assembly as that of May 1 was not illegal, declared Michael Garber, of Montreal, acting for the defence. Until the arrival of police, who ordered the demonstrators to disperse and aroused their resentment the meeting was peaceable he said. "It is unfortunate that matters turned out as they did. Without police interference there might have been no untoward occurrences," Mr. Garber said.

Chief Lapointe of the town police and Constable Gaudet of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police stationed at Amos, Que., described the May Day scene. Each had been injured by flying rocks or other missiles while dispersing the crowd.

Four rows of male and female prisoners sat in court, three stylishly dressed girls among them. Pavletich, whose case came first, was accused of throwing stones at Constable Gaudet, who subsequently chased him down a lane and placed him under arrest. Matti took the stand in his own defence to state he knew nothing of the object of the meeting. He was attracted by curiosity, and was caught in a police charge, being hit on the head. He was arrested and given first aid by Constable Gaudet. Simergo was accused by Chief Perrault of the Noranda police of having thrown rocks at Chief Lapointe. Salsa was also declared to have hurled rocks at police.

There has not been a single North Land newspaper that has not protested against the foolish scheme suggested in the daily papers of some eight or nine hundred men marching from the Windsor area to the North Land to take up land. One of the best comments on the question was the editorial last week in The Halleyburian. In this connection The Halleyburian says:— "Recent newspaper stories from Windsor and the Border Cities, to the effect that a large number of unemployed men are preparing for a trek into Northern Ontario, appear to be something of a puzzle to many people throughout the country. The proposition is outlined as a movement to take these men from their city homes into the woods of the clay belt, there to become self-supporting and thus relieve the cities of the burden of caring for people who are out of employment. The whole idea does not make sense and it is very doubtful if it will be allowed. The "back to the Land" movement may be all right in one way. There is plenty of land that is not being made use of, but to imagine that men who have nothing in the way of resources could make a living in the bush in these times is absurd. There are no timber operations being carried on, the mining towns of the North are swamped with men looking for work, there is no great demand for farm labourers and no market for any products that can be readily taken from the settler, but times have changed. It is earnestly hoped that governments, federal, provincial and municipal, will unite in opposition to any scheme which would result in men being stranded in the North Country without means of subsistence. It may almost be taken for granted that no movement of this nature, on any extensive scale at least, will be allowed. The federal government's scheme of placing people on the land, being carried out under the direction of Hon. W. A. Gordon, is one that commends itself to all thinking people, but any suddenly organized movement, without proper precautions being taken against future disaster must not be allowed."

There is a general feeling throughout the North that more care and attention should be given to the cemeteries in this country. There is a belief that up to the present they have been more or less neglected, due to the newness of the country, the more or less transient nature of the population in the larger centres, and general conditions. During the past few months The Advance has received several enquiries as to the Ontario Cemeteries Act and its provisions for a cemetery commission to oversee all the cemeteries in the district. These enquiries show the interest in the minds of the people in general. To-day the people of the North are not as transient as was the case some years ago. The country is becoming "settled" in the full meaning of the word, and it is only natural that there should be increased attention given to the last resting places of those who have passed away in this country. At the present time everything in regard to the betterment of cemeteries in the North seems to be of interest generally. That is why The Advance had reference recently to charges in regard to the cemetery board at Halleybury. It would appear that the interest shown by the people warrants town and township councils taking a greater interest than has been done in the past in cemetery matters. There will be general interest in the following paragraph from last week's Halleyburian:— "Fifty-two white birch trees have been planted along each side of the new road leading from the Ferguson highway to the two Halleybury cemeteries this spring, the work being carried out within the past week by Geo. J. Holmes. This makes a great improvement to the roadway, which was graded and gravelled last summer. The trees are native white birches and are of a good size, without being too large to take root successfully. The expense of this improvement is borne jointly by the Halleybury cemetery board, which administrators Mount Pleasant Cemetery, and His Lordship Bishop Rheame, for the new Roman Catholic cemetery, opened last year immediately to the north. The total cost of the planting was $70, according to Mr. Holmes' account to the town council at the regular meeting of that body on Tuesday evening. The council expressed the opinion that a very good job had been made of the planting and that the charge was a reasonable one."

Sunday afternoon May 15th, at 5.50 p.m., the fire brigade had a call to the Mattagami River bridge, there being a fire in the planking and the blaze was called. It did not take them long to put the fire out, but some damage to the bridge was done. The cause of the fire was likely the careless dropping of a lighted cigarette. The planking on the bridge should be replaced, much of it being rotten and, unless repaired, more or less dangerous. It is a provincial structure.

Other fire calls responded to during the past week included the following: May 13th, 3.50 p.m., grass fire at the corner of Vimy and Fourth; no damage.

May 14th, 10.30 a.m., from Spruce Street near Seventh Avenue, fire in bushes and grass; no damage.

May 16th, 12.45 p.m., chimney fire at 77 Balsam Street; no damage.

May 17th, 8.25 p.m., chimney fire at 118 Maple Street, south; no damage.

May 18th, 9.50 a.m., fire in chimney and pipes at 121 Commercial Avenue; no damage.

BRIDGE DAMAGED BY BLAZE

Bridge Needs Re-planking. Fire Likely Caused by Cigarette. Other Fire Calls During the Past Week.

EASTERN STAR DANCE EVENT AT SOUTH PORCUPINE, MAY 27

The anniversary dance of the South Porcupine Chapter of the Eastern Star will be held in the South Porcupine high school hall on Friday evening of next week, May 27th. Dancing will be from 10 to 2. The Club Royal orchestra will furnish the latest in dance music. Invitations that include a souvenir programme have been issued for the event. Each year many from Timmins and Schumacher have attended the Eastern Star event at South Porcupine and interest this year is even keener than usual. It is likely that several parties will be made up here to take in the event.

LADIES' AUXILIARY TO HOLD ANNUAL PICNIC ON JULY 21

About the first organization to announce the date of their annual picnic for this year is the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion. The Ladies' Auxiliary will hold their annual picnic at Bayside Beach on July 21st. All members wishing to attend should send the names and ages of their children to the secretary, Mrs. G. W. Starling, P.O. Box 2362, Timmins. The Ladies' Auxiliary picnic is always one of the happy features of the year and all interested will no doubt keep the date in mind.

St. Thomas Times-Journal.—It is good news to hear that the Department of Highways of this province is determined to stamp out the menace of the "one-eyed" car, and the car that has two eyes that are glaring.

Toronto Mail and Empire.—The German Republic would be on a safer foundation if it had insisted upon the permanent exile of all the Hohenzollerns. In fact, the former Crown Prince may be a greater menace to its stability than the former Kaiser.

No Sense in Proposed March of Men to North

There are no timber operations being carried on, the mining towns of the North are swamped with men looking for work, there is no great demand for farm labourers and no market for any products that can be readily taken from the settler, but times have changed. It is earnestly hoped that governments, federal, provincial and municipal, will unite in opposition to any scheme which would result in men being stranded in the North Country without means of subsistence. It may almost be taken for granted that no movement of this nature, on any extensive scale at least, will be allowed. The federal government's scheme of placing people on the land, being carried out under the direction of Hon. W. A. Gordon, is one that commends itself to all thinking people, but any suddenly organized movement, without proper precautions being taken against future disaster must not be allowed."

Wide circles of friends in the town and district will be pleased to know that Mrs. Inor-Andrews is making excellent progress now to recovery. Mrs. Inor-Andrews was operated on last Friday evening at St. Mary's hospital, for appendicitis, and is making the best of progress to returned health and strength.
