Dome Again Win in Box Lacrosse Game

Timmins Lacrosse Team Lost Out on Friday Evening Last at Timmins. The Game was a Good One, and the Score was 8 to 5.

There was a good attendance and much interest in the box lacrosse game at Timmins rink on Friday evening last when the Dome and Timmins teams again joined in battle. The score was in favour of the Dome 8 to 5. Timmins put up a good game but the Dome boys were too many for them.

The teams: Dome: Goal, Clark; defence, Massecar and Smith; rover, Pollard; centre, H. McLean; wings, Murphy and Cook; spares, Michaelson, Parsons, Ostrowsky, W. McLean.

Timmins: Goal, Hodnett; defence, Porter and Emard; rover, McCabe; centre, Johnstone; wings, Arundel and Groulx; spares, Kincaid, C. Knott, Desormeau, Beaulieu.

In the opening period Murphy scored twice, and then McCabe opened up for Timmins, scoring the first goal for the local boys. There followed a scoring festival for the visitors with Timmins getting in the odd goal. In the final period Referee Arnott had to hand out some major penalties to keep the two teams playing lacrosse and to prevent possible injury to the participants. Pollard, McLean and Emard were the lads who were banished, the first-named being sent off the field for the balance of the game.

ANKERITE MINE OPERATING CLOSE TO CAPACITY NOW

The Northern Miner last week says: "Ankerite Gold Syndicate, composed of 'buffalo' men, is meeting with encouraging results in its effort to re-establish the old Porcupine mine. Production is now more than meeting all charges, including a quickly growing broken ore reserve now totalling close to 12,000 tons. An average of around 250 tons a day are being milled and grade is around $4.50 a ton. Drifting is being pushed at the 600-ft. level on No. 5 vein and will soon be under the 475-ft. level stope producing a large proportion of the current mill feed. To date grade of ore found in the drifting has been low, but an improvement is expected any day now."

BRITISH EMPIRE CHANGES BUT REMAINS THE SAME

In speaking recently of the Imperial Conference at Ottawa, The New York Times says:—"It is a living demonstration of the peculiar and continuing power of the British Empire. Under the title of the British Commonwealth of Nations, it preserves much of its old prestige and glamour in holding together peoples and governments representing so vast a portion of the earth's surface. Something of the old pomp and glitter in which Queen Victoria delighted may have departed from such Imperial gatherings, but their true significance remains as a standing tribute to the political genius of the British race. It knows how to yield and compromise and adjust itself to the changing demands of democracy, but still manages to hold its scattered colonies and Dominions in an unforced loyalty to the Mother of Parliaments and of free institutions. In its amazing vitality it may be said of the British Empire that the more it changes, the more it remains the same thing."

Remaining a Gentleman Though in a Motor Car

A couple of weeks ago The Advance referred to an article by Rae Fulkerson in The Kiwanis Magazine in which that gifted writer suggested that some men who were ordinarily gentlemen became far otherwise the minute they became in charge of a motor vehicle. The Advance was of the opinion that Mr. Fulkerson on second thought would gladly admit that there were lots of gentlemen who remained gentlemen even in their cars. In commenting on the article in The Advance, The New Liskeard Speaker last week says:—"In answer to the question submitted in the above extract, it might be said 'a gentleman is not a gentleman when he becomes a road-hog,' and here we might relate an incident told us a few days ago: 'A farmer and his wife had retired for the night, but were awakened by a terrible noise evidently from the highway. Said the excited husband, 'What is that?' and the wife suggested that it must be the road-hog she had heard so much about."

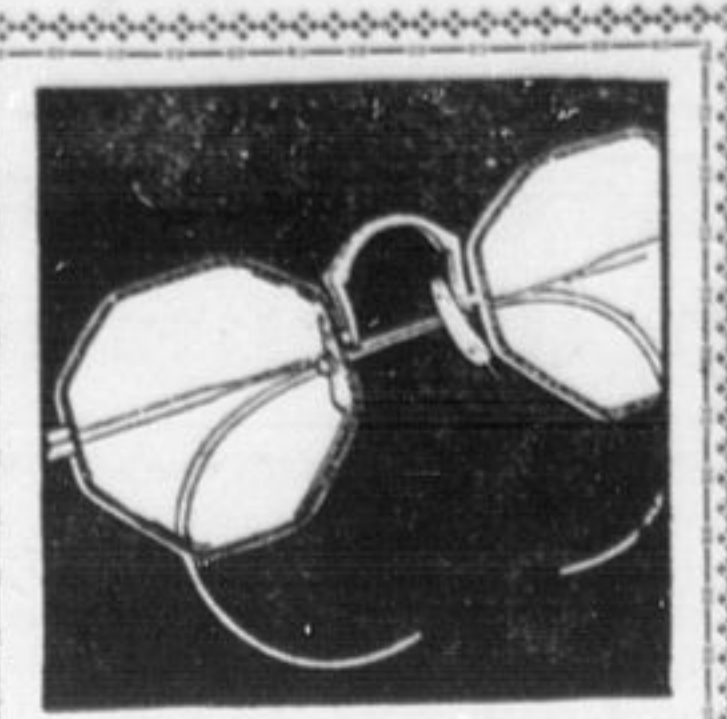

"But to come back to the matter of ladies and gentlemen driving cars, from a circumstance which recently occurred, as we received it, there will be ladies and gentlemen driving cars: They met head-on. As soon as practicable the lady ran to the gentleman and apologized profusely, saying 'It was all my fault. I kept right in the middle of the road.' And the gentleman, in most gentlemanly language, assured the lady that it was altogether his fault. Said he, 'Why I saw you coming and had ample time to turn into a side street.'"

"Those who believe that it is not possible for a man to be a gentleman under every condition in life should read a book entitled 'John Halifax Gentleman.' Yes, read it, and you will thank us for advising you to do so. This book was written about the time Dickens' 'David Copperfield' was written, and is classed with that book and Thackeray's 'Harry Esmond' as the three best novels written in the English language up to fifty years ago."

About Ontario's Most Northern Resort To-day

The New Liskeard Speaker, being specially interested in the North Land, always has a thoughtful paragraph or two for any new feature of the progress of this North. In The Speaker last week there was the following reference to Moosonee and the country round, and the possibilities of the area for the immediate present:—

"Mr. Jas. D. Kingston will be in Moosonee on Friday of this week and early next week the new T. & N. O. hotel at that northern point is expected to be open for tourist traffic. Careful investigation has been made regarding tourist possibilities of the northern region opened up by the railway and it is said there are no greater attractions in Canada of more interest than the great north with its unexplored districts, some parts of which are said to be teeming with fish. With a coast line of many hundreds of miles every corner will reveal something new for the tourist. The Falkland Islands, some seventy miles from Moosonee, are said to be most attractive. Here wild geese are said to have established a breeding ground, although many varieties go still farther north. On these islands an inland lake, at considerable distance above the sea level, is said to contain splendid trout. At the present time there is boat accommodation at rather irregular intervals, but with the development of a more sure source of revenue during the tourist season it is very likely steps will be made to establish a regular boat service up the coast. In addition to the tourist trade there is sure to be a considerable amount of business done through prospectors and other lines. From the interest which has been aroused following the recent opening up of the new railway and the publicity connected therewith, it is expected many residents of other parts of Canada, as well

We doubt if there are any more four-leaved clovers to be found around Kirkland Lake for the Lake Shore Football Club must have gathered them all, with which to pad their net-minder's togs for last Saturday's game and then tucked in a horseshoe or two for good measure. But it wasn't all luck, it was stellar goal-keeping that held the Dome team at bay in spite of onslaught after onslaught. In the first period the Lake Shore played a defensible game, the Dome having probably nine-tenths of the play, with the sun in their eyes. McMurray was called on for seventeen stops, to say nothing of the number of times the leather was skied over the top and around the bar in their strenuous efforts to get a tally. Baxter had three stops to make and was not; at any time threatened seriously during the first half. In the last half McMurray had sixteen stops to make while Baxter had twelve. W. Barron, of Schumacher, acted as referee. The Dome pressed from the kick-off. The first relief was given by Rankin who placed the ball out of Kirkland Lake territory. There were a few busy moments around Baxter but no shots on the goal. Maguire got a ball that Whyte missed and turned it over to Tennant for one of the best passes of this half. McMurray was called on for seven strenuous saves before Baxter was tested once, then Pryor's long kick soon brought the ball back to Lake Shore's domain. Fernie relieved, featuring one of his strong kicks, but the whole Dome line were back again like hornets. McMurray rushed out and fisted off a pass White was making to Chambers, then was back to make one of the most sensational saves, of the night when he had to throw himself with arms outstretched to clear Chambers' next shot that was aimed for a low corner. Tennant neatly robbed McKellar and passed to Doran. Davie tried to take the ball but sat down on the slippery grass; McKellar sat down too and when Jones came he made three in a row. Kirkland got a free kick and soon after Dome got one for minor infractions. Doran forced a corner but it was fruitless. In the second period Anderson took outside left position and Hurst was put at left half-back. Dome showed signs of the strenuous play of the first half but kept up the pressure. A Tennant to Chambers play looked good but McMurray's save looked better and he got a hearty clap. Hurst passed to Anderson who took the ball up for the first threat on the Dome, and the visitors pressed the play until a Jensen to McKendry play scored. With a three-goal lead on the round, Lake Shore team opened up and did more attacking. Baxter had to run out to stop Fernie's drive. In the next onslaught Fernie passed to Jansen for the second score. Dome were perceptibly tiring from the aggressive type of game they were playing. Welsby was spolling Chamber's equilibrium every time before he could get a right aim at the net. Hurst fooled Munro and got the ball back to Dome territory where Baxter was given a hot time. J. Whyte relieved and in the return play Chambers got one past McMurray for Dome's only score. Soon after Graham passed to McKendry for Lake Shore's third score and the final whistle blew with the visitors the winners in the game by a score of 3-1 but winning the round by the score of 7-3, and thus gaining the right to take home the Foster Cup, this being the final game this year for its possession. The game was clean throughout in spite of the fast and strenuous playing. Lake Shore Football team are worthy victors and very fair in their idea of sport. The teams lined up:—Lake Shore—goal, McMurray; backs, McKellar and Welsby; half-backs, Davie, Rankin, Burt; forwards, Graham, Fernie, Jansen, McKendry, Hurst; sub., Anderson. Dome—goal, Baxter; backs, Pryor, Maguire; half-backs, Munro, Crawford, Whyte; forwards, White, Tennant, Chambers, Jones, Doran. The only scheduled game this week on Dome grounds is Dome vs. McIntyre in a
