Refused on Principle to Cater to U.S. Red Tape

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Shields, of Scotland, who had been visiting relatives in the Porcupine camp, left last week for Montreal from which port they sailed for their home in the Old Country. They were accompanied as far as Montreal by their son, A. Shields, of Schumacher. The trip of Mr. and Mrs. Shields to Canada was for the purpose of having a family re-union, members of the family and relatives of Mrs. Shields residing in Canada and the United States. The trip proved a delightful holiday, but there was one unpleasant incident. This incident was referred to in The Advance last week when an article from The Halleyburian was reproduced in these columns to show the annoyance caused by red tape at the United States border. Mrs. Shields wanted to see her three sisters in the United States and with other members of the family planned a trip for this purpose. United States immigration officials, however, would not let them pass into the United States unless they put up a bond of $500.00 for each of them. In the article in The Halleyburian and republished in The Advance, the impression was left that Mr. and Mrs. Shields were not prepared to put up the bonds, but this was not the case. Although to be suddenly confronted on holiday with a demand of this sort, the Scottish visitors would have been able all right to put up the necessary bonds, but they did not think they should do this, being held back by the thought of the principle involved. "I'm not going to buy your country just to get into it," Mr. Shields told the United States immigration official. From this attitude he would not recede, holding to the principle with true Scottish tenacity. Mr. Shields made it plain to the U.S. authorities that the proposed visit was for only a few days; that they positively did not intend to stay in the country; and to support his statements he showed them his return steamship tickets, his passports and other documents. All this was of no avail against the border red tape, and Mr. Shields held to the stand that if he could not enter the United States in fair way he would stay out. When his son offered to look after the bond part of the affair, Mr. Shields would not have it. "I won't do it, because of the principle of the thing and so I don't want to do it." So, the United States may thank red tape for the loss of one very interesting visitor.

Another Lacrosse Match for the Dome

Event Here on Friday Night Gave One More Victory to the Dome. Score was 8 to 2. Lively Game.

Last week the crack box lacrosse team from the Dome Mines added another to their list of well-won victories when they defeated Timmins here by a score of 8 to 2. This leaves the Dome with three victories out of five games, Timmins making one win and tying another game. In view of the earlier start of the Dome team this season, Timmins is making a good showing. The Dome team is certainly a good one and coached and trained to perfection and the team that can beat them even once, or tie them, is certainly going some.

The teams lined up as follows for the game here:—
Dome—Clark, goal; Lowery and Smith, defence; Pollard, rover; Cook, centre; Murphy and Harvey, wings; McLean, Michaelson, Catarello, Ostrowski, spares.
Timmins—Hednett, goal; Porter and Emard, defence; Lejambre, rover; Johnson, centre; Arundel and Beaulieu, wings; C. Knott, Groulx and Campbell, spares.
Referee, Desormeaux; Judge of play, J. A. Theriault.
The Dome won the game on superior play, their combination being as smooth as they make it. They have a notable attack and keep the game speedy all the time. The Dome team scored in each of the periods, but Timmins was only able to make any counters in the first period. The other periods were scoreless, so far as the home team was concerned.

North Represented at the Exhibition

T. & N. O. Again has Booth and Information Bureau at the National Exhibition Now in Progress at Toronto.

Last week The Advance made reference to the fact that there was a report that the T. & N. O. would not carry on its booth and information bureau at the Toronto Exhibition this year. In view of the fact that this booth and information bureau hold great value in spreading the truth about the North Land and attracting tourist and other trade here, it was felt that the dropping of the T. & N. O. booth this year would be a very decided loss to the country. W. O. Langdon, president of the Timmins board of trade and of the Northern Ontario Associated Boards of Trade, at once got busy on the matter and enlisted the help of many others. Appeal was made to Geo. W. Lee, chairman of the T. & N. O. Railway Commission, to Hon. Geo. S. Henry, premier of Ontario, and to others, to assist in having the valuable features of the Northern Ontario booths retained. Prompt replies came from Mr. Lee and from Premier Henry, both giving assurance that anything that could be done would be attempted for the advantage of the North. The final result was that the T. & N. O. booth and information bureau were continued at the Canadian National Exhibition this year to the advantage of the North Land and the pleasure of all attending the exhibition. C. W. Wright, for several years president of the Northern Ontario Associated Boards of Trade, and at present honorary president of that association, was placed in charge of the Northern Ontario booth and information bureau. There are few men with wider knowledge of the North or with greater ability to explain that knowledge, so taken altogether the North Land is particularly fortunate in having its story told at the Canadian National Exhibition.

Arthur Melvin, aged 63, a resident of Dane for the past twenty years, died last week from asthma. He lived on a farm not far from the Kirkland Lake golf course, and was well known in the North.

GOES TO THE REFORMATORY FOR FORGING FATHER'S NAME

Pleading guilty to passing a cheque for $100, made payable to himself and alleged to have been issued by his father, but knowing the document to have been forged, Stewart Elliott, a young man, was sent to the Ontario Reformatory for not less than six months nor more than two years, less a day, when he appeared before Magistrate Atkinson in police court at Halleybury Friday afternoon. According to Provincial Constable John Pretorius, accused had told him he had done the same thing before, and his father always had made good the money, but the cheque was cashed at the branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia in New Liskeard, and the money had not been refunded. The Crown Attorney, F. L. Smiley, K. C., asked for protection for banks decent enough to trust him. He declared the practice was becoming "a rather common one."

Winners Last Week of the Free Tickets to Theatre

"Devil's Lottery" is the title of the picture being shown at the Goldfields theatre on Monday evening, to which those fortunate enough to have their names included in the advertisements elsewhere in this issue will receive tickets. This picture is a comedy-tragedy and is advertised as particularly good. The lucky winners last week were: Mrs. W. Shewan, 165 Pine St., North; Geo. Mondoux, 21 Tamarack St.; J. G. Archer, 75 Maple St. South; D. J. McPhail, 52 Avenue Road. The contest will last for a couple of weeks yet, at least, and everyone is urged to read the advertisements on the page closely, because the week you fail to check up the ads, is the week in all probability your name may appear. Watch the advertisements on the special page in this and subsequent issues. Everybody is doing it.

St. Thomas Times-Journal:—Startlings, we are told, are becoming a nuisance in rural districts. In St. Thomas and other cities in Ontario a novelty that is rapidly becoming a nuisance is the large number of squirrels. These animals are quite numerous in some districts and if not kept in check become very destructive.
