Visited Many Lodges in the North Country

In recent weeks Mrs. Keene, of Timmins, Vice-President of the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario, the second highest honour in the gift of the Order in Ontario, has paid official visit to a number of the lodges in the North Land. Among other places which Mrs. Keene visited on behalf of the Rebekah Assembly of Ontario were the following:—Kirkland Lake, North Bay, Sudbury, Capreol, Chapleau, Little Current, Webbwood, and Gore Bay. Mrs. Keene received very cordial welcome at all the lodges visited and found the visits of great interest. The Rebekah lodges all seem to be doing well throughout the North Land and the work of the Order is well handled in all of them.

Hockey Gossip in Timmins As it Appears in North Bay

Writing in his column of "Sportology" in The North Bay Nugget, "Observer" this week has the following paragraph. Before giving the paragraph The Advance may note the fact that "Observer" will need some news, not gossip, about how hockey is going in Timmins this year. "Observer" should read the report elsewhere in this issue of the hockey meeting to organize for the approaching season. As The Advance said last week the calling of the annual meeting of the N.O.H.A. stirred up hockey talk and thought here and the plans for hockey for the coming season. In his column, "Observer" writes:—

"Hockey gossip, particularly of the kind that is allowed to trickle to the ears of the public, hasn't yet commenced to scent the air in the Timmins region, if credence can be placed in an observation made by the Timmins Advance. This authority says: "There has been little discussion in Timmins lately in regard to hockey, but the calling of the annual meeting of the N.O.H.A. will no doubt start the ball rolling." From that one might gather that the ballyhoo is about ready for broadcast. There isn't any denying the fact that there has been loads of hockey chatter in the Porcupine region since last season and that Timmins has been prominent in the discussion. It may be that the talk has been confined to those shouldering the responsibility and that it was exchanged in whispers and behind closed doors. In any event, Timmins and South Porcupine are about to blossom with strong senior teams and intent on waging a terrific war for N.O.H.A. honours as an admission for the Allan Cup. This may be belittled at Timmins, but wait, watch and see."

Joe Slabe, of Kirkland Lake, was fined $20.00 and costs for spitting in a young lady's face at Kirkland recently. In court the young lady expressed disapproval of the sentence as too lenient, but Magistrate Atkinson remarked that it was the limit he could impose. The magistrate also scored the young man who was apparently prompted by jealousy. The girl's story was that she was in front of a theatre down town when Slabe stepped before her and deliberately spat in her face. The young fellow excused himself on the plea that she had been his girl but had left him for another. The girl denied even this excuse.

Weather 115 Years Ago Moose Factory

Interesting Old Record Kept of Weather Conditions in the Moose Country in 1817. Winter Came in October.

The following interesting item from The North Bay Nugget of recent date may be added to the list of information published about Moose Factory, Moose, and the country of the Moose in general:—

"Yellowed with age, but bearing clear and legible hand-writing, a document 115 years old is the rare possession of Forbes Knight, of North Bay. It is a record of the winds and weather of Moose Factory for the year 1816-1817 and contains six pages of most interesting data. Mr. Knight procured it for a substantial sum from a trapper who obtained it from another trapper. The winter and original owner is not known.

"The ancient booklet appears to be of hand-made linen paper and the writing was apparently done with a quill pen. Every figure and letter is fine and distinct and the entire record is arranged in a most systematic and orderly style. The penmanship is excellent and the ink unfaded and the document is a decided credit to the writer of more than a century ago. The front outside cover bears the inscription, "Diary of Winds and Weather as per Account Kept Hereof at Moose Factory, 1816."

"Commencing at Sept. 1, 1816, the diary gives a complete three-times-daily weather record for the year, ending Aug. 31, 1817. Temperatures and winds are marked for the morning, noon and later part of the day as well as concise but comprehensive comments on the weather for each 24 hours. The writer has indicated his above-zero temperatures with plus signs, and below-zero temperatures with minus signs.

"One of the most interesting facts is contained in entries for June 14 and 15, 1817, which indicate snow falling on both days. The maximum temperatures for the two days were 46 and 40. January and February apparently were most severe months, the mercury falling the lowest on Feb. 4 when 39 degrees below zero was recorded. On several days the mercury touched 32 and 35 degrees below.

"The hottest days of the year were July 10 and 26 when the barometer registered 79 degrees. Thunder, lightning and rain accompanied the heat of the 10th, but the 26th was a clear, hot day. Judging from this report, winter did not entirely disappear until almost the middle of June for snow, rain and sleet was general for the month of May. "A hard frost is recorded for the morning of Sept. 4 and heavy thunder and lightning and rain storms occurred during the month at different dates. The first snow fell on Oct. 14 and, according to a comment, the entire plantation was covered with snow on Oct. 25. Opposite the entry of Nov. 11 in the remark, "river made fast last night" and from that date temperatures fall to below-zero degrees. Several thaws were experienced during March and April, but fresh snow fell after each mild spell. Heavy rains are recorded for 14 days in August and heavy rainfalls, thunder and lightning were prevalent during July."

ALL-BRITAIN SOCIAL CLUB MAKES AUSPICIOUS START

The general meeting of the All-Britain Social Club held in the Hollinger Recreation hall on Thursday, Nov. 3rd, was one of the best yet held by this club and all present apparently were bent on making the All-Britain Social Club one of the best organizations of its kind in the North. The officers believe that a specially good season will be enjoyed with the co-operation of the members. There has been a report that the membership fee might be raised, but there is nothing to this, the fee remaining as heretofore. All members, however, are specially asked to get their dues paid before Dec. 3rd, not later, so that arrangements can be made in time for the Christmas tree for the youngsters of the club. Membership dues may be paid to the president, J. Jopson, 24 Borden avenue, or to E. Tomlinson, secretary, 177 Birch street, North. After the general meeting last Thursday there was a social time enjoyed by all present.

the militant organizer of the London "hunger march" which recently resulted in serious rioting in the British capital. Hannington has been arrested, charged with "inciting to mutiny" and he will probably receive a stiff sentence.

$15,000 Loss by Fire at Rouyn on Sunday

Traffic Between Rouyn and Amos Tied up on Monday Owing to Destruction of Autos and Buses in the Windsor Hotel Fire.

Transportation between Rouyn and Amos and other outside points was tied up on the beginning of this week on account of the fact that fire that destroyed the Windsor hotel at Rouyn on Sunday also burned up autos and buses used between Amos and Rouyn. A garage adjoining the hotel was burned down in the fire and in this garage at the time were eight automobiles, one truck and an autobus. The destruction of these practically tied up the regular daily motor service between Rouyn and Amos and the use of other motor cars made a big demand on car service.

The loss in the fire at Windsor hotel at Rouyn is estimated at least to be $15,000.00. There is only a mass of blackened ruins now where the Windsor hotel formerly stood in the centre of Rouyn. The Windsor hotel at Rouyn was a large three-story building of frame construction. It was a well-known place in Rouyn. Its comparatively light construction made it a quick prey to the flames. The fire commenced early on Sunday morning from causes unknown and soon destroyed both the hotel and the garage nearby as well as damaging another adjoining building. Personal and other effects from the hotel were parked along the roads, occupants of the hotel saving as much of their belongings as possible. It is not known whether the hotel will be rebuilt at once or the new building left until next year. At present the debris is being torn down and cleared away and repair work being carried out on nearby buildings damaged by the smoke and water.

SIR HARRY LAUDER TO PAY VISIT TO NORTH BAY SOON

At an early date North Bay is to be honoured with a visit from Sir Harry Lauder, the famous Scottish entertainer. He has agreed to give an entertainment at North Bay under the auspices of the Men's Association of the Presbyterian church there. When effort was made some days ago to secure a visit from Sir Harry Lauder he told the North Bay people that he would be pleased to spend an evening there on his return trip from the West. Sir Harry Lauder seldom visits any but the larger cities and so North Bay is favoured, indeed, on this occasion. The exact date of the visit of Sir Harry Lauder to North Bay is not yet announced but it is expected to be sometime in the present month.

COCHRANE HOTEL MAN LOSES DAMAGE SUIT OVER PIANO

The Ottawa Journal on Monday had the following:—

"James Palangio, Cochrane, Ont., hotel proprietor, lost a damage suit for $9,468 against Dame Ange-Emma Cousineau, in a Supreme Court of Canada judgment handed down here. The suit centred about an itinerant electric player piano.

"Dame Cousineau held a note for $2,000 from Mrs. Adrienne Carriere, of Montreal, who defaulted the debt and sold her effects, including the piano. The effects were later located and seized, with the exception of the piano which had found a new home in Palangio's Cochrane hotel. A search warrant was secured and the piano repossessed for Dame Cousineau by a Montreal trucking firm.

"Palangio took action and recovered the piano but took further action for damages and expenses in maintaining possession of his property. The Superior Court of Montreal and the Court of King's Bench dismissed the action and were supported by the Supreme Court of Canada."

Brantford Expositor:—Elihu Root, now 87 years of age, has been added to the list of star orators who will speak for Hoover in the presidential fight. Gladstone conducted a vigorous British campaign when he was 83 years of age and retained his seat in the house of Commons until he was 86, while in Canada Sir Charles Tupper was 75 when in 1896 he waged a virile political fight. He was defeated but led the Conservative opposition at Ottawa until 1900 and in his 79th year was again a candidate, but was defeated in the general election of that year.

New Name Given to Old Mining Company

Buffalo Ankerite Gold Mines Name of New Company Taking Over the Ankerite Gold Mines. Property Showing Notable Promise.

A despatch this week from Toronto says that the current issue of the Ontario Gazette lists a new name for an old Ontario gold producer—Buffalo Ankerite Gold Mines Ltd. The present company is an outgrowth of the Ankerite Gold Mines incorporated in 1925 to develop and bring into production the Ankerite group of claims, about three miles from the Hollinger and McIntyre Mines in the Porcupine district.

Continuing the despatch says:—"The company was originally sponsored by English interests, which acquired the claims from the North American Gold Corp. of Delaware to whom they were deeded by the old Ankerite Mining Co. In 1924 an option on these claims was exercised by the Porcupine Gold Fields Development and Finance Co. of London, Eng., which, in 1925, formed the Ankerite Gold Mines. When the Porcupine Gold Fields Development and Finance Co. went into liquidation in 1930 the properties were purchased by the Ankerite Holding Corp. composed of a Buffalo group which subsequently transferred them to the Ankerite Gold Mines Syndicate, which completed the purchase of the property. The operations which had been suspended in 1930 were resumed on May 1, 1932, and have continued since on a profitable basis. Upon incorporation of the present company last month, it acquired title to the property subject to a mortgage of $21,000. Production between 1926 and 1929 totalled $861,697, while in the five months ended September 30, 1932, production has amounted to $131,648, plus the exchange compensation. During the last three months recovery has averaged $4.80 per ton of ore treated, with the mill averaging 205 tons daily. From these operations an operating profit of $9,419 was made in August while the September operating profit was $12,470. Production costs have been less than $3.50 per ton for several months and indications are that further economies are imminent."
