Mr. and Mrs. Robert Connelly and family have returned from a visit at their parental home in Shawville.
Mr. McWhinney, who resides at the Paymaster Mines, is a patient in the Porcupine hospital, having undergone an operation.
Mr. Charlie Armstrong, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong, at the Dome Extension, has taken a relapse after last week being nicely on the way to recovery from pneumonia, and will be confined to his home for another two weeks.

Much regret has been expressed among friends in camp over the death of Robert John Somerville, who passed away at the Porcupine Presbyterian hospital early on Wednesday morning, January 4th. He had been ill only ten days, the cause of his death being pneumonia. The late Mr. Somerville was born forty-five years ago and was a son of the late William Somerville, of Shawville. Another brother and a sister survive him at Renfrew. Mr. Tom Farrell, of South Porcupine, is a cousin. The remains were taken to his home in Renfrew for interment, which took place in the Thomsonville cemetery on Saturday last. There was a military funeral as deceased had served overseas with the 130th Battalion. He came to Timmins in 1926 and had been at the Dome since last May where he was employed as a butcher in the store. He made many friends while here, who sympathize sincerely with his family in their loss.

Mrs. T. Farrell is able to be up again after a severe attack of pneumonia. Miss Rose Gibson another flu sufferer in town is also around again.
Mr. Bruce Stovel left today (Tuesday) to resume his studies at Bishop's College, Lennoxville, Quebec. Mr. Sam Stovel has been in the grip of the prevailing influenza so cannot return for a while. The Young People's Society held a very enjoyable party at the manse on this (Tuesday) evening. Rev. and Mrs. Hussey were host and hostess for the evening. Music and various games were enjoyed and all the young people present had a most enjoyable time.

Mrs. J. Alexander was the hostess to the bridge club on Thursday evening last. The evening took the form of a White Elephant party, each member bringing something which was to her a white elephant and then the members all drew to see which particular white elephant she would take home with her. Some of the exchanges were very amusing. In bridge the winners were Mrs. W. W. Wilson and Mrs. R. Cameron. A novelty bridge game followed for which the prize was a small ivory elephant, the winner being Mrs. E. J. Rapsey. A delicious luncheon was served.

Mesdames S. Pearce, Maxwell Smith, S. Sky and J. Alexander were the guests of Mrs. Donald Frood at Connaught Station this week.

The reeve and councillors for Tisdale township were sworn in on Monday morning last, taking the oath of office at eleven o'clock after which a short meeting of the council was held.

Reeve Thomas and Councillors Jones, Cook, Hawkins and Kerr were present. It was suggested by the reeve that a special meeting be called for later in the week as one of the councillors could not stay for all the council meetings that morning. This was objected to by Councillor Kerr for the reason that special meetings are always an added expense to the township. Councillor Hawkins thought that there was not much really necessary business that would take any length of time for a first meeting. Councillor Cook said that there would be a quorum to go on and conduct the business without him and that he would hear of it later. Councillor Jones was in favour of the special meeting as Mr. Cook was needed at Schumacher on Monday to make arrangements for the funeral of the late James Shewan.

So on, motion of D. Kerr the special meeting was arranged for Thursday evening. The by-law transferring the right of way property in Schumacher so that the road would conform with the road to the new McIntyre mill was given a third reading and passed. A by-law to amend or take the place of a former by-law for the disposing of $17,000 in debentures in connection with the equipping and building of an addition to the Schumacher school showed that no part of principal or interest was in arrears on former debentures. This was the third reading also and same was passed. Another by-law to authorize municipal approval when required for debentures in above by-law was passed, in case it were necessary to satisfy subsequent purchasers that said debentures would be endorsed by the Ontario Railway Board. The township guaranteed to obtain same for purchaser without additional expense to purchaser. It was suggested by Councillor Kerr that a wreath be sent by the council for the late Mr. Shewan who had been an outstanding public citizen. The council adjourned to meet at the regular hour on Thursday night.

There was just one case of assault in the police court this Tuesday and it was adjourned till next week. On last Wednesday three paid costs in one assault case and another man paid a fine of $100.00 and costs for having liquor in a public place.

There is to be another of those enjoyable dances given by the I.O.O.F. of South Porcupine this week. It will be held in their hall on Saturday evening, January 14th. Jimmy Ormston, Frank Sullivan and their Merry-makers will supply the music, so "nuff sed!"

An announcement in the Halleybury last week says that Honorable W. A. Gordon, K.C., is now associated with F. L. Smiley, K.C., and his legal business from now on will be attended to at Mr. Smiley's office in Halleybury.

Relief Matters Feature Council Meeting

devote more time and attention to it than he had at present. T. A. Skelly, of the Timmins Horticultural Society was willing to take over the work of the work of bush work. Councillor Honey thought that single men who should be cut off from meal tickets. Other members of council agreed with this, the feeling being that if these men for whom the town really had no responsibility would not take the chance to help themselves, the town should not be asked to maintain them.

Messrs H. Morin, A. Laprairie and W. Nicholson were re-appointed as members of the Timmins Board of Health.

Councillor Geo. W. Parsons brought to the attention of council the matter of some slot machines used in town as regular gambling devices. He said that it would not be so bad if only adults were concerned but unfortunately the gambling mania fostered by these particular machines had attacked some youngsters with very bad results. He quoted one case that had been brought to his attention where a boy had stolen money from home to play one of these machines. The machine was played with slugs and a specially bad feature of the working of the machines in question was the featuring of what was called "poker hands" for which $5.00 was paid in cash or goods. Boys had also been given cigarettes through this machine. Councillor Parsons thought action should be taken to stop children playing these machines. Chief Jones was called and asked what he knew of these machines being used for gambling purposes. The chief said that some of them were suspected, but they would not give money when the police were watching. They were not supposed to be operated other than as slot machines for the vending of gum, candies, etc. He was anxious to stop the illegal use of the machines and would do all he could. He had prosecuted offenders during the past year, but it was very difficult to catch them. He said he would warn the stores and other places having these machines that children under 16 years were not to be allowed to play them.

Councillor Richardson thought it might be necessary to prohibit the use of the machines altogether if they were to be a menace.

Council decided to have the clerk prepare a by-law for the strict regulation of these machines and to assure them against being used as gambling devices.

Relief matters took up quite a bit of the council's time. One man told council that he had applied to the relief officer for some wood and had been refused. He said his wife was ill and that it was hard to have to go without wood. He had lived in Timmins for seven or eight years. He had been in relief here for the past year except for three months in Halleybury. Relief Officer Dunn explained that this man and his family had been supported by the town and they were still receiving food. He had not given him an order for wood because he felt the man could supply his own wood if he would only show a little energy. Wood could be secured for the cutting of it, and by cutting a little extra for a man with a team Mr. Dunn thought the man should do something to help himself when he had the chance.

The matter was left in the hands of Mr. Dunn to deal with, the man in the meantime being offered a place on the town relief work.

In the discussion of this case it developed that E. C. Brewer offered to give free wood for their own use from the timber he would designate. Also, Councillor Maltais called attention to a similar offer made by Mr. Wicks to the unemployed who wanted wood for their own use and who would apply to him in the matter. This wood of Mr. Wicks was seven miles out, but Mayor Drew explained that it was possible to take advantage of kind offers and arranging for the hauling of the wood by an unemployed teamster who would do the hauling if the others did the cutting.

Dr. Honey called attention to the case of a man who was on relief and who was anxious to go to work in the bush. He would not likely make more than $30.00 per month and of course could not keep himself and his family in town on this amount. The man wanted to work but he was afraid that if he went his family might suffer. The man in question was present at the meeting and frankly gave his views, making a special impression, on all by his evident fairness and manliness. He said he was a good bushman and had always worked when he could and that he wanted to support his own family. He didn't want to be idle, even though he could get relief. If the council would continue relief to his family he would go to the work in the bush and earn all he could to support them. Councillor Morrison, of the contingent committee, said he appreciated the position of the man and would like to help him in the way suggested. Mayor Drew expressed similar views but said the difficulty was that the town would be simply swamped if it was attempted to keep all the families of all the men working in the bush at present. The mayor thought the money to be made in the bush work was all right for a single man to keep himself from relief but it did not give opportunity to a married man to keep a family in town. However, it was felt that arrangements might perhaps be made to give this man a chance to contribute to the support of his family, the town in the meantime seeing that their relief is not cut off.

The man referred to had quoted $1.25 per cord as the rate of pay, and Mr. Dunn said the same firm had asked him to get them a number of men quoting $1.40 per cord with 75c per day for board, which was a little better. Mr. Dunn was asked by council to see if he could not have this man included in the better rate of pay and promised to do all he could.

A question to Mr. Dunn brought the reply to council that he had been looking for 100 men to work in the bush, and he had tried to get 20 men now getting meal tickets from the town to accept the work. All but one of them had refused to take the work. They were all Finns and he thought had knowledge of bush work. Councillor Honey thought that single men who refused to work when given the chance should be cut off from meal tickets. Other members of council agreed with this, the feeling being that if these men for whom the town really had no responsibility would not take the chance to help themselves, the town should not be asked to maintain them.

Noranda Defeated at South Porcupine

Dome Team Makes Nice Win from the Copper Kings in Fast, Smooth Game in the N.O.H.A. Series on Saturday.

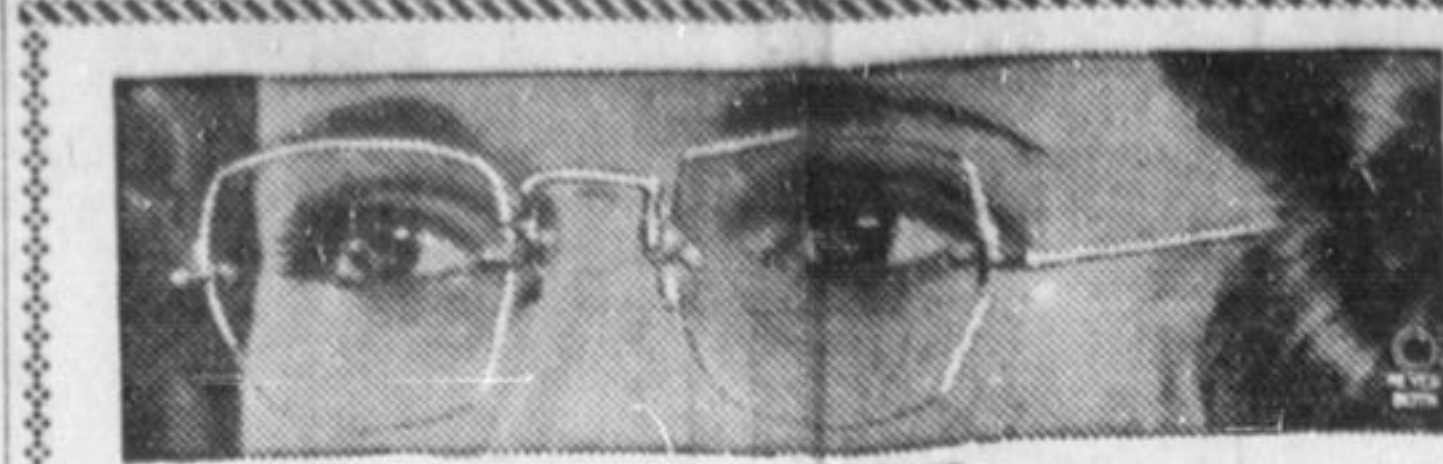

South Porcupine, Ont., Jan. 11th, 1933. Special to The Advance.

With one of the smoothest working, fast-moving hockey machines we have seen on Porcupine ice for some considerable time Coach Briden's "Porkies" sent the Copper Kings of Noranda back home with the lighter portion of a 6-1 score tucked away in their treasury. During the first two periods the teams were very evenly matched, and both featured sparkling moments of clever combination and breath-taking rushes. The Copper Kings seldom go in alone. They are strictly a three-man forward line but the "Porkies" defence shunted them repeatedly and Chevrier took care of the rest of it. J. Chirocoski, of Iroquois Falls proved a very satisfactory referee. The game was clean throughout, Murphy, Massecar and Fell being the only cases in the dock. The team lined up: Noranda—goal, Mayo; defence, Rainville and Labarge; centre, Pender; wings, Malone, Tremblay; alternates, McCann, Plumb, Rice, Couture, Hansman. Dome—goal, Chevrier; defence, Massecar, Murphy; centre, Catarello; wings, Johns and Michaelson; alternates, Cook, Heximer, Proulx, Fell.

Dome made the first rush when play opened. Tremblay was the most dangerous threat to the Dome citadel in the early part of the game and Pender worked well with him. Catarello intercepted some dandy passes but Mayo prevented them being converted into goals when the flashing "kid line" closed in together on him. Cook, Heximer and Proulx got right in on Mayo's doorstep but Heximer had had luck at the net. After eight minutes of play Murphy broke away and rounding the rear guard on their right placed the old blue heel neatly behind Mayo. Tremblay and Couture got right in for a dangerous try-out on Chevrier but he proved bullet proof.

As the second frame got under way Catarello secured the puck but was robbed by Malone who with his mates made a frantic rush towards Chevrier all to no avail. Pender featured some fine checking at centre. Heximer, Proulx, Rainville and Mayo were all in a huddle in front of the Copper Kings' throne but no dirt was made in it. However as play transferred up the ice the keeper of that throne found out his head had been dented and the referee stopped the play to find out the damage but the wound was not serious, so on with the game. From a face-off a Cook-to-Heximer-to-Proulx play was whanged straight on Mayo but he saved. It was a fast and pretty piece of work, the Kings not getting a look in till Mayo was tested. Up in Dome territory Fell and Massecar made a nice sandwich out of Pender and the blue-eyed boy gave a fearful look back to see if they were going to eat him too, before he got to his feet. When Rainville steamed up around his net to gain momentum for his heavy rushes, the referee called a time-out. Mayo and Pender waited at centre ice. Massecar got away and from their own blue line lifted that black-biscuit into a safe little corner that Mayo may not have seen. With this little Christmas gift the Porky fans went wild for two was a good margin with thirteen minutes gone in a session evenly contested at that. The Kings surged in with redoubled fury. Down in front of Chevrier Massecar and McCann went flat on the ice from a checking bout. Murphy sensing what might happen, lay over them, arms outstretched in a "Bless you, children" attitude but Chirocoski was blessed if he could see the need of it, so amid a roar of laughter, the lanky defence man was pointed to the pentent's bench. There was less than two minutes to go when the "kids" were buzzing around Mayo in a way that would have made their old-time mentor, Pete Grant's heart swell with pride. Catarello picked off Michaelson's rebound to make a sure one and they went for their second rest period three to the good.

For the third stanza the visitors seemed to have tired or become discouraged. They did much of their sniping from outside the blue line. Two minutes only were gone when Massecar from behind the net reached out and curved in his own rebound. It was a quick-thinking, fast-acting piece of work and seemed to take the pep out of the boys from Quebec. Another nine minutes were fought out, the visitors' defence staging some heavy work to keep out the tantalizing Porkies, when Fell rushed and made sure of his angle shot for their fifth. Four minutes later Cook robbed Rainville to pass to Proulx and was down in time to snap back the big winger's rebound for sixth. Chevrier was called for a great save off Tremblay. Massecar was shooed off for dumping Malone rather unceremoniously. Plumb and Rice came on, with McCann as the mixing spoon. This stuff looked good, but for Noranda it tasted still better when Rice, sifted through the Dome defence to smother the flavour of a shut-out three minutes
