COBALT MAN GLAD CHEQUE WAS ON A CANADIAN BANK

(From The Northern News)
The very recent banking troubles in the United States are felt even, or almost felt in Cobalt. A Cobalt resident received a letter bearing an American stamp on Saturday last. Opening it hurriedly he took therefrom a cheque. His sigh of relief could be heard all over the post office as he ejaculated, "Thank God, it's on a Canadian bank."

What Constitutes Wealth? Its Equitable Division?

In these days when there is so much loose talking and loose thinking about wealth and its distribution, the following editorial article from The London, England, Morning Post seems particularly apt:—

The innocent are taught to believe that there is an abundance of wealth for everybody, and that were it not intercepted by the rich, it might be skimmed like cream, churned into butter, divided into pats, and equally distributed.

Wealth, which is so ignorantly decried because so ardently coveted, in what does it consist? When the ragged army of the French Revolution entered Holland their thoughts were centred upon the Bank of Amsterdam, reputed to be the wealthiest in the world; but when its coffers were broken open they were found to contain only a vast array of bonds and title-deeds, no longer of any value because unsupported by any law.

So it is with money: it cannot live save in the conditions in which it is bred. To-day it represents much; tomorrow it might represent nothing. Money, indeed, is not wealth; but merely the wheels which give it currency. Wealth itself is something protean and impermanent, as much a power as material, like steam or electricity, driving by its million shafts and beltings the intricate machinery of civilization.

It is invested in all the industries and trades of the nation, partly fixed and partly floating; it cannot be drawn out without loss and must constantly be renewed; partly it is held in reserve against the day of renewal; partly it is imprisoned by the past, and partly it is connected to the future; partly it is buried underground and partly it is afloat on the ocean; partly it is mortgaged to the vast supplies of food and raw material by which industry is kept at work and the nation in life.

It is in form and use infinitely various and in every form and use requires expert handling. Labor is only one of the many elements out of which it is created. The mind of one man may make more wealth, as when Stephenson invented the locomotive, than forty million pairs of hands. Moreover, it must be stored in large parcels for great service.

Without it life would be "nasty, brutish, and short," since it makes the difference between barbarism and civilization. The Russians who destroyed their capital in the attempt to divide it, have stood ever since, like sturdily beggars, at the door of the "capitalist system," begging for the capital of other nations.

To draw this element out of trade and industry in order to divide it among the population is impossible, and were it possible would be suicidal. The immediate result to the individual would be so small as to add nothing to his wealth; the ultimate result would be the ruin of the system by which he lives.

Better Pension Legislation

The matter of securing a little justice for veterans of the Canadian Forces overseas and at home, has not rested entirely with The Advance, and other local citizens interested in various cases, but we find the leading city journals taking up the "wild shillaleh" in support of better legislation for those who are not receiving a pension and who have a disability—the result of service. One case in particular which The Advance has been very strong upon, is the one in reference to Joseph Hussin, of Drinkwater Pk. This case has caused other city papers to comment upon it and one paper in its heading gave a strong hint that there must be lots more of the same kind. The heading to the editorial read:—"Joseph Hussin—And Others." There have been pages of reports written upon this case as evidently there have been on the others. In the case in which The Advance is particularly interested at the present time it seems from latest correspondence that some barrier will have to be crashed before Joseph Hussin will get another chance. This brings one to the reasons why the Canadian Legion asked for some amendments to the Pension Act. It was found that cases were being sidetracked. Others that had taken the nerve to ask for an appeal board were placed on a waiting list and at least one case to our knowledge is still waiting in Timmins. It seems to be the only thing now to secure some kind of action is to press for the immediate sitting of the appeal board on verdict in regard to Joseph Hussin. It has been asked: "How would the members of parliament react if Hussin could appear before that body?" Recently in answer to a question if the House of Commons would consider any pension problems this session? The Hon. Murray MacLaren stated that some amendments to the Pension Act would before the House this present session. There are hopes entertained by a large number of interested persons that the cases which are obviously of a service disability will be given a speedy decision. If not in favour of the claimant the reason for same should be clearly stated. All will watch these amendments closely and it is hoped that cases like those of "Joseph Hussin—And Others" will be given fair and proper treatment as a result.

Those War Medals

At the present time the Department of National Defence seems to be greatly worried over the fact that they have 50,000 war medals not yet claimed. The advertisements appearing in various papers do not give one much information except stating that those who served in England, France or other theatres of war who have not received their medals can do so by applying to the Secretary of National Defence, Ottawa. In the years immediately following the war, there were hundreds who jumped the old khaki as soon as they landed and as far as they were concerned wanted to forget the hardships through which they had passed. The records showed no address of the men because in numerous cases they did not pass through the demobilization centres. But 50,000 medals seem a mighty lot. In view of the fact that the Department wishes to have these medals claimed, and in an effort to help some who have not yet received their decorations, it has been suggested that this column seek further particulars regarding same. There are some members of the Third Canadian Division who entered Mons in 1918 who say they are entitled to a medal for that occasion. Then there is the same query from other branches of the Canadian Corps who were present on that occasion. The Mons Star as far as we know was given to those who saw service in France prior to Jan. 1916. The Victory Medal was given to all enlisted men and the General Service Medal to those who actual service overseas. There were many rumours also that bars were to be eventually awarded for victorious battles such as Vimy, Courcellette, and all others in which the Canadian troops figured. In answer to the suggestion that this column publish fuller details this will be secured and the information passed on to those interested.

The Past Reviewed

Another milestone is near being passed by the Canadian Legion in this district. During its eight years of operation the organization has chalked up a record to be proud of. It has been said that what has passed should be allowed to mildew and be forgotten, but a brief review of some of the past activities might be of interest to some of the newer members of the camp. In the first place the aim of all those connected with the organization of the branch here was to see every returned soldier a member. To-day after eight years there is a membership of close to 300, but with still a large number of permanent residents who served overseas still considering the matter. The next item of importance was the setting of a fitting observance of the signing of the Armistice. This has now become one of the big annual events of the community and as the years pass by more and more will join with the Legion in duly carrying out this service. As the branch grew in numbers so the need was seen for the establishment of a fund to relieve those in distress and through the willing work of its members and with the generous support of the public the fund came into being. The wonderful good which has arisen from this fund alone has established the branch here high in public estimation. For the benefit of returned soldiers who wished to celebrate the capturing of Vimy Ridge, the Canadian Legion took it upon themselves to re-establish this event as strictly a veteran affair; after others has carried on since 1918. Those who recall the first of these big events in the Empire hotel in 1925 will agree with the writer that a year without a Vimy banquet would be dull indeed. Continuing in the social life, the dances arranged by the branch were features looked forward to by a large proportion of the citizens. The Halloween and St. Patrick's Day Dances were classed as among the very best community popular events. The past year witnessed the removal of these from the calendar, but in the coming year it is hoped they will be revived once again. The Week of Wonders is an event also looked forward to. Not only do the proceeds help the fund of the Legion, but the enjoyment derived by those attending, creates a mutual understanding of the work the Legion is doing. The Public School sports day also has been placed on the calendar. This event is one looked forward to by the young athletes of the district. The event always creates great competition and the Legion in donating two competitive shields for this event deserve the fullest credit for its action in sponsoring good sports among the juvenile element of the district.

The internal sphere of Legion work in the past shows that its membership consists of some outstanding members. These have given good service since the inauguration of the branch and are still carrying on. Some of the old original membership plan for the coming year many could be enrolled once again. It is a pleasure to say in closing that after these eight years and the three years of acute depression with the many calls for assistance, the finances have weathered the storm and the position now is one worthy of any organization. With the passing of the eighth mile every one should strive to make the Legion one in which every returned soldier is a member.

WOLVES SAID TO HAVE BROKEN INTO BARN AFTER SHEEP

The "Roving Reporter" of The Northern News last week says:—"Wolves have caused a lot of damage this winter to farm stock in that part of the 'little clay belt' that is located in Kerns, Hudson and Buckle townships. Farmers who come into the Kirkland market every Friday can tell you stories of these depredations that indicate a big drive will be necessary to stamp out the menace. The animals make their homes in the ridge country and swoop down upon the farms in the lowlands. Wm. Hastings, president of the Temiskaming Farmers' Association, recalled last week that one of the farmers recently killed a female wolf carrying a litter of three, and he was wondering if the farmer who laid the predatory killer low was going to be able to collect bounty on all four of the wolves. One of the farmers' wives who comes to market told the Roving Reporter that the wolves have become so bold this winter that the animals, running in packs, sometimes break into barns after sheep. Another vendor believes some of the wolves are coyotes—a smaller wolf than the timber variety. He thinks the coyotes have come east with the influx of small game, and recalls that whenever an invasion of prairie chicken has been noticed in these parts a horde of wolves has always put in appearance."

"NOW CAN EAT ANY KIND OF FOOD, AND NO CONSTIPATION"

Mr. Durigan Finds Relief in Kellogg's ALL-BRAN

Here is his enthusiastic letter: "Am 70 years of age, and for 40 of these years there never was a week but what I had to take a pill or some kind of cathartic."

"I took everything, but gained only temporary relief. Until last spring my daughter, who is a nurse in a hospital, brought me some Kellogg's ALL-BRAN."

"At the end of the week, I knew I had something that was it, and I kept on taking it. I haven't taken a cathartic since. I can eat most any time, as often as I like, or any other kind of food, and no constipation." Mr. L. M. Durigan. (Address furnished upon request.)

Laboratory tests show Kellogg's ALL-BRAN provides "bulk" to exercise the intestines, and vitamin B to help muscle tone. Also iron for the blood.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like that of lettuce. Inside the body, it forms a soft mass. Gently, it clears out the intestinal wastes.

How much safer than patent medicines. Two tablespoonfuls daily are usually sufficient. With each meal in serious cases. If not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Sold in the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

UNITED STATES VISITORS VICTIMS OF BANK HOLIDAY

The Northern News last week says:—"The first echo of the United States bank holiday was heard in Noranda on Monday when two American visitors arrived in the Smelter town with cash resources badly depleted. According to these two visitors they had arrived in Montreal over the week-end with nothing but United States currency in their possession. They attempted to exchange this into Canadian funds at various places with little success. After having some difficulty the visitors were able to obtain sufficient cash to meet immediate needs, but even this was pretty well depleted by the time they arrived in Noranda on Monday."

Services Given Mining by Ottawa Department

The following is an editorial article from The Mail and Empire last week dealing with the booklet reviewed in these columns last week:—

"In view of the present lively interest in mining, especially in gold mining, the Department of Mines, Ottawa, has issued a pamphlet outlining the more important services rendered by it to the mining industry, through its two main sections, the Geological Survey and the Mines Branch. It is primarily a research department, the scope of its activities being restricted to investigations of a scientific or technological character, but covering all phases of mineral development from the geological exploration, surveying, and mapping of mineral-bearing regions to the marketing and utilization of the finished mineral products. Its sole administrative function is that carried on by the explosives division.

The Dominion Department of Mines is not directly concerned with the leasing or administration of mineral lands or rights, wherever situated, nor do its functions include the supervision of mining operations. These and related matters are dealt with in the established provinces by the provincial authorities. The administration of public lands owned by the Crown in the right of the Dominion, whether situated in the Yukon, the Northwest Territories, or elsewhere, including the supervision of mining operations within these jurisdictions and other related matters, is carried on by the Department of the Interior at Ottawa. The leasing of mining rights on lands situated within Indian reserves is governed by regulations administered by the Department of Indian Affairs, Ottawa. There is a feeling in mining circles that all the Federal activities in regard to mining should be got together under one roof instead of being spread over three departments. The compilation and publication of statistics of mineral production, formerly a function of the Department of Mines was, in 1921, transferred to the Dominion Bureau of Statistics, Ottawa.

"For the convenience of those interested, the mines branch has published a booklet, 'The Mining Laws of Canada'—a digest of Dominion and Provincial laws pertaining to mining. Both the general pamphlet and the special booklet may be obtained on application to the Department of Mines, Ottawa."

GUS SONNENBURG FREED OF BLAME IN ACCIDENT

The "Roving Reporter" of The Northern News last week says:—"From Lawrence, Mass., comes word that a jury has acquitted Gus Sonnenburg, heavyweight wrestler, of a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor. The verdict clears the big fellow of blame in the death of a police officer whose car collided with the grappler's machine near Lawrence last July. Sonnenburg fully expected to be absolved of blame in the mishap. When he was in Kirkland Lake last year, recovering from illness at the Red Cross hospital, he told the Roving Reporter that it wasn't his fault, and he intimated that there was something else behind the prosecution besides an ordinary attempt on the part of the authorities to fix the blame. Gus liked to joke about the time they arrested him. He was in his bed, recovering from injuries sustained in the accident, when a cordon of police surrounded the house. It was a typical American "pinch," and enough bluecoats were on hand to capture a gangster's hideaway. One of the policemen even carried a machine gun, Gus recalled. And newspapermen! The house was full of them. "Here was me, lying on my back," Gus smiled, "and I couldn't have made a getaway even if I had wanted. Yet half the policemen in the neighborhood were at the house, all heavily armed." Gus previously had been convicted of the traffic charge and was given a three months jail term and a fine of $300. It was his appeal from this that cleared him from blame in the police officer's death last week."

SWASTIKA RESIDENTS ASK FOR REMOVAL OF PULPWOOD

An echo of a discussion that arose some years ago over the presence of huge piles of idle pulpwood lying about Swastika, was heard at last week's Tuck Township Council meeting when a petition was received from Swastika residents urging Council action on the removal of a pile of 100 cords. The pulpwood, it was said, had lain there for two years and was regarded as a fire menace.

Subsequently a motion was presented instructing the owner of the wood pile, to remove the wood by April 15 of the year. Otherwise, it was said, the wood would be advertised for sale. The motion was passed.
