HOW THE CHINESE DO IT

Christian Science Monitor:—The Chinese, it seems, have quaint ways of dealing with some problems. For instance, when business becomes bad, the Occidental employer lays off a few hands to cut down expenses, which makes business just that much worse. Faced by the same problem the Chinese employer hires another man or two. He may not pay them highly, perhaps not more than enough to provide food and shelter. But each one can count on that food and shelter until he is able to obtain more lucrative employment again. When Charlie Foo arrives in, let us say Boston's Chinatown, he may not know a single person there. Charlie Foo being penniless, it would seem that he must become either a beggar or a case for organized charity. But Charlie is unperturbed, for he knows there is an unwritten law that protects him. He can go to any employer and demand an opportunity to take immemorial.

Barrie Examiner:—The English tea merchant must have his little joke. Descendant of a tea merchant whose cargo was dumped into Boston Harbour at the time of the American Revolution, now has donated more than half a ton of tea to be distributed to the poor of Boston, expressing a wish that the tea be used to celebrate the historic occasion.

INCREASE IN PLYMOUTH'S SALES SHOW CAR'S MERIT

Plymouth sales in Ontario and Quebec, which include three-fifths of the population of Canada, in January and February showed an increase to more than double the figures for the same period last year, government registrations of new cars compiled by Might Directories show.

The Plymouth registrations were 247.7 per cent. of last year's figures, and were recorded in a market which absorbed practically the same number of cars of all makes as a year ago.

The increase was the more notable because it was the largest in the industry, which the exception of the Dodge Six.

Presentation Here of the Passion Play

Original Freiburg Company Presents Sacred Drama in Timmins. Hundreds Here See Presentation Now World Famous.

The original Freiburg Passion Play was presented on Thursday, Friday and Saturday last in the auditorium of the Timmins High and Vocational School, there being two presentations each day, one in the afternoon and the other in the evening. The event here was made possible through the co-operation of the churches and others under whose auspices the Freiburg players visited here. The attendance on Thursday was not large nor were there big audiences on Friday. Perhaps, the high school is not conveniently located, but in any event all who were anxious to see the Passion Play had been present on the three days and the Freiburg players were prevailed upon to remain here for Monday and present the sacred drama in the Church of the Nativity hall, afternoon and evening, there being capacity audiences for both these presentations.

The Passion Play as given here follows the same lines as those in the now world famous Freiburg production. The Passion Play has been presented at Freiburg, Baden, Germany, since 1264. Georg Fassnacht, who took the part of the Christ, is the seventh generation of the family to portray the character. For centuries past the Passion Play has been presented at Freiburg in the open air and several days being taken for the presentation. As given here, the event was abridged so that its presentation occupied less than three hours, but the salient features of the last seven days of the life of the Saviour were depicted in the presentation here. In Freiburg the presentation is in the German language while here it was given in English. The story of the Saviour from Bethlehem to Calvary is pictured in reverent way but with great dramatic power. There were ten in the Freiburg company here and in addition the services of a number of local people were used for the minor characters. Students at the high school gave their services in this respect and carried through the roles of Mary Magdalene, soldiers, centurions, etc., in effective way. The leading parts in the Passion Play as taken by the visitors from Freiburg were as follows:—"The Christ," by Georg Fassnacht, Sr.; "Mary, the Mother of Jesus," by Mrs. Georg Fassnacht, Sr.; "Judas," by Z. Mayer; "John," by Nico Dotsch; "High Priest," by R. Kent.

In the presentation here at the high school, there were several handicaps, one of these being the smallness of the stage for the purpose, and another being the fact that only a couple of the visiting players were at all fluent in English. The character of the Christ was portrayed with much dramatic force, and the same may be said of the depiction of "Mary," "Judas" was presented in outstanding way, this character being made to live in gripping fashion. "John, the Beloved Apostle" had a leading part and Mr. Dotsch's singing was also much appreciated. The United Church choir assisted materially in the event by the musical numbers given.

Those who attended one or more presentations of the Passion Play are agreed that the sacred drama was depicted with much power and impressiveness and that the event will not be soon forgotten. It is worthy of note that some of those who attended each succeeding event the more impressive.

The churches sponsoring the visit of the Passion Play to Timmins kindly donated the net proceeds to the District Children's Aid. The amount received by the Children's Aid was $77.58. The deductions included an amount of $40 for amusement tax not expected to be charged for the event. It is hoped, however, to be able to secure a refund of this $40.00, the Passion Play being in the nature of a religious service, and the net proceeds being given to charitable purposes.

On Sunday Nico Dotsch, who took the part of "John" in the Passion Play, sang at the morning service at the United Church, the church being filled and the singer being much appreciated. In the evening at the United Church, Georg Fassnacht, who was "the Christ" in the Passion Play, sang with effectiveness, the church being filled again. Mr. Fassnacht sang in the morning at St. Anthony's church, while Mr. Dotsch was the soloist at the Church of the Nativity in the evening, the talented singers in each case being greeted by large congregations.

Reference was made last week to the accident at Downingtown, Pennsylvania, U. S. A., in which Mrs. Geo. N. Moore, of Timmins, and her mother, Mrs. Miller, of Downingtown, were both injured when struck by a motor car. Word received here since gives the sad news that Mrs. Moore's
