Sentenced to Jail for Theft of an Overcoat

At a session of the police court on Wednesday morning Michael J. Hickey, who has been in town for a year or more, was charged with the theft of an overcoat from John Hanrahan, 22 Mountjoy street. The latter found his overcoat was gone and the police were called in to assist in finding it. Good work by the police resulted in the location of the coat at a second hand store. Hickey was accused of being the one who sold the overcoat to the second-hand store for $1.50. He denied this, but in view of the fact that he had been travelling round town all winter with Hanrahan, and yet claimed that he had never seen the overcoat in question before, his other denials were not given undue weight. The police also had taken the coat and sold it and so he was found guilty on the charge. Magistrate Atkinson sending him down to Halleybury for three months with hard labour.

ARREST MADE IN CASE OF TWO ALLEGED BAD CHEQUES

Last night the police arrested O. Chenier, on charges laid by a town merchant, who was given two cheques by Chenier, one for $5.00 and the other for $2.00, the two cheques being alleged to have been improperly issued and worthless.

Plan for Extensive Fishing in the North

New Company Established Now at Moosonee to Operate in that Far North Area. Moosonee Also the Base for Prospectors.

Last year after the formal opening of the new town of Moosonee, the terminal in the Hudson Bay area of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, the question was often asked: "What use is Moosonee?" Sometimes the form of the query would be altered to read:—"What will make the establishment certain?" Against this form of query it was argued that Moosonee would develop into a notable summer resort, and that in addition it should be noted the district around Moosonee was so rich in resources—fur, fish, game, minerals—that the future of Moosonee might be considered as assured. Further suggestion along this line may be gathered from an announcement made this week.

A new fishing company has been established at Moosonee, on James Bay, and is now preparing to carry on extensive operations in the Moose River and James Bay this year, according to George W. Lee, chairman of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Commission, who has just returned from the northern port.

Moosonee has been made the base for two airplanes engaged in transporting prospectors and supplies up the east coast of the bay for an exploration company, Mr. Lee said, and the company is preparing for prospecting activities during the summer.

The region is still blanketed with snow to a depth of eight to ten feet.

Regarding the Medal Won by J. J. Denny, of McIntyre

In referring last week to the medal won by J. J. Denny, metallurgist at the McIntyre-Porcupine Mines, and well known in mining circles all through the North, The Northern Miner says:—

"James J. Denny, metallurgist of McIntyre-Porcupine Mines was awarded the International Nickel Company's newly created platinum medal for 'his contribution to the art of concentrating gold and silver ores,' by R. C. Stanley, president of the Nickel Company at the annual banquet of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy last Thursday.

"The medal was offered to the Institute by The International Nickel Company of Canada, Ltd., as part of its observance this year of the 50th anniversary of the discovery of the nickel deposits in the Sudbury district of Ontario, and that it had been accepted for award 'annually or at the discretion of the Council' of the Institute. The citation is 'Award for distinguished service to the Canadian mineral industry.'

"It is particularly fitting' John A. Allan, immediate past president of the association said, 'that the nickel industry, which has been already made so distinctive a contribution to Canada's position in world commerce, should be associated with this new means of honouring those who may from time to time advance the interests of our mineral industry as a whole through distinguished service in one or another of its branches.

"The selection of platinum for these medals is a happy choice. Product of the Sudbury ores in such quantity as to make Canada one of the world's greatest sources of this precious metal, platinum enjoys a public esteem that makes it the unique symbol of supreme achievement; and I believe that the Canadian Institute will become increasingly proud of its distinction in being the first great scientific society to recognize platinum as the metal of honour."

The Big Cheese Promises to be the Big Cheese Here

"The 'Big Cheese' is another name for the 'Big Boss,' 'the Main Guy,' or, what have you? In the line of entertainment the 'Big Cheese' here is likely to be 'The Big Cheese.'" In other words, the Y.P.S. announce that they will present a clever 3-act comedy entitled "The Big Cheese," in the United Church basement on Thursday, April 27th, and Friday, April 28th, the event in each case to start at 8 p.m. "The Big Cheese" is a happy comedy by Eugene G. Hafer and is produced by the Y.P.S. under special permission from the Walter H. Baker Co., Boston, Mass. Previous events of similar kind by members of the Y.P.S. prove the talent in the society and the effective way in which they can present dramatic events. "The Big Cheese" is a lively comedy and with the Y.P.S. talent is sure to please all who attend. All who like a good comedy should mark the dates, April 27th and 28th, and reserve one of these evenings for the enjoyment of "The Big Cheese."

Twenty-five Cases at Tuesday's Court

Variety of Charges from Breaches of Liquor Laws to Non-Support. Seven Common Drunks. More Cheque Cases. Also Assault Charges.

The police court docket this week was notable for the number of cases and the variety of charges. There were 25 names on the roll and the charges ran from common drunkenness to more serious cases carrying terms in jail without the option of a fine.

D. St. Amour was charged with fraudulently obtaining relief. The case was remanded to next week.

There were two cases under the Master and Servant Act, both being remanded to next week.

There was also a remand for a week in a fraud charge case, the charge following the cashing of a cheque that is said to be of the "rubber" variety.

A man charged with failing to provide for his family was ordered to pay $10.00 a week for the family's support.

For driving without an operator's license a fine of $10.00 and costs was imposed. This case should be a warning to others. Speeding resulted in another man contributing $10.00 and costs. A reckless driver was fined $10.00 and costs.

Seven of the common garden variety of drunks were each fined $10.00 and costs. Four of them failed to pay and may be found at Halleybury for the next thirty days.

Geo. Boychuk, 159 Maple street north was charged with illegal possession of liquor following a raid on his place by the town police. The case was remanded to next week.

The provincial police, Officers Alex Craik and E. F. Hartlieb, had charges of breach of the liquor laws against a group of four men. Joseph Laliberte was charged with keeping liquor for sale; Wilfred Beauchamp was charged with drinking in a public place; Adolph Belanger was charged with having liquor not in his private dwelling; and Paul Riron had a "keeping for sale" charge chalked up against him. The charges resulted from a visit paid by the police to a new house that seemed to be formally opened on Sunday evening just outside the town limits. When the police were at the house there was a dance in progress on the ground floor, while upstairs one room seemed to be reserved for the serving of refreshments. There were tables covered with oilcloth, baskets of sandwiches, a man in his shirt sleeves and with a towel over his arm, like a regular waiter or clerk in a thirst-quenching emporium. In addition, there was a quantity of beer. About seventy-five people were present when the police arrived at the party. The police took away the liquor and also four of those present. The case was remanded to next week.

On a charge of having liquor not on his permit T. Burk, of Maple street was assessed $100.00 and costs.

There were four assault charges on the docket. Three of these were withdrawn with the complainant paying the costs. These three cases were charges laid against three different men for alleged assault on Sylvestre Duck. The other assault case was a charge against Joseph Gubrak, 27 Fourth avenue, in connection with an assault upon Tony Kowalski, also of Fourth avenue. It appeared that the two men got into an argument and the argument progressed into more forcible methods. Tony was hit over the head with a chair and had his ear cut and his head gashed. The chair was produced in evidence. It also had suffered in the encounter with Tony's head, part of the back being broken and rungs of the chair splintered. Gubrak was fined $25.00 and costs, which he paid forthwith.

Anglicans Organized for Restoration Fund Campaign

An enthusiastic meeting of Anglican laymen was held in St. Matthew's Church hall on Wednesday evening. The occasion was the inauguration of the campaign to restore the capital funds lost to the church in Canada through the unhappy circumstances which were brought before the court in Winnipeg last year. After a bountiful dinner served by the Ladies' Guild in their justly-celebrated style, the meeting selected a strong committee of laymen to canvass the parish for its share of the total sum required. The spirit of the meeting last night augurs a successful attainment of the object in view.

Popular Young Couple Wedded Saturday Last

Two very popular young people of the town, William Edward Alton, youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Alton, and Miss Isabella Margaret Parsons, only daughter of Councillor and Mrs. Geo. W. Parsons, Cambria avenue, were united in marriage on Saturday last, April 15th, at the home of the bride's parents, Rev. Bruce Millar, of the United Church being the officiating clergyman. The bride wore a blue georgette gown with hat and shoes to match and wore a corsage of roses and lily-of-the-valley. The bridesmaid was Miss Dorothy Taylor, who wore a dress of green crepe with hat to match. Osborne E. Alton, brother of the groom was the groomsmen. The day was also the wedding anniversary of the bride's parents. A luncheon was served at the home of the bride's parents after the ceremony about twenty-five guests being present in addition to the immediate members of the two families, a very pleasant time being enjoyed by all. Both the bride and groom have been on the staff of the Hollinger Stores and are widely known in town. Hosts of friends will join in extending to them the sincerest good wishes. Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Alton have taken up residence on Bannerman avenue.

C. C. F. Speakers on the Party Platform

Angus McInnes, Labour M.P., and Mrs. McInnes, of Vancouver, Address Large Audience at Moose Hall on Monday Evening.

There was a crowded house at the Moose hall Monday evening for the meeting called to explain the Canadian Co-operative Commonwealth Federation platform. Many had to be turned away for lack of further room. A. M. Stuart, local Labour party man, was chairman for the evening, introducing the speakers, Angus McInnes, Labour M.P., from Vancouver, and Mrs. McInnes. The latter was the first speaker and proved to be an able and attractive speaker. Both speakers gave a rather gloomy picture of present conditions. Mr. McInnes outlined the platform of the C.C.F., but dealt chiefly in generalities. In none of the planks of the platform did the speakers indicate how the new plans were to be carried into effect. The chief aims and objects of the C.C.F. were given as follows:—Establishment of a planned system of economy for production, distribution and exchange of goods; socialization of banking, credit and financial system, with social ownership of public utilities and natural resources; security for the farmer on land used for productive purposes; maintenance and extension of all existing social and welfare legislation, including crop insurance, illness, accident, old age and unemployment insurance, etc.; equal economic and social opportunity without distinction of sex, race or religion; encouragement to all co-operative enterprises as a means to attaining the co-operative commonwealth; acceptance by Federal Government of responsibility for dealing with unemployment and providing work on maintenance.

During the past winter skiing was one of the most popular sports in Kapuskasing, the ski club in that town having a particularly good season. No wonder, if the report of the Ottawa gentlemen in the city newspapers last week was correct when he referred to four feet of snow being still left in Kapuskasing.
