Recalling the Late

Some Early History of the Dome Mine and Those who had Faith in it. Other News of the Dome and South Porcupine.

down some test pits. Then we came down to Toronto with a bunch of samples, not three or four, but a couple of hundred. We opened rooms in the King Edward hotel and began to create more excitement. Northern Ontario was getting well advertised about this time. It was the year that prepara- Big Sale of Dodge Cars tions were on to open up the Gowganda district but the thing that brought American men here was the new discovery at Porcupine."

"The next thing that happened," said Mr. Edwards, "was that I made a deal with Ambrose Monell, at that time president of the International Nickel Company, with offices in New York. Mr. Monell, as everybody knows, was one of the big men of the day and was closely associated with the Bankers Trust Company. Another member of this syndicate was J. R. DeLamare, noted mining man, who died not long ago leaving $30,000,000, all made out of mines. There was also C. L. Denison, the president of the Buffalo Silver Mine at Cobalt, and W. E. Cory, an ex-president of the United States Steel Corporation. You see it was a strong syndicate. DeLamare was the main mining man of the group and after ar option had been taken he placed Captain Lawson, who was then in charge of the Canadian Copper Company, in charge of affairs at the Dome. "And here's where Anchor comes in to the story," said Mr. Edwards, "De Lamare insisted that Capt. H. C. Anchor, who had an international reputation as a mining engineer, represent him at the new property. He had then been associated with DeLamare for ten or twelve years."

"In 1910, Mr. Edwards and his associates turned the property over to the Monell syndicate. In July, Monell had gone to Newfoundland on a fishing trip and when the first payment on th option came due in August he wired and be sure and make the payment This closed the deal. Anchor in hi reports had shown that he believed to be a permanent property with a future. Monell was made president of the Dome and when he resigned De Lamare became president. At DeLamare's death as is well known, J. S Bache took the reins.

"Dome's adjoining property was staked at the same time as the Dome itself and of this, Mr. Edwards was president After consummating arrangements with the Monell syndicate, Edwards put Anchor in charge of Dome Extension which had all the ups and downs of the usual mining venture. Anchor re mained manager of Dome Extension until the amalgamation took place with Dome. It looks now as though the old property of Dome Extension with which he (Anchor) was associated from the first, is going to turn out to be the influx of additional life to the Dome. Only a few weeks ago, in an interview with Mr. DePencier, the manager of Dome, he said that the immediate future of their development lies in for announcing that the Canadian com-Dome Extension. 'The Dodge "DQ' Six "priced right down among the lowest priced cars" is mainly responsible for the very large increase in Dodge sales during the first quarter of this year, according to Russel Paige, vice-president in charge of sales for Dodge Brothers (Canada)

Retail sales of Dodge cars were two and a half times last year's sales in the first quarter based on Government registration figures for Ontario, Quebec and the Maritime Provinces compiled for the industry by Might Directories. "This very substantial increase," Mr. Paige continued, "was of course largely based upon the Dodge "DQ" Six which for the first time permitted Dodge to enter the low priced field with a car which fully upholds the Dodge tradition of utmost dependability and good work-

"Considering these registrations from another angle," said Mr. Paige, "the Dodge percentage of the total sales made in Eastern Canada during the quarter was 10.1 per cent. this year as against 3.5 per cent. last year. For four consecutive months Dodge sales have shown a tremendous gain over each corresponding month of the previous year. Only cars outstanding in appearance, performance and convenience could achieve such results. These sales, stated Mr. Paige, are the concrete impression of the public's desire to own cars of Dodge reputation and dependability which have been translated into Anchor to avail himself of the option action by the values we are offering in 1933 which are greatest in the long and nonourable history of Dodge Brothers." "This record amply justifies the judgment of Dodge Brothers (Canada) Limited in manufacturing a car of Dodge reputation and quality as a contender in the lowest-priced field," concluded Mr. Paige.
