Recipes Given for a Number of Salads

Flavour Counts, but the Clever Cook Begins with the Touch That Appeals to the Eye, Says Culinary Expert.

Writing recently in The Toronto Mail and Empire, Ann Adam, a noted domestic science expert, touches on the matter of salads. She gives a number of recipes for salads that may be of interest. Her article and group of recipes are as follows:—

There is no salad more appealing at the outset than a jellied mould. It has all the advantage of attractive form, opportunities for colour, arrangement and infinite variety.

Now-a-days we "jelly" every type of salad—vegetable, fruit, fish, meat, relish—and each scores in its own way.

This morning we have for Table Talkers some truly delightful moulded salads that should be more and more appreciated as warmer days advance.

Almond Salad

- 1 cup vinegar
- 1 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons gelatine
- 1 cup pineapple juice
- 1 cup sweet cucumber pickles
- 1 cup almonds
- 2-3 cup crushed pineapple

If vinegar is strong dilute with part water. Pickle vinegar may be used with excellent results. Cook vinegar and sugar until it spin a thread. Soak gelatine in pineapple juice and dissolve in hot syrup. Grind, pickled cucumber through chopper, blanch and shred almonds and add pineapple. Combine mixtures, mould, and serve cold on lettuce with mayonnaise.

Cranberry Salad

Place round flat moulds of cranberry jelly on crisp leaves of lettuce. Spread a layer of finely chopped celery over each round of jelly. Spread salad dressing over the top, and sprinkle thickly with salted almonds which have been chopped or cut into small pieces. This is a delicious and highly attractive salad accompaniment to the meat course.

Red Cherry Salad

- 2 tablespoons gelatine
- 1 cup cold water
- Bovril water
- 1 cup celery (cut fine)
- Juice of two oranges
- 1 pound can red cherries, pitted
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup pecan meats

Soften gelatine in cold water and dissolve in a little boiling water. Add the other ingredients, except nuts. Add boiling water to make one quart liquid.

Cool in individual moulds. Serve on crisp lettuce leaves with mayonnaise. Garnish with pecan meats. Servings, six.

Perfection Salad

- 2 tablespoons gelatine
- 1 cup water
- 1 cup vinegar
- 3 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon sugar
- 1 cup olives
- 1 cup pimento
- 1 cup chopped celery
- 1 cup chopped cabbage

Soften gelatine in cold water and dissolve over hot water. Add vinegar, salt and sugar. Just before it sets, add olives and vegetables. Turn into square mould and chill. Cut into squares, serve on lettuce with mayonnaise dressing. Servings, 6.

Fruit and Ginger Salad

- 2 tablespoons gelatine
- 1 cup hot water
- 1 pint ginger ale
- 1 cup lemon juice
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 2 tablespoons Canton ginger (chopped)

Soften gelatine in a little cold water and dissolve in boiling water. Add ginger ale, lemon juice, sugar and salt. When partly stiffened, stir in the chopped ginger. Turn into a shallow pan. When stiff cut in squares and serve in baskets made by tying together four oblong cheese wafers. Serve with a cream dressing. It takes two pairs of hands to make the cheese baskets, one to hold them while the other ties the ribbons. Servings, 6.

Jellied Fruit Salad

- 1 tablespoon granulated gelatine
- 1 cup cold water
- 1 cup boiling water
- 1 cup fruit water
- 1 cup canned red cherries
- 1 cup diced banana
- 1 cup grapefruit sections
- 1 cup orange sections

Soften gelatine in cold water, add boiling water and fruit juices (one-half cup from the cherries, three-eighths cup orange juice, and two table-spoons lemon juice makes a good combination). Any canned or fresh juice may be used. Add sugar. The exact amount will depend upon the combination of fruit juices used. Stir until sugar is dissolved and let mixture stand until it begins to stiffen. Stir in fruit and turn into a mould. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise to which whipped cream has been added or with fruit salad dressing. Servings, 6.

Fruit Salad Dressing

- 1 teaspoon mustard
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1-3 teaspoon paprika

- 1 tablespoon strained honey
- 1 egg
- 1-3 tablespoons lemon juice
- 1-3 cup milk
- 1 cup heavy cream

Mix mustard, salt and paprika, add strained honey and egg slightly beaten. Add lemon juice, and pour on milk slowly, stirring constantly. Cook in double boiler until thick, stirring all the time. Cool, and fold in cream, which has been beaten until stiff.

SEES NUMBER OF NEW MINES IN THE PORCUPINE DISTRICT

(From The Northern Miner) Dome has a new mine, far to the east of its old workings, a half mile underneath an area that gave but meagre results. Hollinger may get something along the line of a new mine if present results persist and expand well to the west of the boundary of ore-expectation at depth. In the Dome sense, McIntyre has not a "new mine" in prospect but it does possess remarkable possibilities below the present workings. The deep winze now going down well below the 3,750 level, may expose undreamed of ore for McIntyre; the advance intimations are very wide.

Thus an old camp, and Porcupine is nearly 25 years old, gains renewal of life that will carry it far beyond the allotted span of the conservatives. Luster years, flush with profits and prosperity, are ahead. The camp has apparently not yet reached the peak.

Siscoe Gold Now Treating 250 Tons of Ore Daily

Siscoe Gold Mines, for the first seven days of May, produced bullion to the value of $17,000 and it is estimated that for the month output will total $90,000 exclusive of exchange premium, according to word from Montreal. In April the company produced $70,970 in gold. The erratic nature of Siscoe's monthly production figures is due to the large quantities of free gold in the ore, which makes it practically impossible for the management to hold heads at a specific average per ton rate. Some time ago the company abandoned the policy of taking millhead assays as these were found to show a wide spread when compared with actual recovery, in practically all cases the assays running several dollars per ton under recovery.

Siscoe Gold is now treating 250 tons of ore daily and it is stated that absorption in the circuit of the new ball mill, which went into operation last month, has been completed and higher monthly recovery may be looked for in the future. It also is stated that the management plans to use a larger percentage of development ore with the result that future millheads will average around $11 to $12 per ton, which compares with a rate ranging from $15 to $21 per ton last year. Interesting developments also are taking place at the mine and new ore bodies carrying high grade are being opened up between the 600 and 725-foot levels. Work on the 975-foot level, the deepest mine workings, has opened up good values. J. M. Forbes, general manager, states, in addition to extending workings on the main property it was announced from Montreal last week that Siscoe plans to put down a shaft on the mainland to explore the property at depth from this point.

Kirkland Insists on Work or No Relief

Reeve G. D. O'Meara Explains to Alleged Deputation of Workers that it is a Case of Either Work or Lose Relief.

Continuing in their refusal to work, the unemployed strikers of Kirkland Lake on Thursday went hungry as the local authorities, true to their edict of "no work, no relief," did not allow them the regular two meals per day. The strikers received breakfast this morning and were told to be on hand at dinner time when their case would be gone into.

Mustering at the main soup kitchen at noon, the strikers were addressed by Reeve G. D. O'Meara who told them that every consideration had been shown them in the past, and no meals would be served to anyone unless they consented to work. Calling upon those who were ready to start working, the reeve informed them that all those consenting would be assured of their meals daily, but that no wages would be paid.

In answer to this request, about a dozen men stepped forward ready to commence at once. A few others joined the ranks later. About 20 in all comprised the party. They were transported at once to the scene of operations in trucks, under heavy police guard, where they received a full meal before commencing operations.

Following the transportation of these men to the ball grounds, the main soup kitchen downtown was dismantled, all meals in future being scheduled to be served directly to those working on the job. No other provision is being made to feed the unemployed, so the strikers automatically are cut off from the food supply unless they return to work.

Police reinforcements rushed to Kirkland Lake on Thursday last from Cochrane, Timmins, Halleybury and other points are still here and are likely to remain until some agreement is reached with the strikers.

Numerous special police are also on duty as a precaution against further outbreaks.

Settlers Coming East Now Instead of Going to West

A generation or so ago Western Canada was the goal of settlers but recently the process was reversed when a special car was attached to a Canadian National Railway train conveying two families from Mountain Road, near Eden, Manitoba, to Grimsby, Ontario. There were 19 persons in all, comprising the families of Wasy Laba and Mike Romak, who will take up fruit farming near Grimsby. It was the first train ride any of the children ever had. Both fathers came from Austria, Laba coming with his father in 1898 and marrying a woman of his own country who had come to Canada four years later. Romak's wife is also an Austrian. Relatives of both families are already settled in the Grimsby district.

Hon. Chas. McCrea a Native of Renfrew

"Great Were the McCreas," Says R. A. Jeffrey, Minister of Mines for Ontario was Born at Springtown, Renfrew County.

Hon. Geo. F. Graham, Senator, and noted speaker and public man, recently gave out the official information that he is a native of Renfrew County, having been born at Eganville. It is well known that Hon. Frank Latchford, Hon. T. W. McGarry, the Whites, the Dunlops, Dr. M. J. Maloney and other noted public men were proud to call Renfrew County their home place. Hon. T. W. McGarry, one of the most fluent and gifted speakers in public life in this province, while not a native of Renfrew County, spent so many years in the county that there are few Renfrew County men who will not claim him as a Renfrew man. The North has drawn very largely on Renfrew County for its leading men. Sam Dempsey, of Cochrane, Alex Stirling, of Timmins, and many others of the pioneers of this part of the North, are Renfrew men. Scores of others well known here proudly refer to Renfrew County as their own particular home district. It may not be so generally well known that Hon. Chas. McCrea is a native of Renfrew County, but that is the fact. This has special interest at the present time in view of the fact that there is a great probability that Hon. Chas. McCrea may be the next premier of Ontario. Some weeks ago The Advance carried an editorial article in which it was pointed out that for the success of the Conservative party in the province and for the general good of Ontario, Hon. Chas. McCrea should be the head of the party and the government in this province. A few days after the suggestion had been made in The Advance there seemed to be a general wave of comment favourable to the choice of Hon. Mr. McCrea as premier.

Hon. Mr. McCrea has all the qualities that would make a notable premier. He has the political experience. He has the gift of dealing with men. He has outstanding talent and ability. Above all he enjoys on merit the full confidence of the people of the province. If he will take the place it looks as if he will be the logical choice for premier in case the present ill-health of Hon. Geo. Henry makes it necessary for him to retire.

For all these reasons the following article, headed "Great Were the McCreas," should find special attention. The article is by R. A. Jeffrey, a former newspaper editor of Arnprior, Renfrew County. Mr. Jeffrey is also well known in the North where he has visited on several occasions. Mr. Jeffrey knows his Renfrew County and its people. He has moreover the happy faculty of being able to express his ideas and opinions in very effective way. Here is his article in full, as it appeared last week in The Eganville Leader:

Great Were the McCreas
Renfrew county has produced many prominent men, but never has it reached the heights on which Dundas stood when it gave James Pliny Whitney to Ontario as prime minister. Renfrew can boast such parliamentary representation as was given by the Whites, Dunlops, McGarrys, Lows, Latchfords, Cotnams, Maloney and Grahams, but of none of this galaxy of ministerial material was a prime minister produced.

Now it may be different, because Hon. Chas. McCrea, whose name appears in the headlines as a probable successor to Mr. Henry is a native of Springtown, a picturesque spot in the wooded countryside between quaint little Burnstown and optimistic Calabogie, where the turbulent Madawaska as it bends gracefully in that pine-scented valley reminds one of Pauline's Johnston's "stream of tender gladness, of filmy sun and coral-tinted skies."

The McCreas name was written in large letters in the history of Renfrew county long before the present minister of mines was born. Three-quarters of a century ago, before the present Renfrew county was considered sufficiently important to have a county seat and government of her own, Gerrard and Edward McCrea, forebears of the prospective prime minister of to-day, went out from Springtown to represent the townships of Bagoi and Blythfield at the Bathurst district council meetings; later Lanark and Renfrew counties were set up as a joint seat of municipal government and for many years the McCrea men exerted a wide influence at that composite board.

Perhaps this was the background that motivated Charles McCrea and helped make him what he is. His sentiment toward the rustic scenes of his childhood remains the same. They have up there a McCrea highway, a McCrea bridge, a McCrea homestead, and goodness only knows what else that bears the family escutcheon. McCreas would seem to have borne about the same relation to Springtown as the McDonalds do to Gienarry and older folk in the present generation still profess a liking to have the minister of mines come home, sit on the rail fence and let the boys and girls of his day look at him and call him "Charlie." A great many voters in that community are likely to have quite a time deciding "twixt love and duty" if Hon. Chas. McCrea steps up.

According to Arthur Brisbane of New York, the minister of mines typifies Canadian confidence and buoyancy, but that's just because they have in Renfrew county that something that Dan Flynn of Eganville describes as "a way wild him." Just look at George Perry Graham, whose birthplace is distant only a few miles from that of the McCreas. Listening to him address the ladies at a luncheon in Ottawa on Wednesday, one was impressed with his buoyancy of manner and temperance of speech, to say nothing of the courage he maintained while the ladies had him on "the spot."
