ERRORS WILL CREEP IN NO MATTER WHAT CARE TAKEN

A reader of The Advance sends in a clipping from an unknown newspaper, giving some serious typographical errors. They are all but little mistakes...

Here are a few of the "breaks" or "bulls" mentioned on the clipping: "Mrs. Annie Besant, 80-year-old theosophist leader, was confined to bed today at the home of friends at Wimbledon..."

"This is the first picture taken showing Europe's other famous Queen Marie with the infant Prince Andria, her third son."

"It is proposed to use this donation to purchase new benches for our parks as the present old ones are in a very dilapidated state."

"Mrs. Thurston Gaylord and daughter are planning to tour the Black Hills, Yellowstone Park and other places of interest. They are taking a tent and cooking utensils and will vamp by the side of the road."

"Germans are so small that there may be as many as one billion, seven hundred million of them in a drop of water."

Production of Gold is Slightly Lower

Figures for April Gold Production a Little Lower Than for the March Record Ontario's Output of Gold for April Valued at $3,681,801.

Production by the gold mines of Ontario in April showed a slight decline from the high record in March, but held above the figures for January and February. Total output was valued at $3,681,801, compared with $4,059,248 in March.

The number of mines reporting to the Ontario Department of Mines on their production in April was 17. The four mines in the Northwestern Ontario district, Howey, Parkhill, Minto and Moss, showed a marked reduction in the amount of ore treated, the April figures being 29,891 tons, compared with 35,148 in March, 31,281 in February, and 34,738 in January.

Lake Shore led in production in April followed by Hollinger, Teck-Hughes, McIntyre, Dome, Wright-Hargreaves and Howey.

Receipts of crude gold bullion for April at the Royal Canadian Mint, Ottawa, contained 155,883.6 ounces of gold and 23,055 ounces of silver, with a total value of $3,228,937, without exchange compensation.

Since April 19, following the United States departure from the gold standard, the Federal Department of Finance, Ottawa, has arranged to pay for Ontario crude gold bullion on the basis of $20.67 per ounce of gold on assay, with adjustments on account of exchange to be made later on receipt of proceeds of sale of the gold by the Department of Finance in London or other world markets.

BERT DEMPSEY, OF TIMMINS KNOCKED OUT HIS OPPONENT

(From The Northern News) Bert Dempsey was a little too much for Jimmie MacKenzie of Kirkland Lake in the third boxing and wrestling show staged by Henry Bussineau in the "gym" opposite the fire hall, Rouyn, on Friday night last. Dempsey took the encounter with a K.O. in the fourth round after leading all the way.

From the outset it was plainly seen that MacKenzie was not in the best of condition and would be no match for the hard-punching Dempsey. Dempsey started off with a hard attack in the first round and had MacKenzie backing away before the first gong sounded.

The local boy gained points on his Kirkland Lake opponent in the second stanza and continued his aggressive attacks. In the third round it was apparent that MacKenzie would not go the full time. About half way through the final round MacKenzie went to the floor for the ten-count with a heavy blow over the heart.

Amendments Made to Securities Act

No House to House Canvassing Permitted by Stock Salesmen. No Sales to be Completed for Stock Before Filing of Prospectus.

Last week The Advance made reference to some of the recent amendments made to the Ontario Securities Act, the regulations of which govern the sale of stocks and bonds in the province. Herewith is given the text of the amendments.

Copy of an Order-in-Council approved by The Honourable, the Lieutenant-Governor, dated the 9th day of May, A.D., 1933.

Upon the recommendation of The Honourable the Attorney-General, the Committee of Council advise that the regulations under the Securities Act be amended by striking out part 4 of regulation 6 and substituting the following:

(4) The sale of securities of mining syndicates organized in Canada for the purpose of financing prospecting expeditions or development, where the total capital of the syndicate is not in excess of $35,000 and the securities are not being sold to the public. Provided, however, that before selling securities in such a syndicate, the organizer or organizers of the syndicate shall notify the Ontario Securities Commission by letter of the name of the syndicate and the names and addresses of those who will be selling its securities. The commission may, if it is deemed advisable, order the syndicate to register under the act. Failure to give this information or to comply with an order of the commission under this regulation shall constitute an offence. In this regulation the word "mining" shall be deemed only to apply to mining for metals.

The committee further advise that the said regulations be amended by adding thereto as sections 29, 30 and 31, the following: 29.—No person shall call at an/ house for the purpose of trading in any security with the public or any member of the public, and any violation of this regulation shall constitute an offence. In this regulation the expression "house" shall not include an office used for business purposes, and the expression "public" shall not include close personal friends, business associates or customers with whom the person making the offer has been in the habit of doing regular business in the purchase or sale of shares.

This regulation shall not apply to the sale of the bonds of any government in Canada or Great Britain, or of any municipality or other incorporated body in the Dominion of Canada which is empowered by statute to obtain the money necessary for the payment of interest and redemption of the bonds by public taxation.

30.—No broker or salesman trading on behalf of a security issuer, nor any security issuer trading on its own behalf, shall complete a trade with any customer until a copy of the latest prospectus of the security issuer filed under the provisions of the Companies Information Act, 1928, has been delivered to the person to whom the offer is made.

Every broker and salesman shall deliver to every customer before accepting payment or receiving any security in respect of a trade in a security a written or printed statement which clearly discloses the nature of the transaction; whether the broker is acting as principal or agent; and unless the broker is acting as principal in the transaction, the commission which the broker will receive or has received either from the vendor or purchaser or both. If the sale is on behalf of a security issuer any commission payable must be disclosed.

If the money or other consideration received by the broker or salesman for securities other than bonds and debentures is not to be paid to the company whose securities are being offered for sale, the said statement shall have the following words printed, stamped or written across the top thereof in type or letters at least as large as those used at any other place in the statement: "The proceeds of this sale will not go into the treasury of the company whose securities are hereby sold to you."

In this paragraph the word "Company" shall include a partnership, association, syndicate or other unincorporated organization whose securities are being offered for sale and the appropriate words in such case shall be substituted for the word "company" in the statement delivered to the customer. Failure to comply with this regulation or any misrepresentation in the said statement shall constitute an offence.

This regulation shall not apply to the sale of the bonds of any government in Canada or Great Britain, or any municipality or other incorporated body in the Dominion of Canada which is empowered by statute to obtain the money necessary for the payment of interest and redemption of the bonds by public taxation; to securities listed on any recognized stock exchange; or a transaction between brokers.

31.—If a security, as defined by the act or regulations thereunder, or in a partnership, association, syndicate or other unincorporated organization is offered for sale, a copy of the agreement which establishes the rights and liabilities of those joining such unincorporated organization must at the same time be delivered to the person to whom the offer is made.

Any violation of this regulation or any misrepresentation in the agreement shall constitute an offence.

Survey Shows General Pick-up in Employment

Employment and business have been gradually on the upgrade throughout Canada in the last month if expansions reported to the Canadian Press by leading firms reflect conditions. The most general pick-up is noted in the west, where moderate expansion of staffs has resulted mainly from activity in food supply and wearing apparel industries.

Except in a few industries however, the improvement has not been sufficiently important to justify executives planning an immediate increase in output beyond the summer scale already decided upon.

General Motors of Canada announced last week production schedules had been increased by 1,600 car units for June and July over the previously contemplated summer schedule. The same optimistic conditions prevail in some other lines, notably mining, brewing and textile industries.

Improvement in the west shows in expansion of staffs in large and small concerns. Winnipeg reports two meat packing plants recently added 100 men to handle the export trade; an oil company and metal working firm added men to the staffs, and two new brokerage offices opened.

The survey reveals payrolls of a number of Manitoba wholesale houses variously increased.

May be Market in France for Canadian Wood Pulp

When Bill No. 107, respecting a trade agreement between Canada and France was being discussed in the House of Commons last week, Jos. A. Bradette, M.P., North Temiskaming, asked a question that brought interesting answer. Mr. Bradette referred to an item in the agreement in regard to pulpwood and his question was in regard to the amount of Canada's exports of wood pulp to France. Mr. Bradette also wished to know if it would be suffering so much from lack of markets. It is a matter that may be worth a lot of study. There may be nothing of importance to Canada in the question, but at least it would certainly be well worth while to study the whole situation, and see what steps, if any, should be taken.

Here is the reference to the question as given in Hansard, the official report of addresses and proceedings in the House of Commons:— Mr. BRADETTE: I am particularly interested in item 168, which covers wood pulp chemically treated, under guarantee of clearance to be discharged by "les contributions indirectes." I do not know what those words mean, but I believe that under the previous treaty we did very little trade with France under this item, and I should like a little information from the minister in this regard. Apparently in the past we did not sell raw pulpwood to France, but I have been told by competent authorities that a potential market exists in that country. Will the minister be good enough to tell us the exports of wood pulp and similar material during the last year the previous treaty was in operation, and also whether it will be possible to create a new market in France for Canadian wood pulp.

Mr. CAHAN: I really believe that our exporters have not paid particular attention to the markets in France, which of course are highly competitive. I am sure many things could be sold there if special agencies were created for the purpose. With respect to wood pulp, our right to the minimum tariff is confined to chemical dry pulp which is used in the manufacture of artificial silk. We never have been able to compete with Norway and Finland with regard to wet pulp. Barrie Examiner:—An economist has been defined as a man who knows everything and can't do anything.
