GIVE THE BUSINESS MEN A BREAK ON SMALL ACCOUNTS

The Blaimore (Alberta) Enterprise has the following pithy paragraph worth perusal and pondering:
"We believe that some of the public are too careless in the payment of little accounts. If you were to ask the average merchant or business man these days what is the most embarrassing feature of his business, ninety per cent of them would tell you that it is the stagnant position of their small accounts. Rather than run the risk of making an enemy of a customer who owes but a small bill, the business man will let the collection end of his business slide along.

The big account is gone after and usually collected. Small items in large numbers easily run into hundreds of dollars and positively cripple a merchant in times like these. Wipe these off and give the businessman a break.

First Dividend of Buffalo-Ankerite

Mill Tonnage at New Producing Mine May Be Increased to 500 Tons Per Day. Production Now at Rate $65,000 Monthly.

There is great interest in the Buffalo-Ankerite, not only in the Porcupine, but also throughout Ontario and even beyond that. The Buffalo-Ankerite has won a place, not only as a producer, but also now ranks as a dividend payer and where its success is also an encouragement to all the other promising properties of the area.
When directors of Buffalo-Ankerite Gold Mines declared the company's initial dividend of 10 cents a share annually, they again demonstrated the advantage in which Canadian gold mines are placed by reason of their access to world markets for their product, as compared with gold mines of countries where gold may be sold only to the mint at the standard price of $20 an ounce, says Ed Loney, expert writer on mining matters.

Buffalo-Ankerite's production since May, 1931, when the mine was reopened, has amounted to roughly about $300,000. Added to this has been income from exchange compensation amounting to about $100,000. Cash reserve, after providing for the cost of the property, is said to be around $75,000, indicating that the dividend has been made possible wholly as a result of the high prices which the company has been receiving for its gold.

Production $65,000 Monthly
The Buffalo-Ankerite property is located in Deloro township, in the Porcupine district, and was closed down in 1929 following unsuccessful attempts at profitable operation by the Porcupine Gold Fields and Development Company, sponsored by English interests. In 1931, Buffalo interests, associated with the March Gold group, acquired the property for a reported purchase price of $80,000 and set to work to rehabilitate the mine and mill. Starting in May last year the mill resumed operation at a rate of about 150 tons daily, which was gradually increased to about 300 tons in June this year. Grade of ore has also improved, recovery rising from about $2 a ton at the commencement of operations, to $4.40 a ton in June. Including exchange compensation gold production of about $65,000 a month is currently reported.

There is some talk that to further speed up production, the mill capacity may be increased this fall to 500 tons daily. Meanwhile, underground workings will be extended to a depth of 900 feet by opening two more levels from a winze to be sunk from the 600-foot level.
By its recent declaration of 10 cents a share, payable semi-annually on August 15 and February 15, Buffalo-Ankerite is the eighth Ontario gold mine to pay regular dividends at the present time.

Hearst Mayor Said to be Tried for Third Offence

Despatches from Hearst during the past few days suggest that Mayor U. Bronson of that good town is in difficulties. He is said by the despatches to have been sentenced to three months in jail by Magistrate E. R. Tucker, of Cochrane, the charge being that of operating a motor vehicle while intoxicated. This is said to be his third offence, hence the penalty of three months, instead of the customary ten days for the first offence. In the meantime, however, the offender is out on $1,000 bail, having entered appeal against the conviction.

Banking Commission of Special Interest

Royal Commission on Banking and Currency Will Prove of Particular Value to the Gold Mining Industry of the North.

The royal commission on banking and currency, headed by Lord MacMillan, will examine matters relating to the banking machinery in Canada and will extend their studies into the realm of ways and means of setting the stage for an economic recovery in the Dominion. One of the subjects which will be touched, indirectly at least, will be the present rates of exchange, the premiums on gold and the gold content of the dollar. These subjects, needless to say, are of vital significance to the mining industry.

The commission, consisting of Lord MacMillan, chairman; Sir Charles Addis, Sir Thomas White, Mr. Beaudry Lehman and Hon. E. J. Brownlee, prime minister of Alberta, passed through Northern Ontario, Thursday, their private cars attached to C.N.R. train No. 1, en route to Victoria, B.C., where they will commence a series of conferences throughout the west. Points at which meetings are scheduled include Victoria, Vancouver, Edmonton, Regina, Saskatoon and Winnipeg.

Seek Opinions in Writing
The fact that only two-day stops are contemplated at each of the western points does not mean that this will represent the full extent of the evidence to be taken in the west, a high authority emphasized in conversation with The Sudbury Star. On the other hand, it is the intention of the commission to ask various people whose evidence may be of value, or those with special criticisms, to submit their briefs in writing to be studied further on the return to Ottawa.

Lord MacMillan, who politely declined to discuss any specific question even so remotely related to the inquiry as the present price of gold, was warmly enthusiastic over the reception given the commission so far in Canada.

"We had two splendid days in Ottawa," he said, "and now we are going to the west to get the views of those who may have criticisms or suggestions."

Must Not Expect Too Much

In discussing the general scope of the inquiry, his Lordship threw out a gentle hint of warning. "In matters of this kind I find that sometimes the people expect too much," he observed. "Banking to many people is very complex and mysterious mainly because they do not understand it. Really, the basic principals of banking are just the same as in anything else, mainly honesty, square dealing and some of the good old Scotch virtue we call thrift. All we can do is to study those questions and try to arrive at conclusions that will help those in authority to lay the groundwork for improved conditions. We cannot bring prosperity, but we do hope that we may be able to facilitate the conditions for prosperity."

"If I could wave a wand and bring prosperity back, I would make Canada the most prosperous country in the world immediately," he added with a smile.

Specific subjects into which the commission will delve during the period of its inquiries include the exchange problem, the relation between the Canadian dollar and the pound and the United States dollar; the gold content of the dollar and the value which should attach to it. It is also the intimated intention of the commission to explore all relevant sources capable of producing helpful views or data on the general economic situation.

CO-OPERATIVE IN NAME BUT NOT IN ANY OTHER MANNER

(Toronto Saturday Night)
Criticism of the Co-Operative Commonwealth Federation for the misleading character of its name is entirely justified. In its economic policy the Federation is the Socialist Party of Canada, and its only reason for dodging its proper designation is the belief of its leaders that by so doing they can enlist the votes of a few people who would not vote for avowed Socialism. There will be nothing co-operative about the Commonwealth which the Federation will found as soon as it gets a chance. Co-operation is the voluntary working together of individuals who are free to abstain from working together if they desire to do so. It is possible under an individualistic economy but not under a Socialistic one. By the time the state has been vested with all the administrative powers designed for it by the Regina economists, it will be the owner of all capital goods and the director of all human services. The result may be extremely efficient, and, to certain kinds of people, extremely satisfactory, but it certainly will not be co-operation—unless the members of a Georgia chain-gang can be described as co-operating.

Toronto Mail and Empire:—American bootleggers have joined loyally in the Nira campaign and have increased the price of rye whiskey from $16 a case to $20 a case. It is now up to the kidnappers to show equal patriotism.

Former Resident of North Dies in West

Mrs. Chilcott, Formerly of Schumacker, Reported as Killed in Trail, B.C., by Gun in Hands of Sidney Hunt, Who Shot Himself.

Despatches last week from Trail, British Columbia, told of the death on Friday last of Mrs. Betty Chilcott, formerly of Schumacker, and of Sydney Hunt, a merchant of Trail. The police believe that Hunt and the woman formed a suicide pact, whereby both were to die together. In any event Mrs. Chilcott was shot to death in the basement of Hunt's store, the coroner's jury finding that this death occurred from the use of a gun in the hands of Sydney Hunt. Evidence at the inquest was to the effect that statements made by Hunt before he died were to the effect that he shot the woman first because she wished to die first. Hunt also said that he wished to die himself because he was tired of life. He died as a result of wounds from a shot-gun which he turned on himself after shooting the woman. The evidence at the inquest also disclosed the fact that on Tuesday night and Wednesday morning Hunt and Mrs. Chilcott had been drinking together. Hunt, who was 54 years old, was separated from his wife, the latter living in Vancouver, B.C. Mrs. Chilcott, who was about 37 years of age, left Schumacker a couple of years ago going to the West. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marquette, pioneer settlers of the McIntosh Springs area, on the Porcupine branch of the T. & N. O. The late Mrs. Chilcott was of a restless disposition and had gone off on more than one occasion on long trips away from home, but previously had always returned safely. On one other occasion it was reported that she had died but after financial arrangements had been made for the bringing back of the body to the Porcupine, it was found that the report was in error. Mrs. Chilcott herself returning home again. On the occasion, however, the despatches leave little doubt but that the unfortunate woman has met death in British Columbia.

The schedule of Capt. Baker's activities in Timmins will be as follows:
Monday at 12.15 p.m. he will be the guest speaker at a Kiwanis Club luncheon. The Kiwanis are anxious that any desiring to hear Capt. Baker should have opportunity to do so. Invitations are being sent out to a group of citizens who are not Kiwanians to attend this luncheon.
On Monday at 4 p.m. Capt. Baker will speak at a meeting arranged by the local I.O.D.E. at the clinic room, Fourth avenue.
Later, he will confer with the local committee sponsoring the campaign and appeal for funds conducted in the district. Should anyone in the district wish to meet Capt. Baker either on behalf of a blind case or other business they can do so by arranging an interview through Mr. D. B. Lawley, Kingston Hotel or Bernard Sky, Timmins.

Inefficient lubrication may cost thousands of dollars in the course of a year. Inferior lubricants starve bearings and allow heat, wear and friction to carry on their work of destruction. Quality oils and greases of the correct type minimize friction and prolong the useful life of machinery.

Imperial Industrial Lubricants are scientifically processed to give the most efficient lubrication in the various types of service for which they are recommended. They are the products of Canada's oldest and largest oil company... a company which has pioneered the development of correct lubricants for specific purposes.

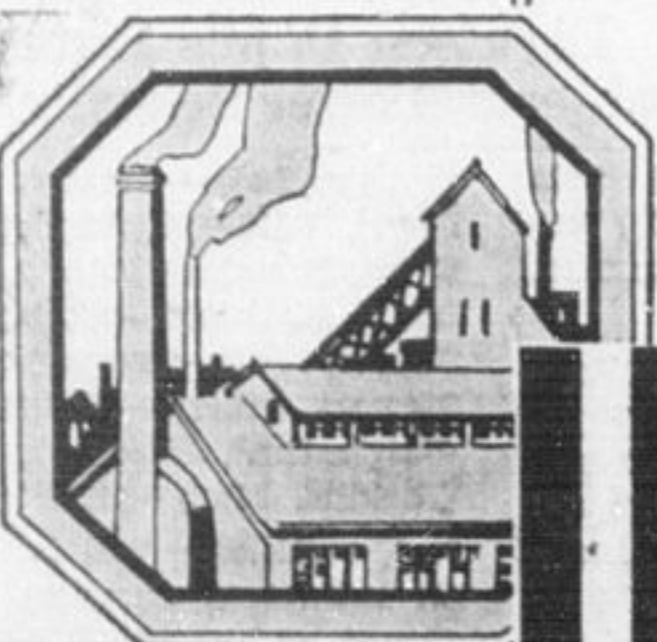

Imperial Industrial Lubricants are in use in most Canadian plants. They have proved their ability to provide greater efficiency and economy than inferior oils.

- They reduce friction, save bearing wear.
- They reduce power consumption.
- They mean lower ultimate cost of lubricants and the labour of applying them.
- They reduce maintenance costs.
- They minimize delays due to repairs and replacements, and thus increase production.
