Police Court Cases at South Porcupine

Meeting of Township of Tisdale Council. Sporting Events at Dome and South End. Other South Porcupine and Dome News.

South Porcupine, Ont., Aug. 30th, 1933. Special to The Advance.

On Monday evening Tisdale township council met in their chambers. Reeve Thomas was absent and Councillor Kerr was made acting-revee. Councillors Hawkins, Cook and Jones were present. Mascio! was awarded the contract for putting cement walks around the central block in South Porcupine. A local man, who had not complied with all the requirements of tendering, claimed he did not see the advertisement in time. A woman, whose tenant was not paying the rent, asked that the council pay it and it be allowed on her taxes. She was told the council could not do this but as it was shown the man was working fairly steadily for the township she was told she could get an order to have his wages toward rent and apply that for taxes. Mr. P. Richard was present by his garage in Schumacher. At present the flow of water off the highway goes right into the garage. As this particular place had been complained of by pedestrians also, before Mr. Richards purchased the garage immediate steps are to be taken to have the trouble remedied. The engineer presented his plans for the various water and sewer extensions to be made and the council went into committee to consider them.

The "Shops" team won in the softball fixture at the Dome on Monday evening 14-10 and there is now a three cornered tie for supremacy in the last half of the schedule, the Mill, the Mine and the Shops having won an equal number of games. In Monday's game G. Mason and Quigley were umpires. The teams were:—Shops—c, Fell; P. Catarello; 1b, Johns; 2b, H. MacLean; 3b, McMurray; ss, Cook; outfield, Alla-1 Richmond, McWilliams. Engineers—c, Denholme; p, McCaffrey; 1b, R. Doran; 2b, Rudd; 3b, H. Doran; ss, Michelson; outfield, Shumlak, Crozier and Kamm. Catarello made the circuit to tally first for the Shops. Richmond caught a homer with Fell and Cook on bases, so Shops garnered four in their first innings. Devan's home run scored Crozier also for the Engineers. Shops added four more off the bats of Johns, Catarello (two-base hit) Fell and Richmond (three-bagger). Denholme started the Engineers batting with a two-baser, Shumlak and Rudd (3-base hit) also ran. Shops added three more in the third but Engineers pulled in with runs off B. Doran, McCaffrey, Michaelson (two-base) Kamm and Shumlak. For the fourth of the Shops, McMurray went down at first, Hube Doran's play to brother Basil, stopping him there. McWilliams fled to Rudd and Crozier got a round of applause when reaching out well over the fence he grabbed a one-hand catch off H. McLean. Engineers made two more runs and stalled there. An unfortunate incident occurred in their last innings. Cook had missed touching third base and in his rush to get back before the ball reached it he fell across the bag injuring his shoulder and elbow so seriously that he had to be taken to the doctor.

In police court on Tuesday six drunks were fined. One failing to pay his fine took thirty days instead. For having in his possession beer, not on his permit, another man paid a fine. A charge of reckless driving was preferred against a young man from Timmins who made the curve at the crossing near Schumacher so quickly that he did not round it but went into the ditch. Officer Fulton coming from the opposite direction had got out of the way just in time as he sensed what would happen when the oncoming car attempted the curve. The boy pleaded guilty and was fined, also had his driver's permit suspended for thirty days.

In a case of reckless driving against a truck owner from Kirkland Lake which had been adjourned for two weeks the evidence was so conflicting that the magistrate dismissed the case. The mechanic from the garage testified Yoki's truck was in good condition and the lights working when he started from the Hy-way service garage on his trip to Kirkland. Those in the other car said he had only one light. Yoki said they were so "lit up" that they wouldn't know one light from two. A young man named Villeneuve pleaded guilty to being illegally in possession of high-grade ore. He admitted taking it from the Hollinger after three or four had told him how he could dispose of it. Questioned by the attorney as to what he was going to do with the ore he said he was bringing it to South Porcupine to a man named Strange, who had given him to understand he would buy it from him if he could get him some. He was coming to South Porcupine on the evening of August 24th. His wife and a baby in arms were in the car with him in the front seat. When police stopped the car to search it the young woman gave them the parcel of ore which she had wrapped up on her lap and the baby sitting on it. The accused claimed he had never been in trouble as a law-breaker before. The magistrate said he hated to do it with the young wife and babe left at home but he would give him the minimum sentence of 3 months. The magistrate did not seem to think the accused one who was really "in the game" but rather one who had been roped in, incidentally. The preliminary trial of Alex Shumlak on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the death of A. Rainville, of Ansonville, who succumbed to injuries at the Porcupine Presbyterian hospital after being struck by a car driven by Shumlak. Dean Kester appeared for Shumlak. The accident occurred at the curve just by the bridge at Barber's Bay on the night of July 30th. The first witness, Lafontaine, who had been with Rainville on the night of the accident and who had already crossed the road and was waiting for Rainville to leave his car and come too, when the collision occurred was closely cross-questioned by Kester. He admitted that while they had taken the injured man into the home of Duchesne, outside of those place the accident occurred, that he, Lafontaine, had gone back and moved Rainville's car farther off the road. He said he was afraid other cars coming along might also collide with it. He stated that why he did not come on to the hospital in the car with his injured friend and the three boys, (Shumlak, Tommy Parsons and Basil Doran) was that they were strangers to him and he was afraid of them. Instead he went back to Bayside where he and Rainville had been before the accident and phoned the police. The magistrate sent the case on for trial at the fall assizes in Cochrane.

St. Louis Catcher

MERVYN SHEA

Catcher for the St. Louis Browns, was released by Detroit to the minors back in 1930. There he remained till this Spring, when Boston gave him a trial. Later on, when Boston saw a chance to get Catcher Rick Farrell of St. Louis, Shea was included in the deal and went to the Browns. Since then he has shown himself to be one of the best receivers in the game.

There was a collision and two cars were more or less damaged just outside of Golden City on Sunday night. Borek Levinson was coming behind and brought the two women who were occupants of the cars to Dr. McLaren for medical attention to their cuts. They later went home. The men were uninjured.

Mrs. Wright and son Ted, also Mr. and Mrs. E. V. Wilson and son, Howard, of Hamilton, have come to South Porcupine to take up permanent residence here. Mr. Wilson who is late of the T. Eaton Company, of Hamilton, has opened an up-to-date hair dressing parlour at 15 Main street, South Porcupine.

Mr. Roy Gemmill is holidaying at his home at Snow Road. Messrs Harry Jones and Tate leave for their vacation this week.

ANOTHER FIND REPORTED IN THE MICHIPICOTEN AREA
The Sudbury Star last week says:—"James R. Moore, of Sault Ste Marie, Inspector of recording offices for the province, passing through Sudbury today en route for Elk Lake, reported that a new discovery of gold having the ear marks of an important find, has been made on a group of claims recently staked by Stanley E. S. Scoe and associates, adjoining the old Mission townsite on Michipicoten Harbor. Spectacular assays have been obtained from a vein exposure and a crew of men under Douglas Baird, mining engineer, is engaged in opening up the showing. Another gold find has been reported from Long township, north of Blind River, on the Laderoute-Vizena claims. Details of the discovery are not available, but word received from Mr. Moore was that the showing was quite impressive. At Elk Lake Mr. Moore will take over the office of Recorder H. J. Coghill while the latter is on vacation."

Boxers should Keep Their Heads in Ring

Old Timer Makes Some Comments on the Ring Battle that was Followed by a Sort of Junior Riot on Monday Night.

A great many comments have been made to The Advance by those favouring one or the other of the boxers and those who looked upon the situation without any favoritism in regard to the battle between Roy Hamilton and Bert Dempsey on Monday night, and especially in regard to the flocking of numbers of the spectators into the ring after the decision was given to express their disapproval of the finding of the referee. According to the police there was no really serious trouble and the crowd acted with the good sense and good sportsmanship that is always expected from a Timmins crowd. As soon as the police had to take a hand in the milling around the irritated spectators at once cooled off and were ready to accept the situation without disorder. As a matter of fact the general opinion is that the referee was right enough in his final decision, but the trouble was that no one seemed to have confidence in him. Had Arthur Leonard, or Jack Faithful, or Montgomery, or any of those who know boxing and have the confidence of the public, been refereeing the match there would have been no trouble. Of course, it will be said in reply to this, that any of these referees would not have carried along as was the case on Monday evening. The following letter from an old-timer of Timmins and the North gives a general viewpoint on the matter. The writer of this letter is a follower of sport and friendly to both the contestants in the main bout. The letter reads:—

August 29th, 1933.
Editor Porcupine Advance, Timmins, Ontario.

Dear Mr. Editor:—Boxing contests have their warm flavour, but the tabasco contest that climaxed the evening at the skating rink last night between Messrs. Hamilton and Dempsey certainly deserves personal comment.

There was much feeling between the boys to start with and in the fourth round the contest got out of control when Dempsey began making passes at the referee. The referee then raised Hamilton's hand as victor and the riot started. After it was all over and the ring cleared the "Wreck of the Hesperus" was a garden variety compared to broken posts and sagging ropes around the squared circle.

The boxers had agreed to break clean—that is, from a clinch, break away and sneak no blows over in doing so. Dempsey from the first round took the advantage of placing over well timed rights on Hamilton's jaw as they broke from the clinch, and for this he was repeatedly warned. In the fourth round Hamilton began to shake Dempsey up and for the first time in the fight the battle began to look all Hamilton. Dempsey stung by the savage attack broke the agreement of a clean break three times and on the final transgression the referee took him individually to task by standing between the pugilists and pointing a warning finger at Dempsey. This angered the youth and he started pushing the referee off with his glove and worked around him to get at Hamilton,—and it was at this juncture the referee stopped the fight and awarded the decision to Hamilton. Technically the referee was absolutely right. He, in fact, had no alternative if he wished to keep the fight under control and have Dempsey observe the agreement, unless Hamilton had taken it into his hands to put the boy away in short order, which I very much doubt he could have done.

The public were disappointed but not badly so, and the next fight will draw a bigger house than ever. However for future fights it is well for the boxers themselves to abide by their agreements and not lose their head, for Dempsey clearly showed he could not keep his under pressure.

Let's hope we will see them in action again at an early date,—and it would be as well this time to let the boys protect themselves in the breaks.
OLD TIMER.

Some of the Attractive Indian Names in North

Writing last week in The Northern News, "the Roving Reporter" says:—"Most of the lakes in the T. & N. O. area, and in Northern Ontario, in fact, are Indian in origin, or in fact. And there could be no further proof needed that the noble redskin who once roamed the vast pine-clad wilderness was in tune with the beauties of nature—the blue skies of the North, the green woods, the vivid colours that run riot after the first touch of frost in the autumn—than by the musical place names he gave to the myriads of green-fringed lakes in this country. Any map of Northern Ontario reveals this trait. The name of one of the most beautiful lakes in the world—Temagami—rings musically in the ears, and conveys a vista of unbounded scenic delights in the minds of those who hear it. Other names like Amikougami—descriptive of a lake in Teek township—seem a bit hard for the layman to get his tongue around, but the flowing cadence is there, just the same. Even in the English translation of many Indian place names the charm is not lost. There is a colour, glamour and an atmosphere of the North in such names as Shining Tree, Smoothwater, Beaver House, and so on. Incidentally, it is interesting to learn that there is another Otto lake in Northern Ontario besides the one on which Culver Park is located. It lies in Raymond township, north of Shining Tree, and is a bigger body of water than the lake so well known to Kirklanders and Swastika folk."

Twenty-seven Cases at This Week's Court

Police Business Still Keeps Up, but Few Serious Cases This Week. Fair Proportion of Liquor Cases on the Docket.

There is one business that seems to have been little affected by either the depression or the present recovery; and that is the police business. This week there were 27 cases on the docket. Few of them, however, were of serious nature, at least not as serious as some recent ones. Of the 27 cases, only 6 were for breach of the liquor laws so that if the recent clean-up did not stop all illegal liquor affairs it has at least made the offenders act a little more careful.

Constable Allen of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police, charged Alphonse Basteau, of Mountjoy, with violation of the revenue act by possession of illicit liquor. He pleaded guilty and was fined $200.00 and costs or three months. Apparently he intends to take the term rather than spend the money. A Craft's Creek man charged with having liquor in other than his private dwelling was remanded for a week. H. Houle on a similar charge was fined $100.00 and costs. A fine of $25.00 and costs was paid by one man for drinking in a public place, while two ordinary everyday common drunks paid the usual ten and costs each.

One of the young men recently charged with housebreaking and who was out of town when the others were tried has failed to appear though his case has been remanded to allow him to come in from the bush where he is working. Tuesday a bench warrant was issued for his arrest.

There were several cases of assault. One man was charged by his sister with common assault. The case was dismissed. Another case arose from a party held in town a few days ago, or rather a few nights ago. A quarrel developed at the party and some of the friends threw some large rocks through the windows to express their displeasure. One rock came close to the head of an innocent man lying in his bed. No one was hurt, but the windows suffered from the showing of rocks, some of the stonks being big and heavy. When the police were made acquainted with this stone-throwing, three men were arrested. One of them had the case against him dismissed, while two others were each fined $10.00 and costs. A young lady who had a quarrel with a man living on Main avenue also expressed her displeasure by throwing stonks at his windows. In court this week she was allowed to go on suspended sentence, but was bound over for a year. Two men charged a fellow countryman with assault but when the case was called they wanted to withdraw the charges and were allowed to do so on paying the costs. Another assault case was dismissed.

The police continue after those who break the Highway Traffic Act. Two speeders were fined $10.00 and costs each, and two other similar charges were remanded to next week.

Five men were fined $5.00 and costs each for gambling on Sunday. Frank Svete, 32 Toke street, and John Nerid, of the same address, were charged with high-grading. Gold to the value of about $25.00 was found in their possession by Chief Hitch of the Hollinger police. The amount with which Svete was concerned was considered so small as hardly to warrant the expense of prosecution. Accordingly the charge was not pressed against him and the case dismissed. In the case of Nerid, there was enough evidence taken to warrant committing him for trial. He will be tried by a higher court in the near future.

For breach of a town by-law forbidding the employment of girls or women in restaurants or cafes between the hours from 11 p.m. to 5 a.m., a local restaurant owner was fined $10.00 and

ROW OVER RELIEF BRINGS JAIL TERM TO COBALT MAN

A despatch from Cobalt this week says that a dispute between the fathers of complaint and accused over relief, was stated in police court at Cobalt last Saturday to have caused the trouble which brought Arthur Stewart before Magistrate Atkinson on a charge of assaulting Leslie Steele, which resulted in Stewart going to jail for 30 days when he could not pay the fine of $25 and costs imposed by the bench.

Steele's nose was broken, when Stewart struck him in the home of the latter's mother, on August 8, but accused claimed complainant had made a threatening move against him and he acted first. Steele said he was sitting in an armchair when the assault was made.

Steele's father is on Coleman Township council, and it was stated in court the latter and Charlie Stewart, father of accused, had had some trouble over the relief question, and that this was introduced into the conversation on the night of the fracas. Both Steele and Stewart were said to have used profane language, and although accused denied this, his wife differed with him when she gave evidence.

Miss Jean Swayne, of Temagami, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. E. Easton, Maple street, south.
