Completes Survey of Mattagami Iron Range

A despatch this week from Cochrane says that Colonel Dyer and his party of geologists who spent the summer examining the Mattagami iron range, on the Mattagami River, northeast of Moose River Crossing, have returned to Toronto to prepare a report to be submitted to the Ontario Department of Mines. It is reported that they greatly extended the explored field and were much impressed by the quality and extensiveness of the deposits.

HON. MR. FINLAYSON TO SEE WHY MEN SENT FROM MONTREAL

Toronto newspapers on Wednesday published the following despatch from Montreal:—The Montreal City Council to-day authorized payment from unemployment relief funds of railway fares to Port Arthur for 200 bushmen. The money will be repaid out of the wages earned by the men in the Ontario lumber camp. A request for 200 men, some to work until Christmas was received from Port Arthur by Montreal City authorities. Work for the woodsmen is to continue until January while teamsters would be given work for a year. The request asked for French-Canadian lumbermen with a knowledge of English.

Then right under this Montreal despatch they publish the following reference by Hon. Wm. Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, and in charge of Northern Development:—"That's all news to me," said Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests, last night, by way of comment on the foregoing despatch. "I shall look into the matter first thing in the morning."

Mr. Finlayson thought the action of the Montreal city authorities "very extraordinary. It seems odd," said he, "that they would pay the expenses of men to a district in Ontario where there is no shortage of labour."

Hon. Mr. Finlayson may be right in saying that there is no shortage of labour in the Port Arthur area. In any event there is no shortage of labour in Ontario. It may be, however, that there is a shortage of labour with a surplus of men in the case of the Port Arthur incident. There have been cases here where men of a certain type, particularly the Finnish refused labour and asked for relief.

Kirkland Shooting Simply an Accident

Son of Kirkland Lake Constable Unaware that Rifle was Loaded or that Anyone was Hurt. Was Handling Gun at Window.

Yesterday from Kirkland Lake there came word of the explanation of the mysterious shooting of Phelix Rozwalka, who was hit just as he came from Sponzor's grocery store. According to the explanation, the 16-year-old son of Constable Marion, was handling a gun at the window of an upstairs room in his home. He did not know the gun was loaded until it discharged. Amherstburg Echo:—Hon. Leopold Macaulay spent six weeks in the Old Country observing the actions and habits of British drivers. "Frankly, I was amazed," he said in a radio address the other evening. "I have revised my opinion of Ontario drivers. I am sure that it would amaze you, as it did me, to watch the average British driver make a sharp turn or pass an intersection, to see how completely he obeys directional or instructional signs or warning signals. The care and foresight that most show would make the average Ontario driver appear the veriest tyro or else a plain dave devil." There is much food for thought in these remarks.

Brampton Conservator:—The town of Massey had a mayor whose object in securing the position was to "take out an old grudge and to have revenge upon a man," he declared when announcing his resignation. It is to be hoped he will not fail in carrying out his programme.

OBJECTED TO OTHER LADY TOUCHING HUSBAND'S GRAVE

Recently there was an odd case at Callender when a woman charged another lady with the desecration of the grave of the husband of the complainant. The magistrate dismissed the case but warned the accused woman to mind her own affairs and not interfere with the grave in any way. The magistrate said that the planting of flowers on a grave did not constitute desecration but that the woman charged had no right to interfere with the grave in any way. The complainant denied that she instituted the case out of spite, but frankly admitted that she had resented attentions paid to the husband by the other woman while he was alive.

Why Miss an Issue of Your Own Favourite Newspaper?

In the next few days The Advance will send out a number of reminders to call attention of subscribers to the fact that their subscriptions have expired or will expire very shortly. The suggestion of course, will be evident to all, and that is, that now is the time for these subscribers to get right with The Advance and with themselves and their wives and families by renewing their subscription at once. The Advance has the invariable rule that all subscriptions must be paid in advance. Unless a subscriber pays in advance The Advance has no way of knowing that the paper is desired, and there no desire on the part of The Advance to continue the paper unless it is desired. The strictly-in-advance system in force with Advance subscriptions has been found to be the fairest and best for all concerned including the advertisers in the paper who secure an unusually large circulation by the use of The Advance. No reader of The Advance will care to miss a copy of the paper. The proper thing to do, accordingly, is to heed the reminder when sent and to advance $2.00 per year ($3.00 to the U.S.A.) and keep right. Do it now. Don't forget. Many thanks again!

Serious Trouble at Stratford, Ontario

Disorders and Sabotage by Strikers Result in Calling Out of Extra Police and Royal Canadian Regiment.

Over the F. O'Hearn & Co. private wire this morning comes the following despatches which tell their own story: Stratford, Ont., Sept. 28—Stratford last night was waiting for sunrise. Waiting anxiously too! With local and provincial police reinforced by two companies of the Royal Canadian Regiment in full fighting order, with four fast travelling, vicious-looking "Cardinal-Lloyd's" one of Britain's latest motorized machine-gun wrinkles, on the job and ready for action if the emergency arises, the strike situation here which supposedly reaches its crisis at seven o'clock to-day, took on a decidedly more serious aspect here last night. For, at seven sharp, the six furniture companies involved in the strike will throw open their doors, with jobs waiting for those strikers who want to go back to work. General opinion is that many will return to employment, but citizens fear what may happen to them if they brook the disfavour of the great majority of their unruly comrades.

Stratford, Ont., Sept. 27—Indignant denial of reports current in Stratford streets that the Ontario Department of Labour had "lain down" on the local strike situation was voiced here last night by Hon. Dr. Joseph D. Monteith, Minister of that department, who reached the city at six o'clock for a consultation with Mayor Graft.

Stratford, Ont., Sept. 28—At a great mass meeting in Lakeside Park, last evening, a meeting which, while organized by the strikers' committee had the support of a half dozen labour organizations, scored Mayor Graft and the police commission for appealing for reinforcements and generally laid down such support of the striking elements as would, it is believed, preclude the possibility of the strikers and the manufacturers getting together before "zero hour," at seven o'clock.

Mr. Tierney is well known throughout the North, and there will be general regret at the fact that he is leaving Iroquois Falls in the near future to take up residence in Southern Ontario.

PRIEST AT SUDBURY DIES AS THE RESULT OF A STROKE

Rev. Father Edmond Guibeau, for 19 years confessor and treasurer of St. Ann's Church and chaplain of St. Joseph's hospital, died in hospital at Sudbury on Monday as the result of a stroke suffered Saturday. He was found in an unconscious condition by Rev. Father J. Gamache, curate of St. Ann's, and was rushed to hospital but succumbed without regaining consciousness. Father Guibeau was the first treasurer of Sacred Heart College, Sudbury, which he helped to open in 1922.

RING LARDNER PASSES ON AT HIS HOME IN LONG ISLAND

Ring Lardner, noted writer-humorist, died Monday night of this week at his home in Easthampton, Long Island, following a long illness.

Lardner was 48. Although he had been in ill health since a general breakdown early in 1931, he had been a regular contributor to a weekly magazine in recent months. One of his physicians said he finally was permitted use of his typewriter "because he isn't happy unless he's working." Lardner, however, was forced by his physicians to remain away from the city.

Born in Niles, Mich., Lardner became celebrated first for the keen wit he displayed as a Chicago sports writer, and later as an author of ballads, plays and skits.

Perhaps his best known work was, "You Know Me, Al," a collection of humorous letters written by a young baseball player starting in the major leagues.
