

Romantic Setting Enhances the Horffall-Knox Nuptials

Marriage on Saturday of Last Week of Miss Margaret Knox and Mr. Douglas Horffall at the Directors' Lodge of the Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines. Many Guests from Distant Points. Bride and Groom Showed with Roses.

Into a little bowl of a valley that hides the leading gold mines of this continent, with the blessing of bright skies, came the prettiest wedding in the golden history of Timmins. The occasion was the marriage of Miss Margaret Knox, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Knox, of Toronto, and Mr. Douglas Horffall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert H. Horffall, of Toronto. This was solemnized at the Directors' Lodge of the Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines on last Saturday afternoon.

The joyousness of the large group of old friends blessed the happiness of the bride and groom through the generous thoughtfulness of the bride's parents in extending their gracious hospitality by throwing open the lodge to a host of friends, many of whom had come from points far south to participate in the happy event.

The beautiful lodge, high above the deep treasured workings of a great mine, overlooking the town toward the Mattagami river, and that myriad of colours—the lovely tapestry of browns, reds and greens that garbs the North Land forests in their autumn hues—the rooms within so beautifully decorated for the occasion—the brilliant sun-porch where the actual ceremony took place, amid a sunset of colours where yellow and bronze and white chrysanthemums, with a dash of crimson dahlias, formed a bower for the couple to meet under—the harmony of companionship—'twas all romantic!

The guests assembled in the spacious hallways and rooms, while the immediate members of the families of bride and groom awaited in the bower-like sun-porch, near the floral altar, where stood the groom, attended by his brother, Mr. Russell Horffall.

A hush fell as the strains of the orchestra in the inspiring wedding march was heard. Then the bride, indeed beautiful in shimmering white, descended the staircase, attended by her twin sister, Miss Elizabeth Knox. The bride, her costume of white chiffon velvet on the classic lines of Grecian effect, with full sweeping train, the veil of tulle caught around her head with a tiny band of silver leaves and orange blossoms, carrying a dear little white muf of orange blossoms,—was indeed a perfect picture of charm. She was met by her father at the foot of the staircase and passed forward upon his arm.

Then the sweet music ceased and into the impressive silence came the clear tones of the officiating clergyman, Rev. Canon R. S. Cushing, in the solemn form of the Anglican church marriage service, and the affirmations of bride and groom.

The ceremony concluded, the happy partners turned to receive their friends, during which reception the orchestra continued sweet harmonies.

The guests were received by the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. John Knox, the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Horffall, the bride and groom, the bridesmaid and groomsmen, Mr. and Mrs. Chester J. Harris (sister and brother-in-law of Mr. Knox), and Mr. and Mrs. John Knox Jr. Miss Elizabeth Knox wore a beautiful gown of yellow chiffon, trimmed in brown velvet, with a smart brown velvet hat, and carried a large bouquet of yellow Talsman roses.

Mrs. John Knox was lovely in a gown of blackberry velvet, with corsage of white orchids.

Mrs. Herbert Horffall was elegantly attired in crushed coral velvet, trimmed in sable.

Mrs. Chester Harris was charming in dark blue crepe, trimmed in gold and black lamb.

Mrs. John Knox, Jr., looked sweet in brown crepe, trimmed in gold and red lamb.

There were about one hundred and thirty friends in attendance including the following from outside points:—Miss Mary Louise Olmsted, school days friend of the bride from Buffalo; Mr. Leonard Lumbers, intimate friend of the groom, from Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. Jules Timmins, of Montreal; Mr. and Mrs. J. Y. Murdock, of Toronto; Mr. Ernest Hibbert, of Toronto; Mrs. F. C. Connell and Miss Betty Connell, of Toronto; Mr. and Mrs. George Lee, of North Bay; Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Williams, of Toronto.

After the reception the guests mingled in the rooms and hallways and visited the room containing the beautiful wedding presents, resembling a gorgeous gift shop.

In the dining room was the bride's cake, decorated with lilies-of-the-valley, and white tulle upon a damask-covered table, covered by pure white roses, set off by yellow candles. Here many toasts to the young newly-weds, their health and happiness, were proposed after which a suitable collation was served and the guests waxed merry.

Photographs of the bridal party, the bride and groom, were taken on the lawn. It then struck Mr. Timmins, a director of the Hollinger Mine, to gather together the group of old-time associates of this district prior to 1914, who may never meet again as a group, to be photographed.

At about this time the hour approached for the bride and groom to leave and they appeared, the bride in a midday travelling dress, an extremely chic three-piece ensemble of imported tweed, trimmed in narrow bands of moleskin. As she and the groom dashed through the crowd in a departing shower of rose leaves, she did not forget her dear twin sister, Betty, but tossed her beautiful bride bouquet to her.

A dramatic episode came then as a climax. An airplane, droning high above, swooped low and circling closer over the lodge, dipped its wings in salute and farewell as John Knox, Jr., and his wife, flying to their home in Wawa, Ontario, joined with the rest to wish goodspeed to the bride and groom speeding in their car down the winding road away upon their honeymoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Horffall will spend their honeymoon in the United States, after which they will take up residence in Toronto.

The bride, whose father is general manager of the Hollinger Consolidated Gold Mines, Limited, is very popular in many circles in Timmins and district. The groom is also well known and popular here. To the young couple hosts of friends will extend good wishes.

The world-wide demand for gold has intensified mining activity in these districts, resulting in a constantly increasing demand for electric power. During the past year a second 110,000-volt transmission line was constructed from the Provencher sub-station in Boischatel township, Quebec, to Kirkland Lake, and distribution lines were built to serve the Matachewan area in Ontario and Beattie Gold Mines, Limited, in the province of Quebec. The output of power generated increased from 418,226,810 k.w. hrs. in 1931 to 441,150,290 k.w. hrs. in 1932."

The report gives a full statement of the finances, earnings, etc., of the Power Corporation. The report also says:—

"Regular dividends at the rate of 6 p.c. per annum were paid quarterly on the 6 p.c. Cumulative First Preferred and 6 p.c. Participating Preferred shares during the year. Reduced income from the company's sources of revenue in engineering, construction and management fees and dividends and interest on securities held precluded any payment of dividend to the common shareholders. During the year the company paid off all bank loans, totalling $828,000; and purchased and cancelled a further $435,000 of its 4 1/2 p.c. and 5 p.c. debentures, making a total reduction of $1,263,000, of its outstanding debentures redeemed and cancelled to June 30th, 1933. Operating expenses were reduced from $426,000.00 in the previous year to $311,000.00 for the current year. The combined value of investments in, and advances to, controlled and affiliated companies, and other investments, based on available market prices or estimated fair value, as at June 30th, 1933, amounted to $25,282,296."

The following from the report of the president, A. J. Nesbitt, will also be of interest:—

"Your company, which is primarily a utility holding, management and engineering company, interested in the development of Hydro-Electric companies throughout Canada, controls and is closely associated with companies in Canada having total power developments of 758,000 h.p. and undeveloped sites capable of 1,281,450 h.p. additional, with gross earnings for the past year of about $26,232,873. Your directors have every confidence in the future of the light and power industry, and believe that any improvement in business will result in increased demand for power, with consequent increase in earnings of the utility companies in which your corporation is interested. The ever growing demand for electric power, its dependability and economical application, both as regards domestic and industrial requirements, forecasts greater expansion for your corporation, in its many phases of activity in the hydro-electric industry."

In addition to the appeal upon this line already published by The Advance the following reference to the protection of the European gray partridge is made at the request of R. Eddleston, game warden.

Mr. Eddleston is asking for the co-operation of all sportsmen in the matter and has asked The Advance to give publicity to the appeal to the sportsmen in the district to conserve European gray partridge, commonly known as Hungarian partridge, with which the Dept. of Game and Fisheries stocked the province this summer, and which can easily be differentiated from the native birds.

In a letter to Game Warden Eddleston, G. M. Parks, district superintendent, points out that co-operation on the part of sportsmen and others in conserving the Hungarian partridge this season will be appreciated in view of the important part such co-operation will play in assisting the department secure proper establishment of the Hungarian partridge in the province.

Falconbridge Wins Ontario Cup Trophy

Defeated London Thistles on Saturday by Score of 4 to 0 in Third Game. Falconbridge Takes High Honours for Second Year

There will be general interest among football enthusiasts in the fact that for the second year in succession the Falconbridge football team, Sudbury, has won the Ontario Cup, the highest honours in the province in soccer. A despatch from London this week says: Before the largest crowd this season, Falconbridge Falcons, defenders of the Ontario Football Association Cup—premier soccer trophy of the province—found London Thistles easy prey Saturday and carried off to the North country the honours for the second successive season by a 4-0 victory.

The movement that gave the Birds a one-goal lead at half time started when McAllister raced down the wing and crossed to Sathrang, who transferred to his compatriot from Norway, Mickey Peterson who headed past France.

The Falcons went stright to the attack at the re-start but changed from the close formation down centre field, by favouring the wings as a means of progress. After seven minutes, McAllister struck the crossbar with his shot and Duncan headed the ball into the net for the visitors' second goal.

Burce, the Falcon's half-back climaxed a sterling display by registering the visitors third counter 14 minutes later. Mickey Peterson scored his second and the Falcons' fourth goal from a scramble in the goal mouth. In the last minute of the game a penalty kick for hands against Craig was taken by McArthur and Wallace made a remarkable save; stopping the ball at full length near the post, he injured his head slightly.

H. Hall, president of the O.F.A. presented the cup to Sathrang, who captured the Falconbridge team.

Falconbridge Birds—Wallace; Armstrong and Craig; Aird, Anderson and Bruce; McAllister, Duncan, Sathrang, Peterson and McVie, sub. Ingils.

London Thistles—France; Meadows and French; McArthur, Sanvig and

URGES CONSTRUCTION OF HOUSES IN CANADA NOW

"If the government decides to foster a policy which will make money available for construction, the Canadian Construction Association will be anxious and ready to assist in any way possible." J. Clark Reilly, general manager, stated lately in Montreal. Mr. Reilly predicted that the association's campaign urging construction as the way out of the unemployment problem appeared likely to bear fruit.

He stated, however, that the Canadian Construction Association was advocating not only public works, but especially a programme of long term financing with regard to housing. In the early stages of recovery, the association has affirmed, the country will face one of the most serious shortages of housing this country has experienced, due to a decrease in the amount of house building to a point below that required to meet the normal increase in the number of families, and the "doubling-up practice."

AGITATORS AT AIRPORT CAMP SENTENCED FOR DISTURBANCE

Five men are now serving terms in jail for a disturbance caused at the Federal airport camp at Kowkash, 23 miles west of Nakina on the C.N.R. They were sentenced to varying terms by Magistrate R. F. Dynes at Sioux Lookout. Evidence brought out by Provincial Constable J. E. Miller, of Nakina, who single-handedly quelled the disorder, showed that the men arrived at the Kowkash camp from Nakina on Sept. 30th. On the following Monday, Oct. 2nd, they complained about the food served, assaulted one of the cooks and created a general disturbance. Provincial Constable Miller straightened the trouble, being supported by the majority of those at the airport who were satisfied with the food and treatment given them. The names of the convicted men are worthy of note, and prove again the good reason for The Advance referring to alien agitators in such cases. The men convicted were: Peter Koryak, sentenced to six months at hard labour; Jos. Zeckowski, three months; William and Richard Atlas and Jos. Jaewski, one month; Bert McDowell, R. Porter and Joseph Oswianski, suspended sentence.
