Charge Follows Accident on Road Near Liskeard

William Mosher, Kirkland Lake, is out on $1,500 bail facing counts of having been intoxicated in charge of a car and of having liquor in a public place. The charges are the sequel to an automobile accident on the Ferguson Highway, two miles north of New Liskeard on Sunday, when a car was smashed and one of two dogs riding with the occupants killed by a fence plank, which had become involved in the wreckage. Mosher and his woman companion both sustained minor cuts, but did not request a doctor's services, although asked, according to Provincial Constable Stromberg, Cobalt, who arrested the man and locked him up here.

Constable Stromberg said that while he was returning south on the highway in tow of another car, when his car machine developed engine trouble, Mosher passed the two automobiles going at a high rate of speed. Almost immediately, he ran into a fence at a small fill in the road, ripping off about 100 feet of fencing and going eight feet down the fill to pull up against a telephone pole. The plank which killed the dog, narrowly missed the man and woman. Some liquor was found in the car the police said.

ANNUAL ARMISTICE DANCE AT SOUTH PORCUPINE, NOV. 10

The annual Armistice dance given by the Order of the Eastern Star, No. 84, at South Porcupine is always a delightful event. The event will be held in the South Porcupine high school hall.

Late Arthur D. Miles Had Great Faith in the Dome

The death of A. D. Miles, prominent mining man, who passed away on the train last week while on the way from Winnipeg to Toronto recalls to H. A. Preston, old-timer of the North, the foresight evidenced by Mr. Miles in regard to the Dome Mines in the early days. Mr. Preston writes:—"Mr. Miles had the greatest faith in the Porcupine in the very early days. He was the first man to pay a large sum for shares in Dome Mine. He paid me three thousand dollars for one thousand shares and the next day offered me twenty-five thousand for another thousand shares. At the time there were just a few men working at the Dome, and Hollinger shares were just advertised on the exchange at three dollars and fifty cents. I was going to accept Mr. Miles' second offer and put the second twenty-five thousand in Hollinger, and thus have two chances of making a fortune. But everyone, including my friends, said I would be a fool to do that. If I had listened to no one but had gone on and taken the second offer by Mr. Miles, I could have got three hundred thousand in a short time for the Hollinger, and in eight years the Hollinger would have been worth two million, two hundred thousand dollars, including dividends. Mr. Miles certainly had great faith in Dome when he was ready to pay forty-five thousand dollars for two thousand shares in less than a year after it was staked. Just before selling the shares to Mr. Miles, I was in Buffalo, N.Y., and just for fun I offered Dome at one dollar a share. Not a soul would look at it, not even at fifty cents a share."

Timmins market garden produce was specially featured, and quality was strikingly good. These windows and the large and attractive store made a particularly attractive appearance.

The cards on J. Martin's windows were timely and appropriate. They were elegantly lettered in soap designs. "For the sake of your province boost the farmer." "The farmer needs your custom and you need his." Handsome window displays, with North Land pork, veal, lamb and meat featured, had a representative showing of Ontario Farm Products.

The C. & C. Store was easily a prize winner with a cleverly designed window of much interest and artistry and showing Ontario farm products at their best.

Bertrand Bros. also had a noteworthy display with attractive setting and a choice variety of choice farm products of Ontario, the greater part of these being from I. P. Wilson's farm at Golden City.

Other very pleasing and creditable windows were those of the Eaton Groceries, the Consumers' Co-operative, Frank Scullino, the Dominion Stores, Third avenue, Feldman Bros., N. Blahay's.

Special mention may well be made of the Eaton Groceries window. It was the work of an expert and had much of interest. The variety of goods displayed, however, was not as large as in some other windows, but the cooperation given by this store in making the week a success should not be overlooked. The Eaton Groceries had two excellent window displays of Ontario Farm Products during the week, though only the one was judged.

Blahay's window was good, but lacked a display of meats to complete it.

The A. & P. window was another good one, but lost marks through the inclusion of a couple of items not Ontario products.

The Dominion Stores, Third avenue, and the Dominion Stores, Wilson avenue, had good windows.

There were eighteen entries but unfortunately several of them had their window displays for other than Ontario farm products at the time of judging. Each of the prize winners in addition to the cash prizes received a window card to show the window was a prize winner and a ribbon with the prize awarded. The cash prizes were: first, $14.00; second, $12.00; third, $10.00; fourth, $8.00; fifth, $6.00; sixth, $5.00; seventh, $3.00; eighth, $2.00.

Opening of Riverside Pavilion a Big Event

The opening of the Riverside pavilion for the new season was a great success last night and Mr. and Mrs. Wilson are being complimented generally on the equipment of the hall and the special features of the event. There was an unusually large attendance, the biggest crowd at any Riverside pavilion event, and everybody had the most happy kind of a time. The music by Geo. Wade, in person, and his famous "Cornhuskers" orchestra delighted the crowd. This orchestra proved as popular in person as it is on the radio. Old-time dances, with Geo. Wade calling off, made a very big hit, while the modern dance music was equally enjoyed. "Pete the Mountain Boy" in mountain ballads was also a big feature and there were other special attractions that made the evening one to be long remembered by dance-lovers. The Riverside pavilion, adequately heated for the winter weather, made a very auspicious opening for the season.

Young People to Discuss Live Questions To-night

The group of young people meeting in the United Church basement from week to week has a worth-while programme for this year.

Last Thursday evening an inspiring address on "What is God?" introduced the theme of the devotional meetings for the coming months. Young people are somewhat hesitant about discussing with freedom topics of this kind but, as on a previous occasion, when the "incriminating possession of wealth" was being discussed, quite a number joined in the fray, and on this occasion gave expression to their conceptions of God, and stated beliefs with a thought-provoking earnestness, which orthodox or not in detail, were constructive in aim.

"What do you know about the gold standard?" "What about the N. R. A.?" These questions will hold sway to-night with the Citizenship Dept. in charge.

And for next Thursday the Social Committee has planned—? Well, that's a secret which will be disclosed to-night to all members, all visitors—and you?

Sister of Timmins Men Passes Away at Ottawa

The Ottawa Journal on Wednesday of this week had the following reference to the death of Mrs. F. X. Giroux: "After an illness extending over a number of years, the death occurred on Monday at her home, 169 Clarence street, of Mrs. F. X. Giroux, resident of Ottawa for many years. Mrs. Giroux was formerly Miss Ameline Massie, daughter of the late Francis Massie and his wife, Marguerite Brisebois, of St. Jerome, Que., where she was born 69 years ago. She came to Ottawa more than half a century ago, and was married here to Francois Xavier Giroux, formerly a well-known local letter-carrier, now retired. She was a devout member of the Basilica, and was a member of the Ladies of Ste. Anne. Surviving Mrs. Giroux are her husband, one son, Frank, of Montreal, and a daughter, Mrs. H. Dagenais, wife of the Ottawa contractor, as well as a number of grandchildren. Also surviving are three brothers, Felix Massie, Gatinneau Point, and M. Massie and Wilfred Massie, both of Timmins, Ont., and three sisters, Mrs. A. Lefebvre, Mrs. E. Daviault and Mrs. H. Labelle, all of Ottawa. The funeral will be held from her late residence at 7:45 o'clock on Thursday morning, for requiem high mass at the Basilica at eight o'clock, and interment at Notre Dame cemetery."

Boy Badly Bitten by Dog Adds to Family Ill Luck

The story of a serious accident to a boy of 13 years old through a vicious dog and the addition thus given to a family's hard luck is told by The Toronto Mail and Empire. The father out of work for two years, with the home being burned a year ago with everything lost is part of the misfortunes of the family. The story is told by The Mail and Empire is as follows: Before two men standing beside him could stop the attack, a mongrel dog, Saturday night, sprang at a 13-year-old Fairbank boy, tore his lower lip from the jaw-bone and missed by a hair's breadth sinking his teeth into the child's left eye.

The child, George Richardson, 172 Times Road, was walking with his father and the owner of the dog, Lewis Paddle, 95 Dansbury Road, along Briarhill avenue. The boy turned on a flashlight he was carrying and the animal, half police dog and half bull, struck without warning. Paddle swung with his fist a split second too late, knocked the animal to the ground and called for help. The father caught the fainting child in his arms and did what he could to stop the bleeding. Eric Amos, 150 Briarhill avenue, came to the aid with his car and took the boy to St. Joseph's hospital.

Late Saturday night doctors at the hospital reported they would be able to save the boy's eyesight but that the lower lip was virtually torn off. The owner of the dog declared that never before had the animal shown any sign of viciousness. He couldn't understand the attack. The dog is being kept under observation.

"The poor boy certainly was badly bitten and I hope he will be all right," said the father. "This family has had its share of hard luck. I've been out of work for two years because there hasn't been much for a wood-working machinist to do. "A year ago we were burned out of house and home and lost everything we had in it, and we have had more than our share of sickness and trouble. George, the injured boy, is the oldest of five young children."

Alex Kilmar, of Kirkland Lake, recently brought down a bear cub while on a vacation in the Matachewan area.

Young Fellow Pleads Guilty

and disposal of the goods stolen from Halperin's. Cosgrove told the police that he did the robbery all alone. He had been out with one of the fellows and two girls and left them for the tourist camp where they were camping. On the way there he decided to get the jewelry. He went in through the transom over the front door. He then hunted up the other two and told them they should all get out. The watches and rings stolen he tied up in one of his shirts and gave to one of the others to care for. Later he received the goods back. They started away in the car but about twelve miles from Timmins a tire blew out and some five miles farther on another tire blew. The second night after the robbery they stopped at a cabin near Kirkland Lake. In the meantime one of the three left being afraid of getting mixed up in the robbery. Arriving in Toronto they sold some of the goods in second-hand stores for very small amounts, only receiving $27.00 for two sales.

Through the good work of the Timmins police the identity of those concerned in the robbery was traced and through the equally good work of the Toronto police much of the stolen stuff was recovered and the young fellow arrested. Chief Jones brought him back here on Sunday evening. During a stay of several days in Toronto Chief Jones worked on the case with the Toronto detectives and speaks in highest praise of the efficiency of the Toronto force. L. Halperin also went to Toronto last week and was able to identify the goods recovered. Among the articles recovered were two valuable diamond rings left in the store for repairs and taken by the thief with the other goods. In connection with the case a man named Smith was arrested in Toronto on a charge of receiving stolen goods. He is to be tried on this charge to-day. Other developments in the case are expected with the possibility of other arrests. Much of the stolen goods has been recovered and more may be secured later. Mr. Halperin is still in Toronto in connection with the identification of the goods and other matters in reference to the robbery of his store.

LAD PUT OFF FREIGHT TRAIN LEAVES OBSTACLES ON TRACK

A boy from Sault Ste. Marie was in Sudbury court last week charged with placing obstacles on the C.P.R. track in the path of a passenger train. All the obstacles were noticed in time and a serious accident averted. The lad had been put off a freight train and it is thought that it was in revenge for this that he placed the obstacles on the track. These obstacles included angle bars and a cattle guard. The engineer noticed the obstacles and brought his train to a standstill while the track was cleared. "Just foolishness!" the boy announced when asked why he did such a dangerous thing. The lad, whose age is given as only sixteen, said he had been in trouble only once before,—for the alleged theft of an auto. To allow time for enquiries to be made at Sault Ste. Marie, the boy was remanded for a few days.

Dominion Dollar Stores Opening in New Premises

On Tuesday of next week, Oct. 31st, the Dominion Dollar Stores, operated by Sky Bros., will open in particularly impressive new premises at 9 Pine street, south. The brick building to be occupied by the Dominion Dollar Stores was formerly a hotel. The building has been completely remodelled and greatly improved and it will present an unusually attractive appearance. There is a handsome new black tile front, complete, with specially fine windows for display of goods. There is a total of 5,000 square feet of floor space in the store, and with the most modern equipment, the Dominion Dollar Stores will have the finest and most complete quarters of any similar store in the Dominion after which the store is named. For the formal opening in their own new store at 9 Pine street, south, the Dominion Dollar Stores are celebrating by offering special values and giving souvenir gifts to all visiting the store, while it is planned also to have special music for the occasion.

Looking at the new store outside and in, and judging the expenditure necessary to assure such notable results, it is safe to say that Sky Bros. have full faith not only in the future of their Dominion Dollar Stores but also in the expansion and further development of the town of Timmins and the district roundabout.

It is worth anyone's while to visit the new store.

Body of Murray Burbank Recovered on Tuesday

Word from Kirkland Lake says that the body of Murray Burbank, aged 17 years, was recovered from the waters of Victoria Lake, near Kirkland Lake on Tuesday morning. Murray was one of the two lads drowned on Sunday when their power canoe was swamped during a storm. Search is being continued to recover the body of the older boy, Keith, aged 19 years, but the weather makes the work difficult. An account of the tragedy that resulted in the death of the two boys will be found elsewhere in this issue.

United States to Follow Britain in Gold Policy

An editorial in The Toronto Mail and Empire on Monday says:—"President Roosevelt's statement of last night may be interpreted as indicating that he is getting nearer to the ideal of currency stabilization, which he was unable to accept at the World Economic Conference in session at London last summer. He now says that he will establish a gold market in the United States and that the Republic will buy and sell gold in the world market. The Government will pay so many dollars per ounce of gold, just as the Bank of England pays a given price for gold in pounds. The United States will buy gold in dollars, and the dollar will thus be in measure stabilized at home in terms of gold just as the British pound is to-day stabilized in terms of gold with the aid of a treasury stabilization fund. In any event, the announcement from Washington appears to indicate that the United States Government has taken one step on the road back to a gold basis. If this process is continued, it may in time be possible to agree upon a common gold standard to which Great Britain and the United States and other nations which wish to go in with them can adopt and maintain. It bears repeating that the move made yesterday at Washington may reasonably be construed as facilitating an ultimate stabilization of international currencies. And, as pointed out at the World Economic Conference, such an arrangement, once achieved, will go far to inspire confidence in world trading and to assist the nations in a return to normal economic prosperity."
