TEN YEARS AGO IN TIMMINS

From data in the Porcupine Advance files.

Reference was made in The Advance ten years ago to encouraging results found from work on Goldale group No. 1, situated at the easterly end of Pearl Lake. H. A. Kee was the manager of the Goldale prospect and made a very comprehensive report on the various groups, their location, history, geology, development, etc. In his conclusions, Mr. Kee showed that the results had fully warranted all the expenditures made to that time and justified further development and exploration work.

The Advance ten years ago said:—"On Monday evening the twelfth anniversary of the United Church at South Porcupine was observed by the holding of a turkey supper and concert. The choir of the Presbyterian church at Timmins with the assistance of a few members of the Schumacher church choir put on the concert. The turkey supper was served from five until eight in the Masonic hall. A splendid programme was provided consisting of vocal selections by such well-known singers as Mrs. M. B. Scott, Mrs. J. K. Moore, Miss McIntosh, Messrs J. A. Gellis, Jas. Cowan and T. Huntley. A vocal trio by Mesdames P. Parker, A. Briden and R. Calverley, a piano duet by Mrs. Parker and Miss Giffen, and a reading by Miss Doane, with three selections by the Presbyterian church choir, completed a very fine evening's programme."

Among the wedding notices in The Advance ten years ago was the following of interest to wide circles of friends:—"Friends in Timmins and district will extend sincere good wishes to Dr. A. P. Brennan on the occasion of his recent marriage. Dr. Brennan and bride were heartily welcomed here last week. The wedding which was a pretty one, took place on Saturday, October 13th, 1923, in St. Michael's Cathedral, Toronto, the contracting parties being Miss Evelyn Brocha, of Toronto, and Dr. A. P. Brennan, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Brennan, of North Bay. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Fr. McQuillan. The bride was beautifully gowned in grey satin crepe, with large picture hat, and carried a shower bouquet of Ophelia roses and lilies-of-the-valley. The bridesmaid was Miss Mary Walsh, of Toronto, who wore a gown of orchid georgette, with black picture hat, and carrying Columbia roses. Mr. Eugene Brown, of North Bay, supported the groom. Dr. and Mrs. Brennan spent the week-end at North Bay en route to Timmins where they have taken up residence. On their arrival at North Bay last week a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the groom's brother, Mr. M. J. Brennan. North Bay, a large number of relatives and friends being present. Later in the day a sumptuous wedding dinner was also a feature of the reception to the newly-wedded couple. Dr. and Mrs. Brennan came to Timmins Tuesday evening of last week and have taken up residence here."

Ten years ago The Advance made special reference to the consecration at Ottawa of the new bishop of the diocese, Monsignor Louis Rheame. Bishop Rheame was warmly welcomed to the diocese of Haliburton where he has been esteemed and popular among all during the intervening years.

On Saturday, Oct. 2th, 1923, a strip of land about 500 yards wide and three-quarters of a mile long slid into the White river which was blocked for the full length of the landslide, and the government bridge was pushed about a hundred feet from its place and stood almost on end. The actual cause of the landslide was not definitely established, but it was believed that the river had an underground current that undermined the bank. All traffic was blocked to Wendigo Lake and surrounding country. There was a steady stream of sightseers to view the landslide which was probably the largest and most peculiar in the North. There was no loss of life or injury to persons through the accident or incident, though there was at least one narrow escape. W. Bess was digging potatoes nearby when he felt the ground shake and the bridge timbers creaking. He unhitched his team and hurried away from the river. His wagon was swallowed by the landslide and he also lost his whole crops of potatoes.

Ten years ago the Ladies of Charity of St. Anthony's church were active and specially helpful in their good work for the relief and help of any in difficulties. In this connection the president, Mrs. Charlebois, was of outstanding helpfulness. In its issue of Oct. 24th, 1923, The Advance had the following:—"On Oct. 18th, the birthday anniversary of their president, Mrs. H. Charlebois, the Ladies of Charity seized the occasion to show their appreciation and regard for Mrs. Charlebois. A banquet was tendered Mrs. Charlebois. An address was read by Mrs. Lortie, and Mrs. A. Gagne, on behalf of the members, presented Mrs. Charlebois with a beautiful silver tea set. Mrs. Charlebois made appropriate reply. Rev. Fr. Roulier's address in English was an eloquent and pleasing one, and the address of Rev. Fr. Godoin, in French, was equally attractive and appreciated. Mrs. A. Gagne was highly complimented for the good work in preparations of the banquet. Mrs. J. Dalton, chaperon of the Altar Girls Society was among those present for the event, the girls in the society giving very valuable help in making the banquet a success by their service for the occasion. The following members are elected for the executive committee of the Ladies of Charity:—Mrs. Egan, Mrs. Lacasse, Mrs. Maggan, Mrs. Pitre, Mrs.

Brazeau and Mrs. Trebutout."

R. E. Dye, formerly manager of the Teck-Hughes, and also with the Buffalo Mine at Cobalt in the early days, and well-known among the mining men of the North Land, was welcomed to Timmins ten years ago when he came here to take the management of the Vipond Mine. He came here with the reputation of being a first-class mining man and the best sort of good citizen, and the good words said about him ten years ago have been fully justified since. He succeeded N. J. Everard as manager of the Vipond. In reference to the departure of Mr. Everard, The Advance ten years ago said:—"Previous to leaving Vipond, Mrs. N. J. Everard entertained a number of friends at a dance, about 180 guests being present and finding the evening a very delightful one, marred only by the unexpected departure of Mr. and Mrs. Everard. A feature of the evening was the very fine music furnished by Mr. Schroeder's orchestra for the occasion."

Another wedding of interest was reported in The Advance ten years ago as follows:—"The marriage of Miss Louis David, of North Bay, and Mr. Saim David, of Timmins, was solemnized in St. John's Anglican church at North Bay, on Sunday, Oct. 7th, the pastor, Rev. Gilbert Oliver, officiating. In referring to the event The North Bay Nugget says:—"The bride was attended by her cousin, Miss Helen Karam, and wore a becoming gown of biege georgette with accordeon pleated panels and a black velvet hat. The bride's cousin, Mr. Elias Karam, supported the groom. Mr. and Mrs. David left on Monday morning for Timmins where they will take up their residence. Some interest was aroused by the fact that although the contracting parties are of the Greek Catholic faith, the ceremony was performed in the Church of England by an Anglican clergyman. This is possible in the absence of a Greek Catholic place of worship and priest, as adherents of the Greek Catholic faith enjoy the privilege of full communion in the Church of England."

Among the local and personal notes in The Advance ten years ago were the following:—"There will be general regret at the illness of Mr. J. A. Howse and all will sincerely wish him an early and complete recovery." "The North Land is hard to beat for the growing of vegetables and market produce—either from quantity or quality viewpoints. Around Uno Park this year some records have been made in potato growing. One man is said to have dug 150 bags of spuds from five bags of seed potatoes. Another got 200 bags from 14 bags of seed. On the Plaunt farm 700 bags of potatoes were grown." "Mrs. Fligg returned on Saturday from a four month vacation spent visiting friends in Toronto, Ottawa, Newmarket and other points in the south and east." "A very enjoyable evening was spent at cards and dancing last Friday evening when the Misses Janet and Grace Purvis, Miss Everett and Miss Hill were the hostesses to a number of their friends." "The Misses Rhoda and Nina McLeod and Miss Coon were the hostesses at a very enjoyable party last Friday evening. A delightful time was spent by the guests present, dancing, vocal selections, and other social pleasures being enjoyed." "Mr. E. R. Dunbar, formerly of this camp, where he was well-known and highly esteemed in football circles, but who recently has been engaged in an exploring trip through British Guiana, returned to Timmins on Saturday last for a visit." "Mrs. M. Downey, who has been seriously ill for some weeks past, left on Monday for Toronto to take specialists' treatment at the hospital there. Mr. H. J. Downey accompanied his mother to the city. Many friends in the town and district will join in wishing Mrs. Downey an early and complete recovery to health." "All were pleased to see Mr. Frank Carlin sufficiently recovered from his recent injuries to be able to be out and around again as usual last week." "Mr. Wm. H. Templeton, of Toronto, was a visitor to Timmins this week and was warmly welcomed here by all the old-timers. Mr. Templeton was one of the real pioneers of the Porcupine, coming to the camp in 1900. Since that early date he will find remarkable changes in this camp—changes in everything except the regard in which he is held by all the old-timers. Mr. Templeton is now with the firm of J. Muldoon, Limited, dealers in builders' supplies, coal, etc." "A scuffle between a couple of young men in the Paris Cafe, around one o'clock on Saturday afternoon, resulted in the upsetting of the stove, and sending in an alarm of fire. The brigade was promptly on the scene, the stove was set up again and no serious damage resulted from the incident. A broken window and other minor damages were among the souvenirs of the occasion. As a result of the trouble one young man will face a charge of disorderly conduct at tomorrow's police court." "Miss Lillian Kellett, Deaconess, is in this camp this week on the annual visit of collection for the Tract Society's Mission to Sailors on Inland Waters. This society does a very commendable work for sailors on the Great Lakes and for workers in the lumber camps, etc. For these, libraries are provided and other helpful attention shown. Sailors' homes are also maintained at lake ports and other efforts made to brighten the lives and help the comfort of the sailors and the camps at distant points. In the past this camp has given generous support to this worthy cause. Last year Timmins gave $134.70; Schumacher, $37.93, and South Porcupine, $44.69. This year the growth of the camp will likely be reflected by an increase in the contributions to the Missions to Sailors on Inland Waters."

PROSPECTOR WHO REFUSED $600,000 DIES IN POVERTY

Ned Townsend, a well-known Sudbury prospector, died last week. He was hale and hearty until a short time before his death, though he had reached the age of 87 years. He went on a prospecting trip recently to the Wahnapitae Lake area, but while in camp on Lake Mattagami he was stricken down with illness. Friends in the neighbourhood came to his aid in the true way of prospectors. Everything was dropped to take the old gentleman to hospital at Sudbury. It proved too late, however, for anything to be done for his recovery. No one seems to know anything of the history of Townsend before he made his headquarters at Sudbury. About the only thing of special interest known about him is that some years ago he refused $600,000 for a property he had staked and called "Golden Rose." He thought the property would make him immensely wealthy and he held out for more than the $600,000. For a time he tried to work the property himself, but the mine did not develop. From appearances it would seem that his refusal saved other $600,000 and more. Townsend was one of an old type of prospector—silent, strong, and always seeking the "big strike." When he died it was found that he was without funds and friends—and he had many despite his quiet and retiring way—at once banded together to see that the old prospector had a fitting funeral and was buried by friends and not by the state.

Cobalt Man Says he Saw the End of the Rainbow

Poets have had great fancies about what may lie at the end of the rainbow. Recently a Cobalt man claims to have stood at the end of the rainbow and studied the situation finding nothing unusual while he was thus on the ground.

In this connection a story may not be out of place. A old Quaker once married a young couple, telling the young man at the close of the ceremony:—"Now thee art at the end of thy troubles." A little time afterwards the young man finding he had caught a tartar of a wife, reproached the old Quaker for deceiving him by the suggestion that marriage was the end of his troubles. "I trow! thee was at the end of thy troubles," repeated the Quaker, "but I did not say at which end."

The Cobalt gentleman was at one end of the rainbow but he does not say which end. Maybe the pot of gold was at the other end.

However, here is the story of the study of one of a rainbow from close quarters by a Cobalt man:—"Roy Hudson, manager of the Classic theatre in Cobalt, has decided that there is nothing in the old saying that there is a pot of gold buried at the end of the rainbow. On Tuesday morning, while driving from Haliburton to Cobalt, he actually reached the end of a rainbow, an experience that was both unique and interesting, he relates. As he proceeded along the highway near Mileage 104, two beautiful rainbows were visible, the nearer one apparently coming to an end right by the road-bar, formerly of this camp, where he was well-known and highly esteemed in football circles, but who recently has been engaged in an exploring trip through British Guiana, returned to Timmins on Saturday last for a visit." "Mrs. M. Downey, who has been seriously ill for some weeks past, left on Monday for Toronto to take specialists' treatment at the hospital there. Mr. H. J. Downey accompanied his mother to the city. Many friends in the town and district will join in wishing Mrs. Downey an early and complete recovery to health." "All were pleased to see Mr. Frank Carlin sufficiently recovered from his recent injuries to be able to be out and around again as usual last week." "Mr. Wm. H. ### Teams are Close in Commercial League

At Least Three of Them are and There is Chance Yet for the Fourth. T. & N. O. in the Lead. And is Art Proud?

With the first round of the Commercial league over last Friday it leaves three teams out of the four close for leadership. The T. & N. O. taking three points from the Power gave them the lead by one point. The Advance managed to gain three from Gambles to put them on even terms with the Power for second place.

Gambles found their stride on Friday for the first time and ran up a good score, which had the printers guessing, especially in the second game. Pete Nicholson came back to life and also his old style bowling by rolling up a score of 318, but he got poor support and his team were 31 pins short on totalling up the score.

The third stanza saw The Advance go down badly, not a man getting in the three-figure list until the seventh frame, but they finished strong in the ninth and tenth frames, chalking up ten marks against four, and winning the grand total for the extra point. Better luck, Gambles, tomorrow! Bring lots of bananas, Cap., as the wheels slip easily on them.

Did you notice the Power on alleys one and two alleys? Bill said before the game that he had his oatmeal that morning. Well, on checking his score it would be better to try bowl those cold mornings. As for Art, it would be better if he would pay a little more attention to bowling than bridge.

The T. & N. O. sneaked three points from the Power. Both teams rolled poor scores with only three men getting over five hundred. There was very little smoke, or was it the nice tie Grant was wearing that was the centre of attraction.

Only one man got on the honour roll, P. Nicholson, Gambles, 714. He had also the highest single of 315.

Saturday, November 11th, is a Statutory Holiday

Several have asked The Advance whether Armistice Day is a regular holiday or not, and the answer has been in each case that it is as regular as any holiday can be. It is a statutory holiday and should be observed the same as any other holiday. So long as it remains on the statute books of Canada it should be observed the same as other holidays. And few people would advocate the removal of this holiday from the list. It is unfortunate, perhaps, that the date this year falls on a Saturday. On this account merchants feel that it is a hardship to have to close their stores. But other holidays have a habit of falling on Saturdays every once in a while.

At Kirkland Lake last week the Legion discussed the question from all angles and eventually decided to secure the ideas of the Ontario Command. Some of the Kirkland Legion members thought it would be sufficient if the two minutes of silence were observed. The majority disagreed with this view, but they split on their own views, some of them suggesting the stores close until noon, while the others thought the day should be observed like any other day. In Timmins the Legion would like all the stores to close until one o'clock at least.

Announcement was made at Ottawa last week to the effect that Armistice Day, Nov. 11th is a statutory holiday. The Secretary of State made announcement to this effect in response to many inquiries as to whether Remembrance Day was a compulsory holiday.

In a statement the department explained that only Sundays are compulsory holidays. "Nevertheless throughout Canada general public recognition is usually given all holidays which are prescribed by the Statute of Canada." The statement follows:—

"Chapter 4 of the Acts of the Parliament of Canada, 1931, provides that throughout Canada in each and every year the eleventh day of November shall be kept and observed as such under the name of Remembrance Day. Remembrance Day is, therefore, a statutory holiday the same as Sunday, Christmas Day, New Year's Day or Labour Day. Under the statutes of the Dominion and of the provinces, Sunday is the only holiday which is compulsorily observed by the closing of factories and stores. Nevertheless, throughout Canada general public recognition is usually given to all holidays which are prescribed by the statutes of Canada."

Gravelling operations on the Ferguson highway north of North Bay started recently and will be continued all winter under a relief plan. All labourers required will be drawn from those on relief. A somewhat similar plan is to be used elsewhere along the highway, it is understood.

YOUR LIVER'S MAKING YOU FEEL OUT OF SORTS

Wake up your Liver Bile

—No Calomel needed

When you feel blue, depressed, sour on the world, that's your liver which isn't pouring its daily two pounds of liquid bile into your bowels. Digestion and elimination are being slowed up, food is accumulating and decaying inside you and making you feel wretched.

Mere bowel-movers like salts, oil, mineral water, laxative candy or chewing gum, or roughage, don't go far enough.

You need a liver stimulant. Carter's Little Liver Pills is the best one. Safe. Purely vegetable. Sure. Ask for them by name. Refuse substitutes. 25c. at all druggists. 52
