CLAIMS INFORMERS TRY TO DEFEAT ENDS OF JUSTICE

F. Frobenius, Calgary mechanic Monday entered action against Dr. L. S. Mackid, Calgary physician and winner of about $4,000 in the Irish Sweepstakes on the Cambridgeshire race, claiming the doctor endeavoured to defeat justice by arranging for a friendly informer's action. Frobenius, in his suit, believed the first of its type in Canada, claims Dr. Mackid participated in an illegal and prohibited lottery and thereby won a considerable sum of money. He further charged when the doctor learned of his success, he entered into an agreement with Ethel B. McClellan of Calgary whereby she was to start friendly action against him as an informer in accordance with a Criminal Code provision. Frobenius claims by such action Dr. Mackid endeavoured to defeat justice and to abuse the process of this honourable court. The plaintiff asks the prize money be forfeited to him as the real informer and asks Mrs. McClellan's action be thrown out.

New Building Programme for Kellogg Co. of Canada

Continuing a building programme which has been in progress for 4 years, the Kellogg Company of Canada Limited announced today that construction would start at once on a new four-storey building, size approximately 96 ft. by 102 ft.

Property has been purchased to accommodate the new building.

The addition will be principally used for warehousing of finished case goods and raw materials as well as accommodation for the general executive and office organization.

EARL OF BESSBOROUGH ON VICE-REGAL TOUR OF LEADING CANADIAN INDUSTRIES

Keenly interested in the industrial aspects of the Dominion, His Excellency, the Governor-General, has been visiting important Canadian plants during a Vice-Regal tour of Ontario communities. At Niagara Falls, the distinguished visitors viewed, at the plant of the Canadian Shredded Wheat Company, the operation of transforming Canadian wheat by a continuous process into a finished food product, packaged and ready for shipment. went had the usual enjoyable time. Bridge only was played. Miss Anna Sullivan won first prize, and Mrs. Ron. Mansfield second. Consolation went to Miss Lempi Niemi. In the gentlemen's bridge Mr. J. Aikien took first honours, with Mr. Andrew Harty, second, and Mrs. Wm. Thomas, consolation.

On Tuesday last over thirty people met at the home of Mrs. McCaffrey, Dome Mines, to honour Mrs. Oito Spiers before her departure to Toronto. Mrs. Spiers is a real old-timer in the camp, having been in South End and the Dome for over eighteen years. In that time she has made many friends and her loss will be felt by many of them keenly. With her husband and her two daughters, Beatrice and Marjory, she is leaving the North and intends to reside in Toronto. The party included friends from the Dome, Schumacher and South Porcupine. Cards were played,—euchre and bridge,—and a very nice lunch served. In euchre Mrs. Wm. Rickward won the prize. In bridge Miss Corine Carlson won first, and Mrs. W. W. Wilson consolation. A pleasing part of the evening's entertainment was the presentation to Mrs. Spiers of a lovely necklace with earrings to match, from the assembled company. This was done by Mrs. Harold Hall who, in a nice little speech, wished her all happiness in her new home where the kind thoughts of those she left behind would follow her. This was followed by another presentation by Mrs. Bert Longworth, who, on behalf of the Dome Mill boys, handed a gift of gloves, and cigarette-holder and lighter, to the guest of honour. The "Mill Boys" also presented Mr. Spiers with two Gladstone travelling bags as a memento of their good-will and esteem, before he left for Toronto.

Mrs. D. A. McLeilan and Mrs. J. Alexander were joint hostesses on Monday night at a party held at the home of the former. Sixteen guests were present each adorned gaily for Halloween, some of the costumes worn being both original and charming. One lady might have stepped out of an old daguerrotype, as she was wearing a dress worn by her mother fifty years ago. Halloween dresses were most in evidence and the room was prettily decorated for the occasion. Bridge was played and Mrs. Kavanagh won first prize. Mrs. W. Cliff came second, and Miss A. Sullivan third. An exquisite lunch was served, every part of which carried out the Halloween idea, and after lunch the out-of-town guest (Mrs. Frood) pulled the lucky door prize number. A charming bouquet was thereupon presented to the holder (Mrs. Maxwell Smith). This was a most delightful party.

Young People's Society Have Discussion on "Gold"

"Gold"—was the subject discussed by the young people who met in the United Church last Thursday evening. Following several papers on the history and present significance of the gold standard, the meeting, as usual, was thrown open for discussion. Many and varied were the questions put and ideas advanced, and the lively interest displayed was in keeping with that shown at previous "open forums" where all are urged to set forth their own views and, if necessary, defend them. The meeting was in charge of the Literary and Citizenship Department. And for the young people who gather to-night the Social Committee has promised a liberal supply of ghosts and goblins, thrills and chills! Right! It's a Halloween social.

Death of James Doig Pioneer of the North

Veteran Prospector and Business Man Passed Away at Kirkland Lake Last Week, After Interesting Career.

The Kirkland Lake district, and the whole North Land, in fact, lost a valued and popular pioneer last week in the death at the Kirkland Lake Red Cross hospital of James Doig, prospector, merchant, mining man, and cheerful good citizen. The late James Doig, who was 61 years of age at the time of death, passed away on Thursday of last week. He had been ill for some weeks after a year or so of comparatively good health, following a previous illness. In 1927 he was reported to be worth close to half a million dollars. When stocks went tumbling in the big stock crash he refused to sell stocks that would have brought him a large sum in the early stages of the market decline. He even bought more stock in certain mines to prove his faith and confidence in Kirkland Lake camp. All the advice of friends failed to influence him. "They can't break Jimmy Doig," he used to answer with his happy laugh. But the stocks came close to doing it. In the crash he was just about wiped out. He would not sell some of the stocks to save his interest in others. "It's all or nothing!" was his response. And near to nothing it was. He lost his fortune, and then came the loss of his health. He had to leave his business and go south for a time. He returned almost recovered in health and courage and with much of his old-time happy humour and friendliness. He was down, but not out. "I haven't lost a friend," he said, "and that's saying something." He took up the development of a property he owned in Grenfell township not far from Kirkland Lake. He made some notable finds on the property and for a time it looked as if he would regain his fortune, his health and his old zest in life. He was confident that he had a notable gold mine, and so were many others. Then fate hit him once more. He became ill again and he was forced to drop the active management of the property. Then while he was ill things went wrong at the property. At the time of his death it was expected that the property would have to be closed down again for lack of further capital to carry it on. It is generally believed that if Jimmy Doig had been in good health he would have found the money to carry it on to success.

The late James Doig was born in Toronto, but forty-three years ago came to New Liskeard to grow up with the New North. He became one of its best known citizens and a type of North Land good nature and shrewdness. Twenty-five years ago he left Latchford and established a general store at Swastika, the first store in the Kirkland Lake camp. For many years the Doig Store did a big business and he made money, but most of it went back to prove his faith in the country. He was generous and kindly and none in need were turned away from him unhelped. Until his death the store was continued, latterly being under the management of his son.

The late James Doig was widely known in the North. In Kirkland Lake he was especially well known. Wherever known he was popular and esteemed. His death will be greatly regretted. He is survived by his widow and one son, Elmer, and to these the sympathy of all will be extended in their deep loss.

More Men Assisted to Go to Work in Abitibi Area. This week help was given to another group of men so that they could accept work in the Abitibi section cutting pulp. They were all single men but bona fide residents of Timmins having living here for a couple of years or more. The town has helped a number of these men to secure work, the relief officer, I. E. Dunn, and the Government Employment supervisor, Mr. Murphy, co-operating in the matter to give the men a chance.

Charge of the theft of a congoleum rug was withdrawn. Pete Bodencrok, 281 Kirby avenue, was fined $100.00 and costs or three months, for having liquor without a permit. He has been on relief so he left yesterday for Haileybury. An assault case was remanded to next week. A Master and Servants Act case was settled by the court ordering the paying over of $2.00. An assault case against a Mountjoy township man was remanded to next week. Five men charged with assaulting Nick Russell were dismissed. A man charged by his wife with assault was remanded to next week. The charge of reckless driving against John Longegran, South Porcupine, was dismissed. The charge arose from the recent accident at the Hollinger crossing when a car collided with a freight car.

The coroner's jury enquiring into the death of Minor S. Ritchie, who lost his life when he fell from the Haileybury dock, recommended that some life-saving apparatus be placed on the Haileybury dock for use in case of similar accidents. Before the fire of 1922 there were some life-preservers, the property of the Dominion Dept. of Public Works, kept at the Haileybury dock but these were destroyed by the fire and despite all efforts to have the department replace the ones destroyed there have been no life-saving apparatus available at the dock since the fire.

Several Jail Terms at Court This Week

Jewelry Thief Gets Two Years. Man Robbing Perreault's Garage Given Three Months. Three Months for Vagrant. Other Court Cases.

At police court on Tuesday there were several cases where jail terms were imposed. Thos. Cosgrove, alias Geo. Wilson, alias James Barlow, who pleaded guilty last week to the robbery of Halperin's jewelry store and was remanded for sentence, was given two years in Portsmouth penitentiary, as will be noted by the item elsewhere in this issue. He was also recommended for deportation at the expiration of his sentence.

Joseph Roy, of no fixed abode, was given three months at Haileybury on a charge of vagrancy. He had been selling postage and revenue stamps around town after stamps had been stolen from offices around town and there were suspicions of his implication in petty thefts and, perhaps, in one hold-up. The evidence against him was not sufficient to warrant laying these charges against him but as he was living without visible means and could not give satisfactory account of himself, he was charged under one of the sections regarding vagrancy.

Fred Lauzon, charged with theft from Perreault's garage on Wednesday of last week, pleaded not guilty. The man in charge of the garage told of Lauzon being caught at the till. He had a struggle with him but eventually got him down and held him till the police came. A ten dollar bill was found on the ground where the two had been struggling. Twenty-five dollars had been taken from the till. Lauzon denied being inside the garage. He claimed that he was just passing the garage when the attendant ran out and grabbed him. He said further that the ten dollar bill was his but he had won it in a poker game and he had witnessed to prove it. The witnesses were called but they did not help Lauzon's side of the story any as they said that the only gambling they saw Lauzon do was to win 75 cents and then to lose it again. The magistrate asked the attendant if he was sure Lauzon was the man he caught at the till and the attendant said he was positive. The magistrate sentenced Lauzon to three months at Haileybury.

H. Neilson and Mrs. J. L. Brewer, who were brought back from Rouyn a couple of weeks ago and were charged with theft from Mrs. Brewer's husband, had the charges against them dismissed, but the magistrate said that steps might be taken to have Neilson deported as he seemed an undesirable citizen. When this case came up last week the magistrate severely censured Neilson for attempting to break up a family by his actions and attitude.

A charge of the theft of a congoleum rug was withdrawn. Pete Bodencrok, 281 Kirby avenue, was fined $100.00 and costs or three months, for having liquor without a permit.
