Collarbone Broken in Motor Accident

Three Separate Fractures Sustained by Mrs. Claude Desaulniers. Now Excellent Recovery at St. Mary's Hospital.

Last week brief reference was made in The Advance to the fact that Mrs. Claude Desaulniers had been rather badly injured in a motor car accident, but that particulars were not available. Since the issue of the paper Mrs. Desaulniers has returned to Timmins. She was accompanied here by two Nursing Sisters from St. Michael's hospital, Toronto, as well as by her husband, Claude Desaulniers. Mrs. Desaulniers is suffering from a collarbone broken in three different places, and is at present in St. Mary's hospital here, where she is making the very best of progress to recovery.

Mrs. Desaulniers has certainly endured a difficult time and a succession of discomforts during the past few weeks. First, she had the unpleasant news that her father was seriously ill. Mr. and Mrs. Desaulniers at once set out by motor car for her father's bedside in Port Colborne. Just outside of Orillia, the car skidded on the wet pavement, taking the ditch. The car turned almost completely around and upset as it went into the ditch. Mr. Desaulniers escaped without a scratch or bruise, but Mrs. Desaulniers was not so fortunate. It was easy to see that she was injured, though she still was anxious to proceed on the journey to see her father. Mr. Desaulniers took her by car the twelve miles to Orillia hospital where her injuries were diagnosed as a fractured collarbone. She was given first aid and the fractured collarbone adjusted. Then she insisted on continuing the journey to see her father. The trip of 130 miles to Port Colborne was made and Mrs. Desaulniers had the happiness of seeing her father alive. He lived for a week, but death came to him, and he was buried at Toronto on Oct. 23rd. In the meantime, however, Mrs. Desaulniers suffered considerably from her injuries, and it was thought that one of her arms had been fractured in the accident. Mr. Desaulniers took her to St. Michael's hospital where it was found that the collarbone was fractured in three different places. The injured collarbone was dealt with by the specialists at St. Michael's hospital. Mrs. Desaulniers was anxious to attend her father's funeral but was so weak that this was not possible. Mrs. Desaulniers was sufficiently recovered last week to return home. She is now at St. Mary's hospital and making excellent progress to complete recovery.

MISTAKE IN HEADING GIVES WRONG IDEA ABOUT TIMMINS

It is the easiest matter in the world to make a mistake in a newspaper heading and so it is not with the idea of criticism, but rather simply to keep the record clear that The Advance calls attention to an error in a heading in The North Bay Nugget this week. The heading says:—"Cut Assessment of Timmins Chain Store." The article itself is about a cut made in Sault Ste. Marie in the assessment of the A. & P. Store there. Anyone reading the article would get the right information, but anyone simply glancing at the heading would be wrongly impressed. At the present time when there is a group in town looking for places to blame Timmins and its council the heading may be improperly used to give discredit to the authorities here. In the rush of heading sorting on a paper like The Nugget mistakes are perhaps inevitable. It will not be a mistake, however, if someone tries to use the heading about Timmins and the information about the Sault to score a point against the town council.

Hallowe'en Frolic Largely Attended

Legion Event on Tuesday Night was Good Success. Costumes were Noteworthy. Excellent Music for Occasion.

The Hallowe'en Frolic presented in the Oddfellows' hall on Tuesday evening under the auspices of the Timmins branch of the Canadian Legion proved a big success. The attendance was large and each and all found the event a very happy one. The hall was very attractively decorated, the decorations being suitable for the Hallowe'en occasion. There was a large proportion of those present coming in costumes of original, amusing and artistic type. As a masquerade the event can be considered a complete success. Another special feature was the catchy music provided for the evening by Stephens' Snappy Syncopators. The Ladies' Auxiliary provided the refreshments for the occasion. The whole evening may be summed up by saying that the Hallowe'en Frolic may be added to the long list of Legion successes in entertainment events.

ASK SUBSTANTIAL SECURITY IN CASE AGAINST PREMIER

I. H. Hilliard, K.C., Master-in-Chambers at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, on Monday, reserved judgment on an application made by Arthur J. Thomson, K.C., counsel for Premier George S. Henry, asking that L. J. Lafferty, of Windsor, be ordered to put up substantial security for costs in regard to the suit in which he claims $76,000 asserting the Premier, being interested in the Ontario Power Service Corporation, had no right to sit in the Ontario Legislature and therefore was liable to penalties. Mr. Thomson said: "Many of these actions fall by the way and we had an idea that would happen to this, but it didn't. I am asking for a substantial amount. This case involves a very large sum of money and the question as to whether the Hydro is a public office or department and whether the contract attached is one under which any public money out of Ontario is paid. This man was probably deliberately selected because of his lack of financial responsibility."

Canada Likely to Gain Three Millions per Year

A Canadian Press despatch on Wednesday this week decussing the gold situation from the Ottawa standpoint says:—

Any steps taken by the United States which would have the effect of increasing the price of gold in Canadian funds would be of obvious advantage to Canada. This country produced 256,561 fine ounces in August, the last month for which complete figures are available so an increase of a dollar an ounce would mean approximately $250,000 a month or $3,000,000 a year.

Financial experts here were reticent to-day to prophesy. They declared that very little was yet known of what the Washington administration proposed doing. It had decided to enter the world market for gold and probably the Federal Reserve Bank would be the purchasing agent. However, until something were known of the nature of the instructions the Reserve Bank would receive, they preferred to remain silent.

Canadian gold has always been sold on the highest market. It was explained, without regard to imperial considerations. It went to New York where that market was the most advantageous. It shifted to London when Washington put restrictions on gold. In London it went to the highest bidder regardless of whether it was a foreign or British buyer.

More Money for Mines
Washington's apparent determination to increase the price of gold in U.S. funds will mean more money for the Canadian mines provided the relationship between the Canadian and New York funds are not altered.

Of course if the U.S. dollar is shoved below the Canadian dollar in the process, some of the advantage would be lost.

The high prices already paid for gold has been of immense benefit to Canadian mines. No great increases in production have followed, in fact there has been a falling off, but this is accounted for because the mines have turned to low grade ore which they could not mine profitably when gold was at par, saving their higher grades for later on.

The output of Canadian mines goes to the mint here and after it is refined, is taken over by the Department of Finance which sells it at the most advantageous market, remitting the proceeds to the owners.

Jewelry Thief Sentenced to Two Years

The two-year term as a lenient sentence under all the circumstances and he is not at all depressed by it. He says that two years will soon pass and that after he has served his term he will start all over and try to lead an honest and law-abiding life, as he is convinced that law-breaking does not pay in any way.

All who have considered the case are agreed that the Timmins police deserve a great deal of credit for the interest and efficiency shown and the cleverness with which the few possible clues were developed and followed up, with the result that in a few hours they had a line on the guilty man and were able to identify him. The provincial police were notified and it was hoped that the men would not be able to get out of the country. Fortune favoured the trio, however, and they were able to reach Toronto without being questioned, though they spent about three days on the way to Toronto. A stop of several hours was made at Matheson or near there, and a still longer stay made at Kirkland Lake.

The Toronto police gave notable co-operation to the Timmins police in the search for the suspected men. Eventually the good work of the Toronto police resulted in the arrest of Barlow and this was followed by the recovery of some of the goods. Chief Jones and L. Halperin went to Toronto to identify the goods, and Chief Jones spent some time in the city helping in the work of securing further evidence and assisting in the recovery of further quantities of the stolen goods.

Noted Wrestlers Here for Bouts on Friday Night

The wrestling bouts postponed from Oct. 20th, on account of the wrestlers being delayed by a motor car accident on their way here, are to be held on Friday evening of this week. Jack Milo, the promoter, announced this week with a smile that they were actually here in town and everything is set for a notable event in wrestling at the Ukrainian hall, corner Mountjoy and Second, to-morrow (Friday) evening. The bouts on the programme include:—

Pete Metropolis, the world's welter-weight army champion, Pontiac, Mich., versus Charlie Joliet, the French wonder, Montreal.

Carl Dumler, known as the Russian Lion, of Winnipeg, versus Albert Zippy, Timmins.

Jim King, North Bay, versus Young Zabisco, nephew of the great Zabisco, of New York.

As a curtain raiser, there will be a blindfold match, a battle royal, between five good local boys, the boy staying the longest to be awarded the prize.

Leadership of Mines in Canadian Industry

Hon. W. A. Gordon, "Minister from the North," Speaks of What the Mining Industry has Shown in Leadership.

Apparently The Toronto Globe asked Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Mines in the Hon. R. B. Bennett's administration, for a message for a recent issue dealing particularly with mining progress. Here is the message given to The Globe by Hon. Mr. Gordon:—

Mines Give Leadership to Canadian Industry.

By rising so ably to the occasion when meeting the challenge of the recent world-wide economic upheaval, Canada's mineral industry has written an indelible record into the annals of our industrial history, and has definitely established its right to be regarded as playing a foremost role in shaping the economic destiny of the Dominion.

Side by side with the extensive commercial and industrial development of Canada during the past quarter-century, our mineral industry has made progressive advances in every phase of its activities, and its status and contributions to the welfare of contemporary industries today are in marked contrast to those of the early years of the present century. Then we had only two base metal enterprises of consequence, and they were little more than producers of raw ore. Today we have seven such enterprises, most of them constituting highly industrialized organizations, having in their control the facilities for producing, smelting, refining, fabricating and marketing their products. Paralleling the growth in production from these corporations has been the growth of our external trade in metals, which has placed Canada in a position of prominence in the metal trade of the world.

The growth in our gold industry has been, if anything, even more spectacular, and today we have the enviable distinction of holding second place among the gold-producing nations, with the output this year likely to reach $85,000,000 in Canadian funds.

The rapid expansion in these two major branches of our mineral industry, in conjunction with a steady but perhaps less spectacular growth in our non-metals and fuel industries, where the progress has been more in the nature of an increased utilization of these products in the domestic markets, has caused the mineral industry to be recognized today as Canada's second largest primary producer.

Increased disbursements in salaries, wages and dividends, among the principal yardsticks in a measure of value of an industry to the national welfare, have kept pace with the broadening industrial and productive expansion. This is instanced by the fact that the average payroll of the industry for the three years 1930, 1931 and 1932 amounted to $92,711,000, and that the estimated dividend disbursement for 1932, a difficult year for the industry, was close to $51,000,000.

Firemen's Costume Dance at South End

South Porcupine Firemen Again Score Notable Success. Annual Hallowe'en Masquerade Dance Proves a Very Happy Affair.

South Porcupine, Ont., Nov. 1st, 1933. Special to The Advance.

The annual Firemen's Hallowe'en dance on Tuesday at the High School was wonderfully well attended. With Sullivan's orchestra and the hall nicely decorated by the Firemen with Hallowe'en emblems, and costumes many and various, the school hall was a festive place. While many did not wear fancy costumes, the number who did "dress up" outdid themselves in clever representations of the usual types one sees at a Hallowe'en masquerade.

The prize for ladies' fancy costume went deservedly to Miss Victorine Morris, who as "Mistress Mary" in a gaily patterned chintz dress and flop hat, carrying a watering-pot, certainly took one's eye immediately.

The ladies' special also met with universal approval. As an eighteenth century lady in crinoline and powdered curls, Miss Woodworth, of Timmins, was charming.

A special word of praise must be given to the joint winners of the ladies' comic prize. Miss Velma Arbour and Miss Renee Laroux, as "Minnie and Mickey Mouse" were about as clever a couple as we have ever seen at a fancy-dress dance. The costumes were perfect even to the tails, and together made the selection of comic prize-winners easy. (Home-made outfits too).

Ernie Jones took the men's fancy dress prize as a brigand, and Proulx took the comic prize as a harlequin.

The judges had a very hard time to settle on the prize-winners—there were so many attractive and interesting costumes on the floor.

Most outstanding were:—Dutch Girl, (Miss Paice); Late Victorian, (Mrs. J. Aitken, with bonnet and bustle); Early Victorian, (Miss Burns); Queen of Hearts, "Little Girls" by the dozen, Puritan Mail, Spanish Lady, Rumanian Girl; Pumpkin, (Miss Schmelzle); Chinese Boy, Hallowe'en; Italian Girl, (Mrs. Patterson); Miss Canada, (Miss Beaudry); Queen of Clubs; Pullman Porter, (J. Aitken); Tarzan, (Jim Fell); Pierrots; Harlequins; Clowns, Ed Wynne the Fire Chief; Masks and Faces by the score, and one "Bride of 1901" (very effective). The Firemen have scored another success.

Inspector Walter Moore, formerly provincial constable at South Porcupine and later for many years inspector of provincial police in this district with headquarters at Halleybury, has been transferred from Kitchener to Hamilton, Ont., as inspector.
