Premier Announces Some of his Policies

Spoke Over the Radio on Monday Night, Touching on Gold Reserves, Public Works Policy and Other Matters Proposed.

In Timmins and elsewhere throughout Canada on Monday evening the interesting and informative address of the premier, Hon. R. B. Bennett was heard over the radio. At the opening of the broadcast it was announced that Premier Bennett had insisted on paying for the radio time allotted to him.

Accepted by the Canadian Radio Commission as a non-partisan explanation of national affairs, Mr. Bennett's 3,000-word speech came closest to political controversy in its opening moments when the Premier defended the Government's tariff policy. Did any "intelligent Canadian," he asked, believe, firstly, that tariffs could be so altered as to bring manufactured goods down to the 1932 price level of wheat, and secondly, did the record of any political party suggest that an attempt would be made to do so "in our lifetime?"

He directly attributed the current increase in wheat prices to the fact that last summer at the London Wheat Conference, which he attended, exporters and importers gathered around a common table for the first time in the history of grain marketing to deal with "the menaces of the world's wheat carry-overs."

Macmillan Commission

After referring to the World Economic Conference resolution in favour of central banks, Mr. Bennett recalled the appointment of the Macmillan commission to consider among other questions the establishment of such an organization in Canada.

"It has become clearly imperative," he said, "for Canada to exercise the greatest possible measure of monetary independence and this it will do only if it is properly equipped for wise and warranted decisions in the face of fluctuations in our external monetary transactions."

A central bank, he continued, would also be able to give the government "skilled and impartial financial advice," and to regulate the volume of credit with special relation to Canada's large external trade.

"There are the usual warnings against change," he said. "I avail myself of the opportunity to say that at the approaching session of parliament the government will submit a bill providing for the establishment of a central bank."

Obviously, he said, he could not discuss details of the proposed legislation but fears that the chartered banks would be injuriously affected were unwarranted. Paying tribute to the stability of the Canadian banks, he added: "In my judgment the establishment of a central bank will afford our chartered banks opportunities for greater usefulness to the nation and give to Canadian monetary policies an international significance in keeping with our growing importance as an influential factor in world business."

Pointing out that the Federal Government now employed 18,000 men in work camps, the Premier in a tempered criticism of the Roosevelt policy as applied to Canada, asserted that Canada, with its geographical position and its large external debt, must exercise "prudence" in considering any large programme of public works.

Discard Monetary Policies

He stated that "unhappily" it was impossible at the moment to harmonize the monetary policies of the United States, the European gold group led by France and Britain's sterling group.

"The United States," Mr. Bennett declared, "is making a great experiment which within recent years was tried by the now leading gold countries with results that destroyed large capital assets of these countries and in some cases resulted in a complete transformation of their institutions."

In this connection, Canada had suffered adverse criticism. He pointed, in reply, to the previously accumulating adverse trade balances to the steady increase in foreign borrowings by hundreds of millions of dollars.

Without directly referring to the N.R.A. in the United States, Mr. Bennett presented statistical evidence to show that Canada was sharing the world improvement in business. October business volume was 31 per cent. ahead of February's, industrial production had improved 43 per cent., while production of various commodity groups had ranged from a nine per cent. increase in power output to 90 per cent. in the iron and steel index and 104 per cent. in raw cotton imports.

"Better prices and increased purchasing power," he said, "have been the objective of all of us for some time. You cannot, however, in a country that has for generations made itself commercially interdependent, separate your price structure from the rest of the world with whom we are trading."

He believed that the "normal method" of raising prices was by restoring confidence among owners and employers of capital.

"Certainly," he said, "to put dollars into the pockets of those who do not possess them and more dollars into the pockets of those who do is the primary purpose of those who seek to increase the purchasing power of the community. But if we are to act on the suggestion so often made to us in good faith, and endeavour to accomplish this purpose by destroying the value of those dollars already in existence, we should be guilty of committing this country to a considered policy of economic ruin. But I may properly urge you who have capital available to turn it into productive use because you have at your command the power necessary to put productive machinery into action by increasing purchasing power."

Canada's Gold Reserves

At the end of October, Mr. Bennett stated, Canada's gold reserves totalled $69,900,000. On the ratio of backing

Striking Bush Men Add to Their Number

Further Camps in Abitibi Area and Along the C.N.R. are Now on Strike. No Disorder of Any Kind.

Between six and nine hundred bush workers are now reported as on strike in this part of the North. The strike has spread from Smooth Rock Falls area to the Abitibi camps near Ansonville and also to the camps along the C.N.R. out from Cochrane. It is reported that many of the settlers along the C.N.R. have also refused to cut or deliver more wood for the price now paid. As noted last week the Smooth Rock Falls camp went out on strike, claiming the pay inadequate and conditions bad. The men demanded similar terms to those granted recently at Kapuskasing by the Spruce Falls Co. By the way it may be noted that the report of the men going out again on strike at Kapuskasing is not true, the mistake likely arising from the confusion of Smooth Rock Falls and Spruce Falls.

After the Smooth Rock Falls strike started the men in the Abitibi region out from Ansonville joined in the strike. These men left the camps and went in to Ansonville. The Smooth Rock Falls bushmen went in to Cochrane. At Cochrane there are three or four hundred men being cared for at two vacant hotel buildings in the town. These buildings have been fitted up temporarily for the men. They say they are pooling their resources to maintain the shelters, but as most of them are without resources, it seems that for food and other purposes they must be securing assistance from some other source. The men at Ansonville are being cared for on somewhat similar plan. Despite the large number of men thus gathered at Cochrane and Ansonville there has been no disorder and this is winning sympathy for the strikers. Some of the alien agitators have been busy underneath, it is said with the purpose of making trouble, but so far have not met with success. Others of the leaders of the alien element are trying to worm their way in so that they may get credit for the conduct of the strike if it succeeds. The men who led the men in the Kapuskasing strike is understood to be directing the men at Cochrane, and urging on them the necessity for keeping public sympathy by good conduct. He assures them that if they do they will win the strike on the merits of their case. A compromise offer of three to five cents per stick pulpwood is understood to be refused consideration by the strikers who insist on the 5c rate as the lowest possible to accept. The board rate is also requested to be reduced from 90 cents to 75 cents. A compromise proposal of 35¢ per month straight wages has been suggested, but the company has not yet shown desired change from the varying scale of $26.00 to $35.00. Although police from all over the district have been called to Smooth Rock Falls, Cochrane and Ansonville, there has been no approach to disorder, nor do the police think there will be any unless attempt is made to start strikebreakers at work. There are pickets out now around all the camps. At present the men are just quietly sitting tight.

During the past week there were four fire calls. Three of them were for chimney fires and the other to 83 Commercial avenue for an oil stove. In none of the four cases was there any damage done.

International Minstrels and the Haunted House

The promoters of the International Minstrels and the Haunted House, to be given in St. Anthony's parish hall on Nov. 30th, Dec. 1st and 2nd, under the auspices of St. John Ambulance Brigade, assert that the productions will have a special appeal to every type of theatre-goer. The cast of 40 people is said to be about the best ever gathered together in this part of the North. The Minstrels are described as of unusual interest and featuring laughter and wholesome fun. The show will bring back the old day in Dixieland with Mammy and her peckanins. There will be good singing, the most attractive of dancing and new and funny jokes that will keep the audience in a regular tearful state of laughter.

Following the Minstrels, there will be several vaudeville specialties and then the intensely interesting comedy, "The Haunted House." This is referred to as "that good old hokum knock-out comedy." Reference is made to the fact that in "The Haunted House" things go screwy with "Sambo." He got out of one jam and into two more. "It's a novel show" is one summary.

Both the "International Minstrels" and "The Haunted House" are directed and staged by Mrs. Helen Meyerhoff, and are being sponsored by the St. John Ambulance Brigade for three days and a Saturday matinee—Thursday, Nov. 30th and Friday and Saturday, Dec. 1st and 2nd.

It is pointed out by the promoters that the admission fee has been kept so low that nearly everybody will be able to attend and bring the whole family.

The show itself will be more than worth while. At the same time it should not be forgotten that the St. John Ambulance on its own merits and notable useful service to the town is deserving of the general support of all classes of people.

Free fuel has been struck from the relief list of the Sault Ste. Marie public welfare board. It is required that all recipients of relief must cut their own firewood or do without. This action was taken when it was found that 169 persons who had been issued cutting permits made no move to help themselves to this extent. Another hundred have entirely ignored the opportunity to secure fuel at the cost of their own labour, only.
