Commits Suicide

JIRO SATOH

one of the world's finest tennis players, and star of the Japanese Davis Cup team, who committed suicide by leaping overboard from the liner Hakone Maru, near Singapore. Satoh was captain of the Japanese team slated to meet Australia in the second round of the historic trophy at Wimbledon. Ill health was the reason given for the desperate act.

Timmins Musicians at the Mining Institute Meeting

That ever-interesting column, "Grab Samples", in The Northern Miner last week had the following in reference to the annual convention of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy held at Quebec City:—"Several unusual but pleasing features graced the entertainment programme at the C.I.M.M. meeting in Quebec City. It is probable that no more popular paper was ever presented than that which provided for several well-known Canadian prospectors indulging in reminiscences. The audience hall was crowded, hundreds deserting the more prosaic technical dissertations to listen to the men who have, in the past thirty years, put Canada on the mining map of the world. Speakers included men who have found rich ore deposits in Ontario, Manitoba, Quebec, Great Bear Lake, British Columbia and the Yukon.

One spectator, looking over the group of speakers, commented that there probably were not in Canada any equal number of men who had provided so much employment for their fellow Canadians or created so much new wealth. A picture elsewhere in this issue shows the group, whose mine finding exploits are well known.

Another unusual stunt was a representation of a drift face at Noranda with two Cornish miners preparing to blast off a round. For purposes of entertainment the pair indulged in considerable amusing conversation of a type which would find a safe environment at 2,000-ft. depth, say. The act was very much enjoyed.

"Lap Laprairie brought down three musicians from Timmins, one playing a piano accordion and the others singing. They were good and particularly rappy in their troubadour serenading here and there throughout the hotel, in the corridors, dining room or wherever any real encouragement was offered them."

TRANSFERS OF PROVINCIAL POLICE IN THE DISTRICT

Last week Provincial Officer W. Gill-ling, who had been at Halleybury headquarters for some months, was transferred to Kapuskasing, where he will take the place of Constable J. V. Conside, the latter being transferred to Cochrane. Constable S. V. McLelland, who was formerly stationed at Cochrane, has been transferred to the staff at headquarters at Halleybury.

Swastika Mine May be Reopened Near Future

Negotiations are at present under way which may mean an early re-opening of the Swastika Mine in the Kirkland Lake area. It is understood that one New York and two Toronto groups have made overtures with the objective of acquiring control of the property.

The Swastika mine, which is located a short distance from Swastika station on the T. & N. O. railway, is owned by Teck-Otto Gold Mines Ltd., and which in turn is controlled by F. L. Culver of Toronto. Teck-Otto is capitalized at 2,000,000 shares of $1 par value, of which 839,000 remain in the treasury.

This property is one of the pioneers of the area. It was worked a number of years ago, at which time a shaft was put down to 320 feet. Some lateral work was done at 35 feet depth, and about 3,000 feet of lateral work on the 100, 200 and 300-foot levels.

At one time a five-stamp mill was operated, and it is understood that a small production, about $4,000 or $5,000, was obtained.

Large Crowd Enjoys Excellent Concert

Recent Event in the Goldfields Theatre After Church Services Delighted Packed House. Many Notable Numbers Presented.

There was a concert of unusual excellence presented in the Goldfields theatre on Sunday evening, April 9th, under the auspices of "La Federation des Femmes Canadiennes-Francaises," and sponsored by Mrs. A. Allard.

There was a very large attendance, the house being filled to capacity and many being unable to gain admittance as the theatre was filled.

Rev. Fr. Theriault in his usual capable and pleasing way acted as master of ceremonies introducing the event and the various numbers on the excellent programme.

The concert opened with "God Save the King," after which the Northern Lights orchestra, under Uncle Art, presented pleasing instrumental numbers.

Miss Alice Lynch gave a solo that delighted all and an encore was demanded, the responding number being equally popular. Billy Brown played the accompaniment.

The popular singer, Miss Gaerle Larcher, with the accompaniment played by Mrs. Dave Larcher, won an instant encore, her second selection being equally well received.

Yohng Camille Sebastian in cowboy songs made a hit with the audience.

An outstanding number of interest and merit was the violin solo by Gene Colombo, with Jimmie Ormston at the piano.

The Northern Lights orchestra again pleased the gathering with selections, with dance and songs by Happy Hank. Solos by Miss Viola Roy, in both French and English, won very general approval and applause.

Misses Juliette and Jeanette Gauthier made pleasing impression with their vocal duets.

Then there were more good instrumental music by the Northern Lights. Little Miss Helen Spinks, aged 5 years, but a talented young artist, made a big hit in songs. The accompaniments for Helen were played by Uncle Art.

A song by Miss Jeannette Gauthier was heartily encored, the response being given by her sister, Miss Juliette, who won equal applause.

The popular pianist, Billy Brown, was encored on his presentation of a piano-forte solo, his second number also making a hit.

Operatic selections in both English and Italian were given in fine voice by Mr. Louis Pare and were much appreciated.

After more cowboy songs by Happy Hank, a very cleverly presented comedy was given, those in the cast including Messrs Bernier, Allard and G. Boucher. Mr. A. Allard is the author of this pleasing comedy act.

The event closed with the singing of "O, Canada."

SANDY MCINTYRE INTENDS TO TAKE IN RE-UNION HERE

(From The Northern News)

"Sandy" McIntyre, veteran prospector, and staker of the rich McIntyre Mine in the Porcupine camp, is getting ready to take in the Porcupine Old Boys Reunion at Timmins this summer.

"Sure, I'll be there," the old-timer said when queried over his plans.

The prospector, who is one of Kirkland's best known citizens, says that he is looking forward to the "get-together" at Porcupine with a great deal of anticipation, and that a number of his pals in the local camp (all Porcupine '98-ers) are planning to go along with him and relive the days of 25 years ago.

Fair Notice Given to the Dog Owners in Tisdale

Fair notice is being given this year to dog owners in the township of Tisdale. Chief of Police C. McInnis in a notice elsewhere in this issue calls attention to the effect that dog taxes for the year are now past due, and unless all pay promptly it will be necessary to prosecute under the township by-law.

In the case of court cases to collect the dog taxes, the costs of the court are added to the license fee, making it a costly affair. Chief McInnis advises all to pay the dog tax promptly without waiting until the township is forced to prosecute. "Pay your dog taxes now and save trouble and expense!" is the good advice given by Chief McInnis.

Yet More Claimants for Hudson Fortune

Sudbury Woman of 84 Years, Said to be Granddaughter of Dead Millionaire. "$150,000,000 and 150,000,000 Claimants."

Recently The Advance referred to claimants in the North for the Hudson fortune held in England for distribution at early date to claimants proving their case. The estate is said to total $150,000,000, while one Sudbury claimant suggests that there seem to be 150,000,000 descendants looking for the money. The estate to be distributed is that of James Hudson, one of the sons of one of the founders of the Hudson Bay Co. The money was made out of fur-trading activities. According to the stories told James Hudson married an Indian woman. She died from cholera and within five days of her death James Hudson also passed away. His children, it is said, were never educated in any way, but brought up in the bush.

Last week in referring to the claimants for the J. Hudson fortune held in England it was mentioned that heirs were reported from Sioux Lookout, Kenora, Port Arthur, Fort William, Sudbury and Vancouver, B.C. Last week a real heir was reported from Sudbury. This was Mrs. Sophie Tessier, aged 84, who is a granddaughter, it is said, of the famous James Hudson.

Ell Tessier, of Sudbury, is a son of Mrs. Sophie Tessier. He said last week that for over thirty years his mother has been trying to get part of the Hudson fortune, but now she is an invalid, unable to rise from her bed, and yet she still hopes for the fortune, the pot of gold at the end of the rainbow. Mrs. Tessier was spry and healthy until March 3rd, when she slipped on ice, and fractured a hip bone. She has been in bed since, and unable to walk.

Mrs. Tessier has six children, Ell Tessier, of Sudbury; Adelaide Tessier, of the Garson Road; Demos, with whom she is living on a farm at Sudbury Junction; Mrs. Joseph D'Armour of Sault Ste. Marie, Ont.; Mrs. Eugene Lauzon, somewhere in the province of Quebec, and Mrs. Dan McPhail, somewhere in Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Sophie Tessier's mother, it is claimed, was Mrs. Sarah Hudson Clouther, daughter of the James Hudson whose fortune is to be distributed in England.

Sudbury and other newspapers have been giving considerable space to the stories of the fortune and the heirs.

"Grandmother has often said that she could even find the grave of James Hudson, could she go to Renfrew. She often visited it with her mother," Mrs. Ell Tessier, stated. "She has often said that if she could only get what was coming to her, we would all be on an easy street. The estate is said to be worth $150,000,000, but there seem to be 150,000,000 relatives popping up to claim it. For my part, I would be satisfied with a few thousand—just enough to build our own home," she added.

Curlers at Liskeard Sit on Top of World

Interesting Account of How Some Good Sports Financed Building of Rink and Profited by Rise in Noranda Stock.

New Liskeard has a curling rink that is an outstanding credit to the North, and best of all, it is all paid for, and the curling club is "sitting on top of the world," as New Liskeard's own paper phrases it. The story of how all this came about is a most interesting one. The good sports at New Liskeard with their usual acumen picked a winner and backed it to the limit with the result that after a short time with some worry they are now "sitting pretty."

The whole story is told in interesting way in The New Liskeard Speaker last week as follows:—

"Just before the smash in the stock market, a few years ago, and at a time when things were booming, a bunch of enthusiastic curlers started out to build a rather elaborate curling rink in New Liskeard. All the boys "chipped in" what they could, but the amount was still considerably short of the sum required. However, through the generosity of a number, particularly Mr. Ed. Horne, one of the originals in the Noranda discovery, sufficient collateral was raised to undertake the building of the present substantial curling rink.

Through the undertaking a considerable amount of Noranda Mine stock came into the hands of the rink company, now known as The Horne Granite Club, and this stock, together with the personal backing of some twenty-four citizens, induced the Imperial Bank to supply the cash necessary. Unfortunately, Noranda stock went to very low prices and the stock which was expected to float the financing of the rink was not sufficient for that purpose.

"When the stock market was at this low ebb some of our citizens believed it was a mighty good time to buy Noranda stock and hold for a rise in prices. Seventeen of the most ardent curlers dipped down into their jeans for two hundred each for this purpose and a limited block of Noranda was secured at a moderately low figure.

"On Wednesday of this week all the stock held by the club was disposed of at 42 and a few cents, so that today the Horne Granite Club is sitting on the "top of the world," with a clean sheet and the original amounts advanced, together with interest, coming back to the seventeen citizens who put up the coin. This means that New Liskeard's twenty-four thousand, and then some, handsome six-sheet steel and brick curling structure is the property of the original shareholders, who should now receive a reasonable amount of interest on their investment.

"Our readers are also reminded that the splendid community skating rink—also the result of local enterprise—is away to the good with a clean balance sheet and a reasonable interest rate being paid its shareholders.

"In view of these circumstances the citizens of New Liskeard have every reason to be proud of the position they occupy in respect to winter sport, and we think the time is opportune for a gathering of the curlers to fittingly wind up a successful season, and at the same time to express the satisfaction everyone must feel at the successful putting over of the curling rink proposition.

"The erection of these two rinks has not been assisted by Governments of any kind, nor has the council had to give any undue assistance to the erection of either of them, while both buildings are an immense asset to the community. The successful completion of these two ventures stamps New Liskeard as a substantial community. Good work, boys."

Brother of Matt Boivin Passes Away at Sudbury

The death notice below refers to a brother of Matt Boivin, one of the pioneers of Timmins and the North, but in recent years residing at Bonfield and North Bay. In referring to the death of Joseph Boivin, a despatch last week from Sudbury says:—

"A pioneer resident of Sudbury, who at the age of 21 arrived in 1822 with the C. P. R. construction, Joseph Boivin, 73, died at his home, 133 Notre Dame St. Tuesday afternoon. Two years after he first saw Sudbury, he returned to his home in Bonfield and in 1888 married Miss Mathilda Lamotte in Mattawa. In 1898 they moved to Sudbury, residing here since. As a general contractor, Mr. Boivin supervised blasting operations for the installation of the municipal waterworks. While engaged at St. Ann's parish hall he was almost killed. Mr. Boivin was born in Mount St. Patrick, of Irish-French parentage. When five years of age he moved to Bonfield with his parents. About 25 years ago he was reeve of Neelon and Garson townships, holding the office for five years. Mr. Boivin is survived by his widow, three daughters, Miss Agnes Boivin, of Sudbury; Mrs. C. C. Edey, of Sudbury, and Miss Lorraine Boivin, of Rideau St. Convent, Ottawa; and four sons, Alderman W. J. Boivin, of Sudbury; Hilary Boivin, of Sudbury; Myles, of Buffalo and Wilfred, of Winnipeg. He is survived also by five brothers, Dennis and James, of Bonfield; Matt, of North Bay; Harvey, of Sexsmith, Alberta, and William, of Lestock, Saskatchewan, and five sisters, Mrs. Mary Acquin, of Sudbury; Mrs. Kate Legree, of Cobalt; Mrs. Jane Santerre, of Kapuskasing; Mrs. Adelaide Ethier, of Ottawa, and Mrs. Dillon Cahill, of Swastika. The funeral was held on Thursday morning with services in St. Ann's Roman Catholic Church and interment in the Roman Catholic Cemetery."

QUEEN'S UNIVERSITY HONOURS YOUNG ATHLETE OF COBALT

A despatch last week from Cobalt says:—"John Kostuk, of Cobalt, a graduate of the Cobalt high school, who, as snaphack of the Queen's University rugby team last fall, was picked as the outstanding performer in that position in Intercollegiate rugby, has been awarded the Jenkins trophy by the athletic board of control of that university. This is the highest athletic award in the college and is given only for outstanding athletic and scholastic ability. Besides being a tower of strength on the front line of the rugby team for three years, Kostuk has been a point winner in intercollegiate field events, being a shot putter of no mean ability. He had been previously nominated by his election to the captaincy of the rugby team for next year."

MATACHEWAN CONSOLIDATED COMPLETING POWER CONTRACT

The Northern Miner last week says: "Details of a power contract between Matatchewan Consolidated Gold Mines, Limited, and the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission are being completed. The Northern Miner understands, and signatures will likely be affixed within the next week. Initially, pending decision on a mill, the company's requirements will be of moderate extent. It is expected that power will be delivered to the property by May 1st. Recently a part of the old steam power plant was destroyed by fire and considerable electrical equipment has been purchased to replace it. Mining operations are proceeding on regular schedule, with no special developments reported."

Chinese Royalty Visits Canada

Crossing Canada as their fastest way of reaching the Orient to join an Imperial relative at his court, Princess Junho, her husband, T. K. Cheng, and their little baby are seen as they arrived in Halifax recently in the Canadian Pacific liner Duchess of Richmond. Princess Junho is the second sister of Emperor Kang Teh, the young man who as an infant was proclaimed Emperor of China and is now Emperor of Ta Manchu T'ikoo, the Manchurian state created by Japan. Little Ying Tsal, eighteen months old daughter of Princess Junho, was born in London, where her parents have lived in recent years. The princess and her husband both speak English perfectly, and are seen to be smartly attired in European clothes. Holding rosy-cheeked and pretty Ying Tsal is Miss Florence Killen, a stewardess in the Duchess of Richmond, who had care of the little girl during the voyage across the Atlantic. The party sailed from Victoria April 7 in the Empress of Canada.
