TEN YEARS AGO IN TIMMINS

From data in the Porcupine Advance Files.

One of the questions taken up at the Timmins board of trade ten years ago was that of the paving of the chief business blocks of the town. After discussing the matter the board of trade decided to approach the town council in the matter and this was done. As a result of the movement started by the board of trade it was not long before the main part of the town had paved streets to the general benefit. The need for a new bridge over Fulham Creek was another matter before the board of trade. The board of trade also asked the council to increase the transient trader's license fee from $75.00 to $100.00. Early closing by-law enforcement and a parking by-law were also discussed by the board of trade. Yet there are people who say that the board of trade never does anything.

The schedule of football matches for the P.D.F.L. contained no less than 72 matches for the season of 1924.

The Advance ten years ago noted that great progress had been made at the Night Hawk Peninsular Mine. The net results of A. R. Globe's efforts in thirty months had been to add another producer to the camp.

Recently there were some newspapers that seemed to fly into headlines because a man was arrested on a high-grade charge. What would they have done in 1924 when thirteen arrests were made in connection with high-grading? Two of the men were arrested in Toronto. One of them was a former resident of Timmins. The other eleven arrested were Timmins people, two of them being married women. They were arrested early in May and committed for trial at the June assizes. At the assizes one got six months, another three months, while one of the women was fined $1000.00 and the other allowed a suspended sentence, and the others fined from $250.00 to $2,000.00 each.

A party of some twenty students from Ohio State University visited Timmins and district ten years ago on a tour of the North. The purpose of the visit was to see the country and to study mining conditions.

Ten years ago the town council awarded the contract for the sewers and waterworks for the year to Messrs. Geo. and Howard McNamara, whose tender was considerably lower than any other submitted.

There were good fish stories ten years ago, with the actual fish to uphold the story. For instance, read the following from the Advance of May 7th, 1924:—"One of the biggest fish caught in the district recently was among the catch brought to town this week by Messrs. H. D. LaBarre and V. Clermont who captured the big fellow in a fishing trip to Hoyle on Monday. They brought their big catch to town Monday evening and it was placed on exhibition in the window of Chas. W. Pearce and Sons where it naturally attracted much attention, and roused much telling of fish stories; they produced the evidence; an exhibit that tells its own story. Any fisherman who can beat it these days hereabout will kindly produce the evidence. It is fish that count."

The Advance ten years ago said:—"Very sincere sympathy will be extended to Mr. and Mrs. R. Dawson, of Schumacher, in the sad death of their young son, Arthur. Death was due to heart trouble. The lad, who was ten years old at the time of death, passed away on Monday. The funeral took place on Wednesday, service being conducted at the R. C. church. The boy was a bright and popular young fellow, very well liked by all who knew him. The Wolf Cubs (Boy Scouts) attended the funeral in a body, Arthur being a valued member of the Cubs."

While there may not have been any crooks in town ten years ago there were some who had queer ideas about prizes and so on. For instance here is a true and faithful story from the Advance of May 7th, 1924:—"Last week the Goldfields Drug Stores announced the lucky numbers for the five gifts of $20.00 each in gold to customers, the winning numbers being put on the screen. One of the lucky numbers was 146, and the next day a ticket was presented at the store. A casual glance showed it to be 146 and the prize was promptly paid out. Later in the day another customer came along with ticket 146. This was undoubtedly 146, and close inspection showed that the previous ticket had been 1146, but the first "1" in the number had been erased until it looked like 146 unless inspected closely. This new way of being lucky, however, did not work permanently and the holder of 1146 was searched for and asked to return the $20.00, whether he returned the 1900 to the ticket or not."

The following is from the Advance of May 7th, 1924:—"At 6:20 this (Wednesday) morning the firemen had a call to Mr. Tallon's, 113 Elm street. The fire had a good start before it was discovered, and was going strong when the brigade arrived, though the usual prompt response was made to the call. It was necessary to put two streams of water on the blaze. The damage to the house and contents will be between $700.00 and $800.00, the interior of the building being more or less burned downstairs. The fire was allowed to make no progress after the brigade arrived and it was soon extinguished altogether. The fire apparently started in the partition where there was a stove pipe thimble in the wall."

The Advance ten years ago said:—"The inquest held in the death of Mr. Wilfred McQuarrie, who died last week following an accident at the Hollinger mine, resulted in a verdict of accidental death, with no blame attached to anyone. The jury heard a number of witnesses, visited the scene of the accident and generally made careful inquiry into the matter. The late Mr. McQuarrie, while at work at the mine in one of the stopes, was buried for a time by the sudden sliding down of some broken ore in the stope. When dug out, he was without any broken bones or serious external injuries, but was suffering from shock and internal injuries. Despite hospital care and medical skill he passed away a few days after the accident. After careful enquiry the jury decided that no blame attached to anyone, and the verdict was "accidental death."

Among the local and personal items in The Advance ten years ago were the following:—"Mr. W. S. Macpherson, town assessor, is busy this week assessing Rochester townsite, now part of the town. This is the first time that the town has assessed this townsite." "Mr. Mac Lang, M.P.P., is in town today." "A local baseball league has been organized this year to include Porcupine, Ramore, Val Gagne, Matheson and Blue Quartz Mine. These smaller centres are said to possess some excellent baseball talent, and they are looking forward this summer to a good season of ball." "Mr. A. W. Pickering spent the week-end in Cochrane." "Mr. Frank McGuire is expected home here from Cleveland on a visit to-morrow evening." "Mr. George Corrigan is one of the contractors on the new branch railway line into Lorrain." "Mr. Geo. Caldwell, Sheriff of Transjamban district, was up from Haliburton on a visit to his son, Mr. S. A. Caldwell, barrister, Timmins." "The new court house at Haliburton is now nearly ready for occupation. It is understood that the June Court session will be held in the new building."

"Col. Bishop, V.C., the famous air pilot, was among the distinguished guests to Timmins last Thursday." "Mrs. A. J. Courtemanche returned on Monday night from a month's visit to the South." "Messrs. Teddy Bowles and Frank Carlin left this week on a visit to Montreal." "Dr. George, District Medical Health Officer, was recently called to Island Falls, north of Cochrane, it being reported that there was a case of small-pox at that point. Fortunately, the report proved false, the health of Island Falls proving free from contagious disease." "All greatly regretted the serious illness last week of Mr. J. T. Easton, and will be delighted to know that he is now well on the way to recovery again. Mr. Easton had some teeth extracted some days ago and the extraction was followed by hemorrhages that for some time threatened to be very serious in effect. Mr. Easton now, however, is making the best recovery, and all will soon be pleased to see him around again as usual." "Capt. Cornthwaite, of Timmins S.A., reports the Self-Denial fund as making good progress in town. The response to the appeal for funds to carry on the special work of the S.A. is very encouraging and it is expected that the campaign will be successful, the people usually giving generous support to the S.A. work." "Many friends here will greatly regret to learn that specialists in Toronto have found that Mr. W. A. Ogilvie, who went to the city recently for treatment, is suffering from cancer. Mr. Ogilvie is one of the well-known and respected pioneer prospectors of the North Land, and there will be general regret at his illness. He is now taking treatment at St. Michael's Hospital, in Toronto." "J. Christian, golf pro., arrived in Timmins on Friday last from Marshall, Texas. Mr. Christian was pro. for Marshall Golf and Country Club for the past winter. Last summer he was assistant pro. at Glendale Golf Club, near Hamilton, Ont., a post he also held three previous years. Mr. Christian has a high reputation in his line, and is taking up the work here with enthusiasm."

Undaunted by their difficult trip through the Temagami Reserve from North Bay to New Liskeard, Richard Wilton and Edward Wall, formerly of Welland, arrived at New Liskeard last week with their team of horses and wagon loaded with farm implements, ready to begin work in their new land in Brethour Township. Leaving North Bay the party, including a four-months-old police dog, arrived at New Liskeard in fine fettle, although weary from the long trek through the reserve, where the roads are as yet anything but good.

Mr. Wilton seemed confident that their new venture to Northern Ontario would be successful. Prices for farm products are better up here than down below while taxes are only half, he explained.

"Soon as we get settled and our home built we will send for our families," related Mr. Wall, who was limping on his left foot. One of the horses had stepped on it in Cobalt and it was causing considerable pain. Both men seemed quite enthused with the country and expressed a determination to make good if their luck held out.

Timmins Fair to be Old-Time Re-Union

Work of Decorating Interior of Arena Almost Completed. Official Opening on May 23rd. Ministers of Mines to be Here.

The work of decorating the inside of the arena for the big Mines-Manufacturers-Merchants fair, May 23rd to June 8th, to celebrate the discovery of the Porcupine gold mines, is almost completed. Anyone visiting the arena will be amazed at the difference made by the skilful use of paint, cloth and decorative material.

The official opening on May 23rd by Hon. Chas. McCrea, Minister of Mines for Ontario, and Hon. J. B. Perrault, Quebec Minister of Mines, will start the ball rolling for the greatest celebration of the North Country.

This celebration is going to be a real Porcupine "nineteen-hundred-and-niners" re-union. "Sandy" McIntyre, now a well-known citizen of Kirkland Lake, who staked the now famous McIntyre Mine, promises to return here for the celebration, together with many other original prospectors and citizens of the Porcupine camp. With all these old Porcupiners returning the celebration will be the greatest renewing of friendship that flourished in the pioneer days of the camp. A special day for the meeting of old friends has been set for Monday, May 28th.

Each day of the fair promises something new. While part of the visitors will marvel at the interesting and educational exhibits by mines and manufacturers the housewives of the district will find special interest in Mrs. Jones' Cooking and Domestic Science School, baking and handicrafts exhibits and the free samples that will be given away for their benefit.

The "What's Your Hobby?" show will bring out many interesting pastimes of both adults and children of the district.

The baby show will present hundreds of charming youngsters to compete for the beautiful prizes.

The beauty show will keep the judges on their toes to pick out the winners from the many beautiful contestants.

The miners and lumberjacks will have their special day, taking active part in keen competitions, with many visitors to give them a "run for their money."

There are many other notable features, among which may be mentioned the sensational aerial trapeze performers, side shows, twin ferris wheels, chairplane, merry-go-round, clowns, freaks, and the great and puzzling painting, "The Shadow of the Cross."

Tuesday night two baggage cars are expected to arrive here with all the amusement features. As soon as these arrive the amusements will be put up.

No one can afford to miss this 25th anniversary celebration which is being made with the interest and pleasure of all the people of the Porcupine and surrounding area in mind. The idea is to give all a time that will live long in memory.

If you haven't already entered your name for any of the competitions, do so now. Remember, there are only two more weeks before this big fair.

Mines Pooling Results of Geological Studies

Most of the great mines of this and other lands have begun their careers as small mines, and it always is the hope of those who take hold of a mine to develop it that it will turn out to be one of the big ones. Nevertheless the small mine is often profitable and produces what is really a large amount of new wealth, even though it may be dwarfed into insignificance by a huge neighbour.

A case in point is the Vipond Consolidated mine in Porcupine, Ontario, Hollinger's neighbour on the south-west side. Vipond has produced to date $10,000,000 in gold—less than Hollinger's output in a single year, but still a very substantial amount of new wealth. The output of Vipond is now on the wane, due to the failure during recent years to find large, new deposits of ore; but in spite of this fact, it is likely to produce several millions more in gold.

One of the principal means nowadays of locating new deposits of ore in an old mine is to conduct geological studies of the surface rocks and of the underground workings and thereby disclose all the clues that can be followed in the search for ore. The Vipond management employed E. Y. Dougherty, mining engineer and geologist of Anglo-Huronian Ltd., for this purpose in 1930. The data collected by Mr. Dougherty then and subsequently have now been made available for public use in the May Bulletin of the Canadian Institute of Mining and Metallurgy. This information has already been of use to the Vipond management in their search for ore, and it may similarly be of use in other mines with similar geological problems to solve. This pooling of knowledge gained by the engineers and geologists is typical of the modern mining industry.
