More Than a Re-Union

The main topic of conversation of returned men to-day, is not as some would think, "When is the beverage room going to open?" or similar talk, but "Are you going to make the trip to Toronto?" Everyone in Timmins spoken to on the subject states if they can get away from work or business they are certainly going to make the trip. As one put it, "It's a pilgrimage, not a re-union." It is something more than that if one studies the event from all angles. At the present time in Ontario a certain group of men are on a trek to Toronto, supposedly on a hunger march. They intend to place certain demands before the Government. The new Ontario government has made things easy for them to enter Toronto, having secured a hold on the police commission of that city. The demands as made public are ridiculous, and show in very striking manner to be of communistic origin. The leaders of the "hunger march of well-fed men" are known to be radicals of the bitterest kind, yet Toronto city officials and citizens have to stand to one side and let them pass. In any event it will only be one scene of the centennial celebration. Several scenes of this great event have already been played: the Empire Day event, the Dominion Day event, the opening of the Old Fort with its historic value to future education, civic parades, with splendid decorated floats, massed bands and choirs; all these have been just part of the play. Now comes the motley, those who wish to defy law and order—just another scene. But what is to follow? On August 4th, 5th, 6th and 7th, Toronto will witness a scene unparalleled in Canadian history, approximately 35,000 to 40,000 men, showing in no uncertain manner their loyalty to the flag and the British Empire. Perhaps in the arranging of this Canadian Corps re-union the patriotic value was overlooked by those planning the event. Nevertheless from near and far the thousands come, heeding the call to live for a few days in the atmosphere which bonded the Empire so close together. What an inspiring sight it will be to watch these men in line of march; the bands of the old battalions together again; but instead of marching to war these veterans in their thousands will be parading to pay their homage to those who cannot be with them. Many a lump will come in the throats of these men, when the solemn tribute is paid at the Cenotaph of Toronto. The younger generation will get a thrill watching the passing of these veterans, whose very presence marks a spot in the history of this Dominion never to be erased. "August 5th, 1934, 30,000 veterans of the Great War, 1914-1918, gathered at Toronto to show their loyalty to the Empire and pay fitting tribute to comrades gone before." In words to that effect will history repeat this big event. What a contrast! A few dissatisfied foreigners marching to make demands upon the government; then the vast army of patriotic citizens marching to say in no uncertain manner:—"We are ready again to help if our services be needed." Sure we're all going to Toronto if we can make the trip! Hats off to those who can make it! And Three Cheers for the Canadian Corps and all that it means in its Re-Union of today.

No News is Good News

Just before closing my weekly letter, I enquired if there was any news in regard to the clubhouse. I was told that the committee is progressing very favourably, but there was nothing to report as yet. The branch is assured of the necessary money, and as soon as plans are prepared, the building will be proceeded with. The committee is a very strong one and the members of the committee are doing a very thorough job. So the old saying, "No News is Good News" looks very promising in this case.

Don't Forget the Picnic

Training has not yet commenced for the softball team, so many of the lads persisting for the re-union in Toronto at the present time. Perhaps after witnessing the Corps sports the boys will steal some pointers and come back with the habit and the next thing we will hear is that they have been arrested for stealing bases. The writer has his doubts about being able to get away with much of this as Cochrane is the home of the provincial police in this district and they'll be on the watch for this kind of thing from the Timmins squad. Never mind! Cochrane issued the challenge and Timmins will be up to all kinds of tricks to beat them at their own game. One member has been seen wielding a club these past evenings, but that is as far as he got—wielding! Will he make a hit on Sunday, August 26th? is the question of the hour. If there are any ladies present he certainly will! He always does! Guess who!

A Few Figures

We all like once in a while to go out of our way to quote statistics, especially the secretary of the Timmins branch of the Canadian Legion, W. D. Forrester. Ask Bill how much lumber you need to fix up for a bazaar or a stage and in a jiffy you have it all in board feet. Again ask him how many members the branch has on its roll and you have an answer similar to this:—"Well, there are 180 fully-paid up, about 50 who are down a quarter or two. There are some who want a little shaking-up but their dues are good. Then there are those we pay per capita for about 20. But still there are a lot who should be in the branch." Yes, Bill, you are right on the latter sentence. The Branch at present stands high in per capita membership of the Legion. Those slightly in arrears always pay when finances permit. The membership stands at around the 300

Great Service Unwittingly Rendered Rouyn by Reds

Word from Rouyn and Noranda shows that the red element there has unwittingly and without intention actually performed a notable service for the white people of the district. As a result of the recent senseless strike at the Noranda Mines the industry decided to drop all foreign agitators from the payrolls and to give preference hereafter to Canadian and other British born. As a result of this policy the number of foreign-born workers at the Noranda mines is reduced from 50 to 25 per cent. Canadians are now greatly in the majority. There is an especially large increase reported in the number of French-Canadians on the company's payroll. The Rouyn-Noranda Press last week published figures and comparisons that are of interest. Before the abortive strike engineered by the communists, over 50 per cent. of the workers were of foreign birth. Now the foreign-born employees are slightly over 25 per cent. Before the strike less than 50 per cent. of the company's employees were native-born Canadian, British or American. Now 75 per cent. of the employees are in these classifications. French-Canadians totalled only 188 before the strike, and 450 now. The English-speaking Canadians before the strike numbered 416, while now they are 544. Before the strike there were 354 naturalized Canadians while now there are only 195. There are also the following notable decreases in unnaturalized foreigners:—Jugo-Slavs, from 149 to 43; Czechos-Slavs, from 39 to 17; Ukrainians, Polish, Russians, from 91 to 54; Austrians, from 10 to 4; Serbians from 5 to 2; Finns, from 35 to 9; Swedes, from 15 to 7.

Kirkland's Grand Stand Credited to the Circus

Kirkland Lake is building a grandstand that will seat 150 people at the ball park at the Lake Shore town. It is expected that the construction will be completed in time to be in use for the game to-morrow (Friday) night between McIntyre and Kirkland Lake in the Temiskaming Baseball League schedule game. This grandstand will no doubt help along the gate receipts at the Kirkland Lake grounds. With the new grandstand there will be seats for about 500 people at ball games. The credit for the new grandstand is given to the circus recently at Kirkland Lake. This circus was the same one that visited Timmins on July 14th. The Teck township council charged the circus $500.00 license fee which was promptly paid by the Al. G. Barnes Circus Co. Councillor Norman Mortson at once handed over the $500.00 to pay on work to improve the ball park.
