

NATION'S HONOR CARTIER'S MEMORY

Jacques Cartier, the Columbus of Canada, and the small band of hardy Frenchmen who came after him to carry civilization across the Dominion and into the Great Lakes and the Mississippi Valley sections of the United States, are being honoured in Quebec this summer in a series of celebrations. Chief interest is being focussed on the four hundredth anniversary of the French navigator's landing in Canada in 1534. Major observances are being held at Three Rivers, which is also marking the three hundredth anniversary of its founding. Above is a picture of one of the floats in a recent celebration while inset is a picture of the famous navigator.

Fined for Failing to Give Assistance

Motorist who Drove on After Accident Pays Fine, though he Returned Later to Scene. Other Cases at Police Court.

A case of special interest at police court this week was that of Omer Beauchamp who was charged with failing to give assistance to an injured person at an accident which he was connected. The evidence showed that although he returned to the scene of the accident he did not do so until after he had been called back by some people nearby and he had done nothing to help the injured girl until after the police arrived on the scene. The accused on Thursday evening, Aug. 9th, struck a bicycle on Hollinger Lane, the bicycle rider being Frank Mignault, who was taking home to the Shelter a girl who was not able to walk on account of running a silver into her foot while returning from swimming at the river. The lad on the white escaped any serious injury, though cut and bruised somewhat. The girl was thrown a considerable distance and sustained a deep cut on one leg as well as minor cuts and bruises. The evidence showed that the car went on after the accident and others nearby had to attend to the injured girl. A gentleman living nearby followed the car calling on the driver to stop and the car eventually stopped and return was made to the scene of the accident.

Great Influence of Weekly Newspapers

Importance of the Weekly Stressed at Annual Meeting at Montreal Last Week by Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association.

The 15th annual convention of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association was held at Mount Royal Hotel, Montreal, on Thursday, Friday and Saturday of last week. Among those in attendance was Geo. Lake, publisher of The Porcupine Advance, and there were other representatives present from the North. At the opening session on Thursday, the potential influence for good wielded throughout the country by the weekly newspaper, the close touch with the people enjoyed by the weekly, the freedom of weekly newspapers from political and other influences that might be subversive, and the improved standards the weekly newspapers have attained in recent years, were among the special points stressed. Tribute was paid to the men who founded the Canadian Press Association 75 years ago, this being the start of the Canadian Weekly Newspaper Association. Welcoming the delegates who came from every province of the Dominion Mayor Houde, of Montreal, pointed out the influential part taken by the weekly newspapers in the life of the country. The dailies might be more widely read, but they were not always free to speak their mind on political and economic questions. The weekly newspaper editor had more time for the consideration of questions, the mayor said, and he was in closer touch with all the people of his community. This was especially important at the present time, Mayor Houde said. In his presidential address, Charles Clarke, of The High River Times, Alberta, spoke of the way the weekly newspapers had survived the depression, their prestige being higher than ever. They had maintained their independence and had thus continued to wield a powerful influence in the community. David Williams, of The Enterprise-Bulletin, Collingwood, gave a most interesting address on the history of Canadian newspaperdom. The first president of the Canadian Press Association (75 years ago) was W. Gillespie, of Hamilton, and the first secretary, Thomas Sellar, of Montreal Echo, uncle of Adam Sellar, of Huntingdon Glenear and vice-president of the C.W.N.A. "Display Advertising and Typography" was a paper presented by H. A. Nicholson, editor of Printer and Publisher, who illustrated various forms of advertising layout, analysing their good and bad qualities. R. Schurman, of Montreal, gave a helpful paper on newspaper office accounting. The ladies of the party were taken sight-seeing in the afternoon by courtesy of the members of the Montreal Advertising Club and were joined by the men delegates later at a garden party held at "My Mother's Home," the Dorchester street residence of the late Lord Strathcona, now maintained by Lord Atholstan for elderly ladies in reduced circumstances. The guests were received by Mr. and Mrs. Carman, representing Lord Atholstan, and S. Morgan-Powell welcomed them. There were none who could play a more vital part than they, who were guides, advisers, mentors of public opinion throughout the Dominion, he said. For it was largely to them that the people of Canada turned for advice, and upon their guidance placed great reliance. Adam L. Sellar, of Huntingdon, replied at the conclusion of the afternoon, after the guests had inspected the magnificent residence and had been entertained to tea, saying that it was fitting that the man who had been longest identified with the newspaper business in Canada should take pleasure in entertaining them. Later in the evening the delegates attended a supper dance at the Mount Royal Hotel. On Friday there were further addresses on technical and professional subjects. There was also a luncheon at which the speaker was Hon. R. F. Stockwell, provincial treasurer, of Quebec. In the evening there was a theatre party as the guests of Hon. Smeaton White, president of The Gazette Printing Co. Friday afternoon officers for the ensuing year were elected as follows:— Immediate past president, C. Barber, High River, Alberta; president, Adam L. Sellar, Huntingdon, Que.; first vice-president, C. A. Barker, Chilliwack, B.C.; second vice-president, L. J. Bennett, Carleton Place, Ont.; directors: Marlton, C. R. Davis, Sussex, N.B.; A. C. Barnett, Curling, Newfoundland; Quebec, R. S. Giles, Lacute; T. D. Rioux, Drummondville, Ontario; George James, Bowmanville; Percy Lancaster, Havelock; C. V. Charters, Brampton; George Lake, Timmins; Manitoba, W. V. Udall, Voiseman; H. B. Munro, Swan River; Saskatchewan; S. J. Dorman, Alameda; W. Ashfield, Grenfell; Andrew King, Rouleau; Alberta, Fred Turnbull, Red Deer; H. T. Halliwell, Coleman; British Columbia, R. E. White, Kamloops; W. S. Harris, Vernon.

Among the resolutions presented by Hugh Tantlin, of Fergus, Ont., chairman of the resolutions committee, was one proposed by W. S. Harris, of Vernon, B.C., in which the association protested against the subsidized competition in advertising, of radio stations which benefit from subsidies, Government programmes, and other Government help through the Radio Commission; and calling upon the directors of the association to wait on members of the Dominion cabinet and of the Radio Commission and point out to them the unfairness of this competition. A resolution not sponsored by the Resolutions Committee, but introduced by Andrew King of the Rouleau Enterprise, and W. Ashfield of the Grenfell Sun, both in Saskatchewan, drew attention to "undue detail publicity given to litigation involving marital relations and sexual intrigue," and resolved "that the C.W.N.A. disapprove of this innovation, in the world of journalism as being opposed to the best tradition of the press and a menace to the moral well-being of our citizens of the Dominion of Canada."

Band Concert This (Thursday) Evening If Weather Unfavourable To-Night the Event will be held at the Spruce Street Bandstand To-Morrow (Friday) Evening. Bandmaster F. J. Wolno announces that the Timmins Citizens' Band will give another open air band concert at the bandstand in the Spruce street park this (Thursday) evening. In case the weather this evening is not favourable—and that is quite a possibility—the event will be given to-morrow (Friday) evening. And if to-morrow night has bad weather? Why then another postponement will be necessary. The band concert, however, when it is held—to-night, to-morrow night, or some other night—will prove of much interest and attraction to all music-lovers and all others who enjoy well-played band music. The band under Mr. Wolno's direction will play a number of selections and the general public as usual will be well pleased with the band. The last band concert (on Thursday evening of last week) drew a large crowd and all enjoyed the excellent programme.

Talking About Coal at T. & N. O. Enquiry

Enquiry Made as to Prices of Different Types of Coal. Messrs Martin and McLaren Also to Appear Before Commissioner.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a resume of the proceedings and evidence at the government enquiry into T. & N. O. affairs up to the time that Commissioner Racine who is conducting the enquiry left for Moosonee. Then in another column will be found a report of the trip to Moosonee and return with the evidence taken in connection with Moosonee matters. On Tuesday after the return trip from Moosonee the enquiry resumed its work of investigation. Bonuses were given to office employees of the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway "to try and keep peace in the family." George W. Lee, railway chairman told the inquiry conducted by Armand Racine, Windsor barrister, into the road's affairs.

Those Thought Deserving "There was always an impression in the staff offices," said Mr. Lee, "that these office executives and employees were not as well paid as the highly organized employes on the road." "There was an attempt by the unions to organize the clerical staff, he added. The bonuses were given to "those I thought deserved them," witness declared. W. H. Maund, T. and N. O. secretary-treasurer, the first witness called at Tuesday's hearing was instructed to prepare a statement on T. & N. O. pensions and superannuations. The railway spends about $600,000 annually for coal. Purchasing Agent Alford testified. Purchase of coal was one of the largest items in the affairs of the railroad. Prices and quality were primary considerations. Efforts to secure from A. B. Odjum, assistant treasurer of the line, information concerning the movements of the private cars Whitney and Temagami were unavailing. Mr. Odjum, who said he had been with the company for 22 years, had never heard of "logs" on the movements of private cars. He could not give the commissioner any help in tracing their movements. Discuss Ontario's Tender In the course of the coal-buying phase of the inquiry, Mr. Alford was questioned closely concerning a tender of the Valley Camp Coal Company, of Port Colborne, Ont., which had been rejected on his recommendation. The purchasing agent said he took exception to "qualifying words" in the Valley Camp contract. However, coal previously had been purchased from the same company, he said. The T. and N. O. purchased coal from the Weaver Coal Company of West Virginia, but Alford said the road would have saved $6,500 by accepting the Valley Camp tender, which was $6.36 1-2 per ton. The F. B. Weaver tender was $6.43. Chairman's Lee's colleagues, Lieut.-Col. L. T. Martin, Ottawa, and Col. McLaren, Hamilton, will be called, Mr. Racine announced. There is a peculiar sound to the following item published last week in a Northern newspaper:—"At the last meeting of the Liberal Association in Watabeag, W. J. Lennox was the choice for the position of local foreman of road work in Carr township."

Canada Dainty Dish TO SET BEFORE THE KING The following is an excerpt from an Edinburgh paper at the time of a visit to Scotland by King George and Queen Mary. "An urgent message was received by an Edinburgh firm the other evening. It requested that a packet of Kellogg's Corn Flakes be sent to the Palace of Holyroodhouse. It had to reach the palace before 7 o'clock, the following morning. "At midnight, a wholesale house had to be opened up and the packet was dispatched to the palace by taxi. "Holyroodhouse" is the official residence of the King and Queen while in Scotland. Sudbury Star:—The office flapper says it always makes her shudder to think of gorilla warfare.
