High School Rugby Beats Cochrane Lads

Timmins Rugby Lads have an Easy Win Over Cochrane Here on Saturday. Chisholm Scores Three Touches.

Out-classing the Cochrane team every possible way, the Timmins High School scored a smashing 22-5 victory over Cochrane here last Saturday. The victory was their second in as many games. Lloyd Chisholm was again the outstanding player, scoring three touches in the first half.

Shortly after the game started Chisholm got away for a sixty-yard run to give Timmins the lead with a converted goal. Frank Everard, who had taken over the punting duties in place of Finkleman, who had been hurt, scored the next point when he booted one over.

Half way through the second quarter, Chisholm scored another touch and soon afterwards scored his third to give Timmins a 17-0 lead.

Fasano, Cochrane quarter, scored a touch early in the fourth quarter to give Cochrane their only five points.

Frank Everard added another touch to the Timmins total in the dying minutes of the game, to make the final score 22-5.

Fasano, supposed to be a very good player didn't show up so well here as several others of his team-mates. F. Konopelky and Stevens were the most promising-looking on the Cochrane team, while the Timmins team started Wadsworth Wins His First Match as Pro.

Len has Easy Time with "Kid" Williams, formerly of Kirkland Lake. Lando and Frenchy Morris Also Winners.

Len Wadsworth, fighting his first professional fight as well as his first fight here since winning the middleweight championship of Canada, easily defeated the much-touted "Kid" Williams, of Toronto, and formerly of Kirkland Lake, at the skating rink last Friday night. Wadsworth decided to join the professional ranks here after finding that there were no men to give him any competition in the Canadian amateur middleweights. After a slow start, Wadsworth opened up in the second round and counted steadily until the fight was stopped at the end of the fifth. Williams threw in the sponge after a doctor pronounced his hand either broken or badly sprained.

Lando, the stocky little Italian battler, won on a decision from the clowning Perry. The decision was not well-received by the crowd who thought that Perry had a distinct edge. Lando was out-weighted by ten pounds but kept right in the fight and got the unanimous nod from the judges.

"Frenchy" Morris was right back in his old form, as he defeated Alfie Johnson, local coloured fighter. Morris' decided improvement over his last appearance here was decidedly noticed.

The card was under the promotion of Jack Weir.

Kapuskasing Farm Weekly News Letter

Another Letter in the Series of Weekly Articles from the Dominion Experimental Farm at Kapuskasing.

The following article from the Dominion Experimental Farm at Kapuskasing is one of the regular series of weekly letters for readers of The Advance. It should be of special interest to readers among the settlers in the district:

The Value of Farm Manure
Doctor Frank T. Shutt, former Dominion Chemist, in his bulletin No. 145, New Series "Manures and Fertilizers" says:

"Farm manures constitute the most valuable by-product on the farm and should be regarded as such in their care and employment. Their application to the soil returns a large proportion of the plant food removed by crops and more especially the essential elements of fertility—nitrogen, phosphoric acid, and potash, in forms more or less readily available for plant growth. They furnish much humus-forming material and thereby improve the tilth of both light and heavy loams. Further they inoculate the soil with bacterial life the function of which is to attack the inert potential stores of plant food in the soil, converting them into forms available for crop use."

With the idea of determining to what extent the crops would respond to the application of manure when applied in a regular rotation, and consequently its relative value, the Kapuskasing Experimental Station has started an experiment in 1925 which consisted of two four-year rotations, as follows: Oats, barley, clover hay and timothy hay. One received each year 16 tons of manure divided into two applications, 8 tons applied to the barley crop, and 8 tons to the timothy crop. The other rotation received no manure nor fertilizer of any kind. Over a period of nine years, the oat crop from the rotation receiving the application of manure yielded 47.1 per cent; barley 42.5 per cent; clover hay 74.7 per cent; timothy hay, 116.1 per cent, respectively over the one receiving no manure. When the increase for the above crops are valued at market prices, the return value for the manure applied would come to $1.66 per ton.

Too great emphasis cannot be laid upon the necessity of caring for manures until they are spread on the land. All the urine should be saved by having tight floors to prevent seepage and by using sufficient litter to completely absorb it. Excessive fermentation should be prevented by keeping the manure heap reasonably moist and compact. To prevent leakage from the heavy rains, the manure should be stored in a shed with a cement or puddled clay bottom and to prevent seepage of the liquid portion, sufficient material such as straw, peat, etc., should be used to soak up the drainage.

Economy Scheme Did Not Work Right in This Case

(From North Bay Nugget)
Deer, moose and partridge hunters won't be allowed to roam and cavort at will, after all.

Hon. H. C. Nixon and his deputy, D. J. Taylor, have decided that overseers will be necessary. No doubt, they heeded the uproar raised in all corners of Northern Ontario when game and fish guardians were dismissed as an economy move. They had planned to divert $50,000 so expended to propagation efforts.

Coincident with the opening of the deer and moose season, announcements were made of the appointment of overseers in various parts of the North. Two were assigned to this district, the same number as released. So it wasn't an economy move after all. Messrs Nixon and Taylor were a little more polished in making changes in their department than were directors of other branches of government. Anyway, we have overseers instead of economy.

Mr. R. Gordon, of Toronto, is visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. Orr, 155 Birch street, south.

News and Notes of Timmins Girl Guides

Exhibits in Orner of Bluebell Patrol. Mrs. Tomney and Capt. Smith Pay Visit to Timmins Girl Guides.

(By M. Everard)
A very proud Bluebell patrol pinned up the well-coveted banner in their patrol corner. They hope to be its possessor for the future. I hope so, too, Bluebells!

The patrol also had a particularly interesting corner, which contained a splendid first aid kit made by Dorothy and Cecile Habb, a fine sewing kit made by Anisic and Hannah Assad and a nature scrap book.

TESTS—Four guides passed the useful article test, all from the Bluebell patrol. They were Cecile and Dorothy Habb, Hannah and Anisic Assad.

Fhyllis McCoy and Jean Baker passed their bed-making.

Mrs. Tomney, accompanied by Capt. Smith, visited Timmins on Wednesday. She commented on the good work of the Timmins Guides and encouraged more Baby work.

One of the Guides suggested a Halloween party and it was approved most hilariously by the Guides, so readers, don't be too surprised if you see goblins and witches floating around Central school next week.

as a whole, although Lloyd Chisholm and Frank Everard were perhaps a little better-looking than the rest of the team.

The line-ups were:—Cochrane—Snap Hurd; insides, Day and Hancock; middles, Moni and F. Konopelky; outsides, Zuch and Patapchuk; quarter, Fasano; halves, Penny, Pickering and Stevens; flying wing, Bulik; alternates, Pim, A. Konopelky, Fink, A. Bulik, Stapps and Carri.

Timmins—Snap, Beaulne; insides, McPhail and Barliko; middles, M. Everard and Craft; ends, Andruchuck, Beredini; halves, F. Everard, Finkleman and Chisholm; quarter, Mitchell; flying wing, McKenna; alternates, Millette, Denisovitch, Villeneuve and Saue.

Referee—Bobby McKelvie.

Twenty-five Years Ago in the Porcupine Camp

"At the present time there's a big gold rush out at Long Lac and one at Sturgeon," writes Harry Preston, old-timer of the North. "Just twenty-five years ago," he continues, "the Porcupine rush started in full swing about the middle of October, when Hollinger and McIntyre were being staked. The weather was very much like the present time. Anyway, a big thunderstorm occurred, and after it passed over, I went on a moose hunt and discovered a second large body of quartz but my boss would not stake it. That is the Clifton Mine to-day, and it was staked by others two days after I wanted my boss to stake it."

New Liskeard—Violet Moore, Marie Ward. It will be noted by any seeing the full list that while some of the larger centres like Fort William, North Bay, etc., have from fifteen to twenty-five in attendance, other large places, like Sudbury have only half a dozen or so, while Kirkland Lake, Timmins, Schumacher, have only one each. On the other hand centres like South River, Rainy River, etc., have eight or ten each. Mail and Empire—Indians are said to know where other gold mines are to be found in the North, but remain silent fearing a curse. If they keep on being silent they will learn what real cursing is.
