Address by Queen's Principal at the H. S.

 the fact that the prime purpose of education is to build the best citizenship. Mr. Scott presented the Dr. Honey prizes for notable progress in studies during the year.
 Principal Tanner introduced the guest speaker of the evening, Dr. Wm. Hamilton Fyfe, principal of Queen's University, Kingston, who had been a brilliant student at Edinburgh, London, Oxford, and later equally outstanding as a teacher and leader.
 In opening his address Dr. Fyfe made some local references and complimented the people on the school and staff. The word "education," he said, was derived from a Latin word that signified "to nourish." Around this idea he built a most interesting and helpful address on education. The diet must be adopted to the needs to truly nourish. There is great difference in children and so the diet sheet must be varied to meet the different requirements. He warned against "forcible feeding," and also stressed the fact that food to be of value must be "digested" and only the person himself can do that; no one else can do it for him. The schools must provide a varied diet, the pupils must take the food and digest it. The teacher's part was not to do the work of the student, not even to help him unduly, but rather to stimulate the intelligence, the interest, the sympathy and the imagination of the pupil that he will face his own problems and work for their solution. There was great need for education, he said, and he spoke of the special difficulties of to-day. Many of those who would naturally have been the world's leaders to-day had been lost in the war to the general loss. There were changing standards and modes of thought, with less assurance of the positive knowledge of what is right or wrong. He did not favour the teacher who did things for the pupil, but rather the one who left the student to think for himself, to do things for himself, and to face life with courage, desire for truth, and the ability to tackle and conquer his own problems. The people must trust and uphold the teachers in their work of guiding and inspiring the students of the day.

 Principal Tanner thanked Dr. Fyfe for his inspiring address and for his kindness in attending the commencement exercises.
 A cleverly presented dance by Heula Scully and Norma Johnson won very decided applause.
 The presentation of Industrial diplomas was made by Walter Greaves, chairman of the Vocational Committee, who dealt in effective way with the benefits of the technical classes at the school.
 In the absence of J. A. Bradette, M. P., Mr. Tanner presented the prizes to students in the special French courses. These prizes were given by Mr. Bradette, Mr. Desaulniers and the Cercle Canadien.

 The duet by Ruth Koski and Dawn Holland was given hearty encore and the responding number was equally well received.
 The presentation of diplomas to Commercial graduates was ably made by A. R. Harkness, who referred to the growth of the commercial classes and the value of this department of the school.
 The presentation of diplomas to High School graduates by A. DesRoches, chairman of the High School board was one of the specially interesting features of the evening. Mr. DesRoches effectively reviewed the plans whereby efficiency was maintained in the High and Vocational School, with economy also kept to the front. He quoted figures to show that even with the increased service of to-day costs were held down and were less per pupil than in previous years.
 After the programme for the evening had concluded with the singing of "God Save the King," many had the pleasure of personally meeting Dr. Fyfe.

It makes it unlawful to park any vehicle between the hours of 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. of each and every school day on the following streets of the town of Timmins—Fourth avenue, between Spruce and Pine, north side; Spruce street, between Fourth and Fifth, west side; Pine street between Fourth and Fifth avenue, east side. The by-law is for the protection of the school children at the Central school. The provisions of the by-law do not go into effect until signs have been erected in accordance with the regulations of the Dept. of Highways. The by-law is to take effect on Nov. 26th.  A letter from the Department of Mines said that it was impossible for the Minister to make a trip up here to see the council and that if they could not send a delegation to Toronto they would have to give their opinions in a letter. This was in answer to the town clerk's letter to the Dept. asking that they interview the council to see if there wasn't some means to put the mines on the assessment roll.
 A letter from the Hydro acknowledging receipt of the clerk's letter asking for the removal of the inspector, but made no comment.

Objectionable Acts Bring Term in Jail

Six Months for Interfering with Young Girls, Two More Given Terms for Drunken Driving, Other Police Court Cases.
 At police court on Tuesday Wilfred Massi, a man of around 55 years of age, was sentenced to six months in jail on an indecent assault charge. This man, who had been questioned on previous occasions by the police on account of complaints about his actions, was accused of grabbing a girl coming out of church on Wednesday evening last week. The girl escaped from him and promptly notified the police. In the meantime another girl made similar complaint to the police, saying that this man had also grabbed her as she left the church. Massi was arrested shortly after and the two girls identified him as the man grabbing them. In court he pleaded not guilty but the evidence against him was conclusive and Magistrate Atkinson sentenced him to six months in jail to teach him not to molest others.
 The police are still keeping after the reckless drivers and those drunk in charge of cars. A car ran into Dalton's bus on Thursday night on the Hollinger road, and the police arrested the driver, D. Morin, charging him with being drunk in charge of a car. He had borrowed the car and his friend's car was struck smashed at the front where it bled the bus. While the police were investigating this accident a car driven by Ina Renie, of South Porcupine, came along and crashed into the rear of the car driven by Morin. The damaged car was in full sight and the police also flashed their lights to stop the car driven by the young lady but she either could not or would not stop, the result being that the rear of the car driven by Morin was as badly damaged as the front had been. The car, indeed, was so much smashed up that it might be said to be practically a total wreck. The young woman was also arrested on a charge of being drunk in charge of a car. She pleaded guilty on Tuesday and was sentenced to ten days. Morin pleaded not guilty but the evidence convicted him and he was also sentenced to ten days.
 Nap Lessard pleaded guilty to the theft of some towels, face clothes, etc., from a local store, and was sentenced to thirty days. John Cherney, who was with Lessard at the time of the thefts, according to information given the police, and in whose car stolen goods were found, was charged with being unlawfully in possession of stolen goods. His case was remanded to next week. Lessard is also said to have taken goods from Marshall-Ecclestone's and to have been followed until the police were summoned.
 I. C. Korol faced a charge of high-grading, a remand being made to next week, with bail set at $1,000.00. Korol

Call on the Chief of Police at the Earliest Moment

Councillor Laprairie suggested writing another strong letter to them and tell them that since receipt of the letter the inspector has been in Timmins and still hasn't seen the chief of police.
 A request from two ladies on Cameron and Middleton streets for a light to be installed was to be looked after.
 There was quite a discussion in regard to the suggested transfer of a man from the fire department payroll to the public works roll. Apparently the man was on the fire department but worked for the public works department and Councillors Bartleman and Maltais thought the man should be paid by the department for which he works.
 The question of the town getting a supply of wood came in for some discussion. It was decided that the town get a supply and put it on the land that Councillor Bartleman had offered them free.
 Councillor Chateauvert claimed to have been misquoted in The Advance report in regard to the resolution asking for the removal of the Hydro inspector.
 Councillor Bartleman said:—"I never read The Advance."
 Councillor Laprairie said that if competent reports were not given, the council might keep the reporter out of the meeting.
 After some more talk the councillors got on another tack.
 Councillor Chateauvert had a ticklish question he said in regards to people who had lived near town for years and wanted work in town. They were really living in Tisdale, he said, but it was only a matter of ten feet or so.
 Councillor Paquette said that a lot of people who had pulled a fast one on the council and had got relief when they shouldn't, were going around bragging about it now. Councillor Laprairie said that "if they're putting it over on us, it's no credit to us." Someone suggested that Mr. Dunn could possibly investigate the cases but this drew decided opposition from Councillor Paquette who said, "if you want someone for extra work then get somebody else because Mr. Dunn has more than enough to do now." Mr. Dunn offered to do the work if he had a faster means of travelling around. An attempt may be made to have Mr. Dunn use Mr. Meighan's car and the council pay for the car's use each month.
