S. J. Dempsay, Noted North Pioneer, Dead

Former Police Magistrate, Crown Land Agent, Big Figure in Cochrane and North Passes.

The death occurred in Cochrane on Monday, December 3rd, of Samuel John Dempsay, a noted figure in the North for a quarter of a century. At the time of his death he was in his 80th year.

The late Mr. Dempsay was a former police magistrate for Cochrane and district, serving in that capacity in the early days. Later for many years he was crown lands agent and was widely known in this capacity. He first came to the North in 1908, arriving at the time of the sale of townsite lots and being closely identified with the welfare of Cochrane and district from 1908 onwards. He served on the Cochrane council for a number of years, resigning on account of ill-health. He took a keen and helpful interest in board of trade matters in years gone by and was in general an outstanding and unusually valuable citizen of the North. A man of large stature and unusually powerful and hardy he was noted for his kindly heart and generous disposition. He was an enthusiast about the North, an active advocate of its possibilities and a zealous supporter of its progress.

Previous to coming to the North the late Mr. Dempsay was a well-known figure in the Ottawa Valley where he served as Sheriff of Renfrew County. During his residence in Renfrew County he was Warden of the County Council and held other honours in the gift of the people. He began a mercantile business in Kingston many years ago but later transferred it to Calabogie, and later to Renfrew.

Mr. Dempsay and his wife were to have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on December 9th.

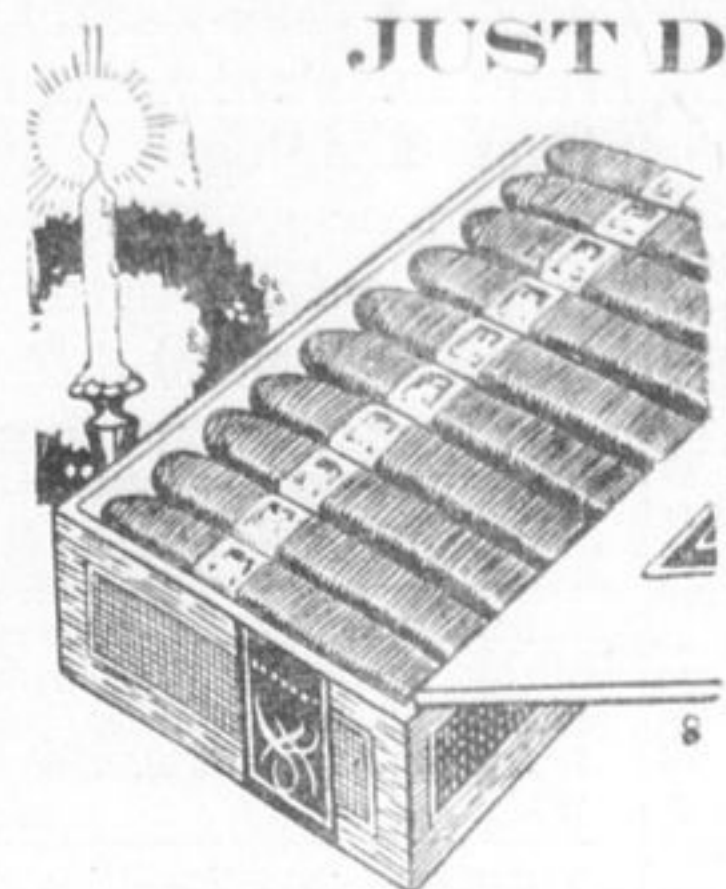

Most of the family were present at the bedside before his passing, those not being able to reach home in time being Mrs. W. B. Grant, of Chase, B.C.; Mrs. J. Dickson, of Lumsden, Sask.; W. Dempsay, of Winnipegosis, Man.; and Dr. Gordon R. Dempsay, of Seattle, Wash.

Two daughters of the late Mr. Dempsay, Miss Bess Dempsay, of the Hollinger Mine office staff, and Miss Elda, for four or five years on the teaching staff of the Mattagami public school, reside in Timmins. Other members of the family have many friends in Timmins. One son, J. M. Dempsay, who was for years a lumber contractor in the North, was a frequent visitor here and had wide circles of friends. One of the daughters, Mrs. W. Peacock, was for several years resident in Timmins and has many friends here. The sympathy of all will be extended to the family in their loss.

Interesting Address to the Bakers of the District

Fifty Bakeries of Porcupine Represented at Meeting Addressed by Miss Margaret E. Bateman, Tuesday Evening of this Week.

Probably never before in the history of the Porcupine were there so many bakers gathered together in the one place at the one time as were assembled at the Empire hotel, Timmins, on Tuesday evening to hear an address by Miss Margaret E. Bateman, representative of Standard Brands, Limited. There were over fifty bakeshops of the town and district represented at the meeting, and only one bakery in the Porcupine failed to be represented. In most cases proprietors of the bakeries of the camp were present. Schumacher and South Porcupine were equally well represented with Timmins. There were many matters of interest at the meeting, chief of which was the informative address of Miss Bateman.

In opening her address Miss Bateman complimented the local bakeries on the high standard of their products and quality and variety of their output. "Keep up the good work," she said, "for there is nothing like the quality to build permanent business and give service."

Miss Bateman emphasized the connection between the baker and the farmer and showed the progress of one kept pace with the other. If there were better co-operation between the farmers, millers and bakers, Miss Bateman said, there would be better times for all three. Speaking of a Dominion-wide survey on "Wheat and Flour," Miss Bateman related the beginning and progress of the wheat growing branch of agriculture, following it along to the baking business, and pointing out that the development of wheat growing had been in step with the flour milling and baking business.

Miss Bateman said that farmers should encourage bakers to make the best quality bread rather than cheaper grades, in order that more farm products might be used. It had been figured out that if each person in Canada ate one extra slice of bread daily, $12,000,000 more would be available to the wheat growers of Canada. Another interesting item of statistics that she quoted was that an addition of three pounds of milk to every bag of flour made into the bread would increase the sale of this item over 24,000,000 pounds per year.

Miss Bateman said that one of the largest outlets for the wheat crop of Canada, which in 1928 reached its peak of 533,572,000 bushels, and was 269,729,000 bushels in 1933, was the baking industry. Thus, there is a very close connection between the baker and the farmer—a part that government officials often fail to recognize. Bakeries of Canada use around $30,000,000 worth of ingredients every year, and between 75 and 95 per cent of these come directly from Canadian farms. Bakers use large quantities of milk, flour, cream, butter, eggs, shortening, fruits and salt, which are the products of Canadian farms. Accordingly, when sales of baking products decrease $24,000,000, as they did between 1929 and 1933, the farmer sells the baker about $18,000,000 less of his product. The reduction in the consumption of shortening, butter, eggs, cream and other items, which is one of the first consequences of reduced prices of the bakery products, results in poorer quality for which the demand is lower and the consumption smaller. The consumption per capita of baker's bread has dropped from 93.83 pounds to 84.3 pounds in the past year.

Miss Bateman recommended newspaper advertising as an aid to better business for the bakers. Bakers' advertising since 1928 has been steadily declining but the percentage of bakers' sales has shown a still greater decline, declining but the percentage of bakers' sales has shown a still greater decline. Miss Bateman drew the moral from this and said that consistent advertising and quality bakery products was one sure method of running a successful bakery. Better quality products, wider variety and sound merchandizing methods (the latter including judicious newspaper advertising) were advised as the best helps to success by Miss Bateman.
