Man at Cochrane Given Year on Rioting Charge

Aftermath of Trouble with Agitators. Two Given Suspended Sentence for Placing Obstructions on T. & N. O. Tracks.

R. Riopel was convicted of rioting in Cochrane on Oct. 31 at the general sessions of the peace there on Tuesday. The jury heard evidence from a number of witnesses that Riopel was the leader of a gang that had stopped police taking men out to work while the pulpworkers' strike was on this fall. The day following Riopel's offence the strikers were run out of Cochrane by citizens and the strike ended. After prosecution by Crown-Attorney S. A. Caldwell and defense by A. H. Brown, Timmins, the jury returned a verdict of guilty one year determinate and one year in Judge Caron sentenced Riopel to determinate.

Three others, Philip Bellefeuille, Donat Arbour and A. Champagne were charged jointly with placing an obstruction on a railway during the same strike. Champagne was discharged and the jury recommended clemency in the cases of Bellefeuille and Arbour, though they registered a conviction. None of the young men were shown to be leaders.

H. Leclair, of Kapuskasing, was convicted Saturday of injuring a man named Leblanc in an accident which occurred in August, two miles west of Kapuskasing. Leblanc was seriously injured and it is possible that he will never completely recover. Evidence showed that Leclair had been drinking. Gaston Vincent, of Kapuskasing, for the defence pleaded that Leclair was the only support of a family and the jury recommended clemency. Judge Caron suspended sentence.

a jury on Saturday. He had an amount of gold ore valued at $51.20 (gold at $35 per ounce) of which he failed to give an account. It was confiscated. A. V. Waters, K. C. of Cochrane, defended Grewece.

The case of A. Antilla, charged with assaulting Mary Cortin at Cochrane in July, was heard Friday. The jury disagreed and the case was traversed to the next sessions in June. Mrs. Mary Cortin alleges that Antilla struck her with a bottle, inflicting a cut from her forehead to chin. J. M. Greer, Cochrane, appeared for the defence.

M. Rubick, charged with assault, whose case was up at the last sessions in June but who was in hospital at the time, was tried and acquitted. He was supposed to have scratched another man's face and hit him over the head with a spittoon at Schumacher last January. W. O. Langdoon of Timmins, defended Rubick.

The semi-annual sitting of the Supreme Court for the judicial district of Cochrane will open at Cochrane on Tuesday with Judge Kerwin, of Toronto on the bench.

NOTED ARMY MAN ELECTED AS MAYOR OF BRANTFORD.

Col. M. A. Colquhoun, war-time commander of the "Mad Fourth," on Monday won the mayoralty chair of Brantford, defeating Mayor M. M. MacBride, Brantford representative in the Ontario Legislature. Col. Colquhoun has been employed for 42 years by the Massy-Harris Company here, and during the war he rose from captaincy of "A" Company, Dufferin Rifles, to command of the "Mad Fourth." Mayor MacBride seeking a third term, polled 5,896 votes compared to 6,130 for the Colonel. It was the closest vote in some time here.

To the Electors of the Town of Timmins

I thank the electors for the confidence shown in me by the good vote given and I can only say that in the coming year as in the past in which I sat at the council board I will do my best to serve the best interests of all the people of the town.

The Central School Concert Delights Large Crowds

Annual Event Last Night was Unusually Pleasing. To be Repeated This Evening and To-morrow Night.

Christmas wouldn't be a real one in Timmins now without the annual concert at Central public school and the performances begun last night, continuing to-night and to-morrow, show more than just a good percentage of entertainers in the ranks of the students—they show a Christmas spirit that takes older people back to their own childhood days.

Singing, dancing, acting, humour, pathos and melodrama; all the attributes of light entertainment are there as well. Two hundred parents, friends of the pupils and interested townspeople attended the premiere last night. Teachers must surely have been working hard for the past few weeks to train their charges the way they have. The opening choruses, "Canada My Own," "March Along," "Ring Out the Old," and "Good Christian Men Rejoice" were sung by a glee club that filled the stage. In the last number the harmony was an outstanding feature.

"Christmas in Mother Goose Land," was an amusing fantasy in which all these famous characters came to Santa for their gifts. There was a sure laugh in every parcel Santa pulled from his great sack.

Kindergarten children did the next two acts: a motion song, "Santa Claus Will Come To-night," in which the kiddies were sincere enough to make the audience believe it really was Christmas Eve, and a drill, ably done without a hitch.

"Christmas Dollies," an action song by children dressed in the fashion of the crisp little dolls seen in shop windows these days, was realistically staged.

"Autumn Leaves," introduced the audience to the leaves in the fall, the coming of Jack Frost, the sudden, miraculous change in colours and the snowflakes blown by north wind covering the leaves as they fell to the ground. Actions that went along with the song made the scene very pleasing. Costumes were particularly well done.

The "Six Little Milkmaids" with their milking stools and pails, dressed in a fashion that would delight any inspector, told the simple story in song of their day's chore.

"Heigho—Thumbs up" turned out to be a dance, which on first sight would seem to be almost too complex for children. But the youngsters did as well with it as "grown-ups" would and the grace of their movements was remarkable.

A hymn, softly sung by a chorus of mixed boys' and girls' voices showed the progress being made in the teaching of singing in the schools. Harmony was again a strong point.

"Playmates" was the title of what might be termed junior light opera. The story, in song, was of a boy and girl who quarrelled over just what any young couple might. How they became reconciled was just another cynical comment on what the female of the species is sometimes accused of—jealousy. The actors showed no stage fright and both played their parts very well.

"Christmas Snap Shots" was a novel idea involving arrested action. Scenes in quick succession showed just what Christmas might bring to rich or poor children. "Living statues" the players would have been called in a theatre building.

The "Upside Down Drill" would have the audience believe there were some really expert standers-on-their-heads in Central school. A trick might be suspected but in any case it was good fun.

A Ukrainian dance by two pupils in native costume added a distinctive note to the affair. The dance was almost too short.

What were termed "Physical Exercises" on the programme were in reality juvenile "turns" from some of the senior boys. Back rolls, front rolls, flips and pyramids followed one another in quick succession.

Two promising young artists, Jean Gordon and Hilda Tomlinson, Jean at the piano and Hilda with the violin, played during the evening and their solos were well received.

The "Three Maids of Lynn" appealing for "Men!" did not have far to look to fulfil their wishes. Their song (more good harmony) brought many a hearty laugh from a surprised audience.

"St. Martin's Day—a French-Canadian Scene"—brought new actors into the limelight. A short skit of Canadian life, it must have involved a large amount of preparation but the results were worth the effort.

"Shortnin' Bread" was a song sung by a whole stage-full of "darkies" whose carefree stage manner would bring admiration from professionals. The singers obviously enjoyed their work.

For prettiness of group movement and daintiness of costume the "Rain-bow Drill" was a real hit. Sixteen girls, dressed in various colours and carrying little bows over their heads, went through the routine of the drill with little apparent effort.

The closing number, "The Least of These," was a modern playlet in which good-will was the main point. The characters did their work with a will to succeed—and they did.

No Deal With France

JOACHIM VON RIBBENTROP Reported returning to Germany, Joachim von Ribbentrop, personal envoy of Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler, was said to have failed to see high authorities in Paris concerning his presumed mission of negotiations for French recognition of Germany's rearmament in return for his country's promise to return to Geneva as a member of the League of Nations.

Children's Clinic at Corner Fifth Ave.

Comfortably Settled in New Premises Opposite the St. Mary's Hospital, Corner Pine and Fifth.

Timmins' "well baby" clinic, a public service whose function is to keep the health of Timmins babies at as high a point as possible, is comfortably settled in new quarters at 28 Fifth avenue, across from St. Mary's hospital.

The building in which Nurses Brooks and Richer now carry on their work is better adapted for the service than was the former location. Days and times for consultation remain the same: Monday from 1:30 to 3; Wednesday from 1:30 to 5; and Friday from 1:30 to 3.

Attendance at the new clinic showed no falling off from that at the former place in the first two clinics held there this week.

Preparing Outdoor Rinks for Hockey and Skating

The youthful hockey player in full cry will soon be heard in many parts of Timmins, for the outdoor rinks are quickly being brought to a point where they will be ready for the first skaters.

At the schools the older students look after the flooding and in the morning, at noon recess and "after four" they may be seen busy in constructing their rinks. If the cold weather holds, some of them will be ready within a few days.

To Sell Seals Here for the Tuberculosis Clinics

Mrs. Darling to Have Charge of First Campaign in Timmins for Tuberculosis Clinics Here. Public to Have a Chance to Help.

Christmas seals will soon be available to the people of Timmins. The familiar "stamps" the proceeds of the sale of which go to establish and continue clinics for tuberculosis in the North are being offered here this year through the co-operation of the Gravenhurst Sanatorium.

Formerly the money raised in this manner went to Gravenhurst alone but this year it will be set aside for the North. Timmins will be able to support its own extension of the Halleybury Sanatorium in the form of a clinic established here as an experiment just one year ago. The work that has been accomplished here in that one year has shown the great need for a

Decline in Golds Offset Advance in Base Metals

The weighted index number of 23 mining stocks computed by the Dominion bureau of statistics on the base 1926 equals 100, was 120.7 for the week ending Nov. 29, as compared with 122.4 for the previous week.

Nineteen gold stocks fell from 122.8 to 120.2, and four base metals stocks rose from 125 to 126.3. Among the gold stocks, weekly average prices behaved as follows:—Dome, declined from $36.09 to $35.22. Granada, from 25 cents to 20 cents; Hollinger $18.79 to $18.19; Howey, from $1.05 to $1.02; Lake Shore, from $52.26 to $50.85; Macassa, from $2.43 to $2.32; McIntyre, from $40.36 to $39.89; Pioneer, from $11.56 to $11.45; San Antonio, from $3.94 to $3.90; Sisco, from $2.52 to $2.49; Sylvanite, from $2.26 to $2.23; and clinic, as many cases of tuberculosis have been discovered and immediate measures taken to prevent as far as possible its spread.

At the request of Dr. Moore, the medical officer of health, Mrs. H. W. Darling has agreed to look after the sale of the Canadian Tubercular Association seals here this year. An announcement will be made in Monday's Advance in regard to how the sale will be carried through.

It's up to Timmins now. Christmas seals are the clinic's only support and to continue the work everyone who possibly can should contribute to the cause.
