Punishment Fitting the Crime in English Court

English courts often seem to strike a non-sensational but effective way to make the punishment fit the crime. In motor car cases the penalty is often the debarring of the offender from driving a car for months, or years, or even for life. There was a case at Leeds, England, last week, that for a minute or two puzzled the magistrate. Punishment of the offender by imprisonment would have hurt the man's family more than the accused himself. Yet it was the sort of case where the offender should not be allowed to go free. It was a case of gross cruelty to a dog. The magistrate said it deserved a prison term. It was stated in evidence that Edwin John Elmes, of York Road, Leeds, had been drinking and picked up his dog by the forelegs and swung the poor animal round several times smashing its head against the wall. The magistrate said he would have sent Elmes to prison only that would have inflicted more punishment on the children than on the man himself. Accordingly he fined Elmes five pounds and costs, making a total of six pounds, and disqualified the prisoner from even owning or keeping a dog again as long as he lived. "You are not a fit man to have a dog," the magistrate said. The only thing wrong with the story is that the accused was allowed to keep his children. A man not fit to keep a dog certainly does not seem to be the kind to trust with children.

Fire at Garage Made Much Smoke, But No Damage

At 11:45 Monday morning fire in a pit at the Timmins garage, Third Avenue, said to have been caused by a short circuit in an extension light, made a lot of smoke but did no damage. Old oil and shavings were afire when the fire brigade arrived but their use of chemicals made short work of the blaze.

Large Number of Cases at Police Court Here

Necessary to Hold Evening Session Tuesday and Morning Session Wednesday. Some of the Cases.

Elsewhere in this issue will be found a report of the police court proceedings in reference to the cases arising from the recent raids made by the local police in their plans to clean up the town. In addition to these cases which were remanded from last week there was a large docket of other cases. A summary of the cases and the disposition made of these other cases is given herewith:—

Two boys Clifford Williams and Victor Lepine pleaded guilty to having broken into the premises at 57 Wilson avenue on the night of December 3rd, and stealing two revolvers, watches, ammunition and articles of clothing. They had been sentenced at Ansonville for the armed robbery of Dwyer's taxi and will serve two and a half years in Portsmouth penitentiary. Magistrate Atkinson sentenced them to one year at Haileybury jail, to run concurrently with the Portsmouth sentence. They will appear in Kirkland Lake to-day charged with illegal possession of concealed weapons. The two lads, one 16, the other 18, answered their charges with "Guilty!" when they appeared at the bar.

Frank Smidt pleaded guilty to having stolen a quantity of gresses, socks, pencils, caps, underwear and other travellers' samples at a local hotel during the past three months. He was employed as a night man. Questioned by Magistrate Atkinson, he said he had been in Canada for eight years and came here from Germany. He was sentenced to not less than three months and not more than one year in the Ontario Reformatory.

Leo Perry, who was brought here last week from Noranda by Provincial Constable Pretorius to answer a charge of "skipping bail" here last year, pleaded guilty. Counsel for the defence Dean Kester told the court that Perry had gone to the other province and had settled down. His wife had told the magistrate that he was a good husband and provided well for her and their little daughter. The magistrate, in suspending sentence and asking a bond signed in the case said, "If he's behaving himself, I'd like to give him a chance." Neither the crown attorney nor the provincial police pressed the case, and the young man was given suspended sentence.

A young man, charged with reckless driving, pleaded not guilty and the case was dismissed. During the hearing it was established that an insurance man had asked provincial police to "tear up the papers" in which the information as to reckless driving had been laid. It appeared that the insurance agent had talked to the complainant and had had him admit "before witness" that if the damage to his car was taken care of, he would withdraw the charge. The magistrate censured the insurance man for appearing in the case at all, and made it clear that the police court was not to be used as a place to force the payment of damages.

The case of Dave Mitchell, charged with having converted $65 of a partnership's money to his own uses will be heard next week, as will the charges against Aurel and Leo Legendre, Steve Tarabass, John Morin, Cliff Peron and Karaffis Fotoff in connection with the alleged thefts from Eaton groceries and the disposal of stolen goods.

Asks Donations of Clothing for Needy

Legion Appeals Again for Aid to Assist Many Needing Clothing Now.

The following letter explains itself and is passed on with the hope that it will bring notable response as in the past:—

Mines Rescue Station, Timmins.
To Editor of The Advance, Timmins.
Dear Sir:—In the past, in response to my request for clothing for those in need, you have, through the medium of The Advance been able to provide me with a generous supply of clothing to give out to families that came to me for help in that way. So I am again asking the public through The Advance to be so good as to assist me in this work, by donating what they can in the way of clothing for men, women and children. There appears to be considerable distress amongst families in outlying districts in unorganized territory. Many children are insufficiently clothed to withstand the wintry weather that is now with us. Children's underwear, socks, shoes, overshoes and mitts, are urgently needed. I have calls for overcoats for men, warm coats for girls from 10 to 14 years of age. Bedding and blankets for a family that was burned out, and have not sufficient bedding to keep warm at night also needed.

Donations of clothing may be left at the Mines Rescue Station, on Cedar St., just behind the Fire hall, or if my office is closed, may be left at the fire-hall.

Yours very truly,
Austin Neame

Government Promises Employment for North

Acting-Premier Harry C. Nixon, announced last night after being closeted for some hours with Hon. David Croll and Hon. Peter Heenan that the 18,000 men employed on government works in the north would be retained and that the government proposes to find employment for another 8,000 of the North's workless some time in January.

What kind of work will be provided is not stated in this first statement; but it is apparently the intention of the government to keep about 26,000 men on its payroll in Northern Ontario.

Wm. J. H. Shillington Dies in Haileybury

Well-Known and Esteemed in the North. Brother of late R. Shillington, M.P.P.

Word was received in Timmins yesterday morning of the death at Haileybury of Wm. J. H. Shillington, a well-known and highly esteemed resident of the North Land. He had lived in the North for a great many years and had wide circles of friends and acquaintances all through the North who will deeply regret his death.

The late Mr. Shillington was born at City View, near Ottawa. He was a son of the late Thomas and Elizabeth Shillington, who were prominent in the Ottawa area. The late Mr. Shillington was in his 58th year at the time of death. Mr. Shillington was a member of the First Canadian Contingent in the South African war. On his return to Canada he was one of the four members of the Princess Louise Dragoon Guards chosen to represent that unit at the coronation of King Edward VII, in 1902.

In Northern Ontario he was first in the wholesale grocery business but he became interested in mining and was successful in that business until the time of his retirement three years ago. He is survived by his widow, the former Edith Morris, of Carleton Place; two brothers, A. L. K. Shillington, Ottawa and Dr. R. N. W. Shillington, of Calgary, one sister, Mrs. Annie Pennington, of Toronto.

The funeral will be held at Ottawa to-morrow (Friday) the body being taken down to Ottawa from Haileybury, leaving the Northern town to-day. A. L. K. Shillington, of Ottawa, came to the North to accompany the body from Haileybury to the East.

DISMISSED AS THE RELIEF OFFICER FOR CHARLTON

Word from Charlton is to the effect that Rev. Wm. Mair has been dismissed as relief officer. This dismissal has caused considerable objection as Rev. Mr. Mair is very popular and is said to have done particularly valuable and effective work as relief officer.

Four Chimney Fires in Town in Past Two Days

Increasing winds was given as the reason for four chimney fires in the past two days by the local fire department. This morning at 12:25 at 29 Wilson Avenue again at 12:40 at 64 Toke Street; at 33 Lake Shore at 6:40 p.m. yesterday and twenty minutes earlier at 67 Fifth Avenue. A single call on Tuesday to 104 Cedar Street south at 7:40 p.m. was the only other alarm.

Trans-Canada Link Rejected by Ottawa

Dominion Refuses to Help in Building the Schreiber-White River Stretch.

A despatch from Ottawa this week reads as follows:—

"The Dominion Government has decided not to contribute to the suggested 135-mile stretch on the trans-Canada highway from Schreiber to White River paralleling the Canadian Pacific Railway, it was learned at Ottawa Monday night, Ontario Minister of Lands and Forests Peter Heenan has been advised to this effect. "Essential information touching on the Schreiber-White River route was requested by Dominion Minister of Labor, W. A. Gordon two weeks ago in a letter to Mr. Heenan. The only information in response to Mr. Gordon's enquiries which have reached Ottawa, it is understood, comprises two sheets of figures received by the prime minister."

TEMPERATURE THESE DAYS SHOWING ALL ABOVE ZERO

Maximum temperature yesterday at Hollinger was 27, minimum last night 14 and this morning at eight o'clock 8.

Through Traffic Again Possible on the Highway

Though through traffic is now possible on the main Timmins-South Porcupine road there is one stretch about a mile and half this side of South Porcupine that is in the process of construction and is poor driving. The back road is in good condition and many motorists take that way rather than traverse the road now being improved.
