

The Advance Page of News Told in Pictures

Comforts Mother held in Father's Murder

Geraldine Jackson shown comforting her mother, Mrs. Anna Erickson, Chicago tavern owner, who is held in questioning in his murder following confessions of two youths that they killed him at her request.

Aerial Explorers Preparing for Trans-Antarctic Hop

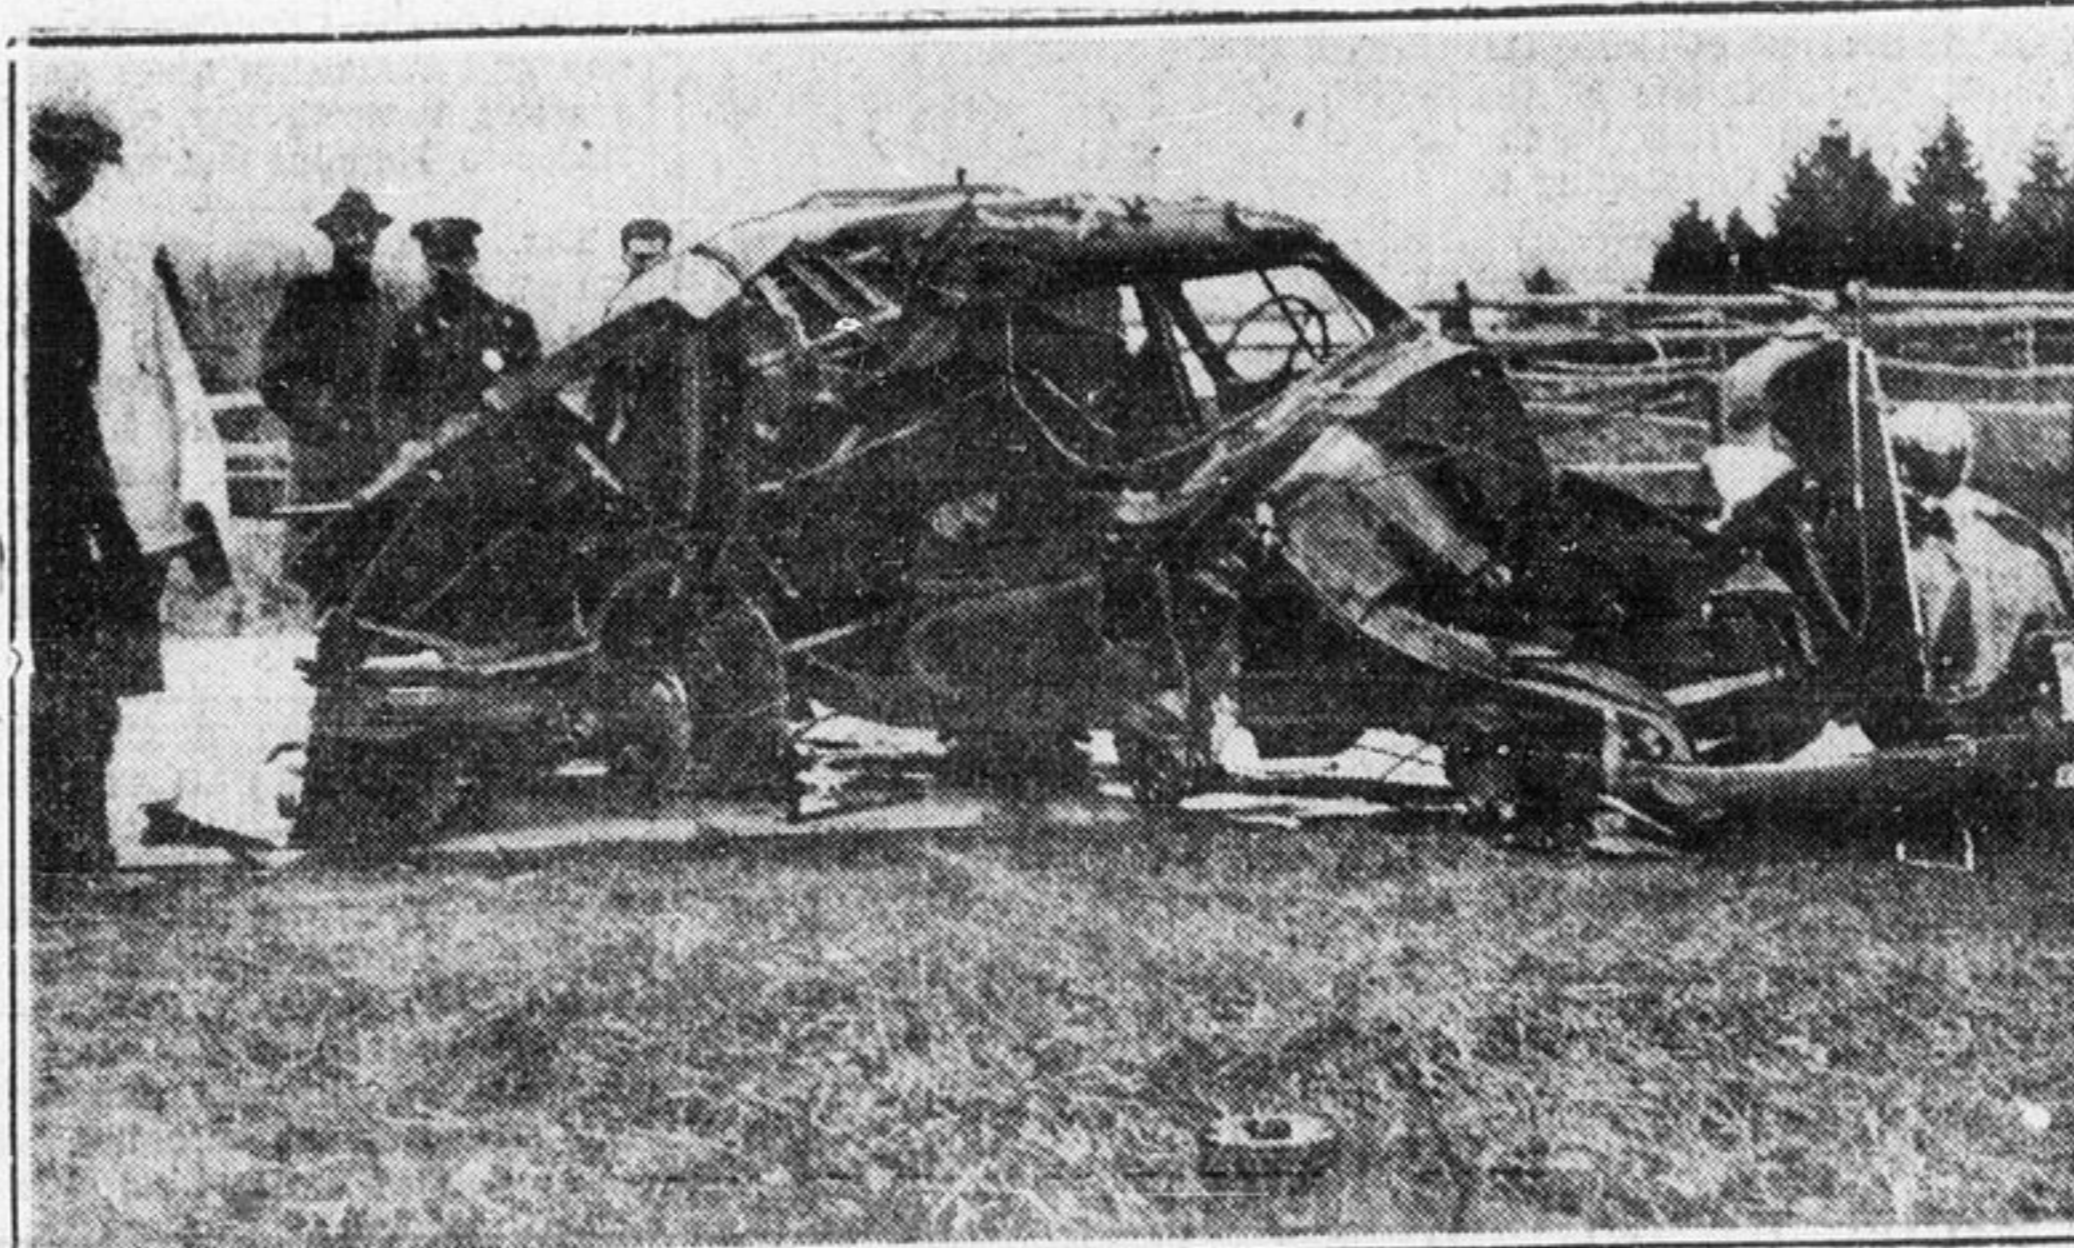

Left to right, Lincoln Ellsworth and Bernt Balchen, intrepid aerial explorers of Antarctic regions, shown studying a map of the Antarctic regions over which they are planning to fly shortly. The men are camped on Snow Hill Island, near Deception Island, and are awaiting favourable weather conditions to take off on a 2,300-mile non-stop flight to the Bay of Whales. The Bay of Whales is the site of Little America, Admiral Byrd's southernmost base.

Intended Victim

In the Loeb-Leopold case becomes victim of cupid's dart. John E. Coleman, 23, of Chicago, who was mentioned in the confession of Loeb and Leopold as their intended victim, is pictured with his bride, the former Marjorie Friedman, after their wedding at Waukegan, Ill.

Broker Dies in Crash

This twisted and crumpled wreckage resulted when John Blue, New York broker, lost control of his wheel on the Jericho Turnpike on Long Island and crashed into a telegraph pole. Blue met instant death as the machine struck the pole with a terrific impact.

Have a Cup of Puppy?

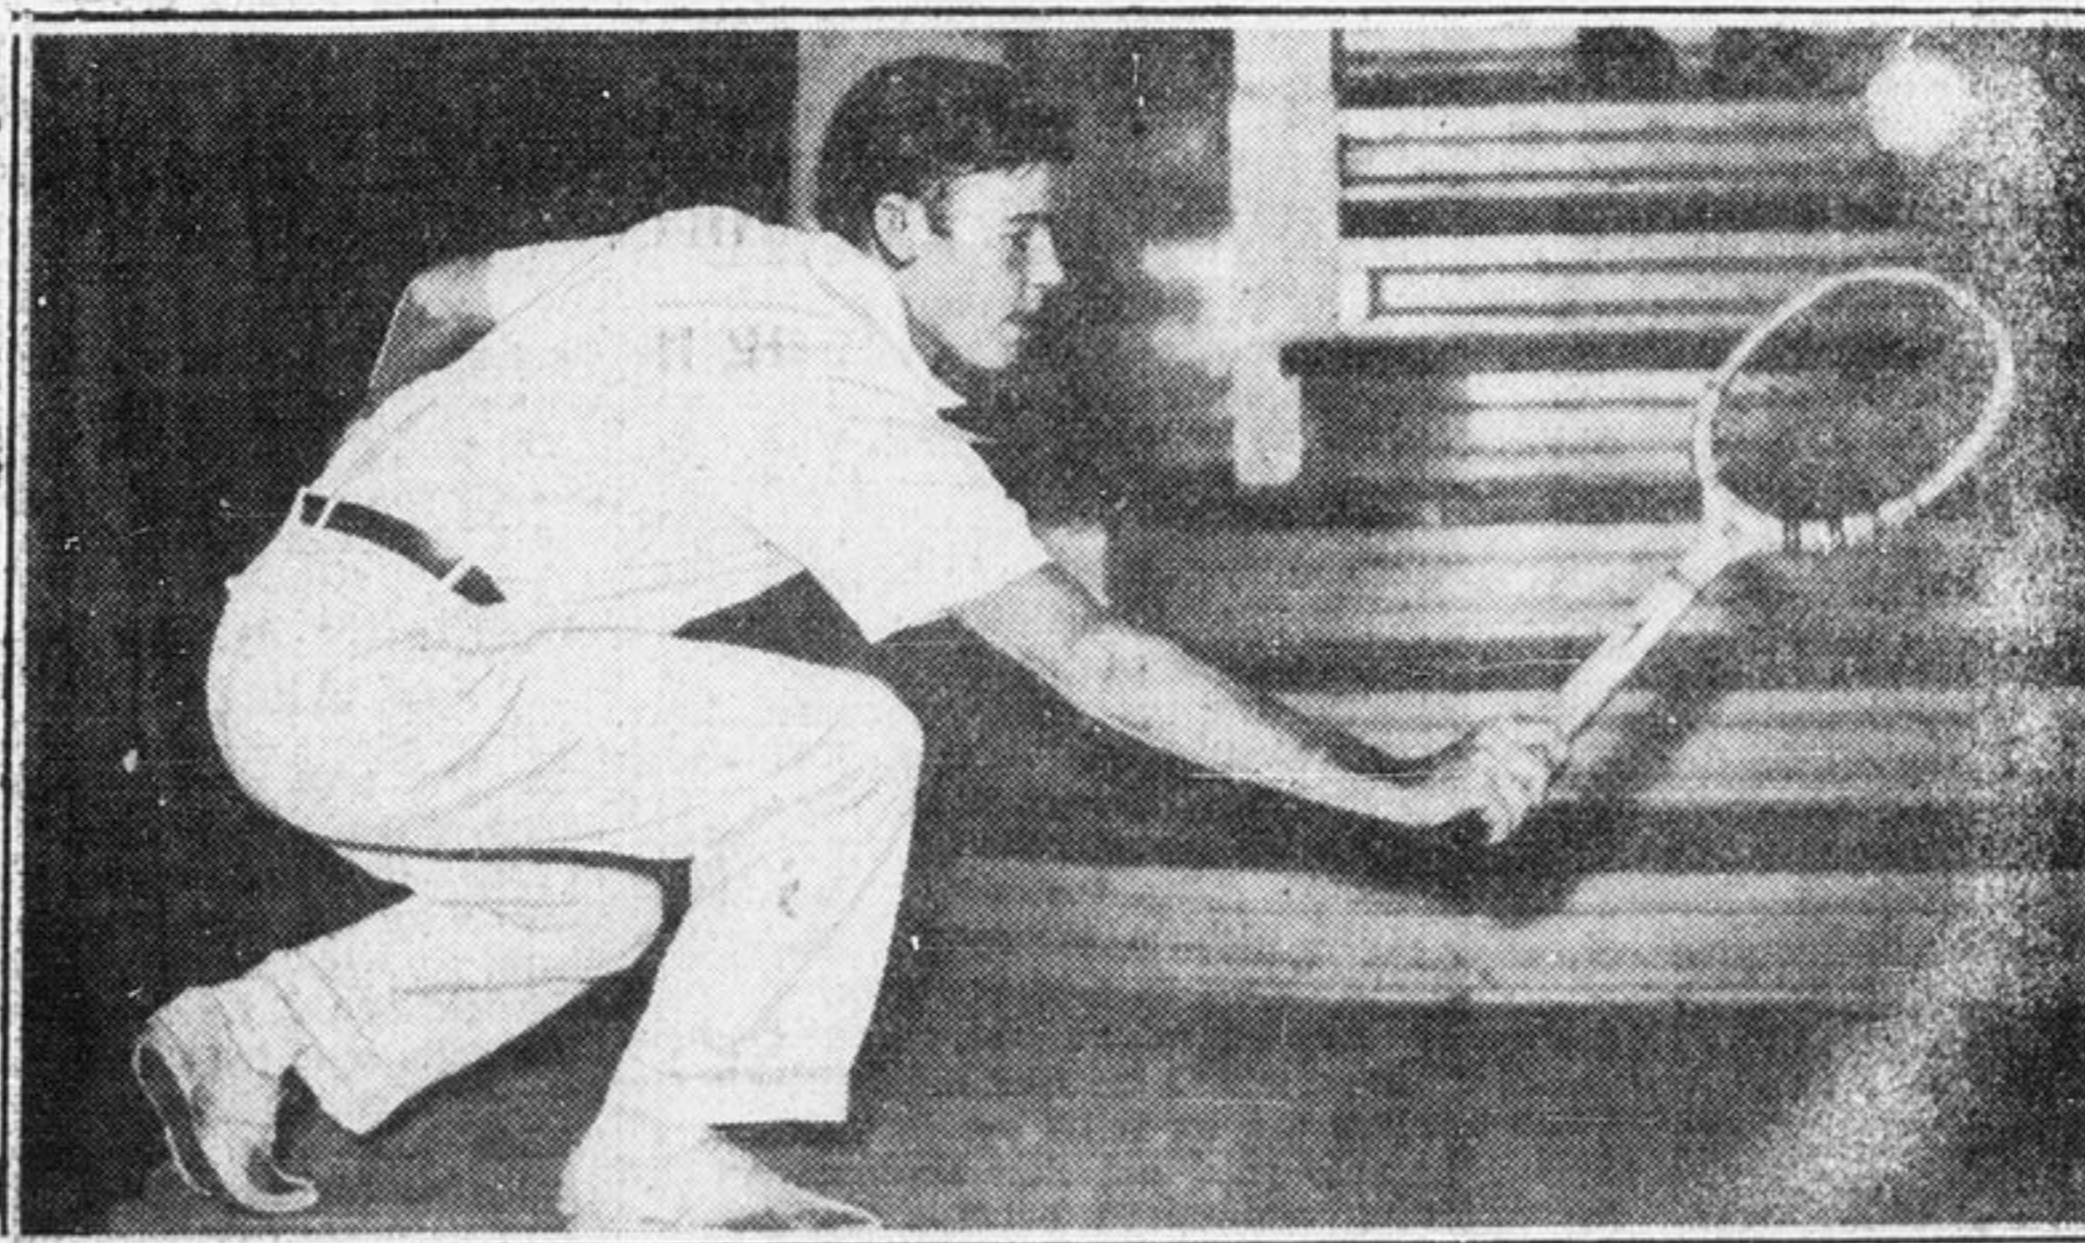

Will you have a cup of puppy? Yes, this little fellow, a fox terrier, and normal in every way except size, is looking happy and contented in an ordinary coffee cup. The midget puppy, one of a litter of six, weighs just 8 1-2 ounces, is more than two months old and refuses to gain weight. Veterinarians say she will live. "Midge" is owned by John Silva of San Jose, California.

Picked Winner

We couldn't be sure, but that's the expression one usually sees on faces of the lucky ones at race tracks. Anyway, Al Jolson and Mrs. Jolson, the former Ruby Keeler, are happy about something as they view races at Santa Anita.

Smashing to Victory

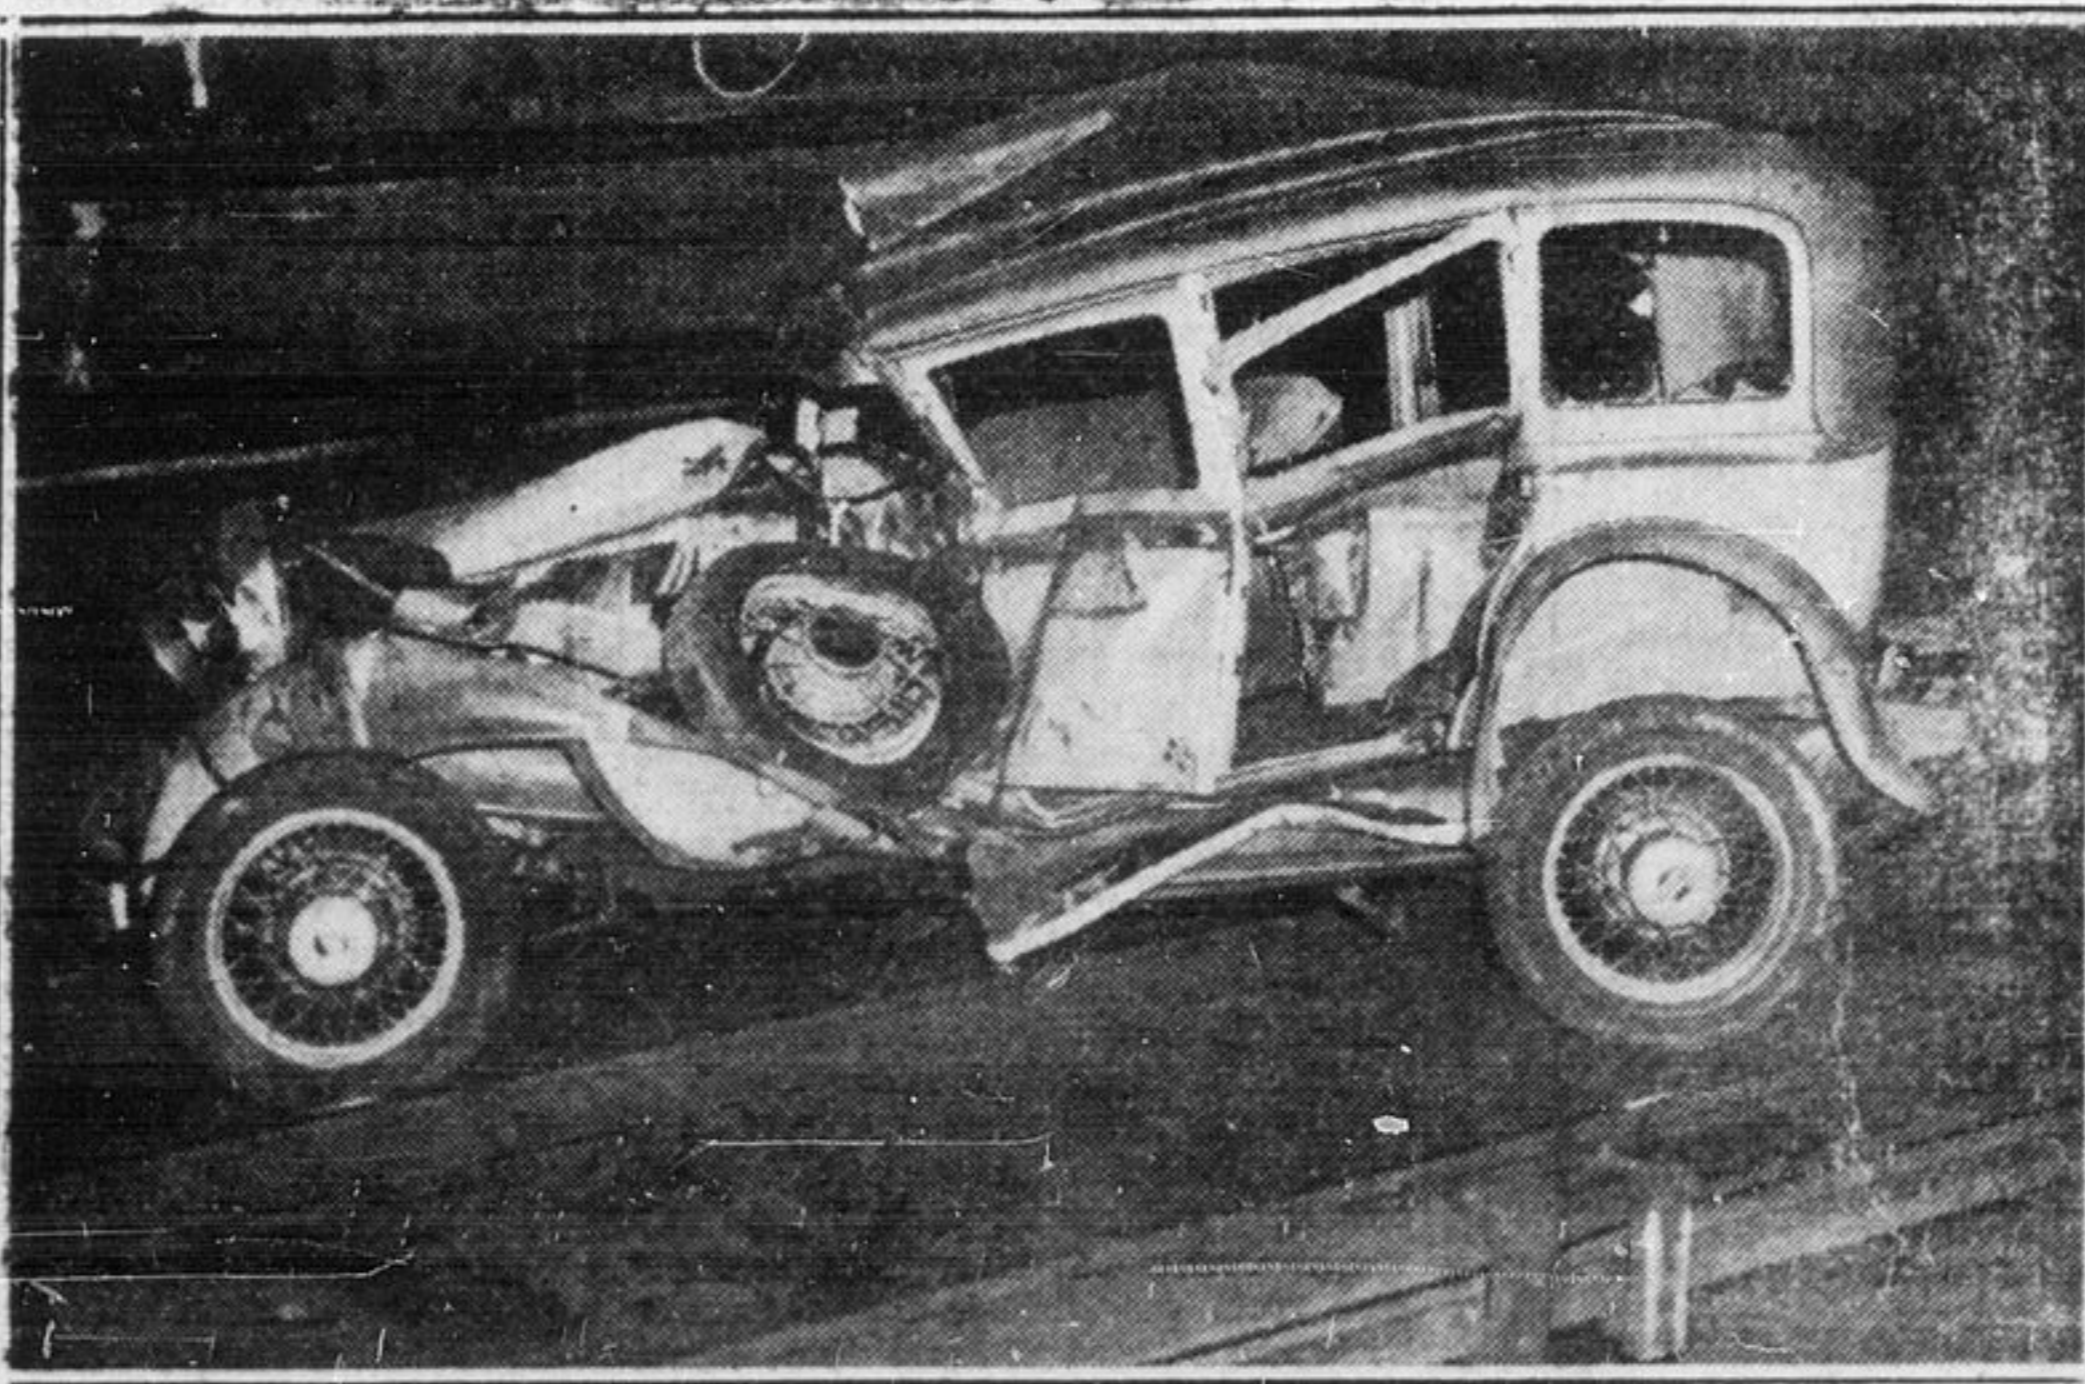

Gilbert Hunt, of Washington, D.C., caught in a tense moment of game in which he smashed his way through the defence of George Hirschman, 6-1, 6-3, in National Junior and Boys' Indoor Tennis Championship play at army in New York City.

Playing Love Scene

Without any help from a director, Pat Paterson happily welcomes her husband, Charles Boyer, back to New York from Europe. They're both film stars.

A Miraculous Escape

Wreckage of sedan that was struck by passenger train at crossing in Floral Park, Long Island. Mrs. Sophie Smith, the driver, and a woman companion leaped from the machine a split second before it was struck.

Bullitt Home from Moscow for Holidays

Refusing to discuss Far Eastern situation, Wm. C. Bullitt (right) U.S. Ambassador to Russia, arrives in Seattle and is greeted by Senator Homer Bone of Washington. The ambassador will confer with President Roosevelt and Russian Ambassador to U.S.