

Timmins in League; Macs Play Exhibition

Timmins Carrying On in Senior Hockey Group

After Considering Dropping Out of N.O.H.A. Decision is to Carry on. Chances Improved for Team Climbing from Cellar Position. May be in Play-offs.

The Timmins hockey club is going to stick to their colours in N.O.H.A. competition. This was decided on Saturday afternoon, though earlier in the week the executive were more than a little undecided about carrying on.

It will be a re-organized Timmins team that takes the ice to-night against the Porkies in South Porcupine. It is understood that some new faces will be seen on the Timmins line-up when they play here against the Porkies on Wednesday night and it will be a team determined to take at least one game from the league leaders.

In addition to some experienced talent that has been made available for the local club, Wallingford and Charbonneau, two of the younger local players will probably don the Gold Diggers' uniforms. Jo-Jo Tremblay will be back at centre ice again. Fred Quesnel will handle the team.

Now that McIntyre has dropped out of N.O.H.A. competition, the Gold Diggers are sure of two points every time they meet and with a new spirit evident amongst the Timmins players, it is expected that they will be able to pull up from their bottom position in the league standing. In fact it has been pointed out that should Timmins really get going, they have a chance to get into the play-offs. That's the mark they will aim at now.

Where Momentous Decision will be Made Regarding Gold

In the unpretentious building at RIGHT, the department of justice, Washington, the arguments were prepared with which the U.S. administration hoped to win from the supreme court of a favourable decision in the most momentous issue presented to the body in decades, that having to do with the legality of President Roosevelt's seizure of gold, voiding of gold contracts and devaluation of the dollar. A favourable decision would mean the declaration by the court of a new deal in the same year it has a new deal itself, with removal to the new building shown at LEFT, on which is graven, "Justice the Guardian of Liberty." Indications of new liberalisms in thought are being given by the chief justice, Charles Evans Hughes (LEFT) once a Republican conservative. Members of the court are seen below at the White House for an official call on the president whose acts they are now asked to approve. LEFT TO RIGHT: Justices Roberts, Butler, Brandeis, Hughes, Van Devanter, Sutherland, Stone, Cordozo, McReynolds.

Humane Society Formed for Timmins and District

Meeting at Mines Rescue Station Thursday Evening Takes Preliminary Steps to Guard Animals in Timmins and District from Cruelty, Abuse and Neglect.

Feeling the need of the enforcement of the laws regarding the maltreatment of animals in this district, fourteen interested people gathered in the Timmins Mines Rescue Station on Thursday night and did most of the preparatory work in establishing a branch here of the Ontario Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Dave Miller, who came here a short time ago from Toronto and noticed that no action was taken against persons who mistreated horses and dogs, acted as chairman of the meeting. A temporary executive, consisting of Mrs. P. Kinkel, vice-president; Mr. Deroches, secretary; Dr. A. S. Porter, treasurer; Arthur Moran, Mrs. A. S. Porter, Dr. J. A. McInnis and Austin Neame was selected. The president was not chosen but will be selected at an executive meeting to be held this week.

Those who were at the meeting feel that Timmins and district needs the supervision of a society very badly. Members said they had seen horses cruelly beaten on the streets and dogs lashed into carrying heavier loads than they should. It is said that horses are forced to work with festering sores where the harness touches their hides and that in many cases they are diseased beyond hope of recovery.

It is this sort of cruelty that the society hopes to prevent, not only in Timmins but later throughout the whole Porcupine district and as far as Cochrane, Matheson and Iroquois Falls. An educational campaign, possibly conducted through the co-operation of the schools of the district, may be begun to show youngsters the proper way of treating their pets.

The only large item of expense in the proper functioning of the society will be the paying of an inspector's salary. This official would investigate all cases to which the attention of the society is directed by any citizen of the district and as a full time operative would keep tabs on the ways in which animals are used throughout the whole district, probably by a regular system of inspection.

At first this work will have to be paid for by donations from other societies or from individuals who feel that the work is necessary. Already the local group is in receipt of one cheque from Toronto and it is expected that several influential people who have said that they approve of the society's work will contribute funds to see it well begun.

After cases are brought to court and fines imposed for infractions of the laws in regard to animals, it is usual for the municipality to hand over half the fine to the society, so that eventually there would be a certain amount of revenue from that source.

Any citizens of the district who wish to contribute now to see the work of the society on its way are asked to send their cheques to Dr. A. S. Porter as soon as possible.

At the meeting on Thursday a letter from the Ontario society was read, congratulating Mr. Miller for his efforts in helping to organize a branch in Timmins. Mr. Miller spoke at the

Address on Robert Burns at Kiwanis Club, Jan. 28

At the Kiwanis Club on Monday of next week, Jan. 28th, the guest speaker for the day will be W. M. Whyte, who will speak on Robert Burns, the great Scottish poet whose anniversary is being observed all over the civilized world this week. Because the ideals of Burns are so closely those of the Kiwanis in so many particulars, it has been the custom for the Timmins Kiwanis Club to have a Burns meeting each year. The event this year will be on Monday next, Jan. 28th, with 'Dad' Whyte as the speaker. Mr. Whyte is an authority on Burns and on several previous occasions has spoken to the Kiwanis Club on the subject of the great poet. He always has something new and true and helpful to say and his address as usual will be a feature of the programmes for the year.

McIntyre Now Playing Exhibition Games Only

Loss of Malloy and Polhill and Other Factors Make Continuance in N.O.H.A. Series Impractical. However, Giving Exhibition Games to Guard Other Teams Against Loss of Gates.

Weakened too much by the loss of Malloy and Polhill from their regular line-up and with some other players laid up with colds, McIntyre seniors withdrew from N.O.H.A. competition on Saturday. They will play the schedule through as exhibition games and win or lose, two points will go to the team they meet.

Until Saturday the McIntyre management hoped to be able to put up a good team against Kirkland Lake despite the players who have been refused transfers but they capitulated, got in touch with N.O.H.A. headquarters and were given permission to use their transferless players against all the other teams in the league in exhibition games. The same schedule will be used as for N.O.H.A. games previously slated.

So McIntyre's first season in N.O.H.A. competition ends about half way through the hockey season with a fair showing. Next year it will be a different story, not only with the McIntyre but with some other teams in the league. The whole thing will be settled early in December, players and all.

The remaining games on the Macs' schedule should be interesting ones even if they don't count in the cup play. They, like the Timmins club, cherish dreams of beating the apparently unbeatable Porkies, and they're out to do it.

The Macs, are not the only team forced out of league hockey by the C. A. H. A.'s refusal of transfers. The Maritime league went completely 'bust' last week when the Halifax Wolverines were the only club left in the whole senior section of the association. The Maritimes' unsuccessful attempt to run a "commercial" league and the subsequent return to "amateur" hockey was no go. Now they're talking commercial league all over again without the Wolverines, who will probably be declared senior Maritime champs and th Allen Cup playdowns may be at Halifax.

There does not seem to be much doubt about the idea that if the Maritime league had not tried to wreck Western teams by bringing their players east the C.A.H.A. would have granted transfers to the McIntyre men who needed them.

One Case for Judge's Court of Revision Here

John Carnovale Appealing Against Assessment of New House on Sixth Avenue. Judge's Court of Revision to be Held Here on Jan. 29th.

The 1935 assessment is now complete but the exact figures will not be available until after Jan. 29th when Judge J. B. T. Caron, of Cochrane, hears the appeal of John Carnovale against the assessment of his house at 6 1-2 Sixth avenue.

Assessment Commissioner J. A. Belanger will in the meantime begin work on the assessment for 1936. This particular division of the town's business offices must always be a year in advance of the times in order to facilitate the striking of tax rates.

The Carnovale case was first heard at the court of revision on Monday, Dec. 26, when the assessment figure of $4,575 was appealed. At that time Mr. Carnovale complained that in comparison with other buildings in town his home had a much higher figure placed on it than there should be.

In making the assessment of brick veneer building so high, Mr. Carnovale claimed that the people of Timmins were not being encouraged in the building of homes of a permanent and attractive nature. The court of revision first thought that $4,200 would be a fairer figure. Mr. Carnovale threatened to take the action before the final court of appeal and the council committee decided to reduce the amount further to $4,000.

Mr. Carnovale considers this still too high and has entered his appeal before Judge Caron. Immediately after the case is heard the total assessment will be adjusted.

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Canie Observe Golden Wedding

Part of Wedding Ceremony of Fifty Years Ago Repeated for Twenty-three Years. Social Events to Observe Notable Occasion.

Fifty years ago Mr. and Mrs. Charles Canie went through the marriage ceremony of the Roman Catholic church at Maniwaki, Quebec. On Saturday they heard a part of the same service repeated and again they were the principals.

Father Theriault after reading the latter part of the marriage ceremony at St. Anthony's church for Mr. and Mrs. Canie, blessed them. Two hundred attended the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Canie are among the oldest residents of the camp. They came here in the summer of 1911 and early in the fall Mr. Canie built one of the first homes the place boasted. It was a small log building, about 12 by 14 feet and was situated where Cedar street now is. At the time there was a little cluster of buildings on the Hollinger property but the few employees lived in tents. The railway line ended at Golden City in those days and Mr. and Mrs. Canie, with their children walked in from there.

More than twenty-three years have passed since they came to Timmins and Mr. and Mrs. Canie have lived to see their family grow up and make comfortable homes of their own. The old couple live at 64 Hemlock street and their five children live in various parts of the town. Three sons, Provin, Emile and Charles, two daughters, Annie and Mrs. Fred Lachapelle) and May (Mrs. Edward Barette) are residents of Timmins. There are 20 grandchildren.

After their second wedding ceremony that bridged a gap of 50 years, Mr. and Mrs. Canie were the guests of honour at a golden wedding dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jos. Richardson on Pine street north, given by their son, Charles. A purse of money was presented to them there.

At the Moose hall on Saturday evening, 150 of their friends and relatives gathered to wish them continued happiness. Dancing, games and a midnight supper made the entertainment there.

Mr. Canie is now 74 and Mrs. Canie 66. He was employed by the Hollinger until 1916 when he went into the tie-jobbing business for himself. Of the family of nine, the five who live here are the survivors. Four sons died before the family came north.

Eight Degrees Above This Morning, and Lots of Snow

Yesterday was one of those rare winter days that had everybody outside for a few hours at least. Brilliant sunshine tempted skaters, skiers and hikers to make the best of the weather while it lasted. The maximum temperature reached was 20 degrees.

Becoming colder toward nightfall, the mercury sank to five below zero and was rising slowly again this morning. At eight o'clock eight degrees above was registered. A heavy snowfall set in early in the morning and was showing no signs of abating when last official observations were made.

Hockey Special to the Falls Wednesday

Special Train and Special Fare for Junior Hockey Game at Iroquois Falls

The season's first hockey special from Timmins leaves Timmins station at six o'clock Wednesday night for Iroquois Falls where the two evenly-matched junior teams will stage another real battle.

After the kids' win here last Wednesday night, they should have a good following to the paper town and the price at which the special has been arranged makes it easily possible to finance the whole thing—train fare, admission to the rink and a sandwich after the game for two bucks.

Iroquois Falls brought a well crowded special here for the game last Wednesday and it is expected that the one going to the Falls from here will be bigger and better.

Snowstorm Gave Work to Men in Town and Tp.

Forty Men Hired by Town and Railway. Large Number Also Engaged by Private Firms and Individuals. Many Cars go into Ditches.

Snowstorms may not be popular with some residents of Timmins but they are a blessing to at least 40 men who would not otherwise be employed.

The fall of snow during the week, though not particularly heavy, threatened to drift, and for a few hours at least motor travel was not at its best. The town's big diesel snowplough and the township of Tisdale's motor plough soon had the main roads cleared on Thursday and only a few people were inconvenienced by not being able to travel early in the morning.

More dog teams made their appearance bringing loads in from outlying parts and a few people were forced to take to snowshoes to make the trip into town.

In order to keep the main streets of the town free of snow the engineering department of the town put on about 25 men and six trucks during last week. By Saturday Third and Fourth avenues and parts of Pine, Cedar and Spruce streets, the main business section, were almost completely clear of snow piles left by the street and sidewalk ploughs.

The T. & N. O. railway put on an additional 15 men to clear the tracks and switches in the yard. The railway plough was used to begin the work and gangs of men shovelled the banks of snow off to the side of the right of way.

Altogether, between the town and the railway, nearly 40 men were given work for a few days. How many men were hired by private individuals or companies in Timmins and the township of Tisdale is difficult to estimate but it is said that the number would probably be doubled if all the snow shovellers could be counted.

Several motor cars ended up in various ditches in the district on Thursday and Friday when it was difficult to tell where the shoulders of the roads were. As a general rule, passing trucks and private cars stopped to help their less fortunate fellow-travellers back onto the road, though in many cases derricks were needed to do the job.

The Semi-Weekly Smile

Would you go to departmental printed matter issued by the Government (and especially to the Dept. of National Revenue) for humour. You would find the saving grace of wit and humour in The National Revenue Review, at any rate. So for this issue The Advance has gone to The National Revenue Review for this semi-weekly smile:—

In a United States civil service examination for a man to fire a marine boiler this question was asked: "If it takes 20 men to mow a field in eight hours how long will it take 15 men to mow the same field?"

One candidate wrote: "As the field had already been mowed by the 20 men, the 15 men could not mow it in any case."

A former member of the 159th Battalion has received word that the unit's bear mascot Kitchener which was presented to the London Zoo, is still alive and well at that institution.

New Search For Her

RITA LENT

A new investigation into the unsolved disappearance two months ago of Rita Lent, 4 (above) of Cochrane, O., has been launched by the new sheriff of Lake County, Ohio, Jerry Benson. Benson took the action after learning that the child's estranged parents Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Lent, had planned a divorce.
