No Hotelmen's Association at Kirkland Lake to Date

Recent reference was made in The Advance to the Hotelmen's Association recently formed in this district. This prompts The Northern News to the following paragraph:

"Querted as to a hotelmen's association here similar to one in Timmins, Albert Serre, secretary-treasurer of the company operating the New Townsite Hotel, said no group had been formed here to give one voice to the operator's requests. On the question of the extension of closing time to midnight for beverage rooms in mining towns, Mr. Serre said representation had been made to the Hepburn Government for the privilege. "Men coming off shift wanting a drink are going to get it anyway," he said, "so it should be provided under control."

Temperature This Morning Stood at Nine Below Zero

Spring may be not so far away but Monday didn't show a very springlike temperature when the thermometer failed to get above the zero mark all day. It was the second coldest day of the month, having a mean temperature of seven degrees below zero. The coldest day was Feb. 5th when the mean was 13 1-2 degrees below zero.

All the minima temperatures since Monday have been rather lower than usual and even with brilliant sunshine to warm the daytime air, the freezing point has not been reached by 14 degrees.

Here are the highs and lows for this week:—

	Maxima	Minima
Tuesday	7 above	20 below
Wednesday	17 above	18 below
Thursday		15 below

This morning at eight o'clock the temperature had risen six degrees from the night's low and stood at nine below zero.

Another Cobalt Case of Grand Slam with 13 Spades

A couple of years ago Cobalt got into the bridge limelight when a lady of that town, Mrs. P. J. McDonald had thirteen diamonds dealt her in a game there.

Now Cobalt is in the limelight again with a similar hand. At a party given to the teachers of the different schools by E. J. Boland, principal of Cobalt separate school, Miss Jean Munro held thirteen spades.

She was playing Contract with Miss Jean McDevitt as partner against Mrs. Arnold Smith and Miss Elsie Landry and Mrs. Smith was the dealer. Miss Munro bid a Grand Slam in spades, which was the only bid and laid down the hand. The ladies at the table were so surprised to see this remarkable hand that, while counting all the points necessary on an occasion of this kind, they forgot to count the honours. Incidentally, Miss Munro took the first prize on the night's play.

It is said that thirteen cards of the same suit at bridge happens only once in some millions of times. In the North Land luck is so used to dealing in millions that it is no wonder the count seems out of proportion.

Death Penalty for Harold Vermilyea

Judge Sentences Man Convicted of Murdering Mother. To Hang on May 2nd.

Word from Belleville this week told of the sentencing of Harold Vermilyea to hang on May 2nd.

Stoical calm and unconcern that marked Harold W. Vermilyea throughout 10 days of trial for the murder of his mother wavered on Tuesday when he stood before Mr. Justice Nicol Jeffrey and heard pronouncement of death by hanging May 2.

While sentence was being pronounced Vermilyea's usual slight pallor became ashen. He rubbed his hands nervously together and shifted them from pocket to pocket. At the end of the death sentence he turned quickly, grabbed the air cushion he has used throughout the long trial and was taken under close guard quickly to his cell.

An assize court jury Monday night brought in its verdict of guilty after four hours and 31 minutes deliberation. The verdict disregarded the defence plea of insanity at the time of the slaying of 79-year-old Mrs. Aurelia Vermilyea last October 4.

In passing sentence today up on the former Ontario, Calif. fruit exchange employee, Mr. Justice Jeffrey said "The sentence of the court upon you, Harold Vermilyea, is that you be taken from here to the place from which you came and kept there in close confinement until the second day of May and upon that date you be taken to the place of execution and hanged by the neck until you are dead. And may the Lord have mercy upon your soul."

Every seat in the court room was filled long before the opening Tuesday. Hundreds of curious milled about the front steps. Special guards had difficulty in handling the crush and keeping the corridors clear. In the rows of spectators many women sat and knitted patiently.

Vermilyea entered court in a neatly pressed brown suit. His close-cut iron grey hair was slicked down. He appeared more composed than the three provincial police guards who hurried him through the corridors.

Before passing sentence Mr. Justice Jeffrey said:—"Vermilyea, after a fair trial and a long consideration of your case by the jury they found you guilty. It would serve no good purpose for me to say anything to you about the nature of the act which you committed. If at the present time you feel no remorse for the commission of the crime, no words of mine can make you appreciate it. I do earnestly beseech you to seek the consolation that your religion affords you."

"It was developed in evidence that you were a good father; you cared for your children and looked after their spiritual welfare. You can ask forgiveness for your sins and forgiveness will not be denied you."

He refused to avail himself of any spiritual assistance offered.
