South Africa's First Classic Auto Race

Attracted Largest Crowd Ever seen in the Union Race over 91.2 Mile Course

South Africa's first classic automobile race, the Grand Prix, held recently over a picturesque 16-mile paved circuit at East London, attracted the largest crowd ever seen in the Union. The 91.2-mile race was won by a costly V-type Italian racing car, driven by a famous racing driver. Second place and a special prize for the most meritorious performance were taken by a Canadian-made Ford V-8, driven by a Ford salesman who had never before been in a race. The Ford V-8 was a stripped stock job which had been prepared by the Ford dealer at Queens-town, from a wrecked sedan. It averaged 76 miles an hour.

The success of the race, which attracted a crowd of more than 50,000 spectators (the largest crowd ever gathered before in the Union of South Africa was 32,000) has decided the promoters to make it an annual event.

and it will be held next New Year's Day over the same course.

There were 18 entries in the race, and seven finished. Two Ford V-8s had been entered, but one was eliminated in the first lap by tire trouble.

J. H. Case, the driver of the successful Ford V-8, was accompanied by H. F. Wiggill, of the Ford dealership at Stutterheim, as mechanic.

Because of the remarkable performance of the inexpensive Ford V-8 in this first event, four Ford enthusiasts have already announced their intention of entering cars next year.

The Grand Prix course is unusually attractive in setting. It is known as the Marine Drive, and is an hourglass-shaped paved road much of which runs beside the sea around a point of land.

BOWL ALONG

Speaking of the games played last Friday, Gambles certainly put on a fine display of bowling and turned in their best night's bowling since they started rolling them down.

What was the matter with "Sharley"? Tough luck, Henry. You can have three pins tomorrow.

For the fourth time the tie goes to the Commercial league, Grant Eddy being the recipient last week with Joe Toal right on his heels.

The boys know where to keep Grant now to make him bowl when Lena is around.

Did you see that printer roll when she popped in the scene? Well Gambles finally pushed the printers into the cellar.

They say Joe got soaked at the fire on Wednesday last, but why should he have to come up and shake the water out of his boots at Alfie.

Art is still looking for those 100 pins you were spotting him, George! Why don't you take the lead out of your shoes?

Army doesn't like to see a man make a good score, except himself. A little encouragement goes a long way when a man gets a bad break with a good score.

What will Jimmy at Kirkland say, Jack, when he reads about your downfall?

Power Gets Jolt in Commercial League

Gambles Take Three Points from Power Team. The Advance Sent Down to the Cellar.

The Power got quite a jolt last Friday in the Commercial bowling league and it did not come from their own power lines either, but from those boys who know how to throw pineapples at the right moment. They trimmed the electricians for three points.

This puts the Power on that dangerous pinnacle, as the T. & N. O. took all four points from the Advance, which boosted them within one point of the Power and to-morrow should see a battle royal between these two teams, not to say anything about the revenge the printers are out for by being sent to the cellar.

The T. & N. O. were very lucky to get four points. They got the breaks at the end of each game as the Advance held a good lead in each game to the eighth frame, but how those railroads could strike out to win was nobody's business.

The honour roll carries two good scores:—G. Eddy, J. Gagnon and P. Nicolson, Gambles, 785, 697, 644; J. Toal, T. & N. O., 726; H. Webb, E. Towlers and E. Salomaa, Power, 656, 648 and 625; F. J. Hornby, Advance, 635.

Toronto Ball Fans Anxious re Chances

Wondering About Results in the International Baseball League Before Hockey Decided.

Baseball in Toronto opens this year on May 2nd, when Syracuse are the visitors to the Queen City. Toronto sport fans are already beginning to get anxious about the Maple Leafs chances in the International League pennant race, even before their Maple Leaf hockey is through the season.

By the time May 2nd rolls around and Toronto goes to the stadium for the first home game, the league will be well away, after the opening games in the more southern cities of the circuit. The Maple Leafs play their first game in Buffalo on April 17th, when the eight team league swings into action in three cities, Albany, Baltimore and Newark.

Montreal fans see their first big game on May 2nd when Baltimore are the visitors. They open their season at Baltimore on April 17th.

Last games of the schedule are on September 8th.

Kincardine Review:—Sharing the wealth of others has always had inviting aspects.

Gambles win three points; Power win one point.

Play-Offs Nearing In Big Time Hockey

Leafs Sure Finalists in N.H.L. Championship. Six Possible Winners in Stanley Cup Series for World's Hockey Title.

With March 19th the closing day for N.H.L. hockey in at least two United States cities, St. Louis and Detroit, the races for the N.H.L. championship and the Stanley cup for 1935 are approaching quickly. Toronto Maple Leafs will finish up top in the Canadian section of the league and will enter a series of three out of five games with Boston, or Chicago for the National Hockey League championship.

Stanley cup playdowns, for "the championship of the world" are a little more complicated. Here's how they seem to work: After the winners of the N.H.L. championship are decided, the teams standing second in each section play a series of home and home games; the teams standing third in each section do likewise. The winners of these series meet in a series of three games. The team that wins two meets the N.H.L. champions in another three out of five game series for the Stanley cup.

Six Possible Cup Winners

This year there are, as usual six possible Stanley cup winners: Toronto, Maroons, Canadiens of the Canadian section; and Boston, Rangers and Chicago of the American section. There are only three possible N.H.L. championship winners, Toronto, Boston Bruins, or Chicago. The Leafs have definitely won the Canadian section; Maroons can come only within 10 points of them if they win their remaining games against Americans and Boston. In the American section either of Boston Bruins or Chicago are possible section leaders and although Boston Bruins at present have the edge by two and a half games over the Black Hawks, Chicago can be "way out front by winning all four games against Detroit, Boston, Rangers and Canadiens. The only thing that's absolutely certain, is that all three American section leaders have a chance of winning out to meet the Leafs.

Detroit, New York Americans and St. Louis are the three teams that have been eliminated by the season's play in the National Hockey League.

The dopesters have it that Boston and the Leafs will meet in the league-leaders' battle and that Maroons, Canadiens, Rangers and Chicago will have a lot of fun picking the best team to meet the winner of the Leafs-Bruins series.

Anything Can Happen

But the sort of thing that happened between Kirkland Lake Millionaires and South Porcupine seniors this season, is just as likely to happen in the best regulated hockey.

Here are the remaining games in the N.H.L. schedule: To-night (Thursday) Rangers at Canadiens, Boston at Americans, Detroit at Chicago. Saturday, March 16, Canadiens at Toronto, Americans at Maroons, Chicago at Boston. Sunday, March 17th, Canadiens at Detroit, Chicago at Rangers. Tuesday, March 19th, St. Louis at Toronto, Maroons at Boston, Chicago at Cana-

Sudbury Cub Wolves Take the Hockey Cup

Trophy in Fire Hall Claimed on Behalf of Sudbury Seniors, Winners This Year.

The problem of how to get rid of the senior N.O.H.A. trophy was solved on Tuesday when the victorious Sudbury Cub Wolves descended on the Timmings fire hall and claimed the cup in the name of their Sudbury senior team brothers.

They carried it to the station in two parts, ignominiously, ungracefully, the huge silver and copper cup parted from its wood, silver, and gold nickel base. One of the players sat on it while waiting for the call "all aboard!"

It really belonged in Sudbury anyway, for Falconbridge won it last year, though the cup never reached there, nor were the names of the players inscribed on a metal shield.

Since being won in 1933 by the Timmings seniors, the historic trophy has been a familiar sight in the fire chief's office in the past two years it had been proposed to ship it to Sudbury, but somehow or other it never was done. Now that it is gone, the southwest corner of the office looks just a little bare where the gaudy piece of metals and wood stood for years.

MARCH THAW

Berne Cooper, in the New York Sun. Tree limbs are dripping moisture, and the earth is melting slowly; down an inch or two. The ground is frozen, and the dormant roots feel not the urgency of temporal spring. Brown hills and pastures, soft to clover hooves, Seepy and wet beneath the tangled sod; A brilliant sun hangs in the azure sky Where birds wing northward in unhurried flight; The tang of April in the fragrant air; And Spring, the fugitive, lurks everywhere!

Myers was Outstanding for South End Juniors

Pelkie, McKay, Maki and Richardson Also Showed Well in Final Game at South Porcupine with the Cub Wolves, who won Round 20 to 8.

South Porcupine, March 12th, 1935. Special to The Advance

Sudbury Cub Wolves relentlessly swept the Junior Porkies aside last night by swamping the locals under an avalanche of goals. By their win the Cub Wolves advance another step in the Memorial Cup play-downs. The Wolves faster and more experienced than the locals is the team which won the S.P.A. series in Toronto last fall. They are a strong junior aggregation but not generally conceded to be powerful enough to bring the old Memorial Cup to Sudbury on a return visit.

The final score was 9-4 for Sudbury giving them the round 20-8 which is margin enough to suit any ambitious youngster. In last night's game Shannon, Hiller and Grosso collected two goals apiece with Morris, Conick and Smith each registering once.

Pelkie, Miller, Doran Score

Pelkie scored his teams two first center's with Miller and Doran getting one apiece.

The game was a nightmare for Ken Myers in goal. He was the mainstay, the whole body and soul of the local team. He played sensational hockey and his efforts alone saved the score from reading something like 30-4 for Sudbury. Mickey McKay on defence and the second line of Maki, Pelkie and Richardson gave Myer any support he received.

Play was fast and for the most part clean, any penalties being for minor infractions with the exception of two in the third period when Shannon and Doran staged a fist encounter which failed to register any excitement.

Even in the First

In the first period the play was just as even as the score at the end indicates, 2-2; and the crowd were treated to the smartest hockey seen here this winter. Hiller opened the scoring for Sudbury and Swanson was chased for tripping Richardson as he shot on Kemp. With Sudbury a man short, the locals went to work and Pelkie scored on a pass from McKay to tie the game. Twenty seconds later Pelkie again dented the twine to put his team in the lead. With Swanson back on, Smith tied the score assisted by Morris. Conick was chased for tripping and the period ended 2-2.

Cub Wolves Get Going

In the second period Sudbury started at a one man disadvantage, Conick doing a hangover from the first. Grosso was chased for tripping Haneberry and the Cubs played two men short. The Porkies failed to get organized and the chance passed. With Conick back he almost beat Myers on a lone rush only to have his chance spoiled by Haneberry who came from behind like a frenzied Alex Hurd to spoil the shot. Maki drew the next penalty and for a few minutes Myers looked like a bad case of St. Vitus dance as he hopped around the nets stopping the deluge of shots from the attacking Wolves, but stop them he did and Maki returned putting his team once more at full strength.

Two minutes later Grosso and Smith combined to beat Myers on a perfect play to send Sudbury into the lead. Grosso was chased for slashing and the Porkies pressed hard but Shannon broke and off like a flash only to be overtaken and checked by McKay who turned in his best game of the year.

Goal Disallowed

With Grosso back the Porkies scored but it was disallowed as there was a player in the crease. Grosso and Haneberry drew penalties and only Myers in the nets kept Sudbury from clicking till Shannon and Conick combined on a play that didn't give Myers a chance and the second period ended Sudbury 4, Porcupine 2.

Hiller opened the scoring in the third and two minutes later Miller notched for the Porkies on a pass from Doran. Doran five minutes later beat Kemp unassisted to tally the Pork's last goal. With only a one goal lead in the game Sudbury turned on the heat and unmercifully attacked the weakening Porkies, who like the Arabs folded their tents and crept away.

Myers alone seemed to still be in the game and for seven long minutes he kept the Wolves at bay even when his own team joined the visitors with perfect passes. The strongest weaken at last and in the three dying minutes of the game Myers was unable to hold off any longer and Grosso, Shannon, Conick and Morris each rang the bell to make it Sudbury Cub Wolves 9, South Porcupine 4.

The Wolves outplayed the locals in every position except in goal. Kemp in the Sudbury nets was not given much of a chance to display his mettle. Shannon was the outstanding star of the Wolves with Conick, Hiller and Stuart giving fine exhibitions. For the locals Myers was the shining light assisted by Pelkie, McKay, Maki and Richardson.

The game was handled by Jas. Fell, South Porcupine and Bill Duncan, Sudbury.

The teams

South Porcupine: goal, Myers; defence, Scantland, Numella and McKay; forwards, Miller, Haneberry and Doran; alternates, Maki, Richardson and Pelkie.

Sudbury—goal, Kemp; defence, Shannon, Swanson; forwards, Morris, Conick and Hiller; alternates, Stuart, Smith, Guergere, Grosso, Pozzo and Ross.

Summary

First period scoring—Sudbury Hiller (Shannon), 8:50; South Porcupine, Pelkie (McKay), 14:40; South Porcupine, Pelkie, 15:00; Sudbury, Smith (Morris), 18:20.

Second period scoring—Sudbury, Grosso (Smith), 6:05; Sudbury, Shannon (Conick), 16:30.

Third period scoring—Sudbury, Hiller (Shannon), 2:30; South Porcupine, Miller (Doran), 4:05; South Porcupine, Doran 9:40; Sudbury, Conick (Grosso), 17:00; Sudbury, Grosso (Conick), 18:20; Sudbury, Shannon, 19:50; Sudbury, Morris (Conick), 19:55.

Let's go, boys!

"Hockey requires a lot of energy—on the defence you've got to 'take it'—on the attack, be ready to burst into action and stir up the scoring punch. I know of no better food to provide energy than Bee Hive Golden Corn Syrup—I like it and eat lots of it."

So, boys and girls, (and old sports too) follow King Clancy's lead, ask your mother to buy Bee Hive Golden Corn Syrup for your home. You'll like it spread on bread, or served with pancakes, and on Johnny Cake, hot biscuits and muffins. Delicious as a dessert by itself—with toast in the morning, on cereals, on porridge, a tablespoon in a glass of milk, and many other appetizing ways, Bee Hive is good for young and old. It is the most digestible carbohydrate food that can be included in the daily menu. The ideal food to restore used up energy. Doctors and dietitians recommend it. When the doctor advises a corn syrup for a milk modifier in infant feeding, ask your grocer for Bee Hive. Used and endorsed in the first feedings of the famous Dionne Quintuplets.
