

Body of David Delaney Found Near Shillington

Man Missing Since January 2nd Apparently Overcome on Way Back to Lumber Camp After Being in Hospital at Timmins. Body Shipped to Wyevale.

The search for David Delaney, missing since January 1st, ended on Monday when his body was found half a mile from the Shillington road. Delaney's disappearance was reported exclusively in The Advance on January 24th, at which time the local detachment of the provincial police were notified that he was missing and a search made for him.

R. J. McCoy, James Disley and another man had been in to work at some claims in the Ramore area last week and it was they who stumbled on the outstretched form of Delaney. McCoy notified the local police immediately on his arrival in Timmins Monday evening and on Tuesday morning he accompanied Provincial Constable John Pretorius to the spot at which the body had been found.

Brought Here on Dec. 9th

Delaney was brought to Timmins from McRae's lumber camp on the Whitefish river on December 9th suffering from pleurisy. On January 1st he was allowed to leave St. Mary's hospital and he began the long hike back to the camp, a distance of more than forty miles. He was seen at Connaught on January 2nd, but from then until Monday, no trace of him had been found. He was still many miles from his destination when found.

"How he ever got that far is more than I can understand," said Mr. McCoy when interviewed by The Advance, "without snowshoes that's an almost impossible trip in the winter. The snow gets very deep as the wind sweeps across there and it would take a very strong man to get even that far unless the trail was very well packed."

Hard Country to Travel

There is very little bush in that part of the country, he explained, with the exception of some jackpine there is little or no protection. It is well known as one of the coldest spots in the district. Even last week the McCoy party were forced to use snowshoes when crossing the gullies that cut that part of the country.

Mr. Delaney and his son came north from Wyevale, Ontario, in October. The boy obtained work in a Matheson drug store but the father travelled on northward, finally getting a job at the McRae camp on the Whitefish.

He is survived by his wife and two sons, one of whom accompanied the body back to Wyevale yesterday. He was an active member of the Free Methodist church, being superintendent of the Sunday school until he left Wyevale in October. He was 62 years of age.

Lower Telegraph Rates Announced by T.&N.O.

Reductions will Range from 15 per cent Upwards. Substantial Reductions to all Points T. & N. O. and Connections. C. N. R. Telegraphs Make Similar Announcement.

By wire from North Bay yesterday the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway Telegraphs announced reduction in through telegraph rates effective Friday, April 19th, 1935. These reductions (the announcement points out) will range from upwards of 15 per cent. As an example, the rate from all T. and N. O. Railway Telegraph points to Toronto will be reduced from 60 cents to 50 cents, and substantial reductions will be made to all other points recorded by the T. and N. O. Telegraph and its connections. Any further information, the announcement adds, may be secured from the local agents.

Similar announcement is made by the Canadian National Telegraphs as follows:—

"As a result of the Canadian National Telegraphs' new arrangements with the Temiskaming and Northern Ontario Railway, becomes effective on April 19th under which direct telegraphic service is extended to all T. and N. O. points it becomes possible to extend the same basis of rates to all T. and N. O. points that now applies to existing Canadian National offices in that territory. In other words, the lower basis of rates that has heretofore been in effect from such places as Noranda and Rouyn to all Canadian points will now be extended to include all T. and N. O. points in the North. The arrangement between the T. and N. O. and the Canadian National Telegraphs eliminates the necessity of relaying at North Bay traffic exchanged between the larger offices on both systems thus materially reducing the transmission time in all such business. Another important connecting point has been established with the Canadian National Telegraphs at Chatham, Ont., a divisional point on the Northern Transcontinental line of the Canadian National Railways, thus permitting another outlet for business originating in this territory destined to

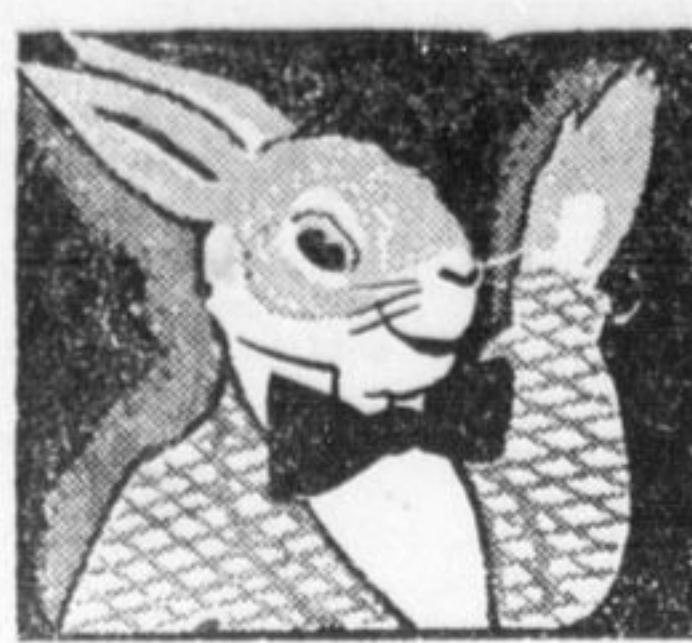

Weather Promises to be Warmer Again

Was Five Degrees Above Last Night, but Mercury Started to Rise Again.

Possibility of another warm weekend for Easter is indicated in today's weather report. Although the temperature sank to five above Wednesday night, it seems to be moderating now. The week's high so far was 56 on Monday.

There has been a peculiar absence of precipitation in this part of the North this year. Seventeen days have passed and the only moisture fall of any kind recorded was one-sixteenth of an inch of snow early Tuesday morning. There has been no rain here, although a good deal has fallen farther south. The usual first two weeks of April here bring a little rainfall.

Highs and lows since Monday are: Monday, max. 56, min. 34; Tuesday, max. 30, min. 12; Wednesday, max. 39, min. 5; last night's minimum was 11 degrees and at eight o'clock this morning it was 20 above.

Several Come Through on Ferguson Highway

More than One Car Claims the Distinction of Being the First From North Bay. Road in Fairly Good Condition. Frost Not Out Yet.

Traffic on the Ferguson highway is not very heavy yet, but at least half a dozen cars have come through from North Bay this week so far. The roads are fine, say the drivers, as the frost has not yet started to "come out." Very soon, however, when the frost does begin to leave, the usual soft spots will begin to develop and travel will be none too easy.

Some local cars have been down the road as far as Matheson and report the road that far in good shape.

The road from Halleybury to North Bay has been kept open most of the winter and the stretch from Halleybury to Kirkland Lake was opened last week.

Private Interests to Develop Lignite

Premier Hepburn Refers to Negotiations Being Carried on with This End in View.

In the Legislature this week Premier Hepburn told of definite proposals by private interests for the development of the lignite fields at Onakawana made to the government.

The Premier said that influential interests were prepared to begin the immediate development of the fields as soon as negotiations could be completed with the government.

He said that for this reason and because of the government's immediate desire to discuss the new situation with Premier Taschereau of Quebec, adjournment of the house was desirable so the government could have adequate time to give detailed consideration to the two situations which would relieve much of the pressure resulting from unemployment in Northern Ontario.

He declined at this stage to name the interests which have made the "definite proposals" to the government but they are understood to be so important that the whole cabinet should deal with the situation at once.

Feast of Passover Observed in Town

Jewish People Commemorate Occasion in Their History. Event Concludes on Friday.

Jewish people all over the world began last evening at sundown the annual commemoration of the Passover. No less here than elsewhere does the large Jewish community observe this solemn occasion that reminds them so pointedly of one incident in their history that was the beginning of that long sandy trek to Palestine.

Two foods eaten universally by Jews only once in the year typify the privations of the forty years they wandered in the desert on the way from Egypt. Unleavened bread recalls to them the unsettled existence their forefathers had while the long journey was on its origin is in the recorded story of how the tribes baked their bread in the sun, having no time to allow it to rise, no ovens in which to cook it. Bitter herbs bring to mind the bitterness and suffering the Israelites endured while on their long hard journey.

There is a note of joy however in the commemoration of the Passover. The original Passover came just after Pharaoh had granted them their freedom from the land of Egypt. They were once again a free people, on their way to a land of their own.

Modern history has brought a sort of repetition of the Egyptian bondage. The Jews will not forget that this year, once more a pilgrimage has begun to a promised land—the same Palestine. The manner of persecution and the manner of flight may not be the same, but there still remains a striking parallel between the age-old story and the modern one. The Israelites left Egypt with little of what they had garnered through their lifetimes. To-day many of them are forced from their own home lands just as destitute.

The Feast of the Passover is a seven-day one and is concluded next Friday at sundown.

Report of Delegates Presented to Council

Town Clerk Montgomery and Auditor G. N. Ross Report on Interview with Government. No Definite Answer Given. Matter to be Taken up Further Through the Solicitors.

The special meeting of the town council called for last night was a very short affair, at which no important motions were passed; although several important matters were discussed, no action was taken.

H. E. Montgomery, town clerk, and G. N. Ross, town auditor, reported on their trip to interview government officials on the guaranteeing of $30,000 school debentures for the Monca addition; and the question of sewerage rentals. They got little satisfaction from the Department of Municipal Affairs and both matters will now have to be taken up again with the government through solicitors. Only three motions appear on the minute books of the council for last night's meeting. The first was "that in the opinion of this council, the public interest requires that this special shall be a closed meeting." The second dealt with some minor tax rebates given to widows, and the third was the usual motion to adjourn. All the members of the council were present. The coming building by-law was discussed but will not be ready for some time yet for passing.

I.O.D.E. Honour the Passing of Member

Minute of Silence Observed at Meeting in Tribute to the late Mrs. E. Biodgett.

There was a meeting of Timmins Golden Chapter Daughters of the Empire on Monday evening when taken of respect and appreciation was paid to the memory of the late Mrs. E. Biodgett, who passed away suddenly on Saturday evening. Mrs. Biodgett for many years was one of the most active and earnest workers in the I.O.D.E. and her generous services on every needed occasion were most valuable. In recent months she had not been able on account of illness to give the time and effort that she had formerly given to the I.O.D.E., but her able and kindly efforts for the Order have not been forgotten. During the meeting on Monday evening, the Regent, Mrs. H. Traver, referred to the death of Mrs. Biodgett and the members of the Order accorded their late member the tribute of the standing minute of silence.

At the meeting plans were further

Fire in Playhouse Does $100 Damage

Chimney Fire the Only Other Fire Call This Week for Fire Brigade.

Fire in a playhouse at the rear of 86 Preston street yesterday did about $100 damage. It is thought that the place caught fire from a small heap of burning material collected in cleaning up the yard. The fire department put out the fire with chemicals but doused it well with water just to make sure. The house is occupied by J. White.

The only other call of the week was at 11.20 last night for chimney blaze.

South Porcupine Wins Basketball Honours

In Brisk Game Last Night South Enders Defeat the Achilles Club of Timmins 19 to 17. Timmins and Schumacher High Schools Drop Games.

One of the fastest and most cleanly contested games of the basketball season gave South Porcupine the basketball championship of the group last night at South End high school gymnasium when they defeated Timmins Achilles club 19-17.

The game developed into a final when it was announced at an executive meeting that Timmins and Schumacher High Schools were ready to default their remaining games. This move was probably due to the increasing time students must spend on studies from now on until June. If Timmins had won, a playoff would have been necessary, as the league would have been tied, but as it turned out, last night's game was the last game of a successful season. For nearly three-quarters of the game

Achilles Club led the scoring, and at one time were six points up. Even at the end of the first half, Achilles Club had a lead of 12-11. Myers of South End was the heavy scorer of the evening. He got 10 of his team's 19 points. For Achilles Club, Duxfield, Drew and Walsh split the honours with four each. The line ups were: South Porcupine: forwards, Cattarollo (1), Kaufman (2), Whelham (1); centre, Myers (10); Wright; Guards, Hainsberry (4), Thomas (1); Wilkinson, Jakes. Timmins Achilles Club: forwards, Delmonte (2), Dunn, Romaldi (1); centre, Walsh (4); guards, Brown (2), Duxfield (4), Cecchini. Referee: W. S. Blake, Schumacher.
