

Monster Parade Being Arranged for May 6th

Will be the Most Spectacular Ever Seen in the North, if Present Plans Materialize. All Loyal Groups Represented. Tag Day Planned for Saturday, May 4th and Monday, May 6th.

There was much business completed on Friday evening last in the Legion hall in connection with the King's Silver Jubilee Celebration to be held on May 6th. There was a very good attendance. The first item discussed was the purchase of suitable tags to sell in the local effort to raise a neat sum from the Porcupine to forward to Ottawa, for the King's Cancer Fund. Austin Neame displayed a button upon which was a photograph of the King and Queen, and backed by a red, white and blue ribbon. This seemed to meet the approval of all. It was shown that these could not be sold under ten cents so the boxes will have a card to that effect, reading "King's Cancer Fund Badges, Ten Cents or Over," and one delegate humorously said "and mostly over!"

50 Taggers Required

There is a special call for 50 taggers, young ladies only, ages 16 to 25. Those who would like to give their services for this patriotic cause and who qualify in the age limit desired, are asked to report to Mr. Neame at the Mines Rescue Station, any morning before Saturday, May 4th. It is especially asked that no children be asked to report for tagging, but young ladies between the ages as noted above.

Who Will Donate Use of Trucks?
Several organizations are without means of securing trucks for the occasion and all truck owners are invited to lend their trucks for this special event. Any of the committee, whose names are given elsewhere in this article, will be glad to give all information. In all, about 15 trucks are needed. Those who will take care of the supplying of trucks include—Austin Neame, J. Cowan, W. A. Devine, of the Legion; J. U. Pavlica, J. Stedoiny and Mr. Demers.

The Route of Parade
Assemble at the ball park, leave at 2:30 p.m. and proceed by way of Pine to Spruce, Spruce to Tamarack, Tamarack and Hemlock to Sixth Avenue, Sixth Avenue to Spruce, along Spruce to Fifth Avenue, and past the St. Mary's hospital to Cedar, Cedar to Fourth Avenue, along Fourth Avenue to townsite (passing the Children's Shelter) to Wilcox, Wilcox to Wilson, and along Wilson to Third Avenue, to Maple Street, along Maple to Kirby Avenue, Kirby Avenue to Balsam, along Balsam to Second Avenue, and thence to Pine and into the grounds again.

This route was chosen so that all parts of the town may be covered by the parade and nearly all schools and institutions taken into consideration.
Smaller Children at Schools
It was suggested that the teachers of the smaller children have them attend at the school grounds. In this way they could view the parade and show their loyalty by singing patriotic airs as the parade goes by. A small Union Jack was also suggested for each of the kiddies to wave. This cost to be borne, of course, by the parents, or others interested. If this idea can be carried out, the local police force will be relieved of much heavy duty. Teachers please note.

A Wonderful Parade
The parade has the makings of one of the greatest ever held here and will be unsurpassed in magnificence. Floats and groups depicting great historic scenes are already assured. The Welsh people send out a special appeal to all of their native sons and daughters. Mr. Jack Thomas and Mr. H. Hopkins would be glad to hear of any who will assist them upon this occasion. Their float will represent "The Crowning of a Bard," and another the "Daffodil and Leek." The S.O.S. are going to have a big group in native costume and a float depicting a part of Scottish history. The Canadian Legion will show their respect to the Empire soldiers with a tableau "Lest We Forget," and another "The Bright-

Young Lady Injured in Accident Monday

Miss Vera Silver has Knee Hurt when Cars Collide. $75 Damage to Cars.

Miss Vera Silver, 52 Elm Street, South, suffered a severe cut on the knee Monday at noon when a car owned and driven by Louis Feldman collided with a car driven by Thomas Richards, 10 Mountjoy Street. Six stitches were required to close the wounded knee but it is understood she is making a satisfactory recovery. The Feldman car was the more seriously damaged of the two but it is thought that $75 would cover the repairs. The Richards car, somewhat lighter, escaped serious damage. Neither driver was hurt. It was fortunate that the windshield of the Feldman car was of unbreakable glass, for both occupants were thrown quickly forward.

St. Mary's Journal-Argus:—Man: "My friend paid $100 for this dog-part coile and part bull." Friend: "What part is bull?" Man: "That part about the hundred dollars."

Minister of Mines to Visit the North

Hon. Paul Leduc to Inspect All the Important Mining Camps of the North Next Month.

Hon. Paul Leduc, Minister of Mines for Ontario, will make his initial tour of the mining areas of the province during the month of May. Hon. Mr. Leduc has proved to be one of the popular members of the new cabinet. He has not had very much to say, but he has seen that things in his department have run along smoothly and in the public interests. The Department of Mines is credited with being the best conducted department of the new government. Hon. Mr. Leduc has missed no chances of saying a good word for Ontario's mines or the prospects for development, but apart from this, his public utterances have been few. This week he is to be at Quebec, where he will address the Canadian Club on the subject of Ontario's mines. Addresses given by Hon. Mr. Leduc at Ottawa and other cities have been referred to in the Advance. These addresses all had the right viewpoint and were following the lines laid down by his predecessor in office, Hon. Chas. McCrear, who did so much to give Ontario's mining industry honest and helpful publicity.

In the coming visit of Hon. Mr. Leduc he plans visiting all the mining camps of the North, including the Porcupine camp, Kirkland Lake, Little Long Lac, Red Lake, Sturgeon River and Jellicoe. The latter camp, it is interesting to note, is situated in the centre of the township of Leduc, which township was named in honor of the present Minister of Mines.

Date With Death

NONA CLOYES
Nona Cloyes, 19, of Roy, Washington, is slowly "turning to stone." She hopes that physicians will find a cure for the baffling disease which is hardening her flesh, muscles and nerves with the rare and dreaded scleroderma.

First Car Here This Year from the United States

The first car of the year from the United States was seen on Timmins streets on Monday of this week. Ontario Pierini, the driver, came to Timmins from Detroit "the long way around," via Sault Ste. Marie. He reports both the Soo-North Bay and North Bay-Timmins roads to be in fair conditions. Both have rough spots, he told The Advance.

Mr. Pierini is a brother of Al Pierini, well known in this district as an orchestra leader. He will remain in the district for a few months, he expects. About six months ago he married Miss Rigoletto Pianosi, of Schumacher.

Collision of Truck and Car on Sunday

Two Ladies Injured in Accident. Truck Badly Damaged, but Those on Truck Not Injured.

A car and a truck were considerably damaged on Sunday evening about 9:30 in a collision at the corner of Birch street and Second avenue. Steve Leskew's truck, which he was driving at the time, was badly damaged about the front when it turned over on its side; the windshield was shattered and tires as well as body steel left in bad shape. The car, driven by Peter Dmyterko of 59 Balsam street south was travelling south on Birch street when the accident occurred. Two women passengers were injured and taken to the hospital for treatment. The ladies were not seriously hurt.

Neither the driver of the car nor Leskew and his two passengers in the truck were injured.

Police Continue Drive to Make Streets Safe

Several Traffic Cases at Police Court This Week. Charges of Indecent Exposure Bring $50.00 Fine. Vagrancy and Other Cases.

Traffic offences and the consequent fines again made up a large part of Tuesday's police court docket. Three charges of reckless driving were heard and two convictions registered.

Sam Posan pleaded not guilty when police charged him with driving recklessly on Pine street. Deputy-Chief Salley said that he had "tailed" Posan's car at 40 miles an hour and that it was a dangerous time of day to be travelling that quickly, as there were children playing on the street and motor traffic as well. Jean Vlandi stated that he had been looking out the window of his store when the Posan car, followed by the police car, had passed. He said the car was travelling at moderate rate of speed. George Martin was sure Posan was not going over 20 miles an hour, though he admitted that he didn't drive a car himself. Posan said he was willing to pay a speeding fine rather than have the thing come to court, but maintained he could not have been going more than 22 miles an hour. Magistrate Atkinson referred to Posan's visit to him on Tuesday morning when he offered to pay a speeding fine. The magistrate had learned then from police that Posan was being charged with reckless driving and refused to allow him to pay the fine then. "Who did you think you could fix—the police or me?" he asked. "Nobody," replied the accused. Posan said that he had not wanted to engage a lawyer, in order to save money. "I'm going to treat this as speeding, so you'll pay a fine, and the lawyers too." Posan was assessed the usual $10 and costs.

J. M. Carlton pleaded guilty to reckless driving and was fined $10 and costs. Edward Coulis paid $5.00 and costs for the same offence.

Three other speeders contributed $10 and costs each.

Jugo Slav Speaks Russian

When John Lasic appeared before the court charged with having liquor not acquired on his own individual permit, there was a long pause before interpretation could be worked out. John is a Jugo Slav and there was no one in the court who could speak his language. Finally he and the interpreter compromised on Russian and the hearing got under way. At first he said that he had a permit but lost it. Provincial police claimed that when they entered the house John told them he had neither liquor nor beer. They did discover a half filled bottle of Scotch in a bag of potatoes. John paid $100 and costs.

Marked money was the convicting evidence in the charge of selling liquor laid against James Stein. Local police had sent a man in with a marked $2 bill and when they raided the place a little later found their man drinking beer and the money in Stein's possession. He will go to jail for three months and the house he occupied will be made a public place for one year.

A solitary drunk paid $10 and costs. Yvonne Leblanc should have answered a like charge but she failed to do so. Bail of $100 was posted for her by another person and this will be estimated. A bench warrant was issued for her arrest.

Illegally manufactured liquor was the cause of a charge to which Joseph Tremblay pleaded guilty. The R.C.M.P. asked that the case be held over for one week, pending replies to inquiries to Ottawa.

Woman Vagrant Goes to Jail
Simone Beaudoin pleaded guilty to vagrancy. She had been seen by police coming from a house of ill repute and had admitted that she had no job or means of support. She had been living with a taxi driver who had been out in the bush recently, she claimed. She will pay a $25 fine and go to jail for 30 days. J. Langford, who was also charged with vagrancy has been out of work since February, he said. He will be given another chance.

A bench warrant was issued for the arrest of R. S. Smith, who failed to appear when his name was called.

Three men were charged with disturbing the peace. One admitted having been thrown out of a local restaurant after an argument and said he had gone back again to get his overcoat. The other two had been across the street and had come across to where the other was, "to see the fun." They were all fined $5.00 and costs.

One man paid a fine of $1.00 and costs for loitering.

A unique case arising out of the writing of a letter to Buffalo-Ankerite Mines, purporting to warn them that a man in their employ was not trustworthy, was dismissed after a long hearing. A boy testified that he had written the letter on the request of the woman who was charged with having sent the letter with the intent to injure. The woman disclaimed having sent the letter and put the onus on a man now dead. Since the handwriting of the letter and envelope did not agree, there was no evidence to prove that she had sent the message. The magistrate warned her: "Don't get mixed up in that sort of thing again. It's very dirty."

Herman Shawn was charged under the Theatres and Cinematograph Act, with operating a motion picture machine showing an uncensored film. Acting Crown Attorney Yates read a telegram from Toronto requesting a remand, which was granted.

Piveau Fined $50
Alfage Piveau was charged on six informations with indecent exposure. In order to make the evidence quite clear, police had confronted the women who were complaining with seven men at the same time. Unerringly they had all pointed out Piveau as the man they had seen in various parts of the town in a partially unclothed condition. Only one of the charges was heard in full. A woman testified that while going down Pine street early one morning she had been confronted by Piveau and had telephoned the police. When they arrived, he was in front of a theatre, still not quite normally clothed.

Piveau pleaded not guilty to the first charge but when Magistrate Atkinson registered a conviction, he pleaded guilty to the others. One was dismissed as the alleged offence had occurred more than six months ago. He will pay a fine of $50 and costs. The maximum penalty for the misdemeanour is six months in jail and the man was warned that if there were any more complaints he could be brought back and sentenced, as he is bound to keep the peace for two years.
