South Porcupine Will Observe King's Jubilee

Royal Salute of 21 Guns to be Given. Beacon Fires at Night. Schools Hear Lesson Broadcasts. Transient with Gun Gets Three Months. Other South End and Dome News.

South Porcupine, Ont., Wednesday, May 1st. Special to The Advance. The geese have been flying northward for the past week. Several flocks were noticed going over on Sunday and Monday and many settled on the lake and at the mouth of the creek. Today the bright sun is having its effect on the ice in the lake. It is gradually going out, having cracked up at the edges. It is quite early this year, one old-timer telling us that for many years May 10th was the date marked for the ice to go out. Another lady from Golden City told us that the water in the lake has not been so low in years, and the highway at the end of the lake is quite dry. She also remembers the ice going out one year in April. Yesterday marked a new epoch in South Porcupine and Dome public schools. For the first time a "broadcast" lesson was heard at 3 p.m. in both schools by the aid of radios loaned for this purpose. The junior classes were grouped for this particular broadcast, the senior classes are to have the privilege on Thursday. The Ontario Dept. of Education are presenting a series of lesson broadcasts conducted by leading educationalists and designed for junior and senior pupils of public and separate schools. Yesterday the lesson was on "music." A group of children from Orde St. school, Toronto, were quite plainly heard in the song "Early one Morning"—and in a lesson teaching a song from staff notation. Our children joined in the singing of "Spring is Here." Miss Emily Todd, supervisor of music in Toronto schools, was the teacher. On Thursday at the same time Miss Todd will conduct a radio class for senior schools. For this a group of pupils from Maurice Cody public school will assist the teacher. In all 8 lessons will be broadcast—in history, literature, geography—by the way it might be as well for some of us to "tune in" at home and rub up some of those things we have forgotten. This series of broadcasts is for demonstration and experimental purposes and comes in over a chain of stations.

Mr. C. V. Gallagher left for Toronto on Tuesday.

Miss Rosalind Cantor, who is a student at Queen's University, Kingston, arrived home on Tuesday to spend the summer vacation with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Eli Cantor, Golden avenue.

Celebrations for the King's Jubilee next Monday are under way here. A royal salute of 21 guns will be fired simultaneously at the ball grounds here, at the Dome ball grounds, and at Schumacher school grounds—at 11.30 a.m. From the first "shell" which will be fired about 300 feet into the air will come out a Union Jack, and also from the twenty-first. Beacon fires and sky rockets at night under the direction of the Boy Scouts will complete the day. A float, representative of "Empire" is being rapidly constructed in the fire hall here. The firemen are busy this week, under the direction of the chief and with the help of Mr. Bernard, in shaping and designing a float worthy of Tidside. As far as can be seen at present the fire truck looks like the deck of a battleship—on this deck will be seen commodities from all over the Empire, and above all a model of the globe, revolving under a sun which "never sets." Details at present are not fully complete, but by the way the boys are working, and by the interest they are taking, we are sure of the ultimate success of the project which is to be part of the Timmins parade on Monday.

Miss Dorothy Kaufman is on holiday this week.

Miss Newsham Haneberry returned on Monday from Noranda where she spent the Easter holidays. While there Miss Newsham danced the Spanish dance, the Highland Fling in costume, in the intervals of a play conducted by her uncle, Blair Campbell, for the Anglican Church. On Friday she was the guest of Mr. Campbell of the Noranda hotel, and by special request of the manager and guests danced again at a special Easter party put on by the management.

Mrs. Harvey Mills and baby, of Noranda, are spending a few days with Mrs. Haneberry.

Among those attending the funeral of Mr. Charles Shipway at Matheson last week were the following from Golden City—Mr. and Mrs. Bannerman and family, and Mr. Rumble, Mr. Davis, Mr. O. Davis, Mr. King, Mr. Merritt and Mr. Mitchell. The funeral took place to the Matheson cemetery with full military honours, six members of the Legion acting as pallbearers. Mrs. Shipway is expected back to Golden City within the next few weeks. Mr. Skinner of St. Mary's, cousin to Mr. Bannerman, and a brother from Sherbrooke, were also present at the funeral.

Mr. J. Bray is recovering nicely from pneumonia in hospital here.

We hear that Mr. Bannerman has sold the Mulholland property on the Davidson road.

Mr. Godden has returned from New York where he has spent the last month, and will commence surface work on the southern part of the Mammoth (South Shore) property this week.

The Scout parade to the Anglican Church on Sunday night was quite an impressive affair, one side of the church being occupied entirely by Scouts and Cubs. The colours were carried into church by Colour Sergeants George Dogue and Harry Pyke, and Standard Bearer Ronald Walker for the Cubs; they were received by Archdeacon Woodall and placed at the altar. Colour Guards Dennis Pullin and Stephen Evans assisted. The service was admirably taken by the Archdeacon whose sermon was based on the miracle of the five loaves and two fishes. He was listened to very attentively by the whole troop.

Mr. Joe Harvey is building a new house on Connaught Hill.

Mr. and Mrs. Rosebrugh are moving into the house on Crawford street, newly erected by Mr. Baker.

We are sorry to learn today that Mr. Hansen, who some two years ago broke his leg at the Dome by being blown from a ladder during a storm, is quite ill. A stroke is feared. Mr. Hansen has been practically an invalid ever since the accident.

Mr. Harry Durrell, of Connaught Hill, is away at Trout Creek on a fishing trip.

Miss Irene Disher was a visitor at the home of Mrs. Turner, of Timmins this week.

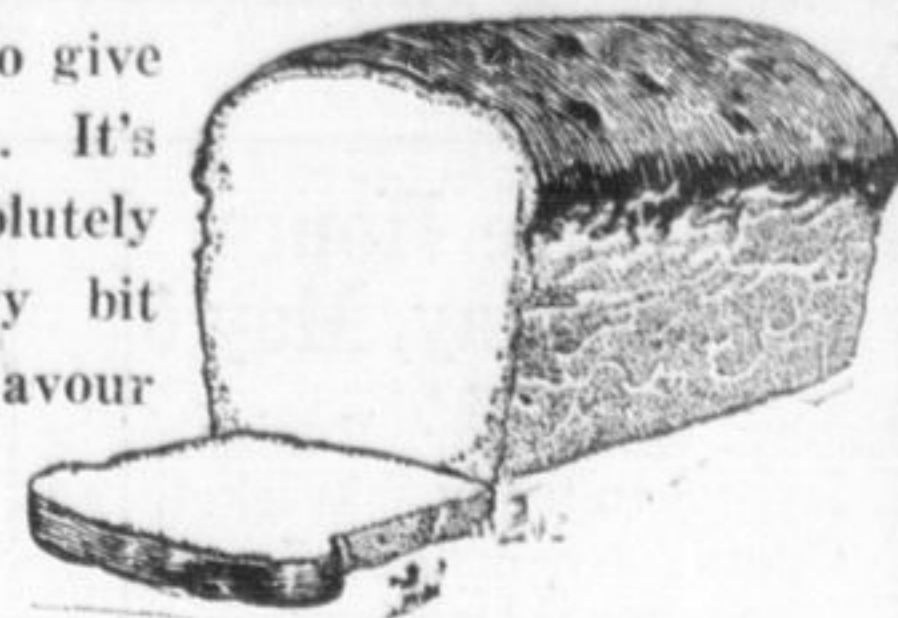

Mrs. Leslie Mackie, of Timmins, is visiting friends in town.

At the local police court on Tuesday a lady of Railroad street, who, for five consecutive weeks has pleaded sickness as an excuse for not appearing to answer a charge of selling liquor, found that magisterial lenience has its limitations: Magistrate Atkinson sentenced her to two months in jail, and police removed her from her home to the local lock-up.

Although it keeps fresh longer, you won't have a chance to find out, for you'll enjoy it so much and eat it so often it won't get the least bit stale. Ask for it at your grocer's.

Dmytro Romanon on the railroad track in possession of a gun. He said he had bought it from a chap in Fort William—but the police, fearing a possible hold-up brought him in to police court. He got three months hard labour. A speeder paid $10 and costs, and a woman for illegally having liquor paid $100 and costs. The case of sale of liquor to a boy under age was adjourned.

Born—On Wednesday, May 1st, to Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Whyte, of Commercial avenue—a daughter.

On Monday, April 29th at 11 a.m. a quiet wedding took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. Ewing, Bruce avenue, when Marion Georgina Myers, daughter of the late Lieut. J. Ray Myers was united in the bonds of matrimony to George Henry Kaufman, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kaufman, of Crawford street. The Lutheran minister, Rev. Pieper, of Wabewawa, performed the ceremony in the presence of the immediate relatives of the young bride and groom. The little bride was very pretty in a suit of open blue tulle with grey accessories and wore a corsage bouquet of pink and blue sweetpeas. She was attended by Marie St. Paul, who wore a frock of marine blue crepe with blue accessories. Wilmer Fern attended the bridegroom as best man. The wedding was previously scheduled to take place on Saturday night, but owing to a mistake concerning the license, had to be postponed till Monday. There was a shortage of marriage licenses in the camp last week, the only one available being at Iroquois Falls. In spite of rushing by car to the Falls on Saturday night the license could not reach here till Sunday morning. We hear that our bridegroom got in ahead of another who was in the same fix and consequently is still a bachelor in Timmins. However, Saturday was Mr. Tom Strain's birthday (he was 82) and so what was to have been a wedding party was turned into a birthday party instead. Mr. Strain is the bride's grandfather. Mr. C. Schmeizle grandfather of the bridegroom was also present at both celebrations. To both these young people we extend our very best wishes. The bride was born here and is one of our own girls. George is one of our own boys, too, being quite a little chap when his family moved to South Porcupine. Both families are well known and highly respected in the camp. The young couple will reside for a short time with Mr. and Mrs. Kaufman, but intend later to occupy the flat opposite Dr. McLaren's office, above the Workers' Co-operative Store.

Mrs. Graham and Mrs. H. Disher left for Monteith today to be present at the wedding of Mrs. Graham's sister of that place.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Young, of Renfrew, have seen on holiday at the home of Mrs. S. Graham.

Lessons by radio were given the children of Timmins and district on Tuesday afternoon as a single teacher in Toronto spoke to thousands of children all over the province. Asked by The Advance what he thought of the broadcast, E. J. Tramm, principal of the Central Public School said, "It went very well indeed. Although it wasn't what you'd call a complete success. It seemed to me that too much work was covered in too short a time." That was a matter for adjustment, he said, and undoubtedly would be corrected as the experiment proceeds. The children to whom the lesson was being given in Toronto were perhaps a little more advanced in their work. The principal believes that, given a fair trial, the novelty may become a valuable adjunct to teaching.

Reception was fine and the students appeared to enjoy the idea of taking their work via the air waves. Miss Emily Todd, supervisor of music in Toronto schools, was their teacher for the broadcast period. Her lesson was for junior pupils and consisted mainly of music. Two songs, "Early One Morning" and "Spring is Here" were taught. One orchestral selection, "Morning Mood" was played.

Consider Reports Carefully
Principals of schools throughout the province will send reports to Toronto on the success or failure of the series of ten lectures. There are to be two each week, on Tuesdays for the junior classes and on Thursdays for the seniors. Subjects will be varied and include literature, geography and history. To-day's lecture to senior classes is being conducted by Miss Todd and will be similar to the music lecture of Tuesday.

The Department of Education does not yet recommend the purchase of radios for use in schools. They intend to give the idea very careful trial and when the reports from all over the province are gathered, the proposal will be considered as a permanent feature of education in Ontario.

Unlike other experiments of radio teaching tried in other parts of this country and in the United States, the system at present being tried in Ontario involves the actual teaching of a class. The questions asked by the class are rehearsed, of course, but the idea is to make them as natural as possible. Before each broadcast a summary is prepared and the blackboards of each classroom are made ready for actual demonstration while the broadcast is going on.

See that your boy is off the streets at night.
