 Previous to the programme proper and while the excellent menu was being enjoyed by those present music was provided by the orchestra and this feature was much appreciated. After community singing and the toast to the King, there was a solo by Ernest Lorenzo that won unstinted applause and insistent encore, his magnificent voice and effective interpretation of the number delighting all. The encore was equally well given and appreciated. Victor Dorigo played the accordion accompaniment with J. Ormston at the piano.
 Mayor Richardson in a neat speech of welcome to the high officials of the Lions Club present tendered them the freedom of the town, with the single exception that he said he could not guarantee them against trouble if they failed to obey the stop signs. The mayor extended hearty welcome to the other guests of the evening and hoped that the Timmins Club after this wonderful evening would continue and flourish and prove of service to the town and people.
 "We are proud of our town and proud of our mayor," said the toastmaster when the mayor concluded his brief but effective address.

 A. D. Desroches, an old-time Lion, then made brief but very able introduction of the various guests of the evening.
 Geo. Senior, of Sudbury, who had taken a very helpful part in organizing the Timmins club, was asked to respond. He expressed his pleasure at being present and regretted that circumstances had made it impossible for others in the Lions Club at Sudbury to attend the event. Dr. Torrington and C. Edey were the other two members present from Sudbury and they all were happy in the auspicious charter night held at Schumacher and Timmins.
 Dr. N. H. Russell proposed the toast to "Our Guests" in brief but effective way, commenting on the wonderful evening being enjoyed by all.
 Dr. H. M. Torrington, of Sudbury, expressed his pleasure at the happy time being enjoyed. "There's always a good time," he said, "when the Lions get together."
 Arch Gillies, president of the Timmins Kiwanis Club, thanked the Lions for their friendliness and wished them all success. He knew the Timmins Kiwanis Club would always be ready to co-operate for the advance of the community. Despite the untoward conditions in the world, there were more service clubs and more members than ever before. He believed that this was because the world was learning the lesson through its very difficulties then no man lived to himself alone and that friendship, co-operation, service were not only essentials but that they did more for human happiness than more material things. He issued a friendly challenge to the Lions for bridge or golf, with no quarter shown.
 E. L. Longmore suggested that it was the very pressing need for things to be done to help the community that brought into active assistance the various service clubs. He referred to the tendency of some to believe that those in charge of big corporations and institutions did not consider the general interests and the difficulties of the less fortunate. Mr. Longmore referred to a recent address he had heard by a big business executive to disprove this idea. He knew that hundreds in high authority were earnestly searching for a solution to the problems of the day. "I do not believe the solution will come from any programme," said Mr. Longmore, "but from a more general realization of the duties and responsibilities that all owe to each other." He did not think that civilization could continue to exist unless there were less selfishness. Mr. Longmore congratulated the Lions on their charter night and on their aims and objects and wished them true success.
 Dr. Roy Weston extended greetings from the youngest Lions Club—Schumacher Lions. He congratulated Timmins Lions on their wonderful evening.
 District Governor O. F. Howe, in replying for the Ottawa Lions, said to Timmins and Schumacher Lions that in case they were ever in Ottawa they should go to the Chateau Laurier and enquire for any member of the Ottawa Club. "You'll find you are at home among the Lions," he said.
 A solo by Ernest Lorenzo won an encore on its merit and there was the same enthusiasm for the responded number by this gifted artist. Victor Dorigo played the accordion accompaniment.
 In proposing the toast to "Lions International," Dr. O. J. Stahl referred to the remarkably fine work done in many lines by the Lions, especially mentioning the assistance given to the blind and those endangered by possible loss of sight.

 Response was made by Dr. Torrington, District Deputy Governor, who spoke on the assistance the International was always ready to give the local clubs. He also gave helpful hints as to the local meetings and entertainment. He outlined what had been done by Sudbury and other Lions Clubs. He noted that for addresses clubs had religious teachers, lawyers, medical men and other lines to draw from for special addresses of interest and value. He advised snappy meetings, started on time and through on time. "What you get out of Lionism," he said, "is what you put into it." Dominion Day and Christmas Tree events at Sudbury and their outstanding success were referred to. Sudbury Lions provided milk for underprivileged children. The Lions had been responsible for the happy fashion of having Christmas trees on home lawns and this was adding much to the Christmas appearance and Christmas happiness of the city. An essay contest in the schools had been started by Sudbury Lions and the speaker touched on the value of this and other similar activities by the Lions. He recommended the Lions as a means for increasing the circle of good friends at home and abroad.
 In a brief but pleasing address A. A. Rose, on behalf of the Timmins Lions Club presented Dr. H. M. Torrington with a very handsome ash tray, as a mark of appreciation for the time, the effort and the money the Deputy District Governor is spending for Lionism. Although completely taken by surprise Dr. Torrington made appropriate reply.
 An accordion solo by Victor Dorigo brought the most enthusiastic applause, this talented musician, as usual, delighting all.
 District Governor O. F. Howe in presenting the charter to the Timmins Lions Club, made an address of great interest and value. In opening, he referred to the fact that the Lions Club at Sudbury and North Bay proved so able and active that attention was attracted to the North. He hoped that still more clubs would be added in the North to those at Schumacher and Timmins. Graceful reference was made by the speaker to the fact that Lion A. D. Desroches had been blessed with the birth of a bonnie little "Lion" on Monday of this week, the week of the Lions' special roaring in this vicinity. Lion A. D. Desroches, the speaker explained, had been an enthusiastic Lion for years. The District Governor sketched the history and growth of Lionism from 25 clubs in 1917 to 2,700 in 1935. The Lions "roared" in six different countries. "Why the notable growth?" he asked. The efficiency of the International office and the enthusiasm of members was the answer. The general appeal that Lionism made was applied with by the speaker. He outlined the aims and objects of the Lions Club as given in their official programmes and showed how the following of the creed of the Lions Club built better men and better communities. After the reading of the code of ethics of the Lions Club, with all the members of the Timmins Lions Club standing, the District Governor formally presented to the Timmins club the handsome charter of the club.
 In receiving the charter, President F. H. V. Ball spoke of the honour he felt in being the first president of the Timmins Lions Club which was making so auspicious a commencement. He felt that Lionism had come to Timmins and been accepted and he was sure it would be a suitable force for the building of a better community here. "L-I-O-N-S," he spelled, stood for Liberty, Intelligence, Our Nation's Safety, and he pledged the fealty of the Timmins club to the best interests of the community and country.
 Lion Dr. A. C. McKenna spoke of the valuable services of District Governor Howe, who was from his old home town of Ottawa and on behalf of the Timmins Lions Club presented Mr. Howe with specimens of gold ore from the Porcupine, beautifully mounted, and bearing a plate suitably inscribed.
 In responding, District Governor Howe expressed his deep appreciation of the wonderful gift. He said that while his work as District Governor took much time and effort, it also gave wonderful satisfaction and he felt that it was making him friends in many places whom he would treasure all through life.
 A special feature was the recitation, "The Parson's Son," by Capt. D. Jones, of the Schumacher Club. This Robert Service poem was given in most effective way and made a big hit.
 More community singing was followed by a "stunt" put on by Schumacher Lions. It represented in brief form a street scene, a double arrest and a court scene, all cleverly burlesqued by costumed artists.
 In closing the formal part of the proceedings the toastmaster, F. W. Stock, who had carried the programme through very capably and effectively, referred to the good work the Lions Club hoped to do in the coming days and the fun they expected to have in doing it.
 After the conclusion of the programme the Lions continued to "roar" and to have a general good time for a while longer, the gathering eventually disbanding with the unanimous opinion that it had been a great evening.

South Porcupine Loses Through Fires on May 24
Two Serious Fires at Southern Section of Camp. Presentation at South Porcupine to Junior Hockey Team. Other Items of Interesting News.

South Porcupine, Ont., May 25th. Special to The Advance.
 Yesterday's glorious weather tempted our holidaying townspeople with cars to go out fishing. Several went to Connaught, Hoyle and Nighthawk. The sport was good, they said, even if the catches were poor.
 Two serious fires spoiled the holiday for some of us. Mr. Chas. McInnis lost his summer home in Golden City; it was absolutely razed to the ground by a fire the origin of which is unknown. Grass had been burned in the vicinity two or three days previously—whether this had gone or burning under the house and was unnoticed is not known. Mrs. Ostrosner, who was at her summer home by the lake, was the first to notice smoke and gave the alarm about 1 p.m. When a "bucket brigade" had been hastily called together, the fire had got beyond control. The only thing they could do was to pour the water on the house adjoining, owned by Mrs. Gordon Ross, and save that, which they succeeded in doing, keeping it from any damage whatever. This was the first home in the Porcupine camp of Mr. and Mrs. McInnis, and while the loss of the home and furnishings means considerable, their friends feel, with them, regret for the loss for old association's sake. Both Mr. and Mrs. McInnis appreciate very much the voluntary help given by passing motorists, out for the day, who did all they could in the "bucket brigade"—strung from the lake to the house, passing pails, etc. from hand to hand, trying in vain to stop the flames. Many of these volunteers were not dressed to fight fire, and spoiled clothes were inevitable. Mrs. Ross came on the scene (from Swastika) just as the fire was getting out of control, intending to spend the day at her cottage. Chief McInnis was at Three Nations and heard of his loss from some motorists. The loss is partly covered by insurance.
 The other fire was also of unknown origin and occurred around 4:30 p.m. An old shed on the High School ground had been converted into a garage by Mr. J. D. Thomson, and was being used for the day by a guest of his—Mr. Page, of Twin Falls having housed his car—a Chevrolet coupe—in the garage for the day. Mr. Thomson, his family, and guests were all away in his car when the alarm was given. Dense clouds of black smoke made all the town turn out, but the fire brigade prevented the fire from spreading although it was impossible to save the car which was locked inside. Mr. Page also has some insurance on his car. It is an absolute wreck.
 Miss Elizabeth Doyle, of Iroquois Falls, spent the week-end as the guest of Mrs. D. A. McLellan.
 Mr. K. Kilborne, formerly a resident, but now at Amos, was in town for the holiday—the guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. Cliff.
 The tea given by the C.W. League at the home of Mrs. E. J. Rapsey yesterday was a wonderful success. Mrs. Rapsey's home was ideal for the pur-banquet last Wednesday in the parish hall. About thirty young people were present. The Rev. Roy Manwaring, of Iroquois Falls, was the guest speaker of the evening.

 On Wednesday afternoon the Ladies of St. Paul's Sewing Circle invited those who had helped to make their bazaar such a success, to a very nice social afternoon and tea.
 As a fitting ending to a day of fires, some one inadvertently set fire to the end of the curling rink in the evening of May 24th. Fortunately it was seen and extinguished at once.
 We regret to hear that Mrs. Wm. Brooks is quite sick at her home on Commercial avenue.
