a charge against him. He still had $2 left to start over again.

Wm. Robson, who has been one of the more or less unemployed around Timmins for the past three years, pleaded guilty to indecent exposure. The offence had taken place in the ball park on Sunday. Alex Attaway was also fined $10 and costs or ten days in jail. "This sort of thing is getting pretty common around here," commented his worship.

Gambler Fined $50

Wo Jching pleaded guilty to vagrancy and making his living by gambling. He paid $50 and costs. This was the first time in over 25 years on the bench that the magistrate had a Chinaman before him for "vagrancy."

"Sober up and straighten yourself up," was the advice the magistrate gave to Omer Chenier, who faced two minor charges in court. He was drunk he claimed, and was "guilty without the intention" of stealing some clothing. He had just taken the wrong suitcase, he said.

Thirty days hard labour was the sentence imposed on Ed. McEvoy, who was charged with vagrancy. He has a police court record in this part of the North dating from 1926. "There are too many convictions against you," the magistrate commented, when Ed. asked a light sentence.

An assault, alleged by a man working on some Ogden township claims was dismissed. The plaintiff had a long story to tell but it was not at all corroborated by others at the same camp.

Civio Taiva, charged by Game Warden Phil Boudreau with a series of offences under the game and fisheries laws, will appear next week. It is possible that another charge will be laid, the crown attorney said.

Two mentally deranged men, one of whom had been taken by provincial police and the other by town police, were committed to an insane asylum after having been declared insane by local physicians. They were brothers who lived in a shack on the outskirts of the town and who had caused residents in the south-western part of Timmins some concern.

Some other cases were remanded to Wednesday morning. A report of the Wednesday morning court will be found elsewhere in this issue.

Monument of Balbo to Follow One to John Cabot

Many Montrealers took advantage of Sunday's fine weather to see for the first time the city's newest statue, a bronze figure of John Cabot, distinguished Italian navigator who discovered Newfoundland while in the service of King Henry VII of England. The monument, the work of Guido Casini of Montreal was presented officially to the city yesterday by Commandante G. H. Catelli, dean of Montreal's Italian colony, in the presence of the Italian Consul at Ottawa and representatives of the Dominion, Provincial and City Governments. It stands in Atwater Park.

In presenting the statue Commandante Catelli said it was a gift of Italians in Canada who wished to perpetuate the spirit of cordiality that had existed between old Italy and new Canada.

Mayor Camillien Houde of Montreal accepted the gift for the city.

Dr. Clarence Webster, Shiediac, N.B., a member of the historic sites and monuments board of Canada, announced at the ceremony that a more recent Italian navigator would be honoured if he was determined; he said to have a monument erected at Shediac, N.B., to mark the spot where Gen. Italo Balbo first landed in Canada with his fliers after their epochal mass flight across the Atlantic.

SERVICES OF PIPE BAND ARE MUCH APPRECIATED

The Porcupine Pipe Band has been giving several pleasing street marches during the past week with the double purpose of providing good music for the people of the town and giving publicity to the Moose carnival in progress.

Tuesday evening the pipe band with Drummajor Cogger at the head marched to the northern section of the town, and it was interesting to watch the rush from all sections to see the pipers as they passed along. The pipe band in their fine new uniforms presented a very attractive appearance and their music is equally pleasing to most people who enjoy good music.

Brockville Recorder:—For 85 consecutive years Goderich township has had all its taxes paid 100 per cent. As the municipal treasurer is the authority for this statement, it can scarcely be taken with a grain of salt for which that section is famous.

Abitibi Co. Playing Fair with Workers

Charges Made Recently were Trumped-up by Agitators, the Government Discovers

Searching enquiry conducted by the Hon. Peter Heenan last week showed that the reports to the effect that the Abitibi Power and Paper Company at Smooth Rock Falls had been collecting full monthly rental for company-owned houses and giving employees balances of from a few cents to $6 for two weeks' work proved that the charges were without foundation and that the company as far as humanly possible had used its employees with every regard for fair play and generosity.

It was charged that the company collected the rents from the employees of amounts to $22 to $35, and after such deductions there was not anything like sufficient for them to live on, as many of them were on part time.

Early enquiries into the Smooth Rock Falls situation indicated that responsible parties were behind the charges, which were to be taken up by the department of lands and forests. J. A. Habell, M.L.A., North Cochrane, made a special trip to Toronto to be present when the matter was threshed out.

Company officials brought their books and other evidence to the parliament buildings at Toronto to show the complete injustice behind the charges. It was found that they were absolutely lacking in foundation and had been precipitated by agitators, who utilized irresponsible people to discredit the company.

J. Habell, M.L.A., who had taken a special interest in protecting the employees of the company, was soon convinced that he and others had been badly misled by mean agitators who had no regard for the position in which they placed others and the same disregard for the truth. Mr. Habell is quoted as saying at Toronto after the investigation:—"I am now satisfied that there was not a particle of truth in the stories told and I regret that I and others had been deceived by stories of a situation that had no existence."

The company officials showed Mr. Heenan, Mr. Cain and myself that the employees at Smooth Rock Falls have suffered no injustices and that the complaints are the work of agitators in the district," he continued.

While there might have been an isolated example of hardship over a long period, the inquiry revealed that this was through no fault of the company.

Anxious to treat the employees fairly in every way, and despite assurances that the department is satisfied the charges respecting the Smooth Rock Falls mill lacked foundation, a survey will be made by the company at once so that no employee whatever will have future cause to complain.

Sudbury Star:—With chain letters still rampant, this is the longest sucker season within living memory.

What Versailles Did to Germany

Germany lost the Great War. In doing so, the Allies were able to dictate the terms of peace. It was President Wilson of the United States who drew up the clauses for the Versailles treaty. Attempting to apportion Europe according to its nationality, he took little notice of the economic situation of the continent. Germany lost heavily; Eupen and Malmedy were given to Belgium; Alsace and Lorraine were returned to France; rich Saar basin was placed under League of Nations Commission. It was recently returned to Germany as a result of plebiscite. Germany also ceded Schleswig to Denmark; Memel Land went to Lithuania; the major provinces of West Prussia went to Poland as did part of Upper Silesia. Map ABOVE reproduced from "Atlas of Current Affairs" (Ryerson Press) shows areas lost by Germany under Treaty of Versailles which she has now officially denounced in a new programme of intensive re-armament.

BRITISH COLUMBIA'S CHAIN LETTERS CAUSE ARRESTS

First definite action against chain letters in British Columbia was taken Saturday by New Westminster police when they raided headquarters of the Tri-Mutual Club.

Clyde K. Blakeney, 36, was charged with keeping a common gaming house or lottery and was released on bail of $100. All books of the club, $64 in cash and a bank account book, were seized.

The raid was conducted by police following advice from H. Norman Lester, city solicitor. Police state the club has been operating as an exchange for chain letters. There were more than 200 subscribers.

Ferguson Highway Route the Only Logical Route

In the discussion of the proper route for the trans-Canada highway, The Northern Tribune, of Kapuskasing, has consistently advocated a northern route that would run due west almost in a straight line from Cochrane. The idea of the Northern Tribune is that the trans-Canada highway should be a northern road its whole length and that eventually it should be constructed east from Cochrane to Quebec City. In other words, The Northern Tribune visualizes a roadway running approximately direct east and west between Vancouver and Quebec City. That such a route is perhaps not practical now is recognized by The Northern Tribune, and so for the present it is ready to make some concession. The use of the Ferguson highway and then west from Cochrane to Hearst is advocated. The Northern Tribune would favour a route directly west from Hearst, but if that were not practical for the moment would no doubt be content with a jog in the line to touch Oba and then proceed westward to Schreiber. The stretches of roadway already built would seem to make some such route imperative. In discussing the question last week The Northern Tribune says:

"The North Bay Nugget and the Sudbury Star, since changing their attitude in favour of the Lake Superior route, have undoubtedly done a lot to show up the many drawbacks of the route; but it now seems as if these papers were having too much of a hand in the re-designation of the trans-Canada highway. Neither North Bay nor Sudbury will have anything to lose, but lots to gain, by the sensible routing of the national highway through a settled portion of the mining and clay belts; and being so far removed, comparatively, why are they so concerned to add a couple of hundred miles of new construction (from Swastika to Oba) instead of Heast, serving many towns, villages and cleared farms rather than an almost unpopulated area? Is it proposed to pass through Timmins from Swastika? We do not know. If not, there would be practically no popu-

HE FELT MISERABLE AFTER MEALS

Acute Indigestion Relieved by Kruschen

The treatment which put this man right must surely be worth trying in every case of indigestion. Read what he says:—

"Two years ago I suffered very much from indigestion, loss of appetite, and a most severe pain in my back. Food soured in my stomach. I felt most miserable after meals, and had no desire or appetite for them. A friend advised me to try Kruschen Salts. I did so, and I am most happy to testify that after a short time I felt the greatest relief. I continued taking Kruschen till I felt myself quite better and a new man. I feel as light-hearted as I did twenty years ago."—W. B.

What Kruschen did for him it will do for everybody else who suffers from indigestion as he did. The fact is that "the little daily dose" of Kruschen first stimulates the flow of gastric juices to aid digestion, and then ensures a complete, regular and unfailing elimination of all waste matter every day.

are a guide to value

Experts can roughly estimate the value of a product by looking at it. More accurately, by handling and examining it. Its appearance, its texture, the "feel" and the balance of it all mean something to their trained eyes and fingers.

But no one person can be an expert on steel, brass, wood, leather, foodstuffs, fabrics, and all of the materials that make up a list of personal purchases. And even experts are fooled, sometimes, by concealed flaws and imperfections.

There is a surer index of value than the senses of sight and touch—knowledge of the maker's name and for what it stands. Here is the most certain method, except that of actual use, for judging the value of any manufactured goods. Here is the only guarantee against careless workmanship, or the use of shoddy materials.

This is one important reason why it pays to read advertisements and to buy advertised goods. The product that is advertised is worthy of your confidence.
