Chas. Roach Now Making Progress to Recovery

His hosts of friends in Timmins and the North will be delighted to know that Chas. Roach, who was seriously ill for some days, is now much improved and evidently well on the way to recovery. Some people may misunderstand the purpose and working-out of the new delivery system inaugurated by The Advance this month. The whole object was to assure perfect delivery to the customers without unnecessary duplication of effort by the news carriers.

The plan is working out very efficiently now, and will be as near perfect as anything of the kind can be. There seems to be some under the impression that the idea is to induce all to subscribe by the year or month. While such forms of subscription in most cases are the most convenient for all concerned, it makes no difference in the working of the system whether they are used or not. Any who want to take the paper by the week or issue can do so. It is to accommodate such cases as well as the longer term subscriptions that the plan was inaugurated. The recent survey was made with the purpose of finding exactly how the individual subscriber wished The Advance delivered, and as far as possible to meet each and every wish in the matter. If you wish The Advance delivered to your home or office, tell the news-carrier on your route or inform The Advance and the wish will be met. In case you miss an issue of The Advance notify this office. The phone number is 26. Great assistance in perfecting the system has been given The Advance by all who have reported any mistake in connection with delivery. In case you wish The Advance, just notify this office and the paper will go forward to you in the particular way you wish it.

The Legion would welcome any investigation as the club is being conducted with the closest care and attention to the law and regulations at present.

RIOTING AT VANCOUVER RESULTS IN 13 ARRESTS

Despatches yesterday from Vancouver, noted that riots in Vancouver resulted in blood being freely shed as striking longshoremen and their sympathizers, led by alien agitators, battled the police for three hours or more. One evidence of the communist hand in the riots was the use of women as "front line troops." The riot grew out of an unsuccessful attempt to storm one of the piers where a number of men were at work despite the communist demand that all workers should stop work. In the melee which ensued eight policemen and over ten civilians were taken to the hospital as a result of the trouble. A large number of others suffered minor injuries. The police were able eventually to disperse the rioters by the use of tear gas and clubs. In the meantime the strikers continued to shower the police with stones. Thirteen arrests were made as a direct result of the affray.

R. J. Jemmett Dies at Home in Barrie

Former Resident of Timmins Passes on Fortieth Wedding Anniversary. One of the Pioneers of the North.

Word from Barrie yesterday gave the sad news that Reginald Jackson Jemmett, formerly a pioneer resident of the North, had passed at his home in the Simcoe County town. Wide circles of friends in Timmins and district will deeply regret this death and extend sympathy to the bereaved family.

The late R. J. Jemmett was born in the West Indies, being a son of Rev. Geo. Jemmett and Mrs. Jemmett, both of whom passed away some years ago. At the time of death the late R. J. Jemmett was 67 years of age. When a boy, he moved to Ottawa and in that city received the chief part of his education. He was employed for a time with the J. R. Booth Co., Ottawa, and with The Ottawa Journal. Later he moved to Northern Ontario, living in Cobalt and district in the early days of the camp and coming to Timmins about 1918, living here until about eight years ago when he moved to Simcoe County to take up residence on a farm he purchased there.

While in the North the late Mr. Jemmett took an active interest in all public affairs. He was active in board of trade affairs in both Cobalt and Timmins, and also served on the school boards in both towns. He was a town councillor in Cobalt, as well as holding other responsible public and semi-public capacities.

While in Timmins the late Mr. Jemmett enjoyed the regard and esteem of all who knew him.

He was a member of the Kerr Lodge A.F. and A.M., Barrie I.O.O.F., Royal Arch Masons, Timmins, and the Anglican church.

Surviving are his widow, the former Edith Routh, Ottawa; two sons and three daughters, Clifford G. Jemmett, New Liskeard; Charles F. Jemmett, South Porcupine; Mrs. W. Arnold, and Mrs. J. W. Beely, Toronto; and Mrs. C. Cook, Simcoe.

The funeral of the late R. J. Jemmett is being held this (Thursday) afternoon from the family residence at Barrie. Interment was made in the Mount Pleasant cemetery.

Premier Makes Light of Threats Against his Life

Tuesday of this week Premier Hepburn made flat denial of the suggestion made in Toronto and other newspapers that provincial police had been carefully guarding him since his receipt of a letter threatening his life.

"It's all tommyrot," he emphasized. "Scare stories like that ought never to be printed. I have never asked for police protection at any time, and I certainly am not being guarded by any."

"Of course I get threatening letters; men in public life always do, but I'm not the least bit alarmed by them. I realize they are usually the work of someone with nothing better to do."

Ever since his election last summer the premier has kept Eddie Wooliver, a St. Thomas boy, with him as a personal secretary.

"Eddie is an old friend of mine, and I take him wherever I go. He is a native of my home town and he looks after my private business. He's all the guard I have."

The premier flatly denied that since his quarrel with the financial interests of the province over their refusal to handle Ontario's $15,000,000 loan that there had been an increase in what he calls "crank" letters with threats.

The premier asserted that the most recent threat he received was a telephone call several nights ago. "I'm not going to say what was said because it doesn't bother me. Certainly it had no relation whatever to our difference with financial men. They wouldn't have any part in a thing like that."

Mr. Hepburn asserted that he didn't even ask the police to trace the source of the telephone call.
