Help Keep Down the Weeds in Town Now

Support and Co-operation Asked for Weed Inspector in His Battle Against Weeds.

The Timmins Horticultural Society has been doing notable work in encouraging the beautifying of home surroundings and the town in general. Not only has the society been inspiring others to the work of making lawns and gardens, but at St. Anthony's Church the school and parks and elsewhere in town the society has been doing work itself along this line as well as planning for further work. This may be generally known and appreciated, but what is not so well known is the fact that in voluntarily acting as weed inspector, the secretary of the society, Geo. Hogg, is doing further effective work for the beautification of the town. There can not be the best lawns or flowers if the weed menace is tolerated. Mr. Hogg recognizes this fact and so is giving special service by the time and effort given to eliminate weeds. There are stringent laws in regard to owners of property permitting the development of noxious weeds, but Mr. Hogg is emphatic in saying that he would much prefer the co-operation of all to avoid the weed menace rather than using the law on any to stop the weed cure. "Let us all work together in this," says Mr. Hogg, "and we will give the weed menace a big job." Accordingly the Advance urges the fullest support for Mr. Hogg. "Destroy all weeds before they have a chance to go to seed," is his main advice. He points out that weeds are a nuisance and a loss to all with lawns or gardens, and that all should work together to "weed out the weeds."

Funeral Saturday of Charles Roach

Service at Church of Nativity Largely Attended. Legion Attended Last Rites. Interment at Cobden.

The funeral of Charles Roach, popularly known and well liked resident of Timmins, who died last Thursday at noon, was held from the Church of the Nativity on Saturday, and the body was entombed at Cobden, his birthplace, the same day. At Cobden, there was another funeral service before burial.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Roach, of Cobden, his father and mother, were in Timmins for a week previous to their son's death, and they, with Mrs. Chas. Roach, two adopted daughters and a number of friends, left for Cobden on the Saturday train.

Known throughout the North for his pleasant manner and congeniality, Mr. Roach, who was just over 35 years of age, leaves a host of friends to mourn him. He came to Timmins about 1923 and was a star defenceman of the Timmins hockey team of the time when Roy Worters was playing goal and a number of other men who have since become professionals, made Timmins a famous town in hockey annals. His interest in the game never waned after he stopped playing, and until the past year, it was his one great hobby. He was vice-president of the N.O.H.A. in 1933-34. Though in line for presidency, he was forced to retire through pressing business matters.

While in Timmins he was connected with Meyers' and Sauve's drug stores, later becoming representative for the North for O'Keefe's. This latter occupation took him all over the North and made him friends from North Bay to Cochrane. In 1929, he became manager of the Gold Belt Brewery here and since that time conducted the business of the brewery well.

He was perhaps most widely known for his interest in sport, and his activities in promoting boxing bouts here did much to keep the sport on a clean basis. He had the issuing of A.A.U. of C. cards for the district.

Pall-bearers at the funeral service here were Arthur Moran, Dr. Murrigh, Jos. Clemens, Arnold Burroughs, Les Mackay and Dean Kester. Mr. Roach had served overseas with the Canadian forces in the Great War, and in recognition of this, members of the Canadian Legion headed the funeral cortege from the home to the church and from the church to the station. Between 250 and 300 people attended the service here, and a large number of citizens were present at the station when the remains were entombed at Cobden.

Boy Scouts Camp at Bigwater for July 1

Two Troops of Timmins Scouts have Interesting Time During the Week-end Holiday.

Two Timmins troops, the First and Sixth, encamped at Bigwater Lake over the Dominion Day week-end.

Twelve of the Sixth (Mattagami) Troop, in charge of Scouters Fisher, Wheeler and Rowe, set out with the intention of hiking to Bigwater but were pleasantly surprised when Mr. McFeyden of Vimy road offered them transportation part of the way. This enabled them to reach camp by noon. Their second bit of good luck came when Mr. Young of Bigwater Inn offered them the use of his boats for the afternoon.

At four o'clock (when the tents and supplies arrived, the Scouts made camp, and after a supper cooked in the rain they enjoyed a swim and turned in.

Some of the boys found it a little difficult getting used to Mather Earls as a bed and mosquitoes for bed-fellows, but with lots of fly-oh on hand, the worse evil was cured.

Sunday dawned clear and after a hearty breakfast and inspection the boys held church service and worked on Scout tests. The day was long (the boys had risen before the birds' but was topped off wonderfully by a joint campfire with the First Timmins Troop. During campfire Ted Fitzgerald, William Dawson and Franklin McNamara were invested as Tenderfoot Scouts.

During the stay, six boys passed their Ambulance badge, and at breaking up of camp, the Sixth joined the First to ride home on a Hollinger truck. Appreciation of the aid offered by Mr. McFeyden, Mr. Young, Mr. Knell and the Hollinger was voiced by the Scouts.

Enjoyable Band Concert Given on Sunday Last

The band concert given by the Timmins Citizens' Band at the station park on Sunday night was a well attended affair. The weather was just right for an outdoor concert and the programme was a most enjoyable one.

No announcement has been made yet of future concerts.

He was prominent for several years in the work of the Northern Ontario Associated Boards of Trade. He is a student of community affairs and an able speaker and his address will prove of interest and value.

Pioneer Business Man of Camp Revisiting Here

J. P. McLaughlin, the second mayor of the town of Timmins, and for many years in earlier days prominent in the business and community life of Timmins, and the North, motored to Timmins last week from Toronto where he has made his home in the eleven years since he left here. Mr. McLaughlin is being warmly greeted here by hosts of old friends. He was accompanied on the trip by Mrs. McLaughlin and some other members of the family. He was astounded at the great growth of Timmins in recent years.

Holding Funeral of Mrs. Fligg at Grafton

Esteemed Resident of Timmins for Many Years Died Here Yesterday. Had Been in Ill-health for Some Time.

Wide circles of friends of Mrs. Lena A. Fligg, mother of Mrs. Emerson Dunlop, 114 Maple street, south, will deeply regret to learn of her death here yesterday. The late Mrs. Fligg came to Timmins many years ago with her daughter, when the latter was on the public school teaching staff, and was highly regarded and useful in church and social circles. At the time of death she was 67 years of age. She had been living with her daughter, Mrs. Dunlop, for some time past, and although she had not been enjoying good health her death comes as a shock to wide circles of friends.

After a short funeral service at Walker's funeral parlours to-day at noon, at which Rev. Bruce Millar officiated, and which was attended by many friends of Mrs. Fligg, the remains were shipped to Grafton, Ont., for burial.

Stearns Good Able to Leave Ottawa Hospital

Stearns Good, who has been in Ottawa Civic Hospital recently recovering from a motor car accident, is now sufficiently well to leave the hospital. It will be some weeks before he will be back in Timmins, it is expected, though he is making fine progress to complete recovery.

Dave Miller to Manage the New Sudbury Radio Station

Dave Miller, who has been associated with Sun Life in Timmins for the past few months, has been appointed manager of the new Sudbury 1,000 watt radio station, CKSO, and will be on the air again within six weeks, it is reported from Toronto.

Mr. Miller is well known as an announcer, since he was one of the pioneers in the "game" in Canada. Formerly associated with CFRB and CFCH in Toronto, he made many friends when he came to Timmins last year.

Sudbury is to broadcast Canadian Radio Commission programmes as well as New York network features and original Sudbury presentations.

The plumbing wasn't satisfactory so the owner Took It to Court

"Did you have other plumbers tender on the job?" asked the judge.

"Yes, but this one was fifty dollars cheaper."

The Judge Said:

"You deliberately passed up reputable plumbers' offers and gave the job to this man at a price so low that he couldn't do good work. You took a gambler's chance and you lost. Why should the courts support you? Case dismissed."
