Promotion Examinations at Schumacher School

Report of the Results of the Work at Schumacher Public School for the School Year, 1934-1935. Names Arranged Alphabetically.

The promotions have been based upon the marks made by the pupils during the year. Where the marks were low, or unsatisfactory, they have been made upon the final examinations. The names have been arranged alphabetically.

Each pupil in the school has been given a report card which states whether or not the pupil was promoted. If the pupil obtained 75 per cent., "Honours" has been written on the certificate of promotion.

If the pupil has failed or has been recommended, it means that the child has not been making satisfactory progress. In this event the parents should bring the report card to the school early in September, and talk the matter over with the school principal.

All report cards have been signed by the class teacher, and the principal. School will open on Tuesday, September 3rd.

The parents are advised that the school grounds will be supervised during the summer vacation by Mr. Sparks, and they are urged to have the children play there during the hours when the grounds are open.

I would like to take this opportunity of expressing my thanks to the parents, ratepayers and children of School Section 2, Tisdale, Schumacher, for the co-operation they have given to the staff of this school during the past year. P. A. Boyce, principal.

Thinks the Ferguson Highway Dangerous

Head of North Bay Motor Club Points out the Danger Spots. Something Should be Done at Once.

"Unless immediate steps are taken to correct present conditions on some parts of the Ferguson highway the toll of human lives which it will take this summer will be tremendous," Bert Nichols, president of the North Bay Motor Club, said at North Bay last week, after he had returned from a trip over the highway as far north as Halleybury.

"There is loose gravel on a number of curves, making driving extremely dangerous, and to add to that the visibility on the curves is poor. The brush on the curves has not been cut out, with the result that a driver going around a curve is practically doing so blind—he can't tell what is coming the other way," Mr. Nichols complained.

Speaking of the bridge over the Montreal River at Latchford, where 37-year-old Theodore Nelson, of New Liskeard, met death in the early hours of last Sunday morning, Mr. Nichols characterized the approach to the bridge from the north as one of the worst death-traps in the north.

"A driver approaching this bridge from the north," Mr. Nichols stated, "has absolutely no warning that he is approaching it. He is coming down a hill, and gradually gets onto a sharp curve, and on that curve is this dangerous bridge. There is not so much as a sign of warning, let alone a red reflector or a checker-board sign to warn a driver that he is coming to a danger spot. It is a wonder that there are not more persons killed at this spot.

There is particular danger for tourists on these danger spots of the north road. Mr. Nichols believes, because tourists are used to clear highways with good visibility in the south, and are not looking for the dangers which lurk behind some of the shielded curves on the north road. They are accustomed to bowling along at high speeds, and these speeds are dangerous in the loose gravel and lack of clear vision around curves on the north road.

Mapping Service to be Moved to Toronto

Dept. of Mines Moves Office from North Bay on Claim of Making Economies.

Announcement was made last week in practically official sources that the mapping service office for prospectors and others will be moved from North Bay to Toronto. The Northern Miner quotes Thos. F. Sutherland, Deputy Minister of Mines for Ontario, as stating that the mapping office is to be moved as noted above. North Bay people and a number of prospectors and others concerned have made strong protest against the move. Hon. Paul Leduc was approached by a delegation on his recent visit to the North and the request was earnestly made to him that the mapping office be allowed to remain at North Bay for the convenience of the people in the North. No decided answer was given by the Minister of Mines at the time of the interview. Now it seems that decision has been made to take the office from North Bay and centralize this work, like so many other things of the North, in the city of Toronto.

The reason put forward for the change is the old one of economy. It is claimed that some economy will be achieved and at the same time it is held that there will be no decrease in efficiency or service. In support of this view the following is pointed out:—"The train service from the North and West to North Bay is the same as that serving Toronto. Mail reaching North Bay from the mining areas arrives at night and the necessary work on plans has to await the following day. Despatch of the plans to Toronto means delivery the following morning at ten o'clock and the necessary blue printing can be done in time to return the plans the same evening without loss of time to those requiring the service. It is also pointed out that there has been a heavy demand originating in Toronto for blue-prints of areas and townships and delay of one to two days has been experienced in meeting it. Centralizing of services of this kind in Toronto is therefore considered desirable. Only three employees are involved in the change of location of the mapping office."

On the other hand, prospectors and others in the North claim that any economy apparently achieved will be at the expense of efficiency. They say that while the one-day service suggested may obtain for a short time, it will not last for long and they will be in the usual situation of those having to depend on distant service. The tendency to centralize things at Toronto is also far from popular in the North where the feeling is that there has been too much centralization in the city where the needs of the North and the conditions in the North are not realized.
