MADGE EVANS knows how important it is for every wave to be in place and she can push an unruly wave in line and pull a dip becomingly forward.

TRAIN YOUR HAND TO TRAIN YOUR HAIR
SAYS PROMINENT HAIRDRESSER

A friend of mine went to a prominent hairdresser for consultation recently and came back with glowing reports. He recommended what she felt was a rather elaborate style—several brush curls at the sides, the new brushed-forward fashion with just a deep swirl in the back and the hair shingled (that's coming back, by the way, and we won't see many back curls this summer).

Protesting that she could never keep her hair that way, that she just didn't have the knack to train her hair, she was told that it was a matter of training the hand, not the hair.

Come to think of it that's so, isn't it? It's the hand that must learn to prolong the life of a setting. It's the hand that must know how to pinch and press the hair into place, retrace the wave, roll the little small curls and fasten with hairpins. But it really is not very difficult.

Watch Your Hairdresser

The very next time you have your hair set, watch your hairdresser and notice how he fingerwaves your hair. Then ask him to show you how to comb the hair back and press the waves forward. Let him show you how to comb the hair out, one wave at a time, press and push up, then go on to the next wave. A conscientious hairdresser is happy to give his patrons as many hints as possible to prolong the life of the setting. He doesn't worry about cutting down the time between visits for he knows that as his reputation is built up there'll be plenty of praises sung and one customer will tell another.

When you put your hat on and take it off, do so carefully. Then retrace the curls over your fingertips with the comb. Before going to bed, moisten the hair slightly. Spraying with warm water is a good way to get the desired effect. Then retrace the wave with the comb and pinch the ridges between the fingers. Moisten the ends of the hair, separate into strands of about a half inch and turn up into the small curls, pinning each with two hairpins. Wear a hairnet to bed. There are many fine net caps that stay in place no matter how restless the sleeper. In the morning, go over your hair again for a minute or two, then replace the net until after you are through dressing.

Some women have trained their hands so well that they can actually use a wave-setting lotion to set their own hair.

Arranging for Boy Scouts Camp Event

Big Joint Camp of Timmins Scouts to be Held at Nellie Lake.

At a meeting of the local association of Boy Scouts, to be held at the town hall a week from to-night, final arrangements for the big joint camp of Timmins Scouts will be made.

Nellie lake has been chosen as the site, but there is still much to be done in making arrangements for accommodation, food, transportation, leaders and so on.

The local association executive earnestly requests group officers to be present at the meeting next Thursday.

Ottawa Says Manitoulin is Part of the Province

Some interest and perhaps some excitement was created last week when Gordon Shaver, K.C., of Toronto, held the contention in a case being tried, that Bruce Peninsula and Manitoulin Island are not legally part of the province of Ontario, but still come under the jurisdiction of the Indian Affairs Branch of the Department of the Interior at Ottawa. Mr. Shaver claimed that through an oversight Manitoulin Island and the Peninsula had not been formally added to the territory of the province.

Officials of the Indian Affairs Branch at Ottawa say there is nothing to Mr. Shaver's claim and that his argument is based on misunderstanding.

The branch administers Indian reserves, both on the Peninsula and on the island, and the land within these reserves is administered from Ottawa under treaties with the Indians. These treaties are recognized by the British North America Act.

Apart from the reserves, Ottawa has nothing to do with these areas; they are part and parcel of the province of Ontario. Mr. Shaver raised his contention while opposing an injunction to prevent ferry competition between Tobermory and South Bay, Manitoulin.

Free Toxoid Clinics at Schumacher on Friday

Friday of this week, July 26th, from 2 to 4 p.m. toxoid for the immunization of diphtheria will be given free to children of pre-school age at Schumacher, children from six months to five years of age being included. The inoculation, as noted in Monday's issue of The Advance, will be given in the office of Dr. Armitage, Schumacher. As the treatment gives the child life-long immunity from diphtheria, and as it is not painful or particularly inconvenient, and also is harmless, all mothers in Schumacher would appear to do well to take this opportunity to have their children protected from diphtheria. The experience of other places has been that the toxoid assures freedom from diphtheria and a general immunization means the end of diphtheria, once a greatly dreaded and dangerous disease taking much toll of life and being especially dangerous to children.

Two with Broken Jaws in South End Hospital

One Suffers Serious Injuries from Car Accident. Other Hurt at Mine. Snake Lost from Show is Killed. Meeting of Township Council. Other South Porcupine and Dome News

South Porcupine, Ont., July 24th, 1935. Special to The Advance.

There is great satisfaction among the housewives of South Porcupine today. Yesterday the snake that escaped from the Wallace Bros. Shows was seen wriggling his way through Mr. Henry Kaufman's back yard. Mr. Kaufman lives just across the highway from where the shows had been located. With great nerve and presence of mind Mr. Kaufman got the axe, and with two blows severed the head from the body. The dark grey reptile was measured and was exactly six feet 3 inches long. Upon prying open the jaws we found no fangs—they had evidently been removed to make the thing harmless, but Mr. Kaufman did not know this when he struck it. Ladies living in this end of the town tender their extreme gratitude to Mr. Kaufman and will now weed their gardens without fear. Had he known the creature was harmless Mr. Kaufman would have endeavored to catch it alive, as we understand that a reward was offered for its capture. Unfortunately for the snake his looks belied him, and there was no time for investigation. It escaped last Thursday and must have been in the ditch or vicinity for five days.

Mr. John Sutherland, one time resident here, and now of Cobalt, was in town on Tuesday renewing acquaintances.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Marchmont, of Toronto, have been visiting their aunt, Mrs. S. A. Jones, of Commercial avenue, for the past week.

Mr. Joseph Stern, of Toronto, who has been visiting his aunt, Mrs. Sky, for some weeks left on Wednesday for Staten Taylor Camp in Algonquin Park. He motored to Toronto with Mr. and Mrs. A. Tomkinson, of Timmins, who are attending a photographers' convention in Ohio State this week.

Mrs. Walter Cliff and daughter, Marilyn, leave on Thursday, this week for a month's vacation in Moncton, New Brunswick. Mr. Cliff accompanied them as far as Toronto.

Mr. Sanford Hayne's condition is improving we learn to-day, as is also that of Ernie Gagnon who was in the car with him at the time of the accident on Saturday at Connaught. Hayne is suffering from terrible injuries to the head, his upper jawbone being broken and palate, etc., injured. In our report on Monday of the accident we were slightly out on one or two details. A Mr. Max Logan was driving the car. He escaped without a scratch and the accident was caused by swerving to avoid an oncoming car with glaring headlights, while another car, also with headlights on was parked on the wrong side of the road. The truck's parking lights were on but were not seen because of the stronger lights coming toward them. They hit the parked truck broadside on. The man, whose car was parked on the wrong side of the road, got neatly away before his number was noticed.

Another victim of an accident is also in hospital here. Mr. Wm. Arbour was hurt while at work in the Dome Mine on Monday night. No details have been given, but a swerving plank hit him in the face, breaking his lower jawbone in four places. He is doing as well as possible after such painful injuries.

Mrs. Dick Mitchell, Mrs. Herb, Tripp and Mrs. W. Hocking, of Dome Extension, are camping for two weeks at Child's Beach.

Local Girl Guides are all set and ready to join camp at Kenogami on Friday. They, plus equipment, will be transported by truck on Friday morning.

Little Sybil Ostrom celebrated her sixth birthday in a lovely way on Tuesday. Her mother drove fourteen little girl friends and Sybil to Golden City beach, where they had a real birthday picnic party.

Miss Valerie Bessette is home from St. Mary's hospital recuperating nicely from appendix operation.

Mrs. Willis and Miss Berna Willis, of St. Thomas, were the guests of Mrs. Max. Smith over the week-end.

Messrs. Lindsay and Dunlop, engineers of Ventures, Ltd., were in town this week on business.

Miss Elva Wilkes, of the township office, is spending two weeks' vacation in Ottawa.

Messrs. Sutcliffe and Armstrong of New Liskeard, the engineers who installed the waterworks system in South Porcupine, were up this week looking over the plant and system.

Our township float will figure in North Bay's Old Home Week celebration. It is being taken to North Bay from New Liskeard next week, having been bought by the Travellers' Association to represent them in the parade.

We townspeople thoroughly appreciated the visit of the Porcupine Pipe Band which came over on Tuesday night and played several selections in front of the fire hall. Then, when they marched to the skirl of the pipes the entire juvenile population marched with them, openly worshipping at the shrine of the kilt. They went through some of the side streets and round the business section playing the weird music that struck a response in every Gaelic heart. We were specially asked to thank them in this column by a lady who is of thoroughly Irish extraction.

A meeting of the Tennis Club is scheduled for Thursday, July 25th on the Tennis Court at 7 p.m.

About a dozen of our local young people, who belong to the A.Y.P.A., are going this afternoon (Wednesday) to the Deaneary meeting in Timmins, which is a sports day for all branches.

A whist drive under the auspices of the Sewing Circle is to be held in the parish hall on Thursday evening sharp at 8 o'clock.

A council meeting was held on Monday night with the Reeve and Council-Railroad St. at Gold Centre is to be graded and gravelled. A man named Popovitch requested a donation from the council to compensate him for uninsured fire damage sustained by him. This the council declined to give. The tender for the new grand stand to be erected on the ball grounds was accepted for Messrs. Haneberry and Pecore, who will begin work at once. A grant was made to each fire brigade in the township to enable a representative to attend the annual Fire Chiefs' convention to be held in Brockville. Other less important matters were discussed (claims for damages due to a faulty sewer connection and charity cases) besides routine business.

A tennis tournament held on Sunday on the Connaught Hill court resulted—we are sorry to say—in a crushing defeat for South End. Dome simply walked all over us in every game. However, Sunday next on the Dome court, may show a different result. Those participating in the tournament were: Ladies Singles: Dome: Mrs. J. Cooke vs. South End: Miss Betty Gallagher; Dome: Mrs. Don Wright vs. South End: Miss Mary Gallagher; Men's Singles: Dome: Carlo Cattarello vs. South End: Paul Bailey; Dome: Gordon Michaelson vs. South End: Andy Whetnam; Ladies Doubles: Dome: Mrs. J. Cooke and Mrs. Don Wright vs. South End: Miss K. Reynolds and Miss Ruby Naish; Men's Doubles:—Dome: George Mason and Dick Murphy vs. South End: Paul Bailey and George Starr; Mixed Doubles: Dome: Mr. and Mrs. J. Cooke vs. South End: Miss Betty Gallagher and Bill Hicks; Dome Mrs. Don Wright and J. Woods vs. South End: Jack and Irene Deacon.

At the local police court on Tuesday several cases came up for hearing. George Frost was arrested for stealing $70 from the safe of Father Gelin during the priest's absence in Ramore on Monday. He pleaded guilty to theft but not to the charge of house-breaking. That, he said, was done by some other fellow a transient; but he admitted taking some money from him. He was remanded for sentence till next week. In the course of the hearing Frost said he had been to church on Sunday morning and heard the priest say he would be away next day. The mythical thief, to whom he allegedly repeated the information replied "a good time to go around." John Beard, arrested for vagrancy got 30 days sentence. Three fines of $10 and costs were paid by 3 drunks. One case in which an employer was sued for $3.50 wages owing, caused a smile. The plaintiff, when he asked for his wages said he was told to "go to h. . . ." He came to the police court with his case. A case of maintenance for a Schumacher woman was up for hearing. The husband was ordered to pay $50 a month for the support of his wife and three children.

Messrs. John Gibbons and Ed. Edgecombe, from Noranda were visiting at the home of Mrs. Gibbons over the week-end.

Miss Wenger, matron of the Presbyterian hospital, is on holiday in Southern Ontario.

Mr. and Mrs. Londry and family returned last week from a vacation spent at Meaford and points south.

Mr. Cole, of Sudbury, who was relieving at the Bank of Toronto during Mr. McDonnell's absence has returned home.

Gold Shield Plan Could Not be Applied in Ontario

Officials of the provincial lands department are quoted as saying that Hon. H. H. Stevens proposal to take over and work Canada's "gold shield" could not apply to Ontario. Accordingly it can not be said to be workable at all, as Ontario has by far the greater part of the gold area of the Dominion. The officials explain that as there are no Federal lands in Ontario, no Federal control of mines can be applied to Ontario, without first altering the whole constitution of Canada, and with the direct and active opposition of both Ontario and Quebec it is impossible to see how the constitution could be altered. In all the provinces there is a determination to prevent any encroachment on provincial rights and no government in either Ontario or Quebec would dare to do anything in the line of turning over provincial jurisdiction in such a case. As a matter of fact both Ontario and Quebec have expressed themselves as against any such plan. As a consequence this part of Hon. Mr. Stevens plan may be classed as decidedly "off the record."

Over Hundred Boys Kiwanis Swimming

Baseball Schedule for Boys Got Under Way on Monday. Other Items in Kiwanis Sports.

Again this week swimming has led all sports of the Kiwanis programme, says A. R. Fisher, supervisor. Wednesday again was the banner swimming day with better than a hundred boys participating. About 20 boys were out for their first or second lesson and show every sign of being successful. Kenneth Skeock, Willie Powers and Eugene Montgomery have negotiated the width of the pool, and at least ten others are able to stay above water for a part of that distance. Mr. Fisher will be pleased to have any girls or adults, who wish to learn to swim, approach him when he is at Gillies Lake on Tuesday and Friday afternoon.

A baseball schedule for boys under eighteen got under way on Monday afternoon when "Snob Hill" took the first game for the "Scorpions" by a score of 14-5. Both pitchers were very effective. Richer for Snob Hill had seven strike-outs and yielded eight hits while Babcock had five strike-outs and yielded 10 hits. Babcock's support, however, was weak and Snob Hill were presented with 6 runs from errors.

On Friday at 9:00 p.m. the second game will be played between the "River Rats" and "Snob Hill" while on Monday at 2:30 the River Rats and Scorpions will meet.

Last week's twilight meet was very successful and it is hoped that many more boys will take advantage of the meet to-night. It is understood that several seniors will be out to compete in the open events. Many good runners in town are not appearing as yet in practice but it is to be understood that no person may enter the final sports day unless he has also competed in at least a share of the twilight meets. Whether a person is eligible for final competition will be decided by a committee in charge of these meets.

Part of the Work Camps in Helping Young Men

There has been considerable misunderstanding of the work camps established in Canada. In a moment of political partisanship Hon. Peter Heenan called them "slave camps" and he and others have referred to the small "wages" paid. As a matter of fact no "wages" were paid. The fact is that they were simply relief camps for young men. There was no thought of "wages" any more than in connection with any other form of relief. It is true that the men were expected to work, just as they were expected to work for other direct relief on occasion. The amount of work expected of them, however, was no more than would keep them in proper health of body and mind. The emphasis is needed on the idea that no "wages" were contemplated. It was simply another of the relief projects. In this connection there was an interesting editorial last week in The Brampton Conservator. The Conservator said:—

Caring for Young Men

"Since the Regina riots, in which a policeman of that city was murdered, concern regarding the camps has been aroused among many citizens who formerly had taken little if any interest in their establishment or management. What are the camps? What are they doing? What are they costing the taxpayers? Are questions now frequently heard.

"In recent years large numbers of young men have been unable to earn a living. Their parents or other relatives had not the means to provide for them. They became wanderers from one part of the Dominion to the other, begging food and shelter as they went. Such a life, it was felt, was injurious to the men, both morally and physically, and at the same time contained the germs of disturbance and trouble. In the interests of the young men and for the general good, camps were established in different part of the Dominion. They were open to any single man who desired to enter, who was also free to leave when he so desired. Good food, warm clothing, clean beds, shelter and 20 cents a day were provided for every man.

"During the years of their operation 116,480 men have passed through these camps. What has become of them? 22,365 left to take up profitable employment; 12,601 were let out for purposes of discipline; 60,000 have gone to unknown jobs. The largest number in the camps at one time was 25,500. The number at present is 13,000, which will be constantly reduced now that work is more plentiful. It should also be stated that every man provided for in the camps cost the taxpayers at the rate of $39 a month, and that the average time spent in the camp was 2½ months.

"It is not questioned that the great body of those cared for in this way have been grateful, nor would there have been any disturbance but for the work of the "red" element which is bent upon wrecking the country. The agitator who was responsible for the riot at Regina, is a married man. He was never in a camp, he has a criminal record. Every one in Canada is ready to assist the deserving needy. Every one should be equally alive to his responsibility in the protection of the country from communistic and other destructive agencies, led by men of this type.
