Bigamy Case Heard at South Porcupine

Magistrate Gives Accused Six Months. Several Assault Cases at South End. Black Eyes in Court.

South Porcupine, Ont., Sept. 11th, Special to The Advance.

A very large docket at the police court here on Tuesday occupied Magistrate Atkinson's time until one o'clock.

A crowded court held an interested number of people.

The first case heard concerned a Conium employee who had to answer the charge of being in unlawful possession of high-grade ore, suspected as stolen, and which he was unable to account satisfactorily for. Police testified to having seen accused throw the bundle which was produced—tied up in a handkerchief—from his pocket into the bush on the Conium road, and upon searching the man after arrest found also on his person a bottle containing acid used in the extraction of gold from ore. The ore found, upon being assayed, was valued at $442.71. In spite of denials on the part of the defendant, he was committed for trial.

Two local boys, one of whom has frequently come up before his worship on different charges, appeared for the magistrate to settle an assault case. Each accused the other of beating him up, and one had visible evidence to show (incidentally, there were more blackened eyes at Tuesday's police court than we have ever seen in one place before.) Themagistrate, with a word of advice to both, dismissed the two.

A young lad from the Dome was called to answer a charge of reckless driving on the night of August 29th on the Dome road. He pleaded "not guilty." Evidence showed that he had taken a short turn for the Dome Extension road, thereby being at fault for the head-on collision with another car which followed, wherein all were injured—the Dome driver, and the Timmins driver of the other car with two young ladies who were with him. All appeared in court. The sentence of $50 fine and costs of 30 days was imposed with suspension of driver's license for three months.

The magistrate in commenting during the hearing of this case gave utterance to words of wisdom—"I am not a driver," said he; "but I am an expert in back-seat driving and I know how much you can see in the back seat." (This, after a witness who was in the back seat at the time of the accident had given evidence.)

"Drive on the right side of the road, and don't invite a collision."

A man wished to withdraw a case of assault and wanted to "pay charges." "That seems fair," said the magistrate. "He has two black eyes, and you've only one!"

Two men brought a case for the magistrate to settle. A small local man had struck a much bigger man than he, because he called his little girl an ugly name. The taller man very graphically and in broken English gave the court the full benefit of the incident, including the full value of the epithet, but said that the child had invited it by putting out her tongue at him. "Are you neighbours?" said his worship. "Well, go home and forget it!" Case dismissed.

Three children were brought into court to testify in a case of assault from Schumacher when a man was alleged to have jumped a fence into a neighbour's yard to chastise a small boy who had been guilty of giving "two slaps" to a little girl. In defence the man said he had had trouble with these people for ten years, and had received a "mouthful of impudence" from the boy. Case dismissed.

A case of bigamy, in which a man's defence was based on the supposition that seven years' separation from his first wife, with no knowledge of her whereabouts, presupposed her death and gave him freedom to re-marry, was ably pleaded by defendant's counsel. His good character and references from employers were put forward in his favour.

The magistrate made his sentence as light as possible but he has to serve six months at hard labour just the same.

A very long case took up the court's time when an Italian barber of Schumacher brought a case of assault against his tenant, who had also brought a case of assault against the barber and his wife. The whole trouble arose over a cheque for $500 which the tenant was claimed to be coerced into putting his signature to. In the course of the argument the wife was assaulted and in trying to get away from both, the tenant's face was supposedly scratched and he was hurt. He also had kicked the barber, and added insult to injury by saying before witnesses that "he wished he had done him greater hurt." Case dismissed.

A forgery case in which a young man did "with intent to defraud by falsely pretending that he had an account in the Imperial Bank of Canada at South Porcupine in which was deposited a sum sufficient to pay two cheques of $50 each, obtain from said—the sum of $100 came up for hearing here, was adjourned and came up in Timmins court in the afternoon. He got two months in jail.

Toronto Mail and Empire:—Japan, it is said, will shortly make a bid for larger immigration rights in Canada, New Zealand and Australia for her surplus population. What about Korea? What about Manchoukuo? Isn't there plenty of room near home?

Close Last Night to Having Frost Here

Weatherman Does Not Hold Out Immediate Hope for Warmer Weather in District.

Timmins came just a little too close for comfort to having frost last night when the thermometer sank to its lowest level for more than three months—33 degrees. Reports from outlying districts indicate that there was no frost in the vicinity last night, although there was a touch at the beginning of the week that damaged some crops to a considerable extent.

The weatherman does not hold out much hope for a break in the cool weather within the next few days. "Colder, continuing unsettled," was his prediction, adding that there might even be a touch of snow.

A total of 25 inches of rain fell this week, on Monday .11 inches, Tuesday .14 and yesterday a trace.

Temperatures this week have been: Monday, max. 51, min. 45; Tuesday, max. 56, min. 37; Wednesday, max. 53, min. 39; last night's minimum 33; eight o'clock this morning 36.

New Yorker:—Relief work costs twice as much as ordinary labor. That's because it takes two men for every task—one to dilly and one to dally.

Brantford Expositor:—Montreal dentists have decided to fight a municipally imposed sales tax. Manifestly this pull on their pocketbooks is not without pain.

Campaign for Blind Making Progress

Preparations Well Under Way for Tag Day on Saturday of Next Week, September 21st.

At Wednesday's meeting of the town council permission was given to the Canadian National Institute for the Blind to hold their annual tag day on Saturday of next week, Sept. 21st. The tag day will complete the campaign for funds for carrying on the work of the Canadian National Institute for the Blind. Mr. D. B. Lawley, field secretary for the Institute, who lost his sight in a mine accident over 20 years ago, has been here for some days organizing the campaign for funds and interesting the public in this helpful work. The Institute has given valuable assistance to several in the Timmins district. The first work of the Institute seems to be to bring courage and hope to those afflicted and to help them to help themselves. The Institute arranges for many of the blind to enter business for themselves and the success of this policy has been evidenced in Timmins cases. The Institute also trains blind persons in trades and occupations whereby they may be able to support themselves. Travelling teachers are a very valuable feature of the work of the Institute. In addition to the matters noted, the Institute also provides Braille books so that the blind may enjoy reading, and in other ways assists and supports the blind. Conducted largely by blind people of exceptional talent and public spirit, the Institute is doing a wonderful work for the blind. While in Timmins Mr. Lawley addressed a number of meetings outlining the work of the Institute and winning sympathy for the good cause. Mr. Lawley is at Kirkland Lake this week, but will return here to complete the campaign for Timmins and district.

Cigarette Stub Causes Destruction of Awning

The awning of Sky's Specialty Shop in the Reed Block on Pine street was destroyed by fire Tuesday evening about 10.30, when it is believed that a cigarette, tossed from an upstairs window, lodged itself in the rolled awning and began to smoulder. The canvas was burned through, so that when unrolled, a series of holes was found. The fire department extinguished the blaze after being called by telephone.

Louisiana Kingfish Shot in State House

Senator Huey P. Long of Louisiana, stormy petrel of United States politics and political dictator of his state, was shot and so seriously wounded by a political foe in the corridors of the state house in Baton Rouge that he died on Tuesday morning. The would-be assassin was immediately slain by bodyguards' bullets. Long is seen here in a familiar pose, his flamboyant oratory being a noted characteristic.
